INCIDENT AT THE STUD

Apparently police felt it was time to stop the normal after hours bar loitering at the Stud on Folsom Street.

Gayzette paper has received a number of reports but has been unable to verify as fact any of them. There are two areas that Gayzette paper finds interesting.

(1) - The individual (Gay person) that was shot in the ankle and elbow was according to some reports, beaten after he fell to the pavement.

The wounded person was supposed to have hit a police officer with his car as he was leaving the alley. (Reports we have received, indicate it was accidental with no real harm to the officer in question.

Five police officers are charging the driver with assault with a deadly weapon. (Mainly the car)

Information about the incident is very fragmented at this time. We will keep our readers posted in future issues as a more complete picture evolves.

-TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN-

Gayzette paper is deeply interested in the welfare of Gay individuals. We will follow step by step legal and court proceedings to determine if justice prevails & human rights are adhered to.

(2) - Evidence is now mounting that a general clamp down on the Gay community is no longer in question. Recent reports to us indicate a general harrassment. The miracle mile seems to be a target. CAUTION- Park your cars legally.

It would appear the S.F. police Dept. has nothing better to do than find targets of excitement and harrass others who for the most part are causing no problem. This seems strange considering the crime wave continually soars upward. Most Gay people are law bidding citizens. It's a hell of a note when the people we pay to protect us end up harrassing us merely for excitement.

By the way- If this issue is our last, you will know what happened. EDITORS.

Luella Parkons

Luella is back.... and not a minute too soon! Next time a gentleman (?) invites this girl to Big Sur for the weekend (TWO WEEKS AGO), she'll take her own car to make sure she isn't stranded with a devil-may-care romeo! Besides, I might have missed ALL the holiday cocktail dues.

I could cry over missing the MAGIC GARDEN's December Birthday party for Sagittarian and Capricorn babes. My understanding associates tell me the dart throw for prizes (noted in selected pastel balloons) was very exciting. And that creamy birthday cake sounds so yummy that I just can't wait for the January GARDEN party.

I was overjoyed to be escorted to the marvelous P.S. for an absolute heaven dinner by an extremely sympathetic gentleman friend who bathed this poor girl's ego in delectable cocktails and mouth watering creations from the chef's lab. The vast dining facilities at the P.S. are always so enchanting.

The following night another of your popular correspondent's admirers dashed her off to the naughty-but-happy SPEAKEASY for another grand evening of sipping and dining on exquisite products of culinary craftsmanship. It certainly is gratifying to see a chef work so hard to please.

My beautiful bartender-friend EDDIE at the RIDE ON bar is a very determined young man(ager). As a public relations committee of ONE, he has not been sitting still for one minute in promoting exciting activities at the club. Luella is pleased to see such enthusiasm for "our" pleasure.

I do do love a party, and this time its by special personal invitation from gracious FRED of the BAYOU LOUNGE in Redwood City. The exciting event on December 19 at 9 pm is the selection of the Peninsula Empress. Fred thank you so much for your thoughtfulness. Luella will make every attempt to attend, providing she can find a little something in her closet that the Peninsula hasn't seen her vamping in on one of their dance floors.

Now, back to shaking sand and shale, and excessive manhandling, out of my stressed lingerie. Big Sur is breath-taking, but there is a limit to a girl's endurance.

With so many delightful happenings coming up this week, Luella is going to be tipsy, giggly and pooped, but she'll let you in on all the scoop.

dear john:

DEAR JOHN,
My roommate is tall dark and cute. When we watch television, I rub my tender, hairless body against his long hairy legs, but the only notice I get is a kick. When our cat does the same thing, my roommate showers him with affection. Does he like the cat more than me??
PUZZLED PUSSY

DEAR PUZZLED PUSSY,
It's rather apparent that your hairy spider is turned on by another tarantula and the cat is your immediate competition. My advice is to put what charmed him in the beginning to best advantage now. I'm quite sure "your song" was not the television background theme of "Mod Squad" so get out of the complacency of TV and back to movie balconies and candle lit small talk. If communication by talking is your problem, the next "kick" may be out the door and queen cat will have disproved my theory of the importance of communication.

DEAR JOHN,
My lover and I rarely go out to the bars. For one thing, most of them are the same. Why doesn't someone open up some really original type of place? We feel gay bars are like second class hangouts. How do you feel?
SAME OLD STUFF.

DEAR SOS,
Again a survey area is in consideration. Results to date indicate that the Gay population is somewhat tired of the same old scenes. The belief that a person can paint a room black, throw sawdust on the floor, light with red lights and make a fortune is generally no longer true. This was a common practice in the late 50s and early 60s. Survey responses under "Comments", indicate that many gay people are looking for nice and unique clubs. It looks as though the Gay "Nightclub" That offers dancing, good food, show and atmosphere is the next big thing. Creativity and uniqueness appears to be foremost in the minds of the gay community.
JOHN.

Season's Greetings from

Chie's Frisco

On the S.F. scene

...with JOHNNY TREMAYNE

Through rain or sleet, wind or fog, this reporter made the rounds this week in some of San Francisco's better weather.

The Kasper's auction for Bill Lyndon came off from a slow start to a smooth finish. The exact amount of the proceeds had not been tallied as of this printing. One of the highlights of the evening was the sale of a model named Harold for $150., bid by Roger, president of CMC. Roger, you really know how to keep every one on their toes. And, Gold Street, Don and Perry will never be the same.

More openings: Page One at 431 Natoma will be opening their doors soon, so save me a place at the bar.

I dashed over to Sandy's Saloon at 840 Sansome for the dinner special, a drink and some eye-popping go-go boys. Even if you are a spectator, the dance floor is always open.

A special thanks to two beautiful galls I met a few weeks ago at Leonard's. Hey- give John a call at GAYZETTE, 387-2539.

Saturday was a special day for me. I had been looking forward to accompanying the nine representatives of the "Toy Thing" around San Francisco for the distribution of the toys. The caravan of bikes, trucks and cars delivered toys to S.F. General Hospital, Youth Guidance Center, Recreation Center for the Handicapped and California League for the Handicapped. A total of over 800 toys had been collected and the cash donation totals are still to come.

After the delivery, I was a guest for brunch at the Speakeasy. Great food!

After a most hectic week, I found time to relax at my second home- the Fickle Fox. A good juke box with excellent pop and classical music, and a menu to match in taste.

A couple of closing items: The Metropolitan Community Church will hold Christmas services at California Hall on Sunday, December 20th at 1 pm.

Don't forget, if you have any club or organizational activities coming up, drop a line to On S.F. Scene, c/o ADZ-Gayzette, PO Box 27306, San Francisco, CA 94127. TANKS.

I'm not alone anymore

As I watch the rain come down
Sadness creeps up and I begin to frown;
I start to think and begin to recall
How I hated myself when I was small.

Only fifteen and so all alone,
"So different from everyone" I would moan;
I knew I liked boys but didn't know why,
So hours were spent by myself to cry.

"It's a sin to like boys" the preachers would yell,
"If you don't like girls, you're condemned to Hell!"
So shameful, immoral and embarrassing too,
At sixteen, confused...what could I do?

I prayed and I knelt and begged to be changed,
I cried and pleaded but was not rearranged.
God doesn't love me, He couldn't care less;
He wouldn't help me, my life was a mess.
It would have been easy at eighteen to end living,
But I found I could make others happy by giving.
So I gave and I gave and received in between...
For awhile not a tear in my eyes could be seen.

I dropped out of Church and away from the Lord;
Emptiness and despair were my only reward.
Completely alone in a land peopled aplenty,
Is this what happens to a sinner of twenty?

Then I found others who felt the same way...
I wasn't the only who was considered as "gay".
This helped for awhile, but then would begin
The thought I was still living a terrible sin.

It haunted and taunted me, I wanted to die;
There were so many ways, but I never did try;
It might have been weakness, though I think it was love;
Through my tears came a feeling there was someone above.

He let me meet someone who I needed so much,
So I closed down self-pity and let my heart touch;
It touched and they melted and fused into one;
We both found a good life at age twenty-one.

Could it be wrong to give all of your love
To a boy who accepts it without question or shove?
I'm as sure that it isn't as I'm positive of
The fact that our God is there watching above.

He made me this way—I don't really know why;
I won't question His wisdom, but I really will try
To love and accept others' love in return;
For this...a just God surely won't let me burn.

I'm happy but still I must kneel down and pray
For others who, like me, "happen to be gay".
"God, let them be free, and not so oppressed
By a majority of people unreasonably distressed.

We'll live good lives, full ones, and happy ones too
And all of us won't have to live constantly blue;
Maybe someday all of these people will see;
We just want acceptance and to finally be free!
by Mike
