TWENTY-FOUR HOUR Live Action Network

HOUSANDS OF REAL MEN from all over the country are on our uninhibited conference lines 24 hours every day and you can...

- SHARE HOT TALK
- LISTEN TO THE ACTION
- EXCHANGE NUMBERS
- MAKE DATES
- MAKE NEW FRIENDS

The man of your fantasies may be just a call away!

- LIVE NO ACTORS
- NO RECORDINGS
- NO CREDIT CARDS
- YOUR ANONYMITY GUARANTEED!

$2 plus toll if any discreetly billed to your phone. 18 and over only.

San Francisco 415 Los Angeles 213 San Diego 619 976-85000

by Tim Taylor

by Will Snyder

That seems to be the theme floating all over the Commonwealth of Massachusetts when talk turns to Gov. Michael Dukakis. Who Dukakis really is may be the question of utmost importance to gay and lesbian voters when they cast their ballots for president of the United States in November 1988. Gay men and lesbians have traditionally voted for Democrats in large numbers. But when they Jean? walk into voting booths next year they may be forced to hold their noses and vote for a man they don't particularly like: Michael Dukakis.

Hasn't Dukakis personally lobbied for a gay rights bill which passed Massachusetts' House of Representatives and stands a good chance of passing the Senate? Hasn't Dukakis personally said to 1 million folks walked across the bridge, causing it to sway. The gay community had a gay old time celebrating, too. For more info turn to page 17. (Photo: James Dusch

VOL. XVII NO. 22 MAY 28, 1987

1528 15TH STREET, SAN FRANCISCO, CA 94103

TELEPHONE: 415/861-5019

City Hikes Budget To $17M For AIDS

Education Efforts Expanded To Target Specific Communities

The budget Mayor Dianne Feinstein will present to the San Francisco Board of Supervisors this week for the fiscal year starting July 1 earmarks upwards of $17.2 million for AIDS programs, an increase of $4.3 million over last year. According to city officials, the increase will permit the Department of Public Health to expand inpatient and outpatient services, as well as augment education and prevention programs.

Today

Winners: The S.F. Eagle team won this year's Great Tricycle Race, full of thrills and spills. See page 14.

No Testing: Many of the largest U.S. corporations say they oppose HIV tests for employees, according to a new NGRA survey, page 4.

Prom Time: The prom you never had happened last weekend at Sutter's Mill. Pictures and story, page 19.

Chron Gives In On Obit Policy

Paper Promises to Print 'Verifiable' Surviving Partners

by Will Snyder

After a meeting with six community leaders, the San Francisco Chronicle has promised to amend its controversial obituary policy. In the past, the morning daily has excluded the names of lovers from the list of survivors. But now, the Chronicle has promised to print the name of a surviving partner if the name is provided and is verifiable.

(Continued on page 2)

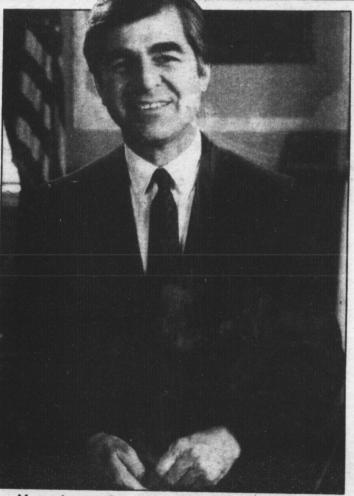

Dukakis: Can We Trust Him In The White House? New Frontrunner Has Questions to Answer

He is a paradox. And, he wants to be president of the United States. that AIDS will be one campaign issue which will command his attention once he moves into the command his attention once he moves into the White House? And, hasn't Sen. Edward Kennedy, a friend of gay men and lesbians, endorsed Dukakis' bid for the presidency?

> These are questions which make Dukakis-haters wince and nod their heads. When they recover, however, they continue to ask one simple question. Yes, but what about Donald Babets and David Babets and Jean aren't household names for many Americans. But for some, the names have become familiar in the last two years. Babets and Jean are lovers. After going through all of Massachusetts stringent requirements for adoption, they adopted two male children, age two and four. (Continued on page 22)

Massachusetts Gov. Michael Dukakis: the debates are raging as his presidential hopes get better.

Thanks It was quite a payday at Most Holy Redeemer Church's Bingo Night last Thursday night. A total of $10,000 was handed out to three organizations by busy Bingo boosters. Above, Alan Selby accepts $2,000 for the AIDS Emergency Fund. Another 2-'C'-spot went to the AIDS Foundation Food Bank. The fattest check of the night, however, went to Coming Home Hospice. $6,000, for patient care. women and minorities in other Budget (Continued from page 1) One big budget winner was the Shanti Project, which will receive funds to expand independent resident programs, train and recruit new volunteers, and expand counseling and emotional support services. The city will also expand services to IV drug users, AIDS and ARC residents of city-funded hotels, and home health care and in-home hospice services. A total of 22 AIDSrelated programs will be initiated or expanded.

The added funds were an unusual phenomenon this year coming from a budget-conscious administration which has been pleading poverty recently. City department heads were warned not to submit budget requests exceeding last year's funding levels.

But said Dr. David Werdegar, the city's chief health officer, "[Mayor Feinstein] gave all of our AIDS issues very good treatment and we thought we came away with a very fine AIDS budget."

Said the mayor, "San Francisco has been fighting AIDS since 1982 and our commitment to do everything possible remains

In the new budget, the city is hoping to buck national trends hich have reported larger numrates of HIV infection among groups and minorities will be places than has occurred in San Francisco. Noting that there may still be time to prevent this aspect of the epidemic from reaching the huge dimensions experienced by New York and other East Coast urban centers, AIDS Office director Jeffrey Amory said, "There is a need to alert people to the problems facing women and racial and ethnic minorities]. Although the numbers are small, it's the tip of the iceberg. We saw how that tip developed for gay men."

The percentage of minority cases has grown sharply, with the total number increasing eight times since 1984. Of 2,853 AIDS cases reported in the city as of last Jan. 31, 6.6 percent involved Latinos, 5.7 percent were Blacks, and 1.3 percent were Asians or Pacific Islanders. Women accounted for 1.3 percent of all cases.

Amory said the department plans education and prevention initiatives that are responsive to women's concerns, and which are culturally specific for the city's melting pot of racial and ethnic minorities. To do this, the city will increase the capacity of neighborhood health centers to accommodate more instances of AIDS and HIV infection. Education materials which previously contained generalized information will be altered to more directarget specific interest groups bers of AIDS cases and higher And representatives of women's

"Judge us by what we do,"

Click quoted German as telling the group, which also included

Roberta Achtenberg, directing attorney of the Lesbian Rights Project (LRP); Jerome Falk, a part-more involved in program development.

(Photo: Scott Martin)

As an additional spending item, the city will contribute $1.2 million for building improvements in San Francisco General Hospital to expand inpatient and outpatient services. The funds will allow the hospital to add eight beds specifically set aside for people with AIDS, bringing the total number of reserved beds to 28. Improvements in AIDS-related outpatient services are also planned at Southeast Health Center, South of Market Health Center, Children's Health Center and Women's Health Center.

The total cost of capital im provements in the taxpayer-financed facility is $4.3 million with some funds coming from the hospital's budget, MediCal reimbursements, private insurance and other sources.

According to a fact sheet pre pared by the mayor's budget office, last year's $13 million AIDS budget included grants to a variety of community based organizations. Shanti Project received nearly $1 million and the San Francisco AIDS Foundation was awarded nearly $800,000. Other recipients of city funds were Garden Sullivan Hospital (for nonacute care impatient services). the Haight-Ashbury Free Medical Clinic and the Community Substance Abuse Services center. Several home health care and nospice programs, substance abuse clinics and counseling services also received support. •

The community leaders said the policy is a step in the right direction. "While we would have liked to have had a promise that past policies won't be repeated," said Karen Strauss of the Lesbian Rights Project, "this is at least a starting point. The Chronicle needs a fair chance to show they're sincere.'

Strauss said the LRP wants to hear from people whose names have been omitted from Chronicle obituaries. "This is the kind of thing in which not just community leaders can get involved," she said, "Everyone must care."

Volunteer: Your community needs you.

"I was going to the grocery store to get hamburger meat to go home and cook spaghetti for a friend and myself," she said. "I left my building and got about half a block up the street when a paddy wagon approached. "The policeman said, 'Sir, said, 'Because I said so.'

grabbing me.

time I was screaming.

into the hood of a car. "My friend came up and one the wagon.

"I didn't know why they were much."

She soon discovered that the arrest was part of a sweep of transsexuals believed to be prostitutes - there were about six other transsexuals inside the wagon. The wagon took them to Central Police Station in Chinatown.

Her story of police brutality continued at the station. "I was handcuffed. They started hitting me, kicking me in the groin, suffocating me with their hands over my mouth. "The prisoners in the holding tanks were told to turn their backs. The police carried me, hitting me. One hit me in the lungs one kept slapping me in the face with a black glove."

RAW MEAT

"They handcuffed me to a asked if being a transsexual meant I was still a queer. "My right hand turned purple. For a 35-40 minute period they refused to loosen the cuffs. Final ly, they brought in another transsexual, and she told them if they didn't come and loosen them, they would be taking my hand off. Then an officer loosened them, and I screamed at the top of my lungs. It was like raw meat being taken off.

"About 20-30 minutes after this, they cited me and released

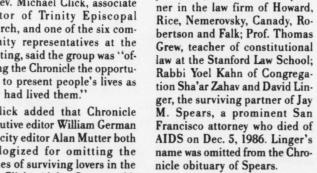

She pushed up the sleeve of

Chron

(Continued from page 1)

Rev. Michael Click, associate pastor of Trinity Episcopal Church, and one of the six community representatives at the meeting, said the group was "offering the Chronicle the opportunity to present people's lives as they had lived them."

Click added that Chronicle executive editor William German and city editor Alan Mutter both apologized for omitting the names of surviving lovers in the past. Click said that German added that the paper's policy "is still evolving and has been the subject of internal debate."

American Societ of Travel Agents 1322 Polk Street • San Francisco • CA • 94109 415/775-5555

10 YEARS SERVICE TO THE GAY COMMUNITY

BAY AREA REPORTER MAY 28, 1987 PAGE 2

ASTA

Cops Accused of Beating Tenderloin Transsexual

Trip to Grocery Lands Her in Slammer; CUAV Sees Many Complaints of Harassment

by Gregory Douthwaite

She was walking to the store in the Tenderloin one night recently when she was stopped by police and ordered into a paddy wagon. When she protested, they beat her up, she said. The pre-operative transsexual, who is in her mid-20s, requested anonymity but she showed her bruises and told her story this week in the office of Community United Against Violence. She is filing a complaint against the cops' violent action and may sue the city.

come here.' I asked him why. He

"As soon as I walked up, he said, 'Get the fuck in the wagon.' I was trying to explain who I was, that you could see my apartment from here. They wouldn't even listen. They immediately started

"One said, 'Get in here or I'm going to beat the shit out of you. I said, 'I wouldn't dare.' He kneed me in the groin and grabbed me by the back of my hair. Both officers started hitting me. At this

"My friend heard the screams. By the time he got there, one of the policemen had me handcuffed and was banging my head of the officers came up and pushed him in the chest. They tightened the handcuffs on me as tight as they could and said, sarcastically, 'I hope that's not too tight.' Then they pushed me into taking me. Had I known I might not have resisted at all or as bench and referred to me as a 'thing.' They told the other prisoners to stay away from me - I was an 'it,' a 'freak.' One cop her red sweater, the same one she wore that night, to reveal a large, dark bruise around her wrist. She said she also suffers from nightmares and fear of police, and has made "quite a backslide" in the emotional problems she has suffered all her life.

She has filed a complaint with the police department's Office of Citizens' Complaints, and is consulting with attorneys about filing a lawsuit against the city.

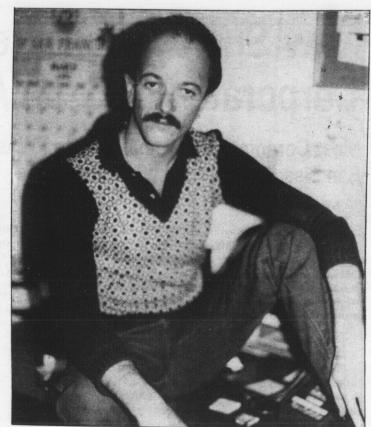

However, it looks as though the charges against her will be dropped. The original court date was set for a Sunday (May 17), when the Hall of Justice is closed. Her attorney has been unable to find out the new court date.

She was prepared to fight the charges, which were "obstructing the sidewalk" and "resisting arrest." She denies obstructing the sidewalk, and said she was entitled to resist once the officers used excessive force.

CUAV counselor Randy Schell said the case is not unique. He has received numerous complaints about police brutality and harassment of transsexuals. "It's not unlike what was happening to the gay community several years ago," he said.

Schell has recommended to

Randy Schell

S.F. Police Commander Michael Lennon that the police conduct outreach and meet with members of the transsexual community. Police need to be educated that

(Photo: Rink)

"not all transsexuals are prostitutes," he said. But in the eyes of this brutalized transsexual, Tenderloin cops look like "Gestapo II," she said.

New Survey Measures Corporate Policy on AIDS

Most Corporations Sympathetic to PWAs; Ban Bias; Provide Education, Insurance

by Will Snyder

Corporate giants Citicorp, Chevron, Bank of America, CBS, Dupont, Westinghouse, Transamerica and GTE all have something in common. Most gay people should be pleased, too, because these companies have announced their opposition to mandatory HIV testing.

That's just one of the things National Gay Rights Advocates (NGRA) found out about AIDSrelated discrimination. NGRA surveyed Fortune 1,000 employers and found that two-thirds of the respondents reject any kind of mandatory HIV testing. Many of the companies also announced they would pay for an employee's AIDS-related medical benefits.

"The companies were virtually unanimous in their responses,' said Jean O'Leary, NGRA's executive director. "Employers have a moral and legal responsibility to protect employees with AIDS or AIDS-related conditions."

O'Leary went on to say that picking up that moral and legal responsibility means not only rejecting mandatory HIV testing, but also paying for AIDS-related medical expenses and developing company-wide policies of nondiscrimination. "Unfortunately." said O'Leary, "policies of benign neglect or outright antagonism by other companies less willing to address the isue of AIDS in a compassionate manner remain an acute problem."

O'Leary may have been referring to the response rate. NGRA polled 995 companies for its survey entitled American Corporate Policy: AIDS and Employment. Only 164 companies bothered to respond.

Jean O'Leary (Photo: Rink)

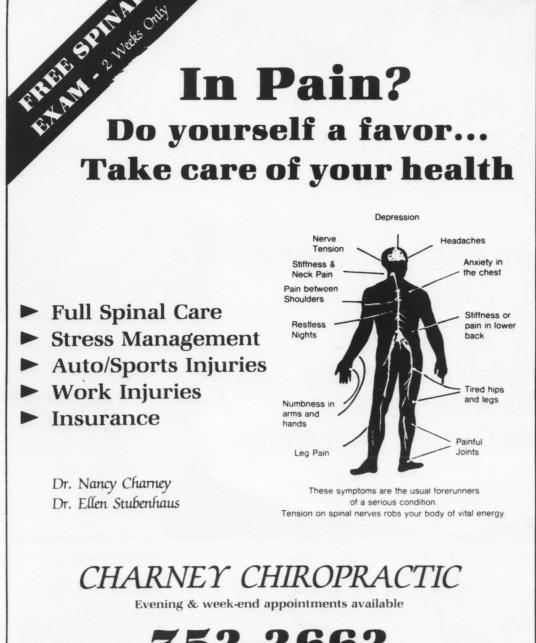

One of the most positive statistics in the entire survey concerned itself with medical plans. Only one of the 164 companies indicated that its medical plan does not pay for AIDS-related expenses. Similarly, only one insists on testing employees or job applicants for antibodies to HIV. The four questions asked were:

• Does your company have a olicy which forbids employment liscrimination against employees with AIDS or related conditions

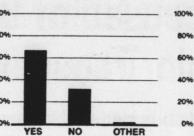

• Does your company's medi-cal plan cover AIDS-related medical expenses?

• Does your company require some or all employees or job applicants to take the AIDS antibody test as a condition for emlovment?

• Has your company developed a written policy on AIDS? In the nondiscrimination question 110 of the 164 compa-

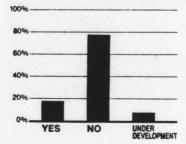

752-2662 4444 Geary Blvd. (at 9th Avenue)

ION-DISCR	IMINATI	ON
YES	110	67%
NO	51	31%
OTHER	3	2%

nies (67 percent) said they forbid employment discrimination. Only 18 percent have developed written policies on AIDS while eight companies (5 percent) say they have written policies under development.

NGRA received its best response from both coasts. Twentyfive New England companies out of 95 (26.3 percent) returned

WRITTEN POLICIES

YES	30	18%
NO	126	77%
UNDER DEVELOPMENT	8	5%

surveys. The five Western states of Alaska, California, Hawaii, Oregon and Washington were sent 126 surveys and 31 (24.6 percent) responded. The weakest response came from the South where only 15 of 183 companies (8.2 percent) bothered to send back a reply.

Some of the comments received from the companies show the level of thought which has gone into research on AIDS. Transamerica Life Companies, for example, said that since the AIDS virus does not discriminate by gender, race, or religion, "we will not discriminate against any employee with this condition. Westinghouse said that it views AIDS as an illness, "not as a crime or a punishment. We encourage compassion for the victims, and the provision of accurate, appropriate information to all employees as an antidote to ungrounded fears or unreasoning exaggerations."

Westinghouse's comment brought an affirmative response

Runners Turn Miles Into Dollars for AIDS

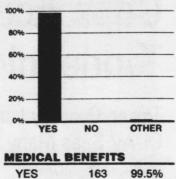

June Pledge Run Launched

by Jay Newquist

The 8th Annual Gay Run is set to spring from the blocks next July 12, but organizers have also planned a special pledge run during June to raise money for AIDS charities. San Francisco FrontRunners, sponsors of the pledge run, expects to register 100 volunteer runners who will gather pledges and run several miles each day all through the month of June.

The runner and his or her sponsor will select the amount per mile and FrontRunners reports some runners could earn $1000 or more.

FrontRunners' Bob Puerzer said the pledge runners would choose how many miles they wished to run on a city course they also selected. He estimated from eight to 13 miles per day was a good start, but the sky was the

NO 0 0.0% OTHER .5% 1 from Benjamin Schatz, director of NGRA's Civil Rights Project. "When dealing with the AIDS crisis, the optimal approach is to educate more and litigate less," Schatz said.

But even with the many positive responses, others indicated a level of deep hostility toward gays. When asked about nondiscrimination, one anonymous

REQUIRE TESTING

YES .5% NO 163 99.5%

company said, "We shoot gays, much less gays with AIDS." When asked whether its medical plan covered AIDS-related medical expenses, the same company said, "Just enough to defray the cost of the bullet." The same company said it does not require HIV testing because "we just watch how they react to women and other men, then make a decision." The employer added that "any person contracting AIDS through homosexual activities will be 'terminated with extreme prejudice."

The respondent said that "I refuse to lick this envelope." NGRA said that its 34-page

"It's for a good cause and we hope they'll do their best," Puerzer said, indicating the participants chose the AIDS-related charity they wanted to support.

ners will bestow a gold medal to all those who raise $1000; a silver medal for $500 in pledges; and a

Puerzer said FrontRunners

(Continued on page 12)

bronze medal for $250.

The 130-member FrontRun-

report, which includes detailed listings of companies and their individual responses to the survey can be obtained for $15 per copy. Interested parties should write to National Gay Rights Advocates, 540 Castro St., San Francisco, CA 94114, or 8380 Santa Monica Blvd., #202, W.

Hollywood, CA 90069. Volume discounts are available.

ever need.

Atty. Gen. to Investigate Consumer Fraud in AIDS

Warns of 'Medical Quacks' Exploiting AIDS

by Charles Linebarger

Gay martyr Harvey Milk was honored at the Harvey Milk Club's 10th anniversary dinner by the singing of "Happy Birthday" to the slain supervisor, by the giving of awards in the fight against AIDS, and by political speech making. State Attorney General John Van de Kamp announced that his office was launching investigations into AIDS-related consumer fraud.

Said Maurice Belote, president of the club, "This was as successful as any of our dinners have been. We had 36 tables taken. There were 360 guests."

It was a stellar gathering of people important in and to the gay community. City Attorney Louise Renne, Sups. Richard Hongisto, Tom Hsieh, and Harry Britt, Public Defender Jeff Brown, Libby Denebeim and Joanne Miller from the school board, and the founder of the Gay Games, Dr. Tom Waddell were among the dignitaries present.

CONSUMER FRAUD

IN AIDS

Agnos

Assemblyman Art Agnos, candidate for mayor of San Francisco, introduced State Attorney General John Van de Kamp. "I'm proud to be with you tonight because in all this city there is nothing going on as important as what's happening here," said

In his speech, Van de Kamp announced he was creating a task force in his office to fight consumer fraud regarding AIDS. "The excruciating slowness" of the federal effort against AIDS "has driven many Californians into the cold-hearted embrace of medical quacks," he said.

He added that he would begin an effort to push the state to start approving drugs for testing and research. "We have the power to approve drugs in California for research and testing," said the attorney general.

Van de Kamp told the group, "If AIDS turns out to be the Black Death of the modern world, history may write that Mr. Reagan was the president who told jokes in the Rose Garden while the epidemic spread across America.

Attorney General John Van de Kamp explains a point. (Photo: Rink)

"I wish I could say the picture was brighter in California but unfortunately history will show that in the early stages of this epidemic our governor hid his head in the sand," continued Van de Kamp.

He pointed out that U.S. Surgeon General C. Everett Koop has called on the states to allocate and spend $5 in state money for every AIDS case in the state. "California spends a whopping 65 cents a patient," said the state attorney general.

WOMEN HONORED

Ten women were honored by the Harvey Milk Club because of their work in the fight against the AIDS epidemic. Among the ten who received awards were Marta Segovia Ashley of the Shanti

Milk Club honors Dr. Constance Wofsey. (Photo: Rink)

Milk Club Volunteer of the Year David Lewis and his lover, Jim Landsdowne (Photo: Rink

Project, Lenore Chin who directs the Milk Club's annual blood drive, Catherine Cusic who oversaw the production and distribution of the safe sex brochure "Can We Talk," and Episcopal sister Ruth Hall for her work in organizing Family Link which provides housing for visiting families of people with AIDS.

Carole Migden, director of Operation Concern and former president of the club, also was recognized. Said Migden, "This club has always been in the forefront of the battle against AIDS. We were the first to call for safe sex at a time when the battle against denial was very real."

Rita Rockett received an award for her three-year-old Sunday brunch program for people with AIDS at San Francisco General Hospital.

Said Rockett, "I hope San Francisco knows that the women in this crisis are right here. If you really want to do something, get off your ass and do it. I learned a very important lesson from my first friend who died of AIDS, he didn't have a family, but we are a family. If you love this city I've learned that it loves you back."

Kitty Ryan was honored for her work as chair of the S.F. Housing Committee and as a social worker for AIDS patients at S.F. General. School Board member Libby Denebeim was recognized for her work in the hospice movement. Nancy Shaw got an award for her work in directing the women's programs for the S.F. AIDS Foundation.

Dr. Connie Wofsey, co-director of AIDS activities at S.F. General Hospital, was honored for her esearch in AIDS.

"It was said early in this epidemic that if AIDS had happened to any other group," said Wofsey, "there would have been more government help. But what has developed has been a grassroots movement by gay men and women themselves to fight this disease.'

Thanks To St. Mary's, Barbara Just Added 2 Words To Her Medical Dictionary. Easy Information.

Shanti's Marta Segovia

(Photo: Rink)

Ashley.

Barbara Eidell just called St. Mary's Health Connection. Where just one call connects you to all the health care you'll Easy information about our Senior Care Services, Maternity and Women's Services, mental health programs, cardiac fitness and Spine Center. Fast referrals and appointments with one of 600 physicians, free wellness classes and more. In fact, for answers to any general or specialized health care questions, call Health Connection first. We make it easy to get information.

BAY AREA REPORTER OPEN FORUM

VOL. XVII NO. 22 MAY 28, 1987

NEXT ISSUE OUT: JUNE 4

NEXT DEADLINE: MAY 29

D Δ (Div. of Benro Enterprises, Inc.)

Copyright 1987

EXECUTIVE & EDITORIAL OFFICES: 1528 15th Street San Francisco, CA 94103 (415) 861-5019/861-7230

> Bob Ross NEWS EDITOR

Ray O'Loughlin ENTERTAINMENT EDITOR Dianne Gregory

ASSOCIATE EDITOR Will Snyder

CONTRIBUTING EDITOR Brian Jones

FINE ARTS EDITOR George Heymont POLITICAL EDITOR

Wayne Friday

OFFICE MANAGER Michael Snyder

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING Ann S. West

Michael Jay Goldberg

Richard Burt TYPESETTIN

Tony Lindsey, Chal Cochran CONTRIBUTING PHOTOGRAPHER

James Dusch, Scott Martin, Photo Graphics/Darlene, Robert Pruzan, Rink,

> Steve Savage CARTOONIST

David Brady AUDITOR/ACCOUNTANT

Robert J. Dern, C.P.A

CONTRIBUTORS:

Kim Anno, Les Balmain, Philip Campbell, Mark I. Chester, Jerry R. De Young, Gregory Douthwaite, Wayne Friday, Mark Friese, Hal Herkenhoff, George Heymont, Michael Hippler, Frank J. Howell, John Karr, Larry Kim, Gerard Koskovich, Charles Linebarger, Mister Marcus. David-Alex Nahmod, Jay Newquist, Nez Pas, Paul Reed, Joy Schulenburg, Marv. Shaw, Rodger Soto, Rick Thoman, Paul Trefzger, Tom Vindeed, Dick Walters, Lauren Ward, Steve Warren, Allen White, Keith White, Bob Woolhouse

Published weekly, Bay Area Reporter reserves the right to edit or reject any ad which the publisher believes is in poor taste or which advertises illegal items which might result in legal action against Bay Area Reporter. Ads will not be rejected solely on the basis of politics, philosophy, religion, race, age or sexual preference. Advertising rates are available on request. Our list of subscriber and advertisers is confidential and is not sold. The sexual orientation of advertis ers, photographers, and writers and articles published herein is neither inferre nor implied.

BAY AREA REPORTER MAY 28, 1987 PAGE 6

BOROGATISODENION

Civil Rights and Civil Wrongs

oor Abe Mellinkoff. Imagine his embarassment. One day the bitter old columnist tears off a snide piece about the "freedom to infect," meaning, of course, that gay people's pre-occupation with civil rights is part of our reckless effort at spreading AIDS. Then the next day, his own newspaper, the Chronicle, publishes a news story showing that the rate of infection among gay men has declined because safe sex education campaigns have succeeded.

Well, imagine the egg on poor Abe's scowling face. He contends that we are all involved in a grand hoax, using civil rights in typical kneejerk liberal fashion as a conspiracy to perpetrate a crime against society. But the facts indicate that gay men have adopted safe sex guidelines and that those guidelines do work to stop the spread of the virus. Don't tell Abe about the facts, though, his mind is made up.

Now I know why the Chronicle always puts Abe's ranting and raving off by itself at the bottom of the editorial page bordered by a little safety box. They don't want his fumings to be mixed with rational opinion or with the standard crank letter that the Chron loves to publish to publicly call us all faggots and dykes.

be dismisses all the civil libertarian whining surrounding AIDS A as the "extra burden of politics" this epidemic carries. And whence does that burden arise, according to Abe? Why, it's from as the "extra burden of politics" this epidemic carries. And the "homosexual community" able to "block anti-epidemic procedures they find objectionable through political wheeling and dealing."

Give me a break, Abe! Even you should know better than that. Even if you read only the Chronicle, you'd know better. I think the cheese has slipped off your cracker.

Yes, this epidemic has its burden of politics. Every epidemic has had its social and political repercussions. Usually fear is fanned into hysteria by irresponsible types like Abe who get carried away in their little corner of news print. The difference this time is that we have an open, organized, informed and determined opposition that will not let the 👕 n this Tuesday's (June 2) election, the Bay Area Reporter recomdemagogues get away with trumpeting their bigotry.

Much of the credit for pushing AIDS onto the political scene, so that our society can deal with this terrible disease, has to go to the efforts the construction of an office complex in an area badly needing jobs. In of the gay community. It is we, not Abe Mellinkoff, who pressed from the 5th District Congressional race, we make no recommendation for the beginning for education programs, research, treatment for the af- any candidate. flicted and other social policies to protect the health and wellbeing of all. If we hadn't "politicized" AIDS, we'd be nowhere on this epidemic.

The premise behind Abe's diatribe is the old slander of gay people as wildly self-indulgent. He says we insist on a right to infect others while those who push for mass testing want only to contain the disease. He says such measures were "considered proper" when polio was epidemic. Abe's memory is different from mine. I can't recall ever hearing of such things back then. But then, polio was never identified with any despised social minority group. And scientists weren't quite sure how polio was transmitted, unlike AIDS. Comparisons of AIDS to other diseases don't carry much weight.

hen, it dawned on me, well, Abe isn't really concerned about AIDS or queers or any of that stuff. Why get bent out of shape by his dribblings? What he's really after is the American Civil Liberties Union

In the end, Abe wanted to use a serious health issue just to dump some more on that bunch of liberal whiners, the ACLU. Abe never does much like anything liberal. And to him, a liberal is anybody who rattles on about such stuff as constitutional rights just to frustrate the free exercise of governmental power. You know the kind, they're always running into court to stop bullies.

But there was one last point on which Abe is just plain mistaken. He said that the ACLU "hasn't had any need to tap into the judicial system" yet on AIDS. Wrong-o, Abe. They've been knee-jerking their way into several courts on a number of cases trying to get people like you to live up to the Constitution and the "rule of law" you like to blather on about.

Finally, this editorial is not intended to foment a tidal wave of protest letters to the Chronicle's bad boy on the editorial page. No, instead, you might send Abe a handi-wipe to help him get that egg off his face.

Ray O'Loughlin

B.A.R. Recommends

mends a yes vote on San Francisco Props. A, B, and C. These three measures would enable the construction of needed housing and

Bob Ross

To His Holiness, Pope John Paul II

Ed. Note: The following is the letter from American citizens to Pope John Paul II protesting his planned visit to the U.S. this fall. Although the letter mentions a papal visit to the Castro District, church officials have announced that the pope will not go to the Castro area. The letter, however, makes a number of noteworthy points.

T e are American citizens who are gravely concerned about your attempts to interfere with our lives in our country. We know that you are coming to our country in September of this year, and we want to put you on notice that we will not quietly tolerate any more interference with our peaceful enjoyment of life. We intend to vigorously, forcefully, and non-violently protest your presence in San Francisco

We are gay, lesbian, and bisexual people. We are also women who claim our rights to control our own bodies and to decide how, whether, and when, we shall bear children. We are also friends and supporters of all of the people just mentioned. We are also people who are vitally concerned, and angry about the use of religion to justify oppression in the Third World.

We cannot allow your continual attacks on our lifestyles, and our peaceful, just aspirations, to go unchallenged.

We know that your staff and planners plan to take you into the heart of our land — the Castro District in San Francisco — under the pretext that you are performing a mission of mercy, by visiting people with AIDS

The pretextual nature of this public-relations ploy is obvious to all of us: If you really are concerned with AIDS, then start asking governments to devote money and resources to the research and treatment and education needed to bring an end to this disease. If you want to visit someone with AIDS, then why do you not do it in Rome, where you live, or in Paris where there are many people with AIDS? And if you really want to stop the spread of AIDS, then stop opposing the use of condoms. Your church's opposition to education about the use of condoms is a life-threatening action, and you are responsible for the consequences.

7 our planned trip into the Castro District is seen by many people as an attempt to "bait", and provoke, peaceful gay, lesbian, and bisexual people. We know that you are a stubborn man, and perhaps you are willing to risk confrontation to preach your message against our lifestyles and aspirations. But any resulting violence will undoubtedly be to other people - not you - since you will have considerable protection from security forces. So your conduct will cause risk to others, not to yourself. That does not seem either particularly brave, or particularly in the footsteps of Christ.

In October 1986, you issues a Letter to the Bishops of the Catholic Church on the Pastoral Care of Homosexual Persons. Your letter claims "neither the church nor society at large should be surprised when irrational and violent reactions increase" to civil legislation designed to protect gay, lesbian, and bisexual lifestyles. That kind of implicit condoning of violence raises grave questions about your true motives in going into the Castro District. We hold you accountable for the consequences of this transparent provocation.

Finally, we want you to know that your words will never, never, never keep us from our freedom. Those of us who are gay, lesbian, or bisexual, will have nothing less than our right to love another person of our own sex, and express our love fully, responsibly, and sexually. This is not negotiable.

hose of us who are women will have nothing less than our right to decide whether, when, and how we will have children. We, not you or any clergy, will control our own bodies. This is not nego-

All of us will have nothing less than our right to participate as full members of society in complete equality and dignity under the law. This is not negotiable.

These are fundamental, vital parts of our lives, and we will certainly not give them up just because some clergy say God says so. Your lecessors condemned Galileo when he said the earth revolved around the sun. Your clergy claimed Galileo was sinful in stating thisscientific fact. You have the right to your own beliefs, however incorrect they may be, but you do not have the right to interfere with our lives on the basis of those beliefs. Your attempts to inflame public opinion against us is clear interference with our lives.

> John E. Wahl, Papal Visit Task Force * * for 16 signatories

Your paper has had to put the community of gay men and women on alert to this very major fundraising event. The other papers were not going to do it. The turnout needed to be high to raise the $500,000. Your paper's lack of visual coverage did a disservice to Different Spokes, which has women as members. Your coverage totally ignored the straight couples who partipated. This was not a beefsteak contest on wheels. This event raised a lot of money through hard work to help others. I know three women who raised $1,500 between them.

It was absolutely essential for everyone to see, especially the gay men, who was out there for them. Your paper's politics are not that different from the other two San Francisco dailies in its one-sidedness. Enough is enough. Next time do a better job. Reflect the positive camaraderie so evident as the miles pressed us on.

have to march.

May I quote Hans Keller from the book The Symphony: Tschaikowsky had been temporarily broken by severe musical criticism. He "spent the entire day wandering aimlessly about town repeating, 'I am sterile, nothing will ever come from me, I have no talent." 'Keller adds: "We critics ought to have this quotation framed above our desks!'

Isaac Stoll Assistant Conductor and Oboist with the S.F. Gay Freedom Day Band Castro Valley

* Earlier this year you printed a letter I wrote where I said that the Pope's homophobic pronouncements were not something that he made up as he went along, but that he was following his rule book, the Bible. And you have published many letters from individuals attacking the Pope, his homophobic and his visit to San Francisco. Since the Pope has his bible, and the vast majority of Christians are Bible believers. I doubt any of the letters are even read, let alone taken seriously. I have found that by going to their source, the Bible, homophobic Christians will listen much more often and more seriously than they will to a bitch fight.

John Calvin, on the other hand, stressed biblical pronouncements to the contrary. God doesn't know ahead of time; He determines it; He fixes it; He plans it; it's His idea. Calvin viewed free will as a myth. So we have another contradiction in biblical theologyfree will versus predestination. Homophobic Christians are opposed to predestination because it ends moral responsibility. God chooses who will be gay; He determines it; He plans it. It's His idea. There are literally scores of verses that substantiate this

M M M M M IN

Enough Is Enough!

* I happened to see the Bay Area Reporter May 14 issue. I looked for coverage of the AIDS Bike-A-Thon. If I were not so familiar with the event (I rode in it), I would have thought only gay men participated. Why did your staff photographer only take pictures of men on that day for the B.A.R. to publish? Why were the women and straight couples who rode not featured? Steve Savage found men-not hard to do-and took pictures. This is not coverage.

> Candice K. Paskey San Francisco

ED. NOTE: Two of the three photographers who covered the Bike 4 Thon for B.A.R. were women, but unfortunately none of them turned in pictures of women riders. Perhaps you can tell us how you differentiate a "straight" cyclist from a gay one.

R. O'Loughlin

Just Remember Tschaikowsky

★ This is in response to Bob Woolhouse's article in the May 15 B.A.R. on the "Highlights of Broadway" concert. Has he attended a band concert recently? Since the turn of the century? There is other music for bands to play besides Sousa. And bands don't

It would seem that to get you to enjoy something, it has to be flashy and have lots going on. Maybe you should work on your concentration span. (Also, the band was playing for 75 percent of the concert, which you seem to dismiss as unimportant, but which would account for fatigue at the end of the concert.)

It's too bad you didn't seem to enjoy the concert. There were certainly many who did. And, as far as I'm concerned, they are the ones who count.

Send Them to the Bible

Most Bible believers believe that God knows what will happen prior to it happening, but that man is free to choose. In other words, you are free to choose what God already knows will happen. So we have all freely chosen to be gay, and God knew beforehand that we would.

"'A man's heart devised his way; but the Lord directeth his steps." (Prov. 16:9.) "He will carry out what he has planned for me. ... '' (Job 23:14 Mod. Lang.) "Only, let everyone lead the life which the Lord has assigned to him, and in which God has called him." (1 Cor. 7:17 RSV.) ". . . Your eyes saw my unformed body. All the days ordained for me were written in your book before one of them came to be." (Psalm 139:16 NIV.) "Man's going are of the Lord; how can a man then understand his own way?" (Prov. 20:24.) "In whom also we have obtained an inheritance, being predestinated according to the purpose of Him who worketh all things after the counsel of His own will." (Eph. 1:11.) "For we are all His workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them." (Eph. 2:10.) "Many are the plans in a man's heart, but it is the Lord's purpose that prevails." (Prov. 19:21 NIV.) "... For that that is determined shall be done." (Dan. 11:36.) "The steps of a man are ordered by the Lord . . ." (Psalm 37:23.) "They did what Your power and will had decided before hand should happen." (Actgs 4:28 NIV.) See also: Eph. 1:4-5; Rom. 8:28-30; Acts 13:48; 2 Thess. 2:13; John 15:16; 1 Thess. 5:9 RSV; Matt. 24:31; Rev. 20:15; John 6:44, 65; Actgs 2:39; Prov. 16:33; Job. 14:5 NIV: Acts 17:26 NIV; 2 Tim. 2:10; 1 Peter 2:8; Jude 4, 15:19: rev. 13:8: Matt. 20:23 NIV: Acts 10:41 NIV; 1 Peter 1:20; and Jer. 1:4-5.

Next time you write a letter to a Christian homophobe, why not include some of the above Bible verses? Let them go to their Bible and check out the error of their ways. Pretty soon it will dawn on them that the Bible is absolutely useless to decide anything because it decides everything anyway you want. You can find verses for and against almost everything. As I've said before, the sooner everyone gives up this "God wrote the Bible" nonsense, the better for everyone.

Alan G. Hanson

Thanks, Jerry

★ I would just like to say that I couldn't agree more with the article written by Jerry Althoff in the April 30 issue of your paper, concerning the upcoming Papal visit in San Francisco.

I am a person who has been living with AIDS for over two years now, in Portland, Oregon. It is pathetic that it took this disease to open my awareness up to understanding how society and some major worldwide religions have been crucifying us for over 2,000

If the Pope doesn't show up, I say great, we've made a much-needed point; and if his holiness does show up, "I will demonstrate, and I will bring my anger along with me (from Portland) when I do!" Thanks again, Jerry, and thank you, B.A.R., for running his story. It's too true!

Jim Case Portland, Oregon

Remember the Minorities

* This letter was sent to Clark Wolf, Director, Aid & Comfort, 333 Hayes St., Suite 111, San Francisco, CA 94102.

Dear Mr. Wolf:

The herculean job all of you are doing at Aid & Comfort is to be commended.

Last March I had several conversations with Peter Sieglar about Aid & Comfort. Specifically, I raised the issue of the possibility of channeling some of the funds raised on June 8 to local organizations devoted to providing services to ethnic minorities with AIDS.

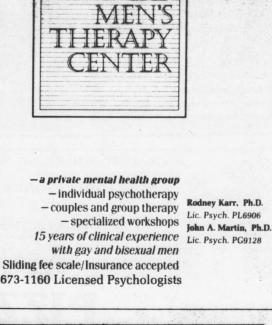

The local AIDS service providers mentioned as beneficiaries of your fundraising efforts are all good and praiseworthy organizations. However, some of those same organizations have been unable to provide services to San Francisco's minority communi ties. To quote an editorial from the San Francisco Chronicle, "A tragic irony of San Francisco's AIDS crisis is the lack of planning and funds for the minority communities."

The local Department of Public Health has failed the minority communities. Last year, collectively we had to go to Sacramento to solicit funds for programs for minorities. Because of our efforts, we now have limited state funding for minority AIDS projects: AIDS education and prevention programs, and pilot minority treatment and counseling programs.

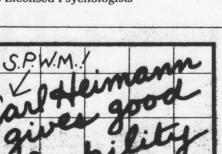

If you channel some of the funds Aid & Comfort raises to the minority communities, this gesture will be very symbolic. For it will signify that AIDS is no longer seen as a white gay male disease. And it will be a sign to all the busboys and dishwashers of your respective restaurants that you care about them, too.

I welcome the opportunity to further elaborate upon my idea. If I can provide any further information, please let me know.

George M. Hay San Francisco

GAY

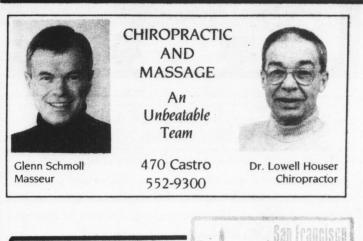

SENSITIVE LEGAL SERVICES

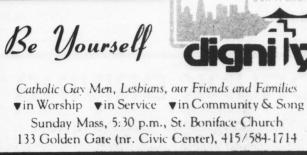

Barry Schneider ATTORNEY 400 Montgomery Street

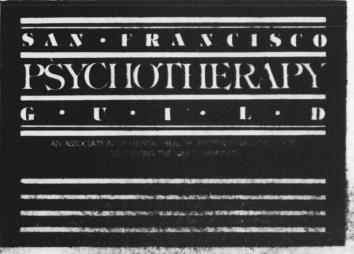

- Suite 505 San Francisco (415) 781-6500
- Personal Injury Criminal Offenses • Family Law

• Probate and Wills

General Civil Matters

BAY AREA REPORTER MAY 28, 1987 PAGE 7

So don't go into Court without knowing your rights. When facing a serious criminal charge it pays to have an attorney represent you.

With a successful defense you may avoid fines and penalties of as much as $925.00 and jail time of 48 hours to 6 months, or more.

A negotiated settlement of your case may reduce fines and penalties and avoid jail time. Take the first step to relieving your problems by calling Medlin & Potstada for a free consultation.

882-7050

PERSONAL INJURY • DRUNK DRIVING • TRIAL WORK • WILLS

ALKS & K

Orwellian

* Since there may yet be a gay man in the Bay Area who does not quite understand the bizarre Orwellian predictions being spouted by the "bath-house" wners and their lawyers, allow me to explain:

If, this afternoon, the owners are told that they may no longer bloat their bank accounts by peddling disease and death, then this evening the Gestapo will come and take away you, your lover, your poodle, and all of your track lighting.

It stands to reason, therefore, that any attempt to keep these fine, community-minded businessmen from killing you for profit would be a violation of your civil rights Got it?

George Buchanan Berkelev

Accuracy, Please

* This letter was sent to John Catchings, Executive Producer, Evening News, KGO-TV Channel 7, 900 Front St., San Francisco, CA 94111. Dear Mr. Catchings:

Please allow me to bring to your attention an incorrect statement concerning a news story broadcast last night. The story concerned three health care workers who had been exposed to the blood of AIDS patients

In a brief promotional spot for the 11 o'clock news, your newscaster encouraged viewers to tune in to hear about three health care workers who contracted AIDS after exposure to blood from AIDS patients. I don't recall the exact words used, but that was their meaning.

The promotional statement was inaccurate and misleading, because exposure to the HIV virus is not the same thing as having the medical condition AIDS. While people exposed to the virus are at risk for AIDS, many remain healthy. There is a very important distinction to be made here between having the HIV virus in one's body (positive antibody) and actually having the medical condition of AIDS, which requires a decline in immune system function accompanied by certain dangerous opportunistic infections. The workers mentioned do not have AIDS.

I am sure you can appreciate the need for accuracy in reporting on this subject, considering the volatile emotions the AIDS health crisis has often generated.

> Bill Webber San Francisco

Archives for Diaries

★ I believe that there is a need for an archive to which gay men could will their diaries.

So far, I'm aware of extensive journals kept by two AIDS victim friends of mine having been promptly destroyed by family.

This seems a tragic loss for future understanding of the unique era which is coming to such an abrupt end for so many of us.

Does anyone have any ideas? I welcome correspondence.

> P.O. Box 582 Felton, CA 95018

* Hardly an issue of this paper goes by without some reference to John Wahl or Robert Cromey and me aspect of the Papal visit. Who are these people, and why are they Wahl is a former Roman Catholic, strongly tied with gay political organizations, and spokesperson for an ad-hoc group called the "Papal Visit Task Force." This group recently met with archdiocesan officials and have drawn up a letter purportedly representing the "gay and lesbian community opposition to the visit." Wahl does not speak for Dignity or any other group of gay and lesbian Roman Catholics. He does not speak for the "gay and lesbian community" (not even Harry Britt can do that, and he is an elected official). Neither does he speak for people with AIDS and ARC whom he seems to want to protect from being used by the Pope.

Cromey is an Episcopalian cleric, quick to remind people tht he is "straight," and pastor of a struggling inner-city parish. He is not Roman Catholic. He is

If anyone should have a voice in Papal plans, it is Dignity, they are the ones with the most to lose. An angry hierarchy can suppress permission for them to use church property. This has already happened in other cities. Another possible casualty to Wahl and Cromey's rhetoric could be the AIDS/ARC program of Catholic Social Services. This is the only direct service organization in town for people with ARC. The only ones who have anything to gain from alienating Rome, and the millions of Catholics in our area, could be the two prima donnas themselves. Wahl is a lawyer, and Cromey has decided to boost his parish roles with outreach to the gay community Dignity has plans for the Papal visit. It is their church, let them handle their prodigal father. Bob Nelson

Deacon, St. Mark's Lutheran San Francisco

ED. NOTE: Since when is membership in a group the only prerequisite for disagreeing with an organizational head and voicing your disagreement? If Gorbachev visits the United States, should only people of Russian background have the right to protest his policies? What if Pinochet visited the U.S., should only Chileans have the right to disagree with him and protest against him? Do you think that only Catholics are interested in Pope John Paul II's visit?

In America, I belive we still call it, ahem, freedom of speech.

Will Snyder

Etc., Etc., Etc.

★ This letter was sent to General Manager, KTVU Channel 2, Jack London Square, Oakland, CA. Dear Managerperson:

I am very indignant over the removal of the Joan Rivers show from Channel 2!

It is quite obvious that this move is homophobic due to the great popularity of Joan Rivers among gay viewers. We are the only ones who really understand and appreciate the campy and bitchy remarks and as this is part of our culture, your obvious bias shows through against gay people everywhere in the world.

I have received totally reliable information that you are in conjunction with KOED in a conspiracy to deprive all gay viewers of their favorite programs.

I am warning you that if you do not return Miss Rivers immediately to her show slot, I will immediately organize a boycott against Channel 2 and refuse to watch your obviously biased homophobic program ming along with the boycott of Channel 9 KQED, Delta Airlines, Coors Beer, non-union grapes, Sebastiani wines, Muni railway, the Chronicle, the Examiner, etc., etc., etc.,

This is no joke!

Andrew J. Betancourt San Francisco

Vote Yes on 'A'

* Stony Gebert recently wrote the Sentinel, asking its readers to vote no on Proposition A, the "Poly High" Rezoning Referendum.

What Mr. Gebert neglected to tell us was that 114 single-family units of housing will be built on the old Poly High site. The one, two, three, and four bedroom nomes will go to first-time buyers only and at reasonable interest rates. Cost: $92,000 to $137,000. Anyone remotely aware of the cost of housing in San Francisco must know this is remarkably affordable housing

Mr. Gebert further neglected to tell us about the neighborhood support for housing at this site. See your Voter Information Pamphlet, pp. 12-14.

Finally, Mr. Gebert did not go into who was behind this referendum. According to the S.F. Examiner, the persons collecting petition signatures were paid to do so. In fact, when a subsequent petition was circulated. I asked the person if he was working for a ertain individual. He sheeplishly stated yes. As ar inveterate petition signer, I feel that thousands of us were misled.

As an extremely active member of a small neighborhood group which has been battling the developers of a huge condominium development for about three years, I bow to no one in feeling that far too many developers exemplify greed at its worst. This feeling, however, does not blind me to the occasional exceptions to the norm.

I urge readers of this paper to vote yes on Proposition A. If neighborhoods support a project which will bring them affordable housing, it should be permitted.

> Edward Scruggs San Francisco

Hippler Is Great

* Thank you for Mike Hippler. His column makes me smile, and it makes me weep. The man has integrity.

> Elliot Bradford San Francisco

market

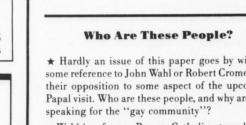

The tentative title is "Charles Pierce: The Movie Star Movie''Live At The Ballroom. Ed, The Ballroom is the intimate club you were hoping I would perform in and the audience on the first night of filming included Lucille Ball, Harvey Fierstein, Chita Rivera, Dorothy Loudon, Hayden "Dr. Bellows" Rorke, Keene Curtis, Michael Kearns, and actors and dancers from the Broadway shows. The second night we shot scenes of "The Ladies" arriving at The Ballroom in limos, a taxi and "Barbara Stanwyck" driving up in a jeep. By that, I mean ME in "Big Valley" leather drag!

Well, I am not giving away any more details except to hope all this madness will please you, Ed... I hope it pleases everybody . . . and just when you thought it was safe to turn on your VCR!

The movers were due at 9 a.m. At 8:55 a.m. we got a call from the movers, sying their truck had broken down and asking us to wait until late in the afternoon for our move. At that point I had seven friends there to help move some of the boxes downstairs, in order to save money on the move. We told the movers the wait was unacceptable, so they farmed us out to another moving company. We got a few calls from that gentleman, who then farmed us out to a third company. The owner of the third company said we'd have a truck by 11 a.m., so we moved the boxes onto the sidewalk in preparation.

stopping.

at work.

Stephen Johnson

A: K & W W K

Charles Pierce Video

* An interested fan has written you wondering why I have no videocassette of my nightclub act on the

Thank you, Ed Senggs, for your letter that was for-warded to me by Bruce Billings of Castro (the funny dog) fame. Bruce had seen it in B.A.R. and knew I would want you to know that, YES! YES! YES! there is a video about to come out! In fact, I have just this very day returned from NYC where we filmed the show. I did say "filmed" and the quality is quite incredible. The transfer to tape and all the editing will be done this summer for a September release.

Charles Pierce

An Important Decision

* It was an important decision the Supreme Court made this week, that non-black victims of ethnicityrelated discrimination are covered by the 1866 Civil Rights Act. Because the significant of race and ancestry is a cultural construct, a society must move to protect its scapegoated, mistreated, and victimized minorities. Whether the Court-any court-will acknowledge the connection between social and political attitudes and the tremendous and increasing discrimination and violence against lesbians and gay men, and hence extend this law's applicability, remains to be seen.

> Scott Bravmann Berkeley

Darlene Is Super

★ I know and admire your staff of photographers— Rink always on the spot, Bob Pruzan getting to be world class status, and even sharp Marcus snapping with an eye on the scene as good as his tongue. But who is "Photo Graphics/Darlene"? Since you started printing her work, she seems better week by week.

Ron Johnson San Francisco

Moving Day

* I recently had an experience with movers that I would like to share with your readers in the hope that this will prevent recurrence.

At the beginning of this month, my roommate and I were going to move. We called a mover advertised in your newspaper, feeling that if they advertised in the B.A.R. they would probably be non-homophobic. Thus began a string of events that proved frustrating and upsetting.

At noon we were notified that the third company's truck had a flat tire and that they'd be there as soon as possible. We kept getting phone calls delaying their arrival time. Around 3 o'clock my friends were standing outside with the boxes, and a truck from the third mover just went right by the house without

By 5 p.m. we called the original mover, who agreed to come over and move us. The owner of the third company had "lost" his men and the truck and had gone searching for them. He then decided to find his truck and come over himself with a friend to move us, since he felt so badly about our wait. By the time he finally arrived at 6:45, the first mover was busy

The third mover was a very nice man (even if he didn't know where his truck was half the time) who told us the following: The second mover wouldn't take us because we were "two men going from one apartment to another" and that his own people, who he described as "punks from Burlingame" had passed by our apartment because they "saw who they were going to have to move." He didn't say the words. but it was obvious his men didn't want to move gay mer

The reason for this letter is that I noticed that the third mover has placed an ad in B.A.R., and I would hate for other people to have the experience we did. I suggest that, when hiring a mover, your readers ask for references and call them to find out how reliable the mover is.

> Jay W. Linker San Francisco

Boycott Arvey Paper

* We are writing to urge your support to the boycott of Arvey Paper & Supplies. The basic rights to job security and to strike are at issue.

On October 9, 1986, employees of Arvey Paper (San Francisco) went on strike in response to a company demand to eliminate union jobs. This was after five months of attempting to negotiate with Arvey. They struck to protect their jobs of customer service and warehouse work they had been doing from six to 25 years.

The strikers, represented by ILWU Local 6, returned to the negotiating table five times-each time offering concessions. A federal mediator was brought in. On Oct. 30 the strikers decided to end the strike and offered unconditionally to return to work.

Arvey's brutal response was to tell the strikers that they were already "permanently replaced." They were replaced by scabs and wages slashed by a third -all without notice

Reagan's conservative appointees to the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) have upheld this action. They are in the process of rewriting the Wagner Act to eliminate the right to strike.

We feel the gay and lesbian communities have a vital stake in this struggle. Arvey is part of a huge, national chain raking in superprofits. Their actions are part of a wider right-wing offensive against the rights of workers, lesbians and gays, and racial minorities that has gained steam in the Reagan years. Moreover, the labor movement has been our most powerful ally in defeating the homophobic Briggs Initiative in 1978, the vicious La Rouche Initiative last November, and in support of current gay rights legislation in the California statehouse. We recognize that an injury to one is an injury to all.

Please don't shop at Arvey Paper until all eight strikers are returned to their jobs. Spread the word to your friends, community organizations, and the businesses you patronize.

> Paul Boneberg Sup. Harry Britt Barbara M. Cameron Nanci Clarence Diana Christensen Dennis Collins Kim Corsaro Greg Day Mary Dunlap Nancy Elnor Roberto Esteves David Goldman Rick Hauptman Cleve Jones Ken Jones Tede Matthews Ken McPherson John Mehring Ann Menasche George Mendenhall Wayne Moore Pat Norman Bill Paul Shane Summer Carmen Vazquez Howard Wallace Tim Wolfred

Bobby's Mom

★ Last year, in August, our dear friend Bobby Thompson died after a year-long struggle with AIDS. During the last three months, we and Bobby's many friends came to know his mother, Barbara, very well.

Barbara lived with us during those last months. We watched and were deeply moved by how she cared for her son, how she worked day and night to help keep him comfortable, and how she brought sunshine and beauty into our home and our lives.

It is with regret that we share with Bobby's many friends the passing of his loving mother—and our dear friend—Barbara, on May 22 in Odessa, Texas.

> Paul Johnson Kevin Wadsworth San Francisco

L.C.S.W. 3240

MENTAL HEALTH PROFESSIONALS SERVING THE GAY COMMUNITY PERSONAL ISSUES, SEXUAL & RELATIONSHIP DIFFICULTIES SLIDING SCALE, INSURANCE & MEDI-CAL WELCOMED CALL 552-2974 OR 621-2770 FOR INITIAL APPOINTMENT

shoulders & back, penis and scrotum, buttocks, arms or legs, chest, abdomen, perineum/rectal areas, nape of the neck lus moustache, beard, eyebrow shaping. Electrolysis: The safe, sterile process of permanent hair removal takes time, so start now and look great for the Summer. Call for a complimentary consultation.

ACCEPT ONLY THE BEST CASTRO VILLAGE ELECTROLYSIS LARRY SEEMAN CHUCK IOHNSON 821-1242 821-1113 712A Castro St., San Francisco, CA 94114

NATIONAL/WORLD NEWS

a positive answer. I'd be distressed to see my child-

MUN, when asked by immoral.

should not."

Is KKK Really Gay, Gay, Gay?

MOBILE, AL - Well, we don't want 'em, but we have 'em, like it or not. The hottest rumor coming out of the South is that there are (shh) gay people in the Ku Klux Klan.

According to a recent report, there are strong rumors that there are at least two members of the Klan who are gay. When the murder of Michael MacDonald and the Klan's alleged involvement with that case was brought to court, two members of the Klan were rumored to be gay. -The Southern Poverty Law Center

Lawyers Opposed To 'Sodomy' Verdict

CHICAGO - Almost seven out of every ten American lawyers are opposed to last year's U.S. Supreme Court decision which upheld the rights of states to make and enforce laws prohibit ing homosexual sodomy.

A recent poll published by the American Bar Association showed that 67 percent of U.S. attorneys think the Bowers v. Hardwick ruling undermines constitutional rights to privacy, and 57 percent believe that the decision makes anti-gay discrimination more likely. Fifty-seven percent believe that states should repeal odomy laws.

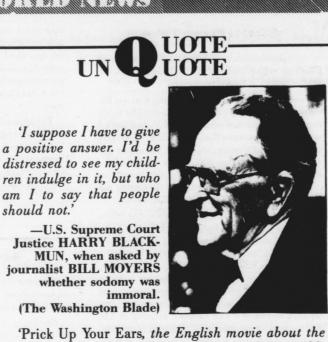

Two-thirds of the lawyers, how ever, believe that gays should not be classified as a "protected class" for federal equal protection purposes.

-The Washington Blade No Gays On 'New' Game Show

BURBANK-Well, it may be called the New Dating Game, but there doesn't seem to be anything new about the show.

When Walt Case, the producer of the show, was asked if The New Dating Game would feature any gay contestants, his response was, "We're old fashioned. When we send people off on a date, we want them to be from different sexes."

> -The Weekly News of Miami

star playwright of the anarchic '60s, the disreputable farceur Joe Orton, shows dedication, courage, forethought ... It may make you wonder why so much orgiastic sex has produced so few works of art.' -PAULINE KAEL, reviewing Prick Up Your Ears

(The New Yorker)

'I've never said anything about myself [being homosexual or bisexual], and I never will. What I'm trying to say is that there are no categories. Only Americans in their deep primitive ignorance, based upon fierce Christianity, could have made teams, a good team and a bad team, by inventing two categories that don't exist. Once you allow a category to be invented and you to be put in, [Bergen-] Belsen is right down the road, because the power to categorize is the power to enslave." -Novelist GORE VIDAL

Virginia Man Sues Pizza Chain

NORFOLK, VA. - The trademark line for Domino's Pizza has always been, "One call does it all." Now, however, the giant pasta pusher faces a different kind of call, a call to court.

A gay employee of Tidewater Pizza, which operates Domino's Pizza stores in Tidewater, has sued the firm because he claims Domino's suspended him from his job apparently based on a rumor that he had AIDS. "I'm not doing it only for the money," said 28-year-old Michael Wolfe, "I'm doing it for all the other gays and lesbians in the world to let them know that if there's somebody else out there who has had this happen to them, don't sit on your ass."

Wolfe had worked at Domino's for 11/2 years before the company suspended hiim last December

-Our Own Community Press of Norfork, VA

(Vanity Fair)

Prison Riot In Belaium

BRUSSELS-Approximately 100 prisoners rioted in Tournai Prison recently because of five prisoners who have contracted AIDS. The prisoners were trying to get the five PWAs transferred.

The 100 inmates seized two wings of the prison, chased out wardens and ransacked the premises. They also flew a banner which said, "Free them. AIDS danger."

-Agence France Presse

Studds To Send Koop Report To District Homes

BOSTON - Rep. Gerry "If federal health authorities "The surgeon general's bro-Studds (D-Mass) recently an- won't distribute their own report, chure is the best one I've seen on copies of U.S. Surgeon General C. Everett Koop's report on AIDS to each of the 268,000 households in his district. He said he was forced to do this because of inaction by the federal governmen

U.S. Surgeon General C.

Everett Koop

nounced that he plans to send I believe we (members of Con- the subject, and the problem is gress) are obliged to do it for them," said Studds. "Each day that passes, more and more peoand across the country."

> that Koop and some federal officials were in favor of similar house mailings of the information, but other administration officials were concerned that the material might be too controversial. The report had urged sexual education in the schools and also had recommended the use of condoms or abstinence as ways to stop the AIDS virus.

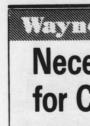

Studds received his highest praise from Mayor John K. Bullard of New Bedford, the largest city in Studds' district.

that it hasn't been distributed," said Bullard. "This takes a huge burden off of us because now the basic information is going to every household."

-The Boston Globe

Rep. Gerry Studds (Photo: Rink)

The Centers for Disease Control in Atlanta last week issued a report concluding that all three who had contracted the virus had chapped or cracked skin or dermatitis - conditions that allowed the virus to enter their bloodstreams. CDC officials say the finding should not alarm people who have friends or relatives who have AIDS or who are infected with the virus.

prevented the infections.

developed AIDS.

their work.

al campaign deficit. Singer II.

ple are at risk in Massachusetts The Boston Globe reported

Wayne Friday Necessary Precautions for Campaigning

espite reports that three health-care workers contracted the AIDS virus when their skin was exposed to blood from AIDS-infected people, federal health officials says there is no need to panic. They have, however, cautioned healthcare workers again to follow existing safety measures for handling

"The cases involved direct exposure to blood. None involved casual contact," says Dr. James Hughes of CDC's hospital infections program. Dr. Hughes says in two of the three reported cases, the workers didn't know the blood carried the AIDS virus. In both of these cases, use of gloves and other protective gear which should be routine when dealing with blood might have In the third case, the top of a tube flew off and a worker was splashed with blood on her face. and she is thought to have become infected through the mouth. None of the three has yet

Worldwide, only six healthcare workers have become infected due to their jobs. In the largest study, conducted by the CDC, only one of 1,097 health care workers exposed to infected blood through accidental cuts or needle sticks tested positive for the AIDS virus. According to Dr. Mervyn Silverman, in San Francisco, none of the more than 500 health care workers who routinely deal with AIDS patients have become infected through

Silverman said that while health care workers must make sure they take the necessary precautions when handling blood, he agreed with CDC officials who say there is no reason for panic.

ay Area Reporter writer Allen White is to be the media coordinator in the Molinari for Mayor campaign. Friends of Supervisor Harry Britt are holding a Birthday Tribute for him Thursday, June 4 at Ft. Mason Conference Center, help eliminate his congression-

Sharon McNight and come dian Danny Williams will entertain; 6-8 pm, no-host cocktails, hors d'oeuvres, (621-6164 for

Speaking of campaign deficits, L.A. Demo party honcho Roz Wyman gave a little party at her home and raised $20,000 last week to help pay Nancy Pelosi's campaign costs.

In Sacramento, the Assembly Elections Committee approved a bill last week (AB 2240) by Assemblyman John Vasconcellos to allow voter registration up to 15 days before election day instead of the current 29 days and on the last Saturday and Sunday before a general election. It also would remove voters from the rolls who fail to vote in two consecutive general election cycles. A 6-2 vote sent the bill to the Assembly Ways and Means Com-

Thought you had heard the last from Gary Hart? The former presidential candidate is telling his friends and political associates he has mapped an ambitious blueprint to maintain his political base and keep himself at the center of national policy debate throughout the '88 campaign. To do this Hart plans to write newspaper opinion columns, magazine articles, do a national lecture tour and appear on television talk shows.

ot a good week for mayoral candidate Art Agnos. First, he has reportedly upset some of his gay and lesbian backers by his announced support of Massachusetts Gov. Michael Dukakis for president; Dukakis is considered homophobic by many gays and lesbians in his home state. Then the Chinese Six Companies, historically one of the most influential groups in San Francisco's atown not only rescinded an Chi earlier endorsement of Agnos, but turned around and unanimously endorsed his opponent, John Molinari.

President and Mrs. Reagan will attend a black-tie AIDS fundraiser with Elizabeth Taylor in Washington on May 31 and many of those in attendance expect to spend the following day in jail. Civil disobedience is planned at the White House the morning after the fundraiser with complaints centering on the slowness of the government in holding drug trials and the need for a united, ma with the $35 donation going to the disease, similar to the Manhattan Project during World War

John Vasconcellos

(Photo: Rink)

San Francisco Superintendent of Schools Ray Cortines will be the guest speaker at tomorrow morning's Bay Area Non-Partisan Alliance Civic Breakfast at the Ramada Renaissance Hotel (Don Disler at 392-2800 for reservations or info).

Mass. Congressman Gerry Studds mailing to all 268,000 households in his district a copy of the surgeon general's report on ways to reduce the dangers of AIDS. "If the federal health authorities can't distribute their own report, I believe we are obliged to do it for them. It ought to be in every home in the land". said Studds. It's also available by writing to AIDS, P.O. Box 14252, Wash., D.C. 20044.

And in New York City, 5,922 participants in a 10-kilimeter walk for AIDS research and services in the Big Apple last weekend raised $1.61 million. The amount will go to the Gay Men's Health Crisis, which provides support services for people with AIDS and for AIDS-prevention education.

Don't invite Sen. Quentin Kopp and congressional candidate Harriet Ross to the same cocktail party. Kopp is fuming over a campaign brochure Ross sent out that uses a quote of his critical of Nancy Pelosi that makes it appear he has endorsed Ross.

MAKE DINNER MAKE FRIENDS MAKE A DIFFERENCE

AIDS is a hard fact of life for many of us in San Francisco, but we don't have to be helpless in the face of it. Since 1983, volunteers of the Shanti Practical Support Program have been making a difference. As a Practical Support Volunteer your gift of time means cooked meals, clean laundry and a clean place to live for someone with AIDS. It also means making friends and knowing how much you matter.

> Tip the scales. Be a Shanti Practical Support Volunteer. 777-CARE

LIFE AT THE CLOSET DOOR BBB THE CITIZENS' DEFENSE ... BEE THE AUTHORITIES GOD-ZILLA ATTACK HELPLESS ! WE COULD CALL THE GOVERNOR ... A 900 FOOT TALL JESUS IN THE MISSION DISTRICT? ... WHAT'S SO UNUSURL ABOUT THAT? ARE YOU KIDDIN THE GOVERNOR PROBABLY SENT SMASHED WHEN YOU THOUGHT IT WAS THE BOX OFFICES TO GO BACK TO CHURCH.

BAY AREA REPORTER MAY 28, 1987 PAGE 11

CELEBRATE LIFE at

METROPOLITAN COMMUNITY CHURCH OF S.F.

May 31: 10:30 am - Morning Worship with Holy Communion Sermon: Mr. Bill Lowell 7:00 pm - May Series: THE SPIRIT OF WOMEN ALIVE IN THE WORLD Tonight: Judy Grahn (men and women welcome

> 150 Eureka 863-4434 Childcare & Sign Language provided at morning services Rev. Jim Mitulski, Pastor Bill Lowell & Coni Staff, student clergy Will Archibald, student intern, AIDS ministry

Shop Gay, Buy Gay: Give 'em the Business.

MCC

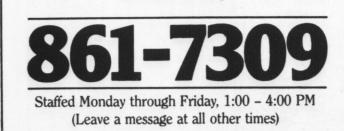

Please call us if you are-

- in need of advice
- looking for information
- confused and anxious
- depressed

We want to help.

Nobody had to pay a toll this time.

Mike Hippler

Open Your Golden Gate

he afternoon sun was re-flecting off the beams of the Bay Bridge as I drove toward San Francisco, and the summer fog was nowhere to be seen. There was nothing to obscure my view of familiar yet fantastic landmarks rising from the sparkling bay — Alcatraz, Angel Island, and Mt. Tam - and nothing to obscure the exhileration I felt on entering The City for the upteenth time.

Crossing the bridge is always exciting. This time, however, it was even more so. After two months on the road, two months away from the place we call Oz, I was coming home.

I'll never forget the first time heard that word used to describe the place also known as Baghdad-by-the-Bay. I was attending, for the first time, a football game at Cal Stadium with a group of friends. It was a glorious day, so beautiful that I had a hard time paying attention to the game. Instead, a friend and I wandered to the top of the stadium, which is perched high in the Berkeley hills overlooking the bay. "Look," he said, pointing to the west. "Oz."

The Emerald City? Well, no, but enchanted — yes, definitely. Under a spell, for an hour we watched the fog roll in under the delicate spans connecting the city to the rest of the world. Later, as we drove toward the cluster of spires rising from a sea of hills, I though, "It's true. This city is ne of the most magical things about the city is the possibilities that are available here. When I moved to San Francisco years ago, the town was a seeker's paradise. Anything sought could be found, it seem-

Gay Run

(Continued from page 4) hadn't estimated the total amount of money they would raise, but he hoped it would be substantial. Puerzer is also a pledge runner and his progress will be followed by B.A.R. in the coming weeks.

Not to be overlooked, the 8th Annual Gay Run expects more than 1500 runners on a 5k and 10k course through Golden Gate row orchestra seats. Later I learned to appreciate other qualities. The sense of comfort I felt, for instance, became far more important than the sense of adventure. For once I didn't have to wonder whether or not people understood and/or accepted me. I simply assumed that everyone I met — at the bars or in the orchestra seats - was either gay or enlightened. The ed, from back-room bars to front-

sheer force of our numbers made that possible. It's easy to take that kind of security for granted. Living in what is essentially a city-wide ghetto, we tend to forget what life is like outside. Imagine living in a town wihtout the extensive AIDS support system that is available here, or a town without the network of social, athletic, and political organizations that make gay life in this city so satisfying. Other places just can't compare. Seattle may have a gay chorus, but we've got several. It took New Yorkers over a decade to pass a gay rights bill. Hell, in New Orleans, they can't even keep a gay gym going.

You don't have to travel far to remind yourself just how special San Francisco is. Nor do you have to stay away long. I have been known to return from a three-day camping or skiing trip to the mountains and drop to my knees in relief and gratitude as soon as crossed the city line. (Of course, I have been known to drop to my knees for any reason at all.)

I mean, college boys in hiking shorts or ski pants are fun to look at and everything, but I need more than that on a daily basis like the diversity I find on almost any street in San Francisco.

Puerzer said 100 volunteers

his is not to imply that I don't enjoy other places or people. There is nothing to compare to the excitement of New York City or the scenery of southern Utah, two of the places I visited on this trip. New Yorkers themselves can be charming beneath their brusque exteriors. And as far as Utah's Mormons are concerned, well, they're as nice as can be if you don't talk about feminism, gay rights, black power, or anything, really, except the weather. Most would drop dead of a heart attack if they ever walked down Haight Street. Fortunately, no one's asking them to do that.

Whenever I return to the city from places like these, there are always adjustments to be made. The shorts I wore in Death Valley are entirely inappropriate for San Francisco, as are the driving techniques I learned in Kansas. There are some things here, I realize, that I could easily do without - like housing costs, parking conditions, and most of all, the obituary section of the B.A.R. But other things make up for it - tea at Cafe Flore, a matinee at the Castro Theater, and the will to survive I see on every face. These advantages far outweigh the disadvantages for me. It's why I always come back, no matter how often I leave.

I have a friend in New York who, when people began to talk of a quarantine a few years back, said, "Fine. Just give us Arizona, and we'll be happy. Think of the money we could make charging exhorbitant entrance fees to the Grand Canyon. And think of the incredible tan lines we could Sorry, but I could never agree. For one thing, I'd miss the view of Alcatraz. For another, I'd miss the thrill of coming home.

were also needed to help stage and staff the Gay Run, but contributions are also gratefully accepted by San Francisco Front-Runners, 1550 California St., Suite 6L200, S.F., CA 94109.

For further information about the Gay Run or the pledge drive for AIDS, call 552-1406 or 552-3328.

Park on July 12. The winners will once again be given medals in the top divisions and the race will be followed by a pot luck meal and refreshments

Molinari Names 70 Campaign Chiefs

Britt Backs Jack

by Charles Linebarger

Seventy representatives from the gay and lesbian community have been named as leaders in the campaign of Sup. John Molinari for mayor of San Francisco. They showed their support for Molinari last week at a rally at the Trocadero Transfer and kicked off their campaign for the gay vote.

A good-sized crowd turned out for the campaign starter as scores of gay men and lesbians wellknown in the community were introduced as co-chairs of the Molinari for mayor campaign.

The Gay Freedom Day Marching Band began the evening with a rousing performance. The band was followed by last year's grand marshall of the Lesbian and Gay Freedom Day Parade, Sharon McNight singing "Red Hot Mama". The San Francisco Tap Troup also performed on the Trocadero stage for the crowd.

Sup. Harry Britt served as honorary chair of the event. Laurie McBride and George Burgess have been named co-chairs of the Molinari campaign in the gay and lesbian community. The seventy campaign leaders will head up the campaign in a variety of special constituencies such as merchants, neighborhoods, ethnic groups, professions, particular interests, and special

After the entertainment B.A.R. columnist Wayne Friday introduced the lesbian and gay cochairs. Among them are AIDS activists Paul Boneberg and Ken McPherson of the Mobilization Against AIDS, Hank Cook of the AIDS Emergency Fund, Bill Paul a co-founder of the ARC/AIDS Vigil, and Leonard Matlovich, a man with AIDS who sued the U.S. Air Force years ago over antigay discrimination.

Jim Sandmire of the Golden Gate MCC Church, Shawn Kelly of Gay Cames II, Rick Brattin of the Gay Softball League, Tina Tanner and Patrick McGonigle of the royal court system were introduced as were Phyllis Lyon of the Human Rights Commission and Del Martin of the San Francisco Commission on the Status of Women.

Ray Benson, the liaison to the gay community from the San Francisco Police Department was introduced, as was Gilbert Baker, the Betsy Ross of the gay community, and Patrick Toner and Autumn Courtney, last year's parade organizers. And leaders of the gay Democratic clubs were there too — Greg Day of the Alice B. Toklas Club, Carole Migden of the Harvey Milk Club, and Ralph Payne of Stonewall. And the list goes on.

In his introduction of Sup. Molinari, Sup. Harry Britt said, "Jack Molinari will be good for all the city. A lot of politics is based on personal trust and loyalty, and Jack has won my trust and lovalty.'

John Molinari had everyone in a mirthful mood.

"If Harvey Milk were here he would have enjoyed this," said Molinari to a cheering crowd, "because he lived and breathed politics. And the fact that two people are actively pursuing the gay vote would have delighted

"Harvey's burning desire was to make gay people an important and influential force in San Francisco politics. I've worked with the gay community since I've been in office for the last 15 years. I've worked in partnership with the gay community since I've been supervisor, which means sitting down with them and receiving their input before making decisions that affect them, rather than dictating to them from Sacramento what is good for them," said Molinairi.

"Under my administration," Molinari continued, "no person with AIDS will be without a home, medical attention or social services."

Political columnists in the nongay press have recently been writing that the mayoral race between Molinari and Assemblyman Art Agnos has created deep divisions within the gay community. But Steve Krefting, who lost his job as an aide to Lieut. Gov. Leo McCarthy when he announced his support of Britt's recent Congressional candidacy, thought differently.

Said Krefting, "There is a major power struggle going on because for the first time in a number of years some major offices have opened up that had been stable, such as the Congression(Photo: Scott Martin) al seat and the mayor's office. This is a natural sequence. We are in for a period of political instability. But this is not an unusual divisiveness. It's just that everything is up for grabs."

However, Harry Britt's support is not up for grabs, said the supervisor who almost went to Washington from the 5th Congressional District, "I will be working very hard for Jack because I think his election is absolutely essential to take us to the next step. We are ready for more leadership in the total life of this city."

Shop Gay, Buy Gay: Give 'em the Business.

Eagle Team Wins 56-Min. Trike Race

16th Great Tricycle Race Raises Funds for Shanti

by Allen White

The S.F. Eagle was the winner of the 16th Annual edition of The Great Tricycle Race. Each year The Mint has sponsored this charity function since the early 1970s and the Shanti Project was the recipient of the day's proceeds. The Tricycle Race is sort of a Bay To Breakers for fairies. The event combines the physical stamina to complete the race with the outrageous costumes attributed to the creative members of the community.

win.

noon at the S.F. Eagle. Contestants gathered with a group of spectators to lend a degree of organizational structure.

Though barely noticeable on the surface, the Tricycle Race is a carefully planned project. Behind the scenes the Coits of San Francisco and The Council of Emperors and Empresses have developed a smooth and workable schedule.

The first order of business is the judging of entries. The judges this year ranged from State Sen. Milton Marks to Empress Tina Tanner.

The Paradise in Oakland arrived with a tricycle decorated

The event began Monday at with a large grouping of flowers and a rather large (by most standards) dildo.

The Stud provided three entrants this year. Their entrants were unquestionably the youngest and possibly an example of the next generation in the gay movement. Youth activist Ron Huberman took time to check the qualifications of The Stud's crew. One Stud team was headed by B.A.R.'s Greg Douthwaite wearing goggles.

The race began sharply at 2 p.m. Like the Bay To Breakers. there are those in the race to have fun and others who are there to

This year there were two teams

Comedian Danny Williams interviews the S.F. Eagle team, (Photo: Scott Martin)

winner of the Tricycle Race. who pushed their way to victory.

The S.F. Eagle entered two members of the United States Navy. They were surrounded with a group of coaches and they were unquestionably in the race to win.

Second place would go to Tim Sharp and Cynthia Dear from The Stud. Sharp and Dear travelled alone but they were fast. Their only bad moment came at Noe and Market when a car pulled in front of the two. It was the only time during the race when organization monitors were unable to clear a path.

The route of the race started at the Eagle and moved over to Folsom Street. It then moved up Market Street, past the Pilsner Inn on Church, back onto Market and through Noe, 18th and finally up Castro for the final leg down Market Street to the Mint.

The guys from the Navy representing the Eagle crossed the finish line 56 minutes after they began. Second place winners Tim Sharp and Cynthia Dear crossed the finish line two minutes later. Last year's first place winners, Patrick and Tony, came in third a few minutes after that.

First prize winners took home $300, second place got $200 and three entrants this year. Their entrants were unquestionably the youngest and possibly an example of the next generation in the gay movement.

third place walked away with $100.

The official sponsors of the 16th Annual Tricycle Race were The Mint, Hot N'Hunky and the Mother Lode. Producers of this year's successful event were Stanly Boyd and Mark Friese.

As the race concluded at The Mint, the afternoon became a party. As happens each year, the Grey Line tour buses look in total freaked out amazement at the festivities.

Nurse Naomi, as she has done for every single tricycle race, took over as the mistress of the street. On the stage Danny Williams took over as master of ceremonies.

GUARD YOUR BODY

BODYGUARD has the best way to guard your body-the 960 ErgoCycle II. It's the only consumer ergometer with a professional dual sprocket drive train for an enhanced aerobic workout & less muscle fatique. Winner of Norway's RID design award, the 960 also features a computerized electronic readout comfortable seat, padded handlebars & more.
For home or office fitness training, discover the Exercise Bicycle Advantage from Scandinavia's bicycle/ fitness leader.

For nearest dealer, contact: J. Oglaend, Inc. 40 Radio Circle Mt. Kisco, NY 10549 Call Toll Free: 1-800-828-1186 In NY: (914) 666-2272

BODYGUARD by E/ OGLEND SINCE 186

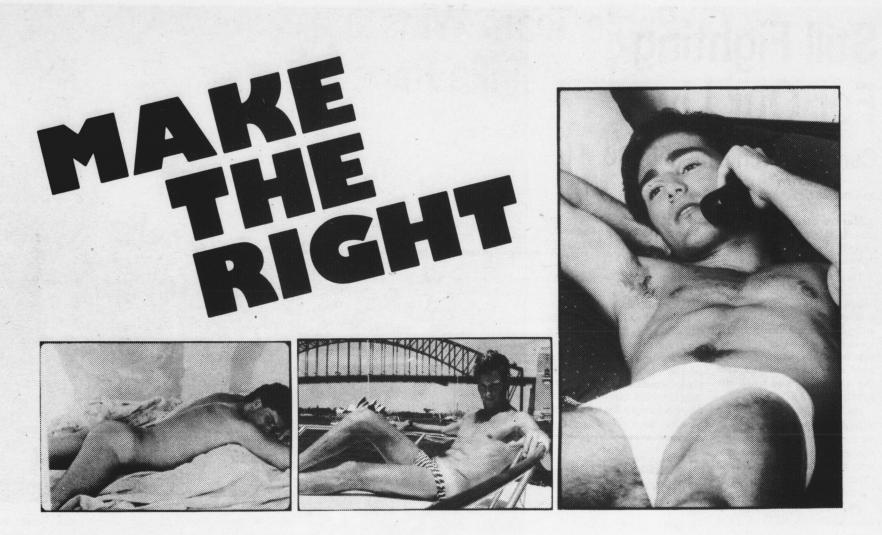

The return of Ben-Hur and Messala? (Photo: Steve Savage)

(Photo: Steve Savage

CONNECTION... On California's Outrageous Conference Calls

California, Philadelphia, Washington, D.C. and Baltimore. We are the first and biggest company in the by any standards, and billed discreetly to your phone bill. will be connected to an ongoing, UNINHIBITED CON- guaranteed. Call 415-976-6767 in San Francisco, FERENCE CALL, with up to nine men from all over 213-976-3050 in Los Angeles and 619-976-G-A-Y-S in men, like yourself, anxious to make new acquaintances. even have a line for Spanish callers! 213-976-C-I-T-A.

Our exciting phone service has become the rage all over LIVE! NOT A RECORDING. Top or bottom, short or tall, young or old, they're all here! It's only $2*-cheap field-our conferences are HOT !! When you dial you No credit cards are required. Your anonymity is California. NOT PROFESSIONALS! Just interesting San Diego now and see what you have been missing. We

*This call is only $2 in most of the 415, 213 and 619 area code. Matching is random and you may not hear another caller and yet still be charged. Call at peak night times to avoid unwanted charges. Additional toll charges may apply in some areas.

Still Fighting For Our Lives

Candle March Draws 5000

by Charles Linebarger

Market Street was ablaze with candles as 5,000 people marched from Castro to City Hall for an evening of speeches and singing in honor of the dead and to support the living in the continuing battle against AIDS.

There was an electricity in the marchers stretched back as far as air as people gathered on Castro you could see. before the march. Friends joined in clusters and here and there an of City Hall and the procession individual worked silently, fitting swept into Polk Street, filling the a candle into a paper or plastic cup. Toward the corner of Market and Castro the crowd spilled off on a tin platform that had been the sidewalks and onto the streets.

On the corner a lone gray- which required a fire truck to put haired man hit a mournful beat on a conga drum. The weather was appropriate to a memorial march, cold with leaden skys but clear. Twin Peaks rose above the Castro looking somber and regal.

The mass slowly began to move as the People With AIDS group led the march with their banner. Behind the first crush came a trio of rainbow flags, the symbol of the gay community on the move. Leonard Matlovich carried one of the flags.

With an almost painful slowness the mass of marchers began to descend Market toward the political center of the city.

Everywhere there were candles: a sea of candles held aloft by the marchers, clusters of candles flickering on the sidelines, and lone candle burning in the darkened windows of buildings overlooking the route of the march. A wheeled cablecar joined the procession carrying people who were handicapped or too ill to walk the one-and-a-half miles to the Civic Center.

There were banners, more flags, and more and more people as the procession finally wound its way out of the Castro. There were drag queens, men in full leather, both contenders for the 5th District Congressional seat Nancy Pelosi and Harriet Ross, Sup. John Molinari, and many women. The mass of the crowd was made up of gay men bundled up against the night chill and protecting their candles from the shifting wind coming up Market.

From the high vantage point of Market and Dolores Streets, you could look back toward Castro and candles held aloft by the

A stage was set up on the steps street and the sidewalks along it. Marchers leaving their candles placed around the statue of Abraham Lincoln started a blaze

out. But there were no injuries.

'I have been ill with AIDS for five years. The first time I was interviewed by a reporter he asked how it felt to know I'd be dead in two months."

-Dan Turner

Gay singer Bill Folk welcomed the marchers singing "We Are Here and We're Not Going Away". Folk followed this with his haunting "There Is Healing In The Music'

Dr. Tom Waddell, founder of the Gay Games and an Olympic Champion of 1968, was unable to speak to the crowd as planned, it was announced, because his own illness had become worse.

Dan Turner told the crowd, "I have been ill with AIDS for five and half years. The first time I was interviewed by a reporter he asked me how it felt to know I'd be dead in two months."

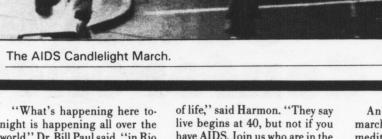

A very healthy looking Turner announced that two demonstrations to protest corporate and federal inactivity against AIDS were planned in the next week. A protest is planned for May 28 at Burroughs Wellcome, makers of AZT, in Burlingame, and on June 1 a protest is planned to take place at the federal building in San Francisco as part of a nationwide series of demonstrations.

"What's happening here tonight is happening all over the world," Dr. Bill Paul said, "in Rio de Janeiro, Tokyo, in Amsterdam, in four cities in New Zealand and in major cities all over the world and in many, many small places

Cabaret singer Leola Giles sang "I'm Glad There Is You", and was followed by two speakers with AIDS, Mike Kurtz and Jose Corea

Gary Harmon, a co-founder of the ARCS/AIDS Vigil, also spoke. "It's not easy to die in the prime AIDS. We need your help."

(Photo: Steve Savage)

The march is over. Neal and Steven Chase pause and reflect. (Photo: James Dusch)

Tony Bennett.

tun Orchestra.

bridge.

Some of the marchers.

PAGE 16 BAY AREA REPORTER MAY 28, 1987

have AIDS. Join us who are in the frontlines in the war against

Party of Parties

Bridge Fireworks Light Up $20,000 for HRCF Lobby

by Allen White

San Francisco's gay community, always ready to spot a po-tential for a party, pulled out all the stops this last weekend for the 50th Anniversary of the Golden Gate Bridge. The enthusiasm of the party spirit was matched by a commitment to community responsibility as thousands of dollars were rais-ed for the battle against AIDS and thousands of feet marched down Market Street Monday night.

The weekend began, for many, Friday night at the Giftcenter with the KRFC Official Kick-Off Bash featuring the Harry James Orchestra and the singing of

Saturday night the Art Deco Society rolled the clock back 50 years to create a mythical ocean liner's trip through the Golden Gate. The dress was black tie, white tie or Navy dress. The music was by the superb Peter Min-

As the many danced at the Giftcenter, others were preparing for their trek to the Golden Gate Bridge and the walk on the

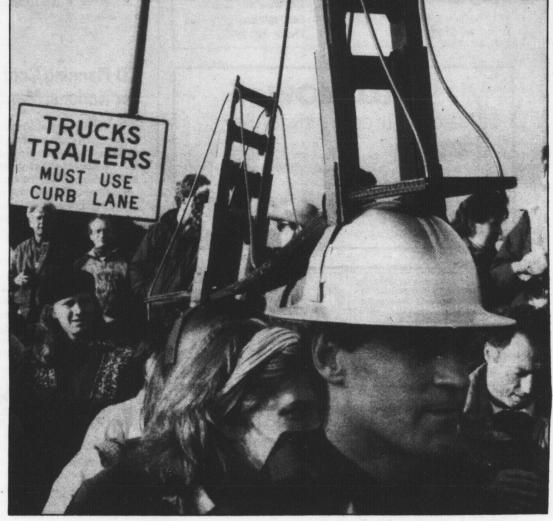

The historical bridgewalk was an unforgettable experience for the tens of thousands of gay men and lesbians who participated. The thrill of the experience and the frustrations were shared by an active and participating gay community.

Throughout the day the gay community was included in the festivities. At the Marina Green, the San Francisco Gay Freedom Day Marching Band marched and played to the throngs of peo-ple gathered at that vantage

At the Fort Mason stage, Richard Dorsey and the Glide Ensemble entertained from the hilly knoll that overlooks the bridge. Sunday night the entire north end of San Francisco seemed to fill with people. The patience of the huge crowd with the incon-(Continued on next page)

1. 1.

Some of the fireworks and some of the participants.

(Photos: James Dusch)

MAY 28, 1987 PAGE 18

imprin

poor

WhoWhatWhenWhereWhyWhoWhatWhenW

CMJ Protests On June 1

Citizens for Medical Justice is sponsoring a demonstration at the old Federal Building, offices of the Food and Drug Administration and the federal Health and Human Services Dept., at U.N. Plaza in San Francisco's Civic Center Plaza, 11:30 a.m., Monday, June 1. This demonstration will be held in solidarity with simultaneous nationwide protests and coincides with the opening of the Third Interna-tional AIDS Conference in Washington, D.C., and Los Angeles.

For more information, call Citizens for Medical Justice at 673-2328 or 584-4325.

CD Planning Conf. For National March

On May 30, organizers and interested parties from throughout California will gather for a statewide conference regarding the nonviolent civil disobedience action planned at the Supreme Court during activities surround-ing the March on Washington for Lesbian and Gay Rights set for Oct. 11, 1987.

As an official part of the March on Washington effort, a call has been issued for lesbians and gay men and their supporters to nonviolently protest the recent Supreme Court decision regarding the private sexual practices of lesbians and gay men by risking arrest at the Supreme Court on Oct. 13.

The organizing conference is open to all, with particular emphasis on people who are interested in becoming involved in organizing for the National March on Washington's civil disobedience action. The day-long meeting will focus on organizing efforts within California, as well as the progress being made throughout the country and at a national level.

The conference will take place Saturday, May 30, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Plummer Park, Vista and Santa Monica Blvd., West Hollywood. There is no charge for the conference. Participants are requested to call E. Hansen, (415) 621-5620, to register before the conference.

Book Proceeds To Support New Hospice

Dr. Ted McIlvenna, president of the Institute for Advanced Study of Human Sexuality, has announced that the profits from the first 30,000 printing of the In-

High above Crissy Field in Pacific Heights, the Human Rights

Campaign Fund used the event to raise over $20,000 to fund a lobbyist to work for more AIDS

funding. The site was a grand mansion on Broadway. Sitting on the roof and an expansive deck, undreds watched the evening reworks in an atmosphere of ele-

Party

ing San Francisco Bay as the observation area. Reports indicate they had the coldest venue as the winds whipped through the Golden Gate.

Following the lighting of the Golden Gate Bridge and the fire-works, the evening did not end. For many, it was time to dance. John Vukas, Fred Bedalemente and Randy Schiller model the Gallerin into a salute to the Golden

Thousands dance balloon replica of udieds of others took to the with hundreds of boats us-

stitute's new book, The Complete Guide to Safe Sex, will go to the hospice program at Trinity Episcopal Church, 1668 Bush Street, San Francisco. In addition, the profits from the sale of the muchacclaimed Safe Sex Sampler Kit developed by the Institute will also go to the hospice project.

Four dollars from the sale of the $7 book and $8 from the sale of the $20 kit will go toward the development and building of another hospice for AIDS patients in San Francisco. When the first 30,000 copies of the book sell, the hospice will net $120,000. When the kit sells another 30,000, then $240,000 will be available to this important program

The book and the kit are designed to help sexually active per-sons croticise and enjoy safe sex so that they will incorporate these practices in their lives in order to protect themselves and the other people they relate to.

The Complete Guide to Safe Sex provides safe sex guidelines for adults and teenagers alike and openly discusses all practical strategies and uses of condoms, lubricants and spermicides. It also covers sexual communication and negotations around safe sex.

The book may be ordered by sending $9.45 (this includes shipping, handling, and tax) to: The Exodus Trust AIDS Project, 1523 Franklin Street, San Francisco, CA 94109. The Safe Sex Sampler Kit may be ordered for $24.35 (including shipping, handling, and tax).

Fundraiser for Pope Visit Task Force

Ginny Foat and Kevin Gordon will each speak at a fundraiser for the Papal Visit Task Force on Saturday, May 30, at 279 Collingwood in the Castro district between 8 p.m. and midnight.

The Papal Visit Task Force has been formed to coordinate protests against oppressive religious condemnation of gay, lesbian, and bisexual lifestyles and oppressive religious interference with women's control over their own bodies. The Task Force will coordinate demonstrations and other political activities, including an alternative religious service, and hearings by a Commission on Church Sponsored Oppression, during the September visit of Pope John Paul II.

Kevin Gordon was the director of the group that put together a report favoring a change in traditional church condemnation of homosexuality, for the Catholic Archdiocesan Social Justice Commission, in 1982.

Ginny Foat is a well-known women's rights activist who achieved national prominence

when she was a California leader of NOW and was unjustly ac-cused of a murder for which she was acquitted.

Learn Your Rights!

Problems with repairs, security deposits, leases, roommates, rent increases? Beginning June 1, Old St: Mary's Housing Committee will be running renters' rights counseling clinics both in the downtown area and in the Haight neighborhood.

Our Haight Clinic will be open Mondays from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at 1833 Page (the Community Center), providing general renters' rights counseling. Our Downtown Clinic will be open from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. on Thursdays and specializes in cylictions, Rent Board proce-dures, and lease problems. Please call 398-0724 for an appoint-

Retreat Offered For Recovering Alcoholics

Acceptance Place, a residential treatment program for alcohol and substance abuse, serving gay men in San Francisco for over 12 years, is proud of the sustained recovery of its program grad-uates. Much of that success is credited to the Acceptance Place After-Care Program. After-care is an important part of the total recovery program, and fundraising efforts are necessary to further the success of this urgently needed program.

To raise the needed funds for the After-Care Program, the Acceptance Place Advisory Board is nsoring a spiritual retreat at the Marin Headlands Institute on June 5, 6, and 7.

The retreat will be conducted by Father Tom Weston, who has worked with alcoholics and codependents since 1976. He has conducted retreats throughout the western U.S. He presently is affiliated with Acceptance Place, Cronan House, Crysalis House, Friendship House, and Horizon House.

The retreat is open to all interested in recovery issues and is offered on a sliding scale basis that includes all food and lodging, workshops, 12-step meetings, and group activities.

For further information. please call Louis Dunn, program director, Acceptance Place, at (415) 931-4994 or Jim Moylan, advisory chairman, at (415) 931-0417

Over at the Trocadero, the pary continued as it had every night of the weekend. With the theme, "50 years - Still Swing-In", Trolighting and metal sets to blend theme with con

Continued from previous page, venience created by the mass of humanity was a credit to the city.

Prom Time White Ties to Blue Chiffon

For 'Prom You Never Had'

by Mary Richards

From all over the Bay Area, they arrived in blue chiffon and crystal earrings, white tie and tails. They came to celebrate the "Prom You Never Had" at Sutter's Mill on the Saturday night of the Golden Gate Bridge 50th anniversary weekend. Spon-sored by Bay Area Lawyers for Individual Freedom (BALIF), proceeds went to benefit two special groups: the Larkin Street Youth Project and the National Education Foundation for Individual Rights (NEFIR) Law Students Fund.

A happy couple.

(Photo: Scott Martin)

Protest Set For D.C. Conf. Opening

Sit-In, Arrests Planned To Protest Reagan's Inaction on AIDS

by Charles Linebarger

Gay and lesbian leaders from around the U.S. are preparing to take an unprecedented action in the face of federal inaction against AIDS. National figures in the gay community such as Virginia Appuzo and Steve Schulte are planning a pro-test and possible civil disobedience on Pennsylvania Avenue in front of the White House on June, the first day of the Third International Conference on AIDS.

"I plan to be arrested," said Jean O'Leary, executive director of the National Gay Rights Advocates, "because I am exasrope with the Reagan Administration and their lack of response on this issue. It's been over six years (since the beginning of the epidemic) and thousands and thousands of deaths later and finally they are appointing a commission

All of this, said O'Leary, "has come as a result of a push from the gay community. If this had been Legionaires' Disease, or swine flu, or if it was affecting the president's family or pregnant mothers, we would have had a cure by now," she added.

O'Leary said that the Centers for Disease Control (CDC) in Atlanta are now saying that 60 per-cent of all infected people will come down with AIDS. "Some are saying 100 percent. Who are those 100 percent? They are the gay men's community. Thousands and thousands of gay men have been infected already."

In Washington, Jeff Levi, director of the National Gay and Lesbian Task Force, told Bay Area Reporter that the protest is meant to make clear the discrepperated. I am at the end of my ancy between what is being said at the researchers' conference on AIDS and what the White Hous is doing.

> "The timing of the protest is important," said Levi, "because we shouldn't allow the Reagan Administration to go before the world's experts as if it were doing everything it can to fight this epi-demic."

REAGAN APPEARS AT AMFAR

Levi said he had been invited to the annual fundraising dinner of the American Foundation for AIDS Research (AmFAR) in Washington on May 31 but he would not be attending. Instead he planned to join in a candlelight protest outside the restaurant when Reagan arrived to give his speech.

Said Tim Sweeney, director of the Gay Men's Health Crisis,

(Continued on next page)

The Prom Night "graduates."

Proms are traditional events with a traditional structure. This prom differed from tradition in only one respect: it was attended by lesbians and gay men and their partners, many of whom were not able to experience their first proms with the persons of their choice.

Sister Dana Van Iquity and Sister Lucious Lashes were in attendance to see that no one got out of hand. They carried wooden rulers to make sure, as Sister Dana said, "that people were no closer than six inches when dancng and that there's no hanky panky. If there is any, Sister and will be in on it!"

No rulers were needed during the evening, as everyone behaved themselves. Music ranged from basic disco to the more popular numbers of the 1950s and 60s and a contest was held, of course, for King and Queen. This category proved to be a bit confusing, as men vied for the title of Queen and some women seemed to be dressed more appropriately for the category of King.

No matter, it all worked out in the end: Melanie, in bouffant coiffure and pink ruffles, was chosen Queen, and Mona, in diamond earrings and black tie and tail, was her King.

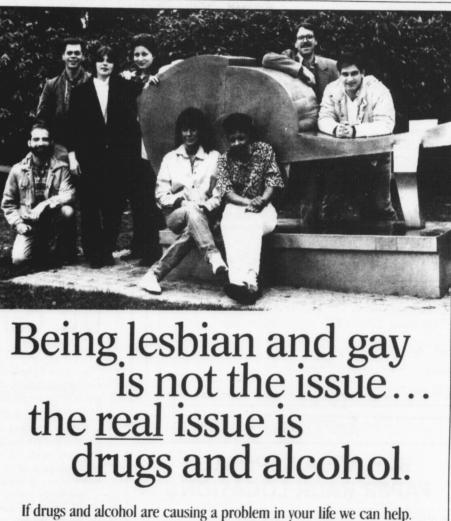

Following the contest a raffle

(Photo: Scott Martin)

was held, and lucky winners were given a free weekend in San Diego, compliments of Southwest Airlines and the Balboa Park Inn.

One of the major beneficiaries of the event was the Larkin Street Youth Project. Program director Nick Lestardo was on hand to express his thanks. "We're very excited about being here to share this. It's real important for the kids - all of the money we raise at fundraisers like this goes directly into the services that are provided for them. We deal mostwith people 17 years and younger. The most important cause right now is educating the

(Continued on next page)

Right Step is a chemical dependency treatment program that can help you take a step in the right direction.

WhoWhatWhenWhereWhyWhoWhatWhenW

CMJ Protests On June 1

Citizens for Medical Justice is sponsoring a demonstration at the old Federal Building, offices of the Food and Drug Administration and the federal Health and Human Services Dept., at U.N. Plaza in San Francisco's Civic Center Plaza, 11:30 a.m., Monday, June 1. This demonstration will be held in solidarity with simultaneous nationwide protests and coincides with the opening of the Third International AIDS Conference in Washington, D.C., and Los Angeles. For more information, call Citizens for Medical Justice at 673-2328 or 584-4325.

CD Planning Conf. For National March

On May 30, organizers and interested parties from throughout California will gather for a statewide conference regarding the nonviolent civil disobedience action planned at the Supreme Court during activities surrounding the March on Washington for Lesbian and Gay Rights set for Oct. 11, 1987.

As an official part of the March on Washington effort, a call has been issued for lesbians and gay men and their supporters to nonviolently protest the recent Supreme Court decision regarding the private sexual practices of lesbians and gay men by risking arrest at the Supreme Court on Oct. 13.

The organizing conference is open to all, with particular emphasis on people who are interested in becoming involved in organizing for the National March on Washington's civil disobedience action. The day-long meeting will focus on organizing efforts within California, as well as the progress being made throughout the country and at a national level.

The conference will take place Saturday, May 30, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Plummer Park, Vista and Santa Monica Blvd., West Hollywood. There is no charge for the conference. Participants are requested to call E. Hansen, (415) 621-5620, to register before the conference.

Book Proceeds To Support New Hospice

Dr. Ted McIlvenna, president of the Institute for Advanced Study of Human Sexuality, has announced that the profits from the first 30,000 printing of the In-

Party

Continued from previous page) venience created by the mass of humanity was a credit to the city.

High above Crissy Field in Pacific Heights, the Human Rights Campaign Fund used the event to raise over $20,000 to fund a lobbyist to work for more AIDS funding. The site was a grand mansion on Broadway. Sitting on the roof and an expansive deck, hundreds watched the evening freworks in an atmosphere of ele-

Hundreds of others took to the -

stitute's new book, The Complete Guide to Safe Sex, will go to the hospice program at Trinity Episcopal Church, 1668 Bush Street, San Francisco. In addition, the profits from the sale of the muchacclaimed Safe Sex Sampler Kit developed by the Institute will also go to the hospice project.

Four dollars from the sale of the $7 book and $8 from the sale of the $20 kit will go toward the development and building of another hospice for AIDS patients in San Francisco. When the first 30,000 copies of the book sell, the hospice will net $120,000. When the kit sells another 30,000, then $240,000 will be available to this important program.

The book and the kit are designed to help sexually active persons eroticise and enjoy safe sex so that they will incorporate these practices in their lives in order to protect themselves and the other people they relate to.

The Complete Guide to Safe Sex provides safe sex guidelines for adults and teenagers alike and openly discusses all practical strategies and uses of condoms, lubricants and spermicides. It also covers sexual communication and negotations around safe sex.

The book may be ordered by sending $9.45 (this includes shipping, handling, and tax) to: The Exodus Trust AIDS Project, 1523 Franklin Street, San Francisco, CA 94109. The Safe Sex Sampler Kit may be ordered for $24.35 (including shipping, handling, and tax).

Fundraiser for Pope Visit Task Force

Ginny Foat and Kevin Gordon will each speak at a fundraiser for the Papal Visit Task Force on Saturday, May 30, at 279 Collingwood in the Castro district between 8 p.m. and midnight.

The Papal Visit Task Force has been formed to coordinate protests against oppressive religious condemnation of gay, lesbian, and bisexual lifestyles and oppressive religious interference with women's control over their own bodies. The Task Force will coordinate demonstrations and other political activities, including an alternative religious service, and hearings by a Commission on Church Sponsored Oppression, during the September visit of Pope John Paul II.

Kevin Gordon was the director of the group that put together a report favoring a change in traditional church condemnation of homosexuality, for the Catholic Archdiocesan Social Justice Commission, in 1982.

Ginny Foat is a well-known women's rights activist who achieved national prominence

ing San Francisco Bay as the observation area. Reports indicate they had the coldest venue as the winds whipped through the Gold-

Following the lighting of the Golden Gate Bridge and the fireworks, the evening did not end.

For many, it was time to dance.

John Vukas, Fred Bedalemente and Randy Schiller need the Galleria into a data where salute to the Golden

Thousands danced balloon replica of the en Gate.

when she was a California leader of NOW and was unjustly accused of a murder for which she was acquitted.

Learn Your Rights!

Problems with repairs, security deposits, leases, roommates, rent increases? Beginning June 1, Old St. Mary's Housing Committee will be running renters' rights counseling clinics both in the downtown area and in the Haight neighborhood.

Our Haight Clinic will be open Mondays from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at 1833 Page (the Community Center), providing general renters' rights counseling. Our Downtown Clinic will be open from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. on Thursdays and specializes in evictions, Rent Board procedures, and lease problems. Please call 398-0724 for an appointment.

Retreat Offered For Recovering Alcoholics

Acceptance Place, a residential treatment program for alcohol and substance abuse, serving gay men in San Francisco for over 12 years, is proud of the sustained recovery of its program graduates. Much of that success is credited to the Acceptance Place After-Care Program. After-care is an important part of the total recovery program, and fundraising efforts are necessary to further the success of this urgently needed program.

To raise the needed funds for the After-Care Program, the Acceptance Place Advisory Board is sponsoring a spiritual retreat at the Marin Headlands Institute on June 5, 6, and 7.

The retreat will be conducted by Father Tom Weston, who has worked with alcoholics and codependents since 1976. He has conducted retreats throughout the western U.S. He presently is affiliated with Acceptance Place, Cronan House, Crysalis House, Friendship House, and Horizon House.

The retreat is open to all interested in recovery issues and is offered on a sliding scale basis that includes all food and lodging, workshops, 12-step meetings, and group activities.

For further information, please call Louis Dunn, program director, Acceptance Place, at (415) 931-4994 or Jim Moylan, advisory chairman, at (415) 931-0417.

Over at the Trocadero, the party continued as it had every night of the weekend. With the theme, "50 years — Still Swing-In", Trocadero was transformed with lighting and metal sets to blend the built theme with contemportry of the music.

Retake of Preceding F rame

poor imprin

and a water with hundreds of boats u

Prom Time

White Ties to Blue Chiffon For 'Prom You Never Had'

by Mary Richards

From all over the Bay Area, they arrived in blue chiffon and crystal earrings, white tie and tails. They came to celebrate the "Prom You Never Had" at Sutter's Mill on the Saturday night of the Golden Gate Bridge 50th anniversary weekend. Sponsored by Bay Area Lawyers for Individual Freedom (BALIF), proceeds went to benefit two special groups: the Larkin Street Youth Project and the National Education Foundation for Individual Rights (NEFIR) Law Students Fund.

A happy couple.

(Photo: Scott Martin)

rector of the National Gay and Lesbian Task Force, told Bay Area

Reporter that the protest is meant to make clear the discrepancy between what is being said at the researchers' conference on

"The timing of the protest is important," said Levi, "because we shouldn't allow the Reagan Administration to go before the world's experts as if it were doing everything it can to fight this epi-

Levi said he had been invited to the annual fundraising dinner of the American Foundation for AIDS Research (AmFAR) in Washington on May 31 but he would not be attending. Instead he planned to join in a candlelight protest outside the restaurant when Reagan arrived to give

Said Tim Sweeney, director of

(Continued on next page)

the Gay Men's Health Crisis,

REAGAN APPEARS AT

AIDS and what the White Hous

Protest Set For D.C. Conf. Opening

Sit-In, Arrests Planned To Protest Reagan's Inaction on AIDS

by Charles Linebarger

Gay and lesbian leaders from around the U.S. are preparing to take an unprecedented action in the face of federal inaction against AIDS. National figures in the gay community such as Virginia Appuzo and Steve Schulte are planning a protest and possible civil disobedience on Pennsylvania Avenue in front of the White House on June, the first day of the Third International Conference on AIDS.

is doing.

AMFAR

his speech.

"I plan to be arrested," said Jean O'Leary, executive director of the National Gay Rights Advocates, "because I am exasperated. I am at the end of my rope with the Reagan Administration and their lack of response on this issue. It's been over six years (since the beginning of the epidemic) and thousands and thousands of deaths later and finally they are appointing a commission."

All of this, said O'Leary, "has come as a result of a push from the gay community. If this had been Legionaires' Disease, or swine flu, or if it was affecting the president's family or pregnant mothers, we would have had a cure by now," she added.

O'Leary said that the Centers for Disease Control (CDC) in Atlanta are now saying that 60 percent of all infected people will come down with AIDS. "Some are saying 100 percent. Who are those 100 percent? They are the gay men's community. Thousands and thousands of gay men have been infected already."

In Washington, Jeff Levi, di-

The Prom Night "graduates."

Proms are traditional events with a traditional structure. This prom differed from tradition in only one respect: it was attended by lesbians and gay men and their partners, many of whom were not able to experience their first proms with the persons of their choice.

Sister Dana Van Iquity and Sister Lucious Lashes were in attendance to see that no one got out of hand. They carried wooden rulers to make sure, as Sister Dana said, "that people were no closer than six inches when dancing and that there's no hanky panky. If there is any, Sister and I will be in on it!" No rulers were needed during the evening, as everyone behaved themselves. Music ranged from basic disco to the more popular numbers of the 1950s and 60s and a contest was held, of course, for King and Queen. This category proved to be a bit confusing, as men vied for the title of Queen and some women seemed to be dressed more appropriately for the category of King.

No matter, it all worked out in the end: Melanie, in bouffant coiffure and pink ruffles, was chosen Queen, and Mona, in diamond earrings and black tie and tail, was her King.

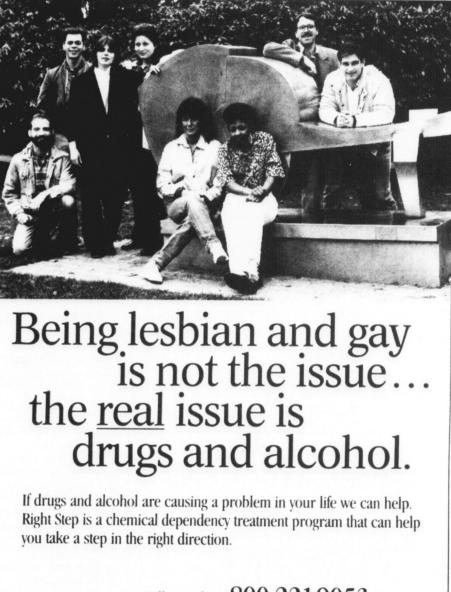

Following the contest a raffle

(Photo: Scott Martin)

was held, and lucky winners were given a free weekend in San Diego, compliments of Southwest Airlines and the Balboa Park Inn.

One of the major beneficiaries of the event was the Larkin Street Youth Project. Program director Nick Lestardo was on hand to express his thanks. "We're very excited about being here to share this. It's real important for the kids — all of the money we raise at fundraisers like this goes directly into the services that are provided for them. We deal mostly with people 17 years and younger. The most important cause right now is educating the

(Continued on next page)

BAY AREA REPORTER PAPER RACK LOCATIONS

Hall of Justice - 800 Bryant
Train Station - 4th & Townsend
Moscone Center -
3rd & Howard
Kearny & Geary NW
Kearny & Post
Kearny & Sutter
Kearny & Bush
Kearny & California
California & Montgomery
California & Sansome
Sacramento & Sansome
Sansome & Clay
Battery & Sacramento

BAY AREA REPORTER

ity/State/7in

24th & Castro

MAY 28, 1987 PAGE 20

18th & Collingwood

California & Davis

Jackson & Davis

Embarcadero

Fillmore & Chestnut

Union & Van Ness

Ferry Building

The Cannery -

Beach St.

State Building

McAllister

City Hall -

Polk St.

24th & Noe

Sacramento & Front NE

D M. V NIKS

Lee Joseph

Lee Joseph in his own words is now "free - no more hurt, no more pain." His final words to his friends, as written by him are: "Have no sorrow but rejoice;

He became free on May 16 in his room which was filled to overflowing with trus and love. Sources of the good feelings were his ompanion, since liagnosis, desig nated by him a his "best friend."

Frank Scarlett; his therapist, Kitty Ryan; and, another friend, Bill Pizzuto. They were his surrogate family: father, mother, brother with all of the support a family should give.

Bruni, Texas was his birthplace, November 7, 1966. His home was on the streets of Arkansas, Kentucky, Texas and California.

The account of his life will appear in future publication by Timothy Rittman Adams, Corte Madera. His picture is among those in Faces of AIDS with photography by Jim Wigler, text by Eleanor Hass and design by Peter Young, to be presented at the San Mateo Govern ment Center, Redwood City, June 15.

All who knew Lee are invited by his 'best friend," Frank Scarlett to hear Lee's final words, Thursday, May 28, 7 p.m., Comisky-Roche Funeral Home. Friends should arrive at 6 p.m.

Fredrick Schoonmaker

Fredrick Schoonmaker, 44, formerly of San Francisco and a resident of Reno, Nevada for the past nine years, passed away May 20 in a Reno hospital. A menorial service will be held in Reno at the Metropolitan Community Church of the Sierras, 120 Thoma Street at 7 p.m. on Thursday, May 28.

of Toronto, Ohio Fred was an activist the last three years; publishing a news bulletin. trying to establish a gay community in Ryolite, and later buying some

Survivors in clude Alfred

Parkinson of Reno and two sis ters, Linda Sokol

and Donna Smith

property in north central Nevada to build a resort for gays and lesbians.

Robert B. Wallace

Bob Wallace died May 11 after a twoyear struggle with AIDS. He was a graduate of University of Colorado at Boulder and was a resident of the Bay Area for over 25 years.

In addition to many loving friends he survived by his mother, Mildred Wallace of Denver, his brother, Bruce Wallace of Bethesda, MD, and cousin Blair Carlson of Littleton, CO.

D.C. Conf.

"You have to hold elected officials accountable, that's why I feel it is important for Reagan to be at this dinner. I will be there."

Asked whether there were plans to disrupt Reagan's speech, Sweeney said, "I don't know what will go on at the dinner, but something will happen. There is a limit to the action we can take at the dinner because there will be Secret Service people everywhere. But there are things you can do. You don't have to just sit there?

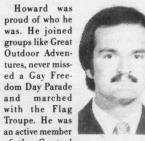

Sweeney said he was planning on participating in the White House sit-in as well. "I'm planning on getting arrested," he said. "I am completely frustrated on how the federal government has acted and we don't want people coming out of this conference saving the federal government is vonderful on this issue."

Dennis Lonergin, of the Human Rights Campaign Fund,

Wayne Louis Babin Howard P. Sullivan

Our dear friend, Howard, died on Friday morning, May 15, at Coming Home Hospice after a courageous and always hopeful fight against AIDS. Howard was born on January 1, 1952 in Birmingham, Alabama, After graduating with a masters degree from Mon terey Institute of Foreign Studies in 1978, he moved to San Francisco and spent the last nine years of his life in a city he loved very much.

of the Central Y.M.C.A. and on the board of directors of Frameline. He was enthusiastic about life and enjoyed a variety of interests.

We will not forget his love for model train sets, Germany, short wave radios, tango music, or "I Love Lucy" reruns. But of all the aspects of his life, it's safe to say his friends were the most important

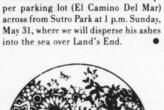

We, as his friends, will always consider ourselves quite lucky to have known him and we will miss him greatly. Goodbye, Howard. And, thank you for everything vou gave us.

Gregory J. Guerin 4/20/51 - 4/19/87

Greg lived in San Francisco for over 16 years before returning to New York for a period of five years. Upon his illness, Greg arned to San Francisco to be with his friends. He was best known as Chi-Chi, when he worked at Without Reservations on Castro Street to Mr. James Edwards, and those at Coming Home Hospice and Shanti. Friends are invited to meet at the up-said he expected several hundred demonstrators at the White House, some of whom will be arrested. "It's not designed to be a huge event but it is designed to be an important event," he said.

Dr. Tim Wolfred, director of the S.F. AIDS Foundation, told B.A.R. he will be in the protest but was uncertain whether he would stay to be arrested with the youth and making them aware of safe sex."

Prom

(Continued from previous page)

BALIF is one of the oldest gay and lesbian lawyers groups in the country, with a strong outreach committee. Peter Fowler, a member of BALIF and chair of the board of directors of NEFIR, explained that other events are sponsored by the lawyers group during the year. The two organizations also share in promoting a law student program which has awarded four fellowships for

Wayne Babin, 46, died of Kaposi's sarcoma and pneumocystis pneumonia on May 4 at his West Hollywood home after being diagnosed 15 months ago. Funeral services were held May 9 in Gulfport, MS and his ashes were scattered at sea. A memorial service in Los Angeles is pending. Please call (213) 274-1581 for information. Donations to Aid for AIDS would be appreciated. Survivors include his parents Mildred and Alfonso, daughters Sherri, Judy and Vikki, grandchildren Ashli, Michael, Randall Wayne and Sara, all of Mississippi, and devoted friend Leland Gallamore of Los Angeles.

A West Hollywood resident for 10 years, Babin held a doctorate in anatomical physiology and had taught college rses in sports medicine in Mississippi before moving to Los Angeles, where he had worked in statistical research for the Network Coordinating Council the past ive years.

Born in Baton Rouge, LA, he grew up there and was a Mid-South racquetbal champion during high school. More recently he had belonged to the L.A. Pool League, served four terms as its president and had been honored with the Marvin

Beisel Award for distinguished service to the league.

Paul F. Grant

Paul Francis Grant left us Thursday May 21, at Kaiser Hospital, San Fran cisco. Although only 41 years old, Paul welcomed release from his pain.

Paul came from his native Los Angeles to San Francisco in 1971, finding employment at the DeYoung Museum. He later opened an art gallery at Gough and Market. His interest in literature, history and the arts led Paul into buying and selling antiques and memorabilia and collecting Gertrude Stein first editions.

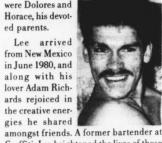

Surviving are Paul's long-term friend, Cal Pedranti and the Grant family including his mother. Lucinda Grant of Los Angeles and three brothers; David Grant of Portland, Oregon, Phillip Grant of Los Angeles and the Reverend Stephan Grant in France. Also left behind are friends of all ages and lifestyles who will miss his ntelligence and warmth. Volunteer nurses made Paul more com

the others with gratitude. Lee Moore fortable, both physically and emotionally, during his itnermittent stays at Kaiser Hospital. We remember Brad, Denny and

Lee Moore passed gently away on Monday, May 18, at his home in Albuquerque At his bedside

Graffiti, Lee brightened the lives of thos he touched.

Leonard Matlovich said he intended to be arrested at the White House wearing the uniform he wore in Vietnam. The gay Republican who now has AIDS said he was leaving for Washington on Friday, May 29. "This is going to be the first time that the mainline leaders in our movement will be willing to put themselves on the line," he said.

1987. One of the grants this year will benefit a second-year student who will work with National Gay Rights Advocates to work for the repeal of sodomy legislation in a number of states.

As the evening wore on, prom shoes were kicked off, conga lines formed and people were heard making plans to cross the Golden Gate Bridge in the morning. Whether all those plans were kept is history, but it was an enjoyable evening, one which promises to be repeated next year when the "Prom You Never Had" will astound tradition once again.

harmoniously."

prejudice.'

(A "Laughing" Nose)

AIDS - it's everyone's problem. On Tuesday, June 2, some of the Bay Area's finest comics donate their talents in a benefit program against this deadly disease. The event will take place at Tommy T's Comedy House, in Concord. Included in the lineup are Jim Samuels (1982 Comedy Competition Winner), Will Durst (1983 Comedy Competition Winner), Leland Cotton Brown (1983 Comedy Competition Runner-Up), Pete Charles (musician), Leeann Christopherson (vocalist), Johnny Steele (seen on Entertainment Tonight), plus a celebrity others.

T's is on the right side.)

GENETHLIAC MNEMONIC (A "Memorial" Nose)

BAY AREA REPORTER GREATER BAY NEWS

South Bay Scene

Mayor Proclaims S.J. Gay Rights Day

by Wayne Herriford

San Jose Mayor Tom McEnery has signed a proclamation, designating June 20 as Lesbian and Gay Human Rights Day in the City of San Jose, in conjunction with the planned Gay Pride Celebration to be held at the Santa Clara County Fairgrounds. This is the first time since the defeat of Measures A & B in 1980 that here has been any recognition by city or county officials of any gay pride events. It is also the first time ever that the mayor of San Jose has issued a proclamation recognizing lesbian and gay people in the city. Efforts to secure the proclamation were led by Ken Yaeger, an officer of the Bay Area Municipal Elections Committee.

The proclamation begins by saying that "San Jose exists to serve and represent all persons residing within the city, regardless of race, creed, sex or sexual preference," and that "the gay community seeks opportunities to foster self-worth and dignity within their community and, at the same time, provide an atmosphere where all people can feel free to live and work together

After proclaiming June 20 as Lesbian and Gay Human Rights Day, the proclamation closes by saying that ''[I] commend and pay tribute to your efforts in building a community without

The Celebration Committee, as well as many members of the San Jose Lesbian and Gay Community, were pleasantly surprised by the proclamation. "After all this time, I'm really pleased," said Frank O'Reilley, a board member of the DeFrank Community Center. "It's a very positive step, and I think that we should recognize and appreciate all the work which Ken and BAYMEC put into securing it."

A proclamation was passed in 1979 by the City Council, only to be severely watered down as a result of opposition. Sal Accardi, of the Watergarden in San Jose, commented, "This is incredibly overdue and I am very pleased and proud. There was a bad taste from the last time the city government had acted on this, and I think that the slap in the face has finally been taken back."

The proclamation has been reproduced in the Celebration 1987 magazine which was issued last week throughout the South and East Bay. It is a 32-page, color magazine, featuring information about the Celebration, pictures of past Celebrations, and ads from various businesses and professionals in the county.

Romanovsky and Phillips will perform at the DeFrank Center on Friday, June 5.

Jack Britton and Steve Lakey, both of whom are on the Celebration organizing committee, produced the magazine. A sharp, four-color Celebration poster has also been produced, and should begin to appear in local bars and businesses over the next several weeks.

The Celebration is planned for Saturday, June 20, at the Santa Clara County Fairgrounds, from 1 to 7 p.m. Volunteers are needed to help staff set up and staff the various booths and stands. For more information contact the Celebration Hotline, (408) 993-3818. The deadline for booth reservations for the Celebration is Friday, May 29.

MARCH ON WASHINGTON

Momentum is slowly building for the Santa Clara County March on Washington Committee, which meets every Saturday at the Old Firehouse on Stanford's campus from noon until 2 p.m. Anyone who is interested in the March is strongly encouraged to attend these meetings, whether or not you will be able to go to Washington.

There is a lot of preparation work which needs to be done, and people are always needed for these tasks. Women and people of color are especially encouraged to attend. There will be a booth at the San Jose Rally, and volunteers are needed to staff it. For more information, contact David Horn at (415) 857-0729.

TORCH SONG TRILOGY

The Tony Award-winning gay comedy play Torch Song Trilogy is now showing at the San Jose Stage Company, and will continue for the next two weekends with performances on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and two on Saturday. On Wednesday, June 3, High Tech Gays has reserved the entire theater for the night for a benefit performance. Tickets are $22, with $18 per ticket being split between The Imperial AIDS Foundation, the ARIS Project and the DeFrank Community Center.

Tickets may be purchased by mail from HTG, PO Box 6777, San Jose 95150. For more information call their VoiceMail at (408) 993!-3830.

ETC. ETC. ETC.

Next Saturday, May 30, Bubbles Du Pla and Richard Kendall will present an encore performance of their show, entitled Silicon Country II at the Savoy in Santa Clara. All your favorite country entertainers are scheduled to appear, with proceeds gong towards the San Jose Gay Pride Celebration.

On Friday, June 5, Romanovsky and Phillips will perform at the DeFrank Community Center at 8 p.m. The cost per ticket is $8. Romanovsky and Phillips received the Cable Car Award for Outstanding Cabaret Performers and for Outstanding Record of the Year. They recently performed at Stanford University, with rave reviews. They are extremely talented performers and this should be a fun evening. Call the DeFrank Center, (408) 293-(Continued on page 23)

Something Simple But Elegant

JOCOSE BENIGNITY

Tickets are $6 advance and $8 at the door. For ticket information call 686-LAFF. Attendees must be 21 years of age or older. Tommy T's is located at 1655-B Willow Pass Road in Concord. (Take Highway 24 through the Caldecott Tunnel, continue past Walnut Creek to Concord Exit 242. Veer right on the Clayton Road Exit, then left at the first light. Go one block, and Tommy

Last Sunday, while many were celebrating the GGB's 50th birthday, some chose to celebrate Sam's 53rd birthday at Town & Country. (Come to think of it, their structure and coloring are similar!)

In honor of the event, J.J. and Carol spent countless hours preparing a barbecue repast of chicken and ribs, baked beans, and potato salad. Florist Jim brought in a "huge" container of macaroni salad, too. A minimal donation of $2.50 was requested, with the proceeds going to East Bay Assistance Fund. Along with several donations - Little Mother, $50; Suzie, $100; and anonymous donations of $50, $50, and $1,000 (yes, that's one thousand!) - the grand total for the evening came to a whopping $1,471.50!

The musical talents of Gary Schneider kept the party swinging for several hours, especially after a rousing rendition of "Happy Birthday to Sam" and a couple of provocative parodies. Gary does have talent, that goes without saying; but, if he should get any more attachments for his organ, perhaps it wouldn't be necessary for him to appear at all

Several free raffles for stuffed animals and "gimme" caps add-(Continued on next page)

Dukakis

(Continued from page 1)

But not long after, the boys were taken away from Babets and Jean. They were placed first with relatives, then with other heterosexual couples. In one of the residences, the boys were sexual ly molested. The children were taken away because the Commonwealth of Massachusetts now requires that children either be placed with relatives or with people who have a past history of parenting.

Michael Dukakis supports this policy.

Because of his support, Dukakis has become the subject of what gay and lesbian activists in Massachusetts call "Dukewatches." The purpose of the Duke-watch is to appeal to the governor to change his mind about a foster parent policy that even a commission he appointed has recommended he should ditch

According to Stephanie Poggi, editor of Gay Community News, a gay and lesbian newspaper in Boston, Duke-watch won't end at the state line. "They had a protest on Mother's Day right outside of his home," Poggi said, "and they have said they will meet him in Maine or in Iowa,

However, the Duke-watchers have met with stubborn resistance from Dukakis. David Scondras, an openly-gay member of Boston's City Council, thinks the technocratic nature of the Dukakis personality prevents him from hearing people with whom he is unfamiliar.

Boston's gay City Councillor David Scondras sees Dukakis as "uncomfortable" with gay men and lesbians.

"As a whole, I think the governor tends to be sort of a pragmatic person who forms his thoughts practically and then

Every so often a circumstance

It is fun, however, to go to such

That's the fun part. The diffi-moves on," said Scondras. "For example, if he hears that Massachusetts needs some more housing, he'll build more houses. But he won't think about the people living in those houses and their

"I think he is uncomfortable with gay and lesbian people," Scondras added. "I think the reason he is distant or uncomfortable is that he doesn't understand gay and lesbian sexuality and is embarrassed by it. So, he keeps his distance from us."

That distance may work in Dukakis' favor if he runs into Duke-watches in more conservative areas of the country. The resurgence of the Republican Party in the early 1980s drove many Democrats back toward the political center. Some observers believe Michael Dukakis may represent that political center.

For people in the middle of the road, Michael Stanley Dukakis represents another chapter in The American Dream. He is a handsome, 53-year-old native of Boston. His parents were both Greek immigrants, his father from a predominantly Greek village in Turkey, his mother from the Greek mainland. Both came to America before World War I broke out. Michael was born two decades later.

Many Democrats like him because he is working on a big political winning streak. Last year, he recorded the biggest gubernatorial landslide in Massachusetts in a century when he scored 69 percent of the vote against Reoublican businessman George Kariotis.

Not that he hasn't had his political ups and downs. He first became Massachusetts governor in 1974. He lost the job four years later in an embarrassing primary defeat to a conservative Demo

I won't bore you with the "why's" of the event. Suffice it to say that somehow I was chosen as "Teacher of the Year" for my district and was invited to the Regional Awards Dinner held at the very posh Castlewood Country Club in Pleasanton, so a date of the female persuasion was almost mandatory. To be blunt, I needed a feminine lesbian, who was familiar with the boredom and tediousness of educational gatherings. I hadn't purchased a corsage since high school! I wanted something simple but elegant, tailored but showy enough. Two rosebuds and two carnations, all white, with silver ribbon fulfilled my request. With sophomorical titillation I rushed home from work, s.s.s. (that doesn't need translation, does it?), literally squeezed into slacks and sport coat - how did they shrink? - and headed to Hayward to pick up my date, ev. Jodi Safier, of Hayward MCC. She was a vision, and I was proud to have her as my escort. I even opened the car door for her!

Well, since it was the Regional Awards Dinner, most of the school districts in Alameda and Contra Costa counties were represented, including Jodi's district. Let me tell you!

Since we arrived as a couple, some tongues wagged out of disbelief; some were tongue-tied from disbelief; some were gracious from disbelief; and a few were downright hospitable from disbelief. We played our little charade to the hilt, knowing inside "what fools those mortals

We had our fun. The table conversation was pleasant. The dinner was really quite good. The speeches and presentations were predictable - lengthy and boring, but "educational" of course!

crat, Edward J. King.

But in 1982, Dukakis pulled off a comeback. The commonwealth's financial fortunes were ailing. King's management style was in shambles. Dukakis stepped in, beat King in a primary, won the governor's chair back in the fall and promised to straighten out Massachusetts.

Many people feel he has done that. During his no-nonsense tenure, unemployment in Massachusetts dipped to 3.8 percent, the second lowest figure in the nation. New business flooded to Roston

Poggi says the Dukakis claim of a booming economy is nothing more than a smokescreen. "Even among the people who are employed," she said, "many are just at the minimum wage. The ethnic minorities still suffer (6.3 percent for blacks and 8.4 percent for Hispanics compared to 3.8 percent for whites) and despite a huge state surplus, welfare payments in Massachusetts are still 40 percent below the national average."

But even those arguments may be just what the doctor ordered for conservatives or moderates who want to sound like conservatives. The low unemployment figures and the low welfare payments may light up the eyes of Democrats thirsting for a champion to throw out in the ring at George Bush or Robert Dole. If Dukakis does reasonably well in next spring's Iowa caucus - and many observers feel he will thanks to the demise of Gary Hart - and then follows up with an expected big victory in the New Hampshire primary, the stage may be set for the name recognition he needs.

Not long after is Super Tuesday. Not only does Massachusetts (Continued on next page)

The atmosphere had its ambience. We had made a few ripples by our presence. We had our fun

Thanks, Jodi. You made the evening for me. Perhaps I'll be able to return the favor some time. (No, you won't have to get a corsage for me!)

GALLIMAUFRY (A Salmagudi Nose)

Kenny and "Connie Castle' were "married" at the Paradise on Saturday, May 23. After the ceremony, the entire "wedding" cortege made the rounds of several local bars.

I was asked to include in this column: "Tell them that Mikki and Jean were at Sam's birthday party ... together ... for a change!'

If you're wondering what Little Mother, Suzie, and Larry S. have in common, worry no more. They're all on diets, vying to see who can lose the most weight in three weeks. A $300 purse awaits the winner - or would that be the biggest loser? (Hmmmm? No, silly, not a purse that costs $300!)

Does Suzie want an interview? Why else does she keep threatening to break her leg and request assistance from In Memory Fund?

Hoo boy! Will Cal Berkeley ever be the same? Yours truly will be back to school on that campus for 11 Saturdays, starting May 30. (Hmmmm? No, it's a lateral movement towards a different credential.)

Why is it that whatever happens to you, it will have previous ly happened to someone you know - only more so! That makes me smile! Love, later.

* * *

Nez •

Scondras, on the other hand, said he would support Dukakis if he gets the nomination. The Boston City Councillor has already declared his presidential support for lesbian activist Virginia Apuzzo, but he said he would go for Dukakis if he ran against Bush or Dole or any other Republican because "he's better than any Republican running." Despite the anti-Dukakis feelings in some quarters though, others support him and think he has been good for gays in general

"We find he's been very supportive of our cause," said Laurie Stillman, a straight administrative director of the Boston-based AIDS Action Committee. "He's said that he has promised to make AIDS an issue in the presidential campaign and that pleases us."

When Gary Hart dropped out of the presidential sweepstakes, he may have opened the door for Dukakis. (Photo: Thomas Gibbons) anyway.

in the House

million for the coming fiscal year," she said. "This is not as much as we need because we really need $10 million. But there are

"This is what he has told us,

There will be other images of Dukakis that may swing some gay votes his way. Jim Dorsey,

Dukakis' press secretary, said the governor should be praised for rights bill in the Massachusetts

House. If the bill passes the commonwealth's Senate, it will ban employment and housing discrimination and aid public accessibility. According to Dorsey,

Dukakis was directing the show talked to 10 to 12 members of the House he considered swing votes," said Dorsey. "He got those people to go for the bill.

up," Dorsey added, "the governor had a personal letter on the desk of each House member ask-

Dorsey insists that Dukakis' position on gay foster parents' rights is a fair one. "We want to try and get the children placed with either relatives or people with prior parenting experience,' he said; "but that doesn't prohibit placement with a gay or les-

That argument makes Poggi groan. She said that so many others are placed ahead of gays that "we're still at the bottom of

Thus, the debates are likely to rage on for a good year and a half, just as the "Duke-watches" are likely to go on, too. With the Democrats hungry for the presidency and the Republicans not offering a clear-cut, dominant candidate, a la Reagan, the scenario of a Michael Dukakis emerging from the middle, just as another moderate governor named Jimmy Carter did a decade ago, is a strong possibility.

lesbians may continue to be as debatable as Dukakis himself.

Where that leaves gay men and bian at all.'

the totem pole."

ing them to support the bill."

"On the day the vote came

"The governor personally

he successful passage of a gay

other things to consider.

Dukakis (Continued from previous page)

hold its primary that day, but that's also the day when the South rises again, politically speaking. If Dukakis has built up a little name recognition, fiscallyconservative Southerners may look at that low unemployment rate, a sore spot in many poor Southern areas, and consider the governor. Fundamentalists in the South may find a lot to like about a man who didn't flinch at Dukewatches. If he is able to pick up any important delegates from the South, he may be on a roll by the time the Democratic Convention starts in Atlanta a few months

Whether a Democratic nomination of Dukakis means support from traditionally Democratic lesbians and gays is a source of debate. Poggi maintains that Dukakis' policies have negatively affected lesbians and gays in Massachusetts. "I just don't think gay and lesbian people would vote for Dukakis, despite the matchup," she said. "Violence is up against lesbians and gay men. The bashings and harassment against gay people are because of his policies.

Stillman did add, however, that she wishes Dukakis had earmarked more state funds for AIDS. "He's recommended $5.6

which they might be able to sell, contact Brian Carpenter at the Whiskey Gulch Saloon, (415) 953-9747. If you happen to be at the Flea Market that day, be sure > to stop by and say hello. The annual Force Five Community Assistance Fund Picnic is coming up on June 21, with the ever eventful softball game planned between the Peninsula Players and the Stockton Street Sluggers. Players are needed for both teams, and you should contact Brian Carpenter at the Whiskey Gulch Saloon or Dale Seabright at the Renegades to sign up for your favorite team. (Cheerleaders are also needed!) More information will be forthcoming on this event, later in June.

South Bay

4525 for more information.

There will be a massage workshop and class on Saturday, June

6, from noon to 4 p.m. at the DeFrank Center, led by Lee Stanford, a state certified massage therapist. Lee calls the workshop

'How to Make 'Em Purrrr!'

On June 7, the Peninsula Area

Games Association will be having a flea market at the Berryessa

Flea Market, to continue their fundraising for the 1990 Gay

Games in Vancouver, Canada, If you've got good, usable items

The cost is $25 per.

(Continued from page 21)

Congratulations to Visions, which celebrated their first anniversary last Sunday, with an evening of champagne, a free buffet, dancing and entertainment. I always enjoy spending time there, especially when Richard is working behind the bar. I hope it's around to celebrate many more.

Congratulations are also in order to the new Prom King and Queen, Jim C and Lucille, who were elected at the Whiskey

Gulch's 5th Annual Junior Senior Prom this month. Jim seems to be tying up the royal titles in the area, since he is also the Pope of the Whiskey Gulch.

There are lots of different activities and events happening on the Peninsula and in the South Bay. Find something to do and get involved.

'Til next time, STAY PROUD!

San Jose MCC Hosts First Love

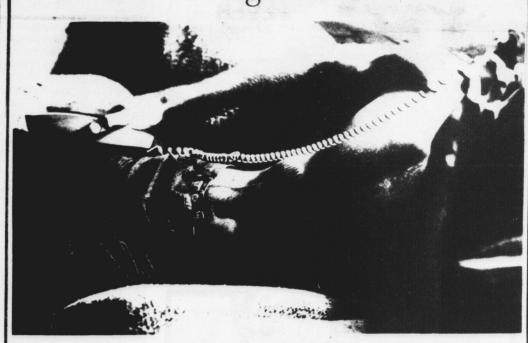

Metropolitan Community served in various choral capaci-Church of San Jose is proud to ties with a number of other miere of First Love, a gospel trio from Las Vegas. The group will appear in concert at 4 p.m. on the fternoon of June 7 in the Grace Baptist Church Building located t the corner of Tenth Street and ernando in downtown San Jose. This presentation is sponsored by the local congregation of Metro-politan Community Church and open to the community. There will be no admission charge for the concert, although a love offer-ing will be taken for the group.

First Love is a new gospel trio irected by Ron Guthrie. For the past six years Guthrie has served as the minister of music at Metropolitan Community Church of Las Vegas. Prior to that time he anounce the California pre- churches in Las Vegas. He also has experience in professiona and community music, including performancing on a regular basi with both Paul Anka and Barry Manilow, directing and soloing with Voices Community Chorus for three years, and directing the music for a Las Vegas Parks and Recreation Department produc

> A concert by First Love is sure to be an exciting event. Their program consists of upbeat songs made popular by some of the top names in gospel music. First Love has already appeared in concert in Las Vegas and Phoenix and has other concerts scheduled in Los Angeles and Palm Springs.

The Man vou've been waiting for could be on our line right now.

PhoneMale's computerized system connects you with another day man. Unlike other systems, you can be assured of a connection with any other waiting caller. When you finish speaking to one person. you will if time permits, be connected with another. This is an exclusive PhoneMale feature. Another unique feature is the warning tone that lets you know that your time is about up, enabling you to exchange phone numbers before you are disconnected. Regardless of how many people you speak to during your call, you will be connected with only one person at a time.

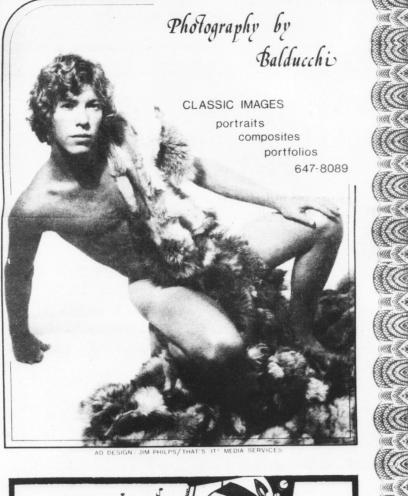

Our "free" line allows you to try the service or check to see if someone is waiting. Save money - always try the "free" line first!

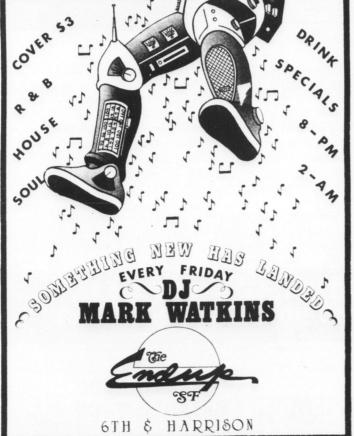

(415) 976-7400 PHONEMALE (408) 976-7400

(mg 3 4 Ê

()

(000)

(C)

(688)

(688)

IC.

(1993)

(@

(Č

- 1 - 100

(@

(688)

C

(1993)

(@

(())

(000 - 2 - 3

((@

Two weekends of Men Dancing begins (Photo: S. Savage) May 29

FRIDAY 29

• Men Dancing: dance, Centerspace Studio Theater, 2840 Mariposa St., S.F., 8 PM, $9 in advance, $10 at the door. Men Dancing celebrates the incredible variety of men in dance, with virtuoso performances in styles ranging from ballet and modern dance to performance art, tap, and Flamenco. Tickets available at the Centerspace box office, STBS Union Square, and all Ticketron outlets. $1 from each ticket sold will be donated to a Bay Area charitable organization active in the fight against AIDS.

· Marilyn Pittman and Monica Grant: comedy cabaret, Baybrick Inn, 1190 Folsom St., S.F., 8-10 PM, free.

• Strictly A Formality: stage performance, The Studio at Theatre Rhinoceros, 2926 16th St., S.F., 8:30 PM, $8. A drama of tense confrontation produced and directed by Keno Rider. Call 861-5079 for tickets.

• Threepenny Opera: stage performance, River Repertory Theater, Jenner Playhouse, Hwy 1, 20 minutes west of Guerneville via 116, 8 PM, $7. Call (707) 865-2905 for more information

 What's A Mother To Do?: stage performance, 2926 16th St., S.F., 8 PM, $9-$12. Matchmaking gone awry in the condominiums of Ft. Lauderdale, presented by Theatre Rhinoceros; written by Michael Zimmerman, directed by Steven Bloom. Call 861-5079 for tickets and reservations

 The Inner Circle: stage performance, Zephyr Theatre, 25 Van Ness, S.F., 8 PM, $8. The New Conservatory Children's Theatre Company in an AIDS prevention play for teens.

· Oh, Coward!: musical comedy based on the words and music of Noel Coward, The City Cabaret, 401 Mason St. (at Geary), S.F., 10 PM, $14. Call 441-RSVP. · Gay Italian Americans: I Chiacchieroni, Italian speaking group, 8 PM, free. Call 647-7709 for location and more information.

 Fraternal Order of Gays: game fest, FOG House, 304 Gold Mine Dr., S.F., 8 PM, $5. Call 641-0999 for more

SATURDAY 30

 Queen of the Orient '87: beauty pageant, Crystal Ballroom, San Franciscan Hotel, 1231 Market St., S.F., 7:30 PM, $12 in advance, $15 at the door. Includes the search for Mr. Asia-Pacific '87 (men from Asia competing in swimwear and formal attire). Tickets available at all Headlines stores.

• Mother Tongue Reader's Theatre: stage perform-ance, Sisterspirit Coffeehouse, 1040 Park Ave., San Jose, doors open 8 PM, show starts 8:30 PM, $5-$8 sliding scale. Mother Tongue performs Grandma Never Earned a Nickle; Women at Work.

• David Ross: Paintings: Nudes and Portraits, 1229 Folsom St., S.F., reception for the artist 1-4 PM. Men Dancing: dance, 8 and 10 PM (see Friday listing for details).

Strictly A Formality: stage performance (see Friday listing for details).

• What's A Mother To Do?: stage performance (see Friday listing for details).

• The Inner Circle: stage performance (see Friday listing for details).

• Threepenny Opera: stage performance (see Friday listing for details).

• EastBay FrontRunners: Sequoia-Bayview Trail run. Take Hwy 13 to Joaquin Miller Rd./Lincoln Ave. exit. Follow signs to Joaquin Miller Rd. and go east 1.2 miles. Turn left on Skyline Blvd. and continue 0.4 miles to trail head on the left. Park on side of road. Three-mile loop, flat. Call 526-7592 or 261-3246 for more information.

· Finding the Right Man: one-day workshop. Sponsored by the Partner's Institute. Call 343-8541 for more

SUNDAY 31

Lady Bianca: music, Baybrick Inn, 1190 Folsom St., S.F., 5:30-8:30 PM, $5.

 Men Dancing: dance, 4 and 8 PM (see Friday listing for details).

· David Ross: Paintings: Nudes and Portraits (see Sat urday listing for details).

Stephen Herrick Sextet: music, El Rio, 3158 Mission St., S.F., 4-8 PM, Latin fusion and pop with Clairdee.

· Nanci Stern and Deborah Connors: reading, Walt Whitman Bookshop, 2319 Market St., S.F., 8 PM, $3. The editors of With The Power of Each Breath, A Disabled Woman's Anthology, will read selections, along with those from An Anthology on Women Who Have Cancer and Visions In Cognito.

• Women's Tea Dance: for older lesbians (60+) and their friends, San Francisco Home Health Services, 225 30th St., S.F., 3-6 PM. Music, dancing, games, refreshnents. Call 626-7000 for more info

· Lake Merritt Stride and Stroll: run/walk, meet at the Lake Merritt Boathouse at 9 AM for a 3.2-mile run/walk around the lake. Prizes to the three fastest runners, free T-shirts to the first 300 participants. A benefit for the San Francisco AIDS Foundation and AIDS Project of the East Bay. $10 registration fee. Call 531-9366 for more

• Physique '87: training seminar, City Athletic Club, 2500 Market St., S.F., 6:30 PM, $3. Debra Greene will conduct a mock bodybuilding contest for both men and women that will feature the five compulsory poses. • The Inner Circle: stage performance, 3 PM (see Friday listing for details).

• Strictly A Formality: stage performance (see Friday listing for details).

 San Francisco FrontRunners: Lake Merced run. Meet at the boathouse. 4.5 miles almost flat around the lake. Call 647-3227 or 337-8704 for more information.

AIDS and Attitudinal Healing: presented by the Center For Attitudinal Healing, First Unitarian Church, 1187 Franklin St., S.F., 2-5:30 PM, free. Call 435-5022 for more informati

 MCC San Francisco: Judy Grahn, author of The Work of a Common Woman and Another Mother Tongue will speak at 7 PM, 150 Eureka St., S.F. Worship and communion service at 10:30 AM. Childcare and signing provided at morning service. Call 863-4434 for more in-

Linda Hill takes over Marga Gomez's spot

this week only at Comedy Plus at the Bay-brick

· New Life MCC: worship and commu 1823 9th St., Berkeley, 5 PM. Call 843-9355 for more · Calvary MCC: worship service, 5 PM. Call 368-0188 for more information.

FIS WEEK

• MCC of the Redwoods: worship and communion service, Olive and Throckmorton Sts., Mill Valley, 10:45 AM. Call 388-2315 for more information.

 Latter-Day Saints: sacrament meeting for lesbians and gays and their friends, Sacramento Lambda Community Center, 1931 L St., Sacramento, 1 PM. Conducted by the Sacramento Family of the Restoration Church of Jesus Christ. Call (916) 447-5755 for more · St. Mark's Lutheran Church: services, 1111 O'Farrell (at Gough), S.F., communion at 8:30 AM and 11 AM. Call 928-7770 for details.

• Affirmation-Gay and Lesbian Mormons: meeting and services. Call 641-4554 for recorded message which details the meetings and socials. Golden Gate MCC: Sunday worship services, 48 Belcher St. (between 14th St. and Duboce), S.F., 12:30 PM, 7 PM. Call 474-4848 for details.

· Holy Trinity Church: meets at the Billy DeFrank Community Center, 1040 Park Ave., San Jose, 10 AM to

Marilyn Pittman plays the Baybrick May 29 (Photo: Photo Graphics/Darlene)

MONDAY 1

• Leathermen's/SM Support Group: meeting, Rm. 21, MCC San Francisco, 150 Eureka St., S.F., 7:30 PM, donation requested. Call 931-6160 for more informa-

· Golden Age of SM: video marathon, Gay Rescue Mission, 583 Grove St., S.F., 2 and 7 PM, $3. SM films of the '50s.

TUESDAY 2

• Gwen Avery: music, Baybrick Inn, 1190 Folsom St., S.F., 7-9 PM, free.

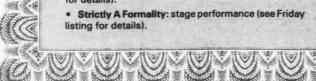

· BurLEZk: erotics for women by Blush Productions, Baybrick Inn, 1190 Folsom St., S.F., 9 PM. Advance tickets and reserved seating available at the Baybrick or at Blush Productions, 526 Castro St. Call 861-4723 for more informati

 National March on Washington: general meeting, The Women's Building, 3543 18th St., S.F., 7:30 PM. John Wahl will give an update on plans being made in response to the forthcoming visit of the Pope to the Bay Area. Wheelchair accessible. Call 486-0269 for more • Low-Impact Aerobics: Amelia's, 647 Valencia St., S.F., 6-7 PM, $4.

Evening Group Orientation: for people with AIDS or ARC, San Francisco AIDS Foundation, 333 Valencia St., 4th floor, S.F., free. Assistance in interpreting financial benefit systems, applying for government assistance programs, and information on social service agencies and discounts available. Call 864-4376 to reserve a

BAY AREA REPORTER MAY 28, 1987 PAGE 24

WEDNESDAY 3

• Tuffy Eldridge: music, Baybrick Inn, 1190 Folsom St., S.F., 6:30-8:30 PM, free.

D

2

$-$ (###)

D

S

S

8-3. MM

S

M

S

10 m

8-5 m

S

A-Som

D

M

D

53

D

$ $ M

51

- 10 Ka

D

D

No.

D

No.

S

S)

8-2- M

S)

1

THE REAL

• Comedy Plus: with Linda Hill, Baybrick Inn, 1190 Folsom St., S.F., 8:30 PM, $2. An ongoing showcase for new and experienced comedy performers. Call 431-8334 to perform.

• SF Lesbian/Gay Freedom Day Parade and Celebra-tion: fundraiser, The Stallion, 749 Polk St., S.F., auction. • Wednesday Matinee: sponsored by Operation Concern's Gay and Lesbian Outreach to Elders and North of Market Senior Services, 333 Turk St., S.F., 2:15-4 PM. Movies, games, and refreshments. Call 626-7000 for more infor

• Women's Writer's Workshop: for older lesbians (60+) and their friends, Operation Concern, 1853 Market St., S.F., 6-8 PM. Sponsored by Gay and Lesbian Outreach to Elders. Call 626-7000 for more information • Country Hoedown: to benefit the Gay Rescue Mis-sion, Kimo's, 1351 Polk St., S.F., 8 PM, $2. Entertainment and hors d'oeuvres.

THURSDAY 4

manovsky and Phillips: music, Moraga Hall, UC Santa Cruz, Call (408) 684-1542 for more info

• Pat Wilder, Christa Hillhouse, and Yolanda Bush: music, Baybrick Inn, 1190 Folsom St., S.F., 8-10 PM, free.

• Threepenny Opera: stage performance (see Friday listing for details).

• Gay Italian Americans: general meeting, 100 Dia-mond St., S.F., 7:30 PM. Call 647-7709 for more information.

· Low-Impact Aerobics: (see Tuesday listing for · Golden Age of SM: video marathon (see Monday listing for details). · Meditation and Spiritual Healing: for people with AIDS, 2333 Turk St., S.F., 9:30-11:30 AM. Presented by

The Silent Way AIDS Project of the East Bay: PWA/ARC support group, 2-4 PM. Call 420-8181 for more information.

· Disabled Gay Men: support group, Operation Concern, 1853 Market St., S.F., 6-7:30 PM. Call 626-7000 for more information

 AIDS Interfaith Network of Contra Costa County: meets at Diablo Valley Metropolitan Community Church, 2253 Concord Blvd., Concord, 7:30 PM. Call 827-2960 for more information.

 Center for Attitudinal Healing: AIDS/ARC support group, 19 Main St., Tiburon, 4-6 PM, free. Direct access via ferry. Call 435-5022 for more information.

• Antibody Positive Drop-In Group: 1853 Market St. (at Guerrero), 6 PM. This weekly group is to assist individuals in exploring concerns around positive test results while supporting development of coping skills. Co-sponsored by UCSF AIDS Health Project and Operation Concern, Call 626-6637 for details.

Posers will be welcome at the Physique '87 training seminar Sunday at the City (Photo: E. Ramirez) Athletic Club and David O'Malley, from KEF Electronics Ltd., will be here to demonstrate the latest Reference Series loundpeaker designs. Advanced engineering techniques including Conjugate Load Matching, Coupled Cavity, and KUBE will also be discussed.

Wine and Cheese Enter Drawing

2201 Market Street • San Francisco • (415) 861-1044

BAY AREA REPORTER MAY 28, 1987 PAGE 25

BAY AREA REPORTER ENTERTAINMENT

Condoms and Kids and All

by Wendell Ricketts

'll admit it's odd, but I've grown more than a little fond of condoms lately. Partly it's because "condom," that modest two-syllable word, has managed to work its way into conversations that once wouldn't even have admitted to the word "sex." "Condom" has resounded in the very halls of Congress; Valerie Harper said "condom" right on prime-time television. It's thrilling to think that Dianne Feinstein and Ronald Reagan have almost certainly said it, though probably not to each other. Once, when I heard William F. Buckley say "homosexual," he looked as though he'd just found half a worm in his apple; I can't wait to watch him say "condom." Maybe when the Pope comes, we can get him to say the "C" word.

Mostly I'm fond of condoms because they bring good news to a community sometimes daunted by AIDS: We're still sexual after all these years. When a gentle rain of rubbers falls by the handful along the Pride Parade route June 28, it's going to help me to remember that.

Condoms are finding their way into the hands of theater prop managers, too. For better or worse, there's no longer anything remarkable about a play that deals with AIDS. And when AIDS receives dramatic mention, there is, thank God, also usually a role for the unassuming condom. That's certainly the case in the New Conservatory Children's Theatre's The Inner Circle, billed as "the story of teenage friendship and the AIDS crisis, beginning a four-week extend-ed run at the Zephyr Theatre Complex May 29

In The Inner Circle, when Kat (Annmarie Houghtailing) learns a high school friend has contracted AIDS, she vows to give up sex for good: "I'm going to pretend I'm married to a soldier and he's away at war. And when they discover a cure for AIDS, that'll be when my soldier comes home," she says.

"Well, you'd better take this, scoffs her friend Sarah (Kris Badertscher), pressing a condom into Kat's hand, "just in case your soldier gets away on leave."

Few lines in contemporary plays more accurately sum up the conflicts teenagers and adults - face in dealing with AIDS: fear vs. responsibility, reactionism vs. creativity. When Sarah insists she's going to carry condoms with her "at all times," and urges her friends to do the same, there's a bit of the crusader in her. If that is so, she bears her banner into a community whose members are little prepared to face the incipient epidemic that menaces them. Although experts estimate that teenagers are the newest highrisk group, relatively little has been done to convince adolescents that AIDS should concern them, or to educate them for prevention. That's precisely the situation The Inner Circle was created to address.

Patrick McCracken in The Inner Circle

When playwright Patricia Loughrey and New Conservatory's Executive Director, Ed Decker, began developing the project, they imagined a story that would communicate to teenagers as peers, not deliver an AIDS lecture in drama form. In realizing that goal, they enlisted the young artists of the New Conservatory School, particularly the four actors who now star in The Inner Circle - Badertscher, Houghtailing, Patrick McCracken (Danny), and Julian Brooks (Mark).

"Their input," says Loughrey, "directly pumped blood into this play." She adds, With all of them I felt as though I were peeking through windows - not into my own teenage years, but into another time.

It's someplace you just can't go without permission. You have to ask, 'Please tell me what it's like to be 18 right now.' And hope that they will."

For McCracken, 19, and Badertscher, 17, The Inner Circle has been an opportunity not only to stretch their dramatic wings, but also to become experts in a subject that is of direct benefit to their peers. Not infrequently, they find themselves more thoughtful about AIDS than many adults.

As Badertscher notes, "Teachers say things like, 'You don't have to worry about AIDS now, but later you're going to have to worry about it.' Well, if we don't worry about it now, we will have to worry about it later on. If teenagers protect themselves now, AIDS may not be a problem when we get older. That's what's important about this play."

Adds McCracken, "The people who say 'don't worry about it now' are the same people who say 'Don't worry about nuclear war!' or 'Don't worry about destroying the ozone layer!' They don't seem to realize that the future is today."

Not surprisingly, the future is something that is often in McCracken's and Badertscher's thoughts. One might expect them to be more than a little bitter about the world they are poised to inherit, but Badertscher doesn't necessarily see it that way.

"It is scary," she admits. "Everything's coming down on you. You can't even eat something without thinking, 'My God, is this going to kill me?' But being in this play has made me a lot more optimistic. I feel so much hope that we can do things to stop all the shit that's going around. I hope other people are optimistic, too, because otherwise we may create our own devastation. It could go both ways."

McCracken concurs, "There is an attitude that we're all going to be nuked or whatever, so why bother. But that's like saying. 'I'm going to die someday, so why not take a gun right now and shoot me.' When you're actually there on the firing line, you might discover that you don't actually want to die."

For them and their fellow actors, then, nothing makes more sense than a play that warns teenagers that AIDS can touch them and which attempts to dispel both denial and pessimism. And nothing is more logical than making The Inner Circle available to everyone who needs to see it.

The New Conservatory's goal of touring (Continued on page 36)

Fire and Fashion for Larkin Street

by Bob Woolhouse

7 ou could tell they were fashion designers. They had long life, this time in the desert of lower Polk Gulch. that self-created, one-of-a-kind look. This was a finely hand-crafted contingent, not a crowd of massproduced groupies. Here were the creators of the local rag trade. They comprised the S.F. Design Network.

The men's images ranged from that of the Great Gatsby to the male Grace Jones. The women reflected every look from trashy-chic Madonna to unreconstructed Gertrude Stein. Cocktail hats, white dusters, above-the-knee agency's AIDS Foundation. crinolines, and three-piece suits of jacquard upholstery fabric were a few of the style statements made during the evening.

The gathering of the clan was a benefit for the Larkin Street Youth Center and was billed as an evening of fashion, performance, and bon vivance. It happened May 21 at the DNA Lounge, a converted SOMA warehouse. No one seemed to know what DNA meant. Perhaps Do Not Ask is the answer.

The benefit was staged exactly one year after the fire that devastated the youth center. Like the Phoenix of Egyptian mythology, however, it has risen from its own ashes. Like the beautiful bird that lived in the desert and was consumed in flames, it has sprung up again and renewed itself for another BAY AREA REPORTER MAY 28, 1987 PAGE 26

On hand from the gay community were such leaders as Jerry Berg, Pat Norman, Zach Long, Larry Soule, and Craig Applewhite, all of whom serve on the center's board of directors. Also Greg Day, the community relations coordinator, was there, and the newly arrived program coordinator, Nick Philadelphia Community Mental Health Service and that hemlines. Batteries were included.

that in other locales would have been considered corsages. So go for it, girls.

The show began with the Chad Mitchell Trio, which was followed by Hubert Braun, guru of the hairstyling salons that Jim Prody was a trio of hot male models. At every turn on generation. Knockout would be an understatement. As one observer said, "If I could have my hair look like that, I'd sit up all night, every night."

"What about sex?" wondered her companion. "Don't be irrelevant," she retorted.

First things first in this era, you might say.

Next the S.F. Design Network presented its showing of original Spring into Summer fashions. Pizzaz and innovation popped up all over the place. Models strode or slunk by in bowed or ruffled formals, see-through rainwear, up your SOMA alley sportswear, dress for creative success suits, and Lestrado, who until recently was program director of the harem skirts with backlighting that made them glow at the Note to forward-looking drags: Not a sequin, a rhinestone, In the spirit of the occasion, all wore lovely boutonnieres a feathered boa in sight. It was simple, understated elegance.

The hit of the evening in rugged casualwear by designer bear his name. In a delightful Stuttgart accent that made the runway they projected sultry masculinity and the look you think he was going to sing The Merry Widow, he in- of sex beyond endurance. They also got the hightest ovation troduced his fashion show of new looks for the post-Yuppie of the evening from the predominantly straight audience. Mr. High Fashion himself, Wilkes Bashford, applauded and beamed approval.

The Design Network is an organization of local designers who work and produce their garments in the Bay Area. They

(Continued on page 36)

ALL LIVE ALL MALE ALL NUDE

NOW, EVEN

IEN ON THE APIS THEATRE PSITY STR

NOW, GET EVEN CLOSER TO THE LIVE MAN-TO-MAN SEX SHOWS TAKE YOU TO THE IN THE INTI CAMPUS AREN.

IN-HOUSE VIDEO IOOKUP ON WEEKENDS MAKES EVERY SEAT A FRONT ROW SEAT

FOR SHOW TIMES: 673-3384

STUDENT DISCOUNT: $5 OFF WITH CURRENT COLLEGE I.D.

CORY VAN PATTEN, CAPTAIN VARSITY STRIP SOUAD CAMPUS THEATRE

220 JONES STREET . DOWNTOWN SF . 673-3384 SUN-THU NOON-1 AM • FRI-SAT NOON-2 AM

> BAY AREA REPORTER MAY 28, 1987 PAGE 27

Le' Domino A French Restaurant and Bar Romantic and Affordable Bar open 5:00 pm • Dinner from 5:30 2742-17th STREET • SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA (415) 626-3095 T'S YOUR CAL ere's one for 976-6677 SUPERSTR VIDED THE CASTRO MOVIE STORE CELEBRATE$ Start of our 3 RD YEAR IN THE CASTRO !!! OVER 4000 VIDEOS Offering This Month ONLY 24 Overnight Rentals for $40.00 Fast, Friendly Service for your COMMUNITY CONVENIENCE! On our prepurchase plan ... ADD SALES TAX ★ FREE MEMBERSHIP ★ 4057 18TH ST. AT CASTRO-552-2253 OPEN SEVEN DAYS A WEEK Mr. October Mr. Marcus $225 in Cash Prizes Thursday June 4 10pm $3cover Students free with ID

> BAY AREA REPORTER MAY 28, 1987 PAGE 29

George Heymont

Summer Options

R or too many years, Amer-ica's culture vultures traveled across the Atlantic each summer in hopes of quenching their artistic appetites. Most operated on the false assumption that, with the exception of New York, much of the United States was a cultural wasteland. However, the artistic diversification of this summer's arts festivals offers solid proof that the arts are flourishing in the United States.

1987 marks the 50th anniversary of free outdoor performances in San Francisco's Stern Grove and, although many other cities now host outdoor music festivals of their own, Stern Grove's performances are probably the only ones which are still free to the public.

Each summer Stern Grove's audiences enjoy a cultural smorgasbord of opera, ballet, and symphony; jazz, blues, and pops. This summer's line-up includes free Sunday afternoon performances by the Preservation Hall Jazz Band, the San Francisco Ballet, the San Francisco Symphony, the San Francisco Opera Chorus and, on Aug. 9, the Lamplighters' production of The Pirates of Penzance. The Merola program will present a double bill of Puccini's Suor Angelica and Gianni Schicchi July 19, and Marilyn Horne will appear in recital July 26.

If you're exploring the United States this summer, why not let the arts add a great deal of glory to your sunsets? There are plenty of operatic events which may interest you during your travels.

Famed mezzo-soprano Marilyn Horne will appear in recital this summer at Stern Grove on Sunday afternoon, July 26

This weekend the Opera Theatre ROCKY MOUNTAIN HIGHS

of St. Louis opens its season at the intimate 925-seat Loretto Hilton Theatre. Repertoire includes Bizet's Carmen, Handel's Alcina, Rossini's La Cenerentola, and the American premiere of Stephen Oliver's Beauty and the Beast. For ticket information, call (314) 961-0171.

When traveling across the wide expanses of the American West, it often seems as if all activity comes to a halt at sunset. Therefore, it may surprise backpackers visiting Yellowstone National Park and the Grand Tetons to learn that from July 8 to Aug. 23 there will be a superb music festival located in Jackson Hole, Wyoming! Each summer conductor Ling Tung helps this western ski resort make the hills come alive with the sound of music. This year guest conductor Robert Shaw will lead the Mormon Tabernacle Choir in Mendelssohn's Elijah on Aug. 21 and 22. Call (307) 733-3050 for details

One need only trace a path down the eastern slopes of the Rocky Mountains to discover a wealth of summer arts festivals which boast a long history of cultural achievements. Mention Aspen, Colorado, and most people think of winter ski resorts. But from June 26 to Aug. 23, Aspen serves as a training ground for young musicians, which offers travelers an excellent opportunity to enjoy chamber music amidst the grandeur of the Rocky Mountains. Although one finds a great deal of symphonic music and jazz at Aspen, this festival has always placed a strong emphasis on contemporary music. Operas to be performed in 1987 include Rossini's La Cenerentola, Copland's The Tender Land, and Stravinsky's The Rake's Progress. Call (303) 952-9042 for perormance schedules.

Located in a historic Colorado mining town, the Central City Opera performs in a tiny, Victorian-era auditorium whose magnificently painted ceiling was recently restored to its original 1878 condition. From July 11 through Aug. 11 Puccini's Madama Butterfly, Donizetti's Don Pasquale, and Rudolf Friml's The Vagabond King will be performed in the intimate and acoustically perfect Central City

Opera House. For ticket information, call (303) 571-4435.

Just below Colorado lies the state of New Mexico, which is justifiably known as "The Land of Enchantment." In addition to a superb season of intimate concerts presented by the Santa Fe Chamber Music Festival, the Santa Fe Opera performs during July and August in a spectacular semi-outdoors theater which frequently uses the stars and Mother Nature's bolts of lightning for its backdrops. Located in the shadow of the Sangre de Cristo Mountains, the Santa Fe Opera House was built in a land of afternoon lightning storms and magical summer hues. With the approach of sunset the air cools, the colors of the terrain change dramatically, and it seems as if the gods have decided to stage a light show.

Local poet Winfield Scott once wrote that "the landscape in which the Santa Fe Opera sits, as hundreds of thousands of travelers know, is majestic. As one listens in that starlit roofless theater, one feels that there is something which is not even dwarfed by the New Mexico mountains. Indeed, here is something at last in art to match them." This year's repertoire includes Shostakovich's The Nose, Puccini's Madama Butterfly, Strauss's The Schweigsame Frau, Mozart's The Marriage of Figaro, and Handel's Ariodante. Call (505) 982-3851 for ticket inormation

FROM SEA TO SHINING SEA

Anyone traveling to New York

(Continued on page 36)

ning, helping connect the dots of the three-act philosophic/political comedy-drama. His comments replaced the missing

stage action, but also destroyed

continuity and dulled the possibility of personal interpretation.

struggled heroically to point long

passages of repetitive instrumental writing, and no one could

fault him or the piano accompan-

ists if the results were somewhat edious. On synthesizer, John

McGinn was given more freedom of expression, and he managed a bravura performance, adding desperately needed color and

Librettist Alice Goodman.

Harvard associate of designated director Peter Sellars (the whole thing is based on his concept).

supplied a text rich in poetic imagery and imaginative situations,

but also displayed a disturbing

tendency towards cheap jokes

and the cramming of utterly unbelievable words into her characters' mouths. The best moments come in dreamy monologues, artfully truthful portray-

als of emotional and ideological

The cast of soloists was well

chosen and prepared for the surprisingly lyrical melodies supplied by Adams. Opportunities for cartooning were gratefully

bypassed in favor of insightful

glimpses at such complicated

figures as Pat and Richard Nixon,

Madame and Chairman Mao,

"the real James Bond" Henry

(Continued on page 36)

attitudes.

drama to the sound texture.

Conductor John DeMain

Philip Campbell Progress Report: Nixon in China

B erkeley composer John Adams' widely discussed and eagerly anticipated "minimalist" opera Nixon in China received two workshopstyle performances last week at Herbst Theatre prior to a fully staged October premiere in Houston. The results were mixed, but the show, and it's more show than opera, met with enthusiasm from an audience of obvious loyalists.

Adams, barely 40, has built a strong local career as former Composer-in-Residence with the San Francisco Symphony and as trend-setting co-founder, with Edo de Waart, of the New and Unusual Music Series. His glistening, ripely romantic scores have further endeared him to a large national audience as he rapidly becomes the most fully recorded of modern writers. International attention is due as his Nixon in China is scheduled for March 1988 at the Kennedy Center.

Last-minute money troubles for the concert staging forced the original producers to allow American Inroads a chance to save the performances, scrapping the production values in the process. There was no alternative, though ironically Adams' greatest gift as persuasive orchestrator was lost because of budget. Reduced to a rendering by dual pianos and synthesizer, the score easily supplied ammunition to detractors, who complain of minimalism's bare-bones monotony.

Adams acted as ingratiating narrator throughout the long eve-

S ome special events this weekend may disprove Jac-queline Susann's "Once is not enough" theory. Tonight at the York, director-star Ray Dennis Steckler presents his mid-'60s epics, The Incredibly Strange Creatures Who Stopped Living and Became Crazy Mixed-Up Zombies, "the first monster musical," and Thrill Killers. Tickets will be $8.50 at the door, so you should have gotten them in advance for $7 (362-1465). Star Wars celebrates its tenth anniversary Saturday with an allday screening of the trilogy pre-sented by the Mill Valley Film Festival at the Corte Madera Cinema. There will be commemorative t-shirts, posters, and but-tops for sale, plus raffles and surprises. This one costs $17, or $15 each for groups of ten or more (383-5256). Meanwhile, down in the bargain basement, multi-cultural children's films will be shown throughout Saturday's Multi-Cultural Film Festival and Fair at the Star of the Sea Church on 8th Avenue between Geary and Clement. The mostly-for-children event benefits the S.F. Association of Independent After-School Programs. It costs $1 for little kids and $2 for big kids (826-1130). But once is not enough for A

VIDXD

by David-Alex Nahmod

among other outlets.

MAEDCHEN IN UNIFORM (1931)

Sagan.

release.

BAY AREA REPORTER MAY 28, 1987 PAGE 30

Steve Warren

Once May Be Enough

Room with a View. Now in its second year, it's still better than anything released since - including Platoon, Oscar to the contrary. Films don't get closer to perfection than this one. It may lose less than most in transition to video,

Despite the way she mistreats the chipmunks in The Chipmunk Adventure, Claudia Furstein (voiced by Susan Tyrrell) loves her little dog Sophie

but on the big Castro screen you should really be able to see something in the skinny-dipping scene. It shows with Ken (The Boy Friend) Russell's first hit. Women in Love, May 29-31.

THE UN-SPIELBERG

"I'm the anti-Hughes, the un-Spielberg," boasts director Tim Hunter about his function in the teen drama River's Edge. He likes some of John Hughes' work - Sixteen Candles, "except for the racist part," and The Breakfast Club - but thinks he's offbase in focusing on problems of class consciousness. "You don't have that in public schools."

Initial screenings have found some people unwilling to admit the startling events of River's Edge could be rooted in reality, but they happened in Milpitas in 1981. The screenplay, by then-student Neal Jimmer, was "in-spired by, rather than based on fact," Hunter, ductinguishes. "Neal has never been to Milpitas. He read newspaper stories, but didn't talk to the people in-

Neither did Hunter, who did enough research on teenage problems when he and someimes-partner Charlie Haas were working on their first produced screenplay, Over the Edge. Although sex, drugs, and rock and roll are part of the lives of the River's Edge kids, Hunter cautions against simplistic answers.

"We were very conscious when we were making it of Reagan's anti-dope campaign, a blanket condemnation of problems much too complex just to condemn or legislate against. We wanted to stir the pot a little bit." He didn't have the president in mind, he insists, in relation to Clarissa's (Ione Skye) description of Layne

Tired of the same unbelievable

FANTASIES?

You've NEVER had a sex call this HOT, NASTY and SEXY... NEVER!

Message CHANGES with EACH CALL

E AAF

(Crispin Glover), the charismatic speed freak: "Everybody follows him like he's got some kind of special power or something."

When Hunter was here with his first feature, Tex, he said he was working with local gay author Carter Wilson on a screen treatment of Wilson's gay novel Treasures on Earth. He now says that was never intended for the screen, but that they've collaborated on other projects.

"Carter and I are still very close friends and looking for something to to together," he said. "We crossed in the air this morning. As I was coming up here he was firing south to pitch a story to Disney (about Hum-phrey the what

Just before the American re-lease of his new film, Hunter and his family spent a month in France at the home of producer Sandra Schulberg, whose Wait-ing for the Moon beat River's Edge for the top prize at this year's U.S. Film Festival in Park City, Utah. (Galaxy, Century Plaza)

ASSHOLE IN ONE

Eddie Murphy is a bigoted asshole who vilifies our lifestyle, condoning if not inspiring violence against gay people. He's also a talented performer, and they were still teaching objectivity when I went to journalism school. When Murphy's good, he's good.

He's good in Beverly Hills Cop II. Not as good as he was in the (Continued on page 37)

LUMBERJA

CKS

.

MARINE

Films That Got Away

ere's a look at a few films that, for various reasons, were not as widely distri buted as they deserve to be. Catch them now at Superstar Video (18th Street, off Castro) and Captain Video (Market, off Castro),

Directed by Leontine Sagar

A landmark film, Maedchen in Uniform is a well-known but rarely seen German production that was made shortly before the Nazis rose to power. It was one of the very few films of this period to be directed by a woman, and so it doesn't merely hint at its subject matter, lesbianism, but deals with it in startlingly blunt terms. When the film was released inhome video version is the orig-

The video was struck from an old print, so the picture is a bit fuzzy in parts, and the overly bright subtitles are a bit of an eyestrain, yet this plea for sexual tolerance retains its power to move the viewer 56 years after its

As Manuela, the beautiful young schoolgirl who falls madin love with her female teacher,

control her feelings, then turns away so as not to reveal that she feels the same, is years ahead of its time

Maedchen in Uniform, rarely revived in theaters and never shown on commercial TV, is an early classic that can at last be viewed by all.

AS IS (1986) Directed by Michael Lindsay Hogg

This film adaptation of William M. Hoffman's Broadway play of a broken gay couple who get back together when one of them develops AIDS was produced by the Showtime Ca work. Showtime screened it last year to great acclaim, and now as a home video release it can reach a wider audience.

|>

a

puritanical America, it was in a A tough, gritty drama, As Is is severely truncated form. This a film both gays and straights can relate to. Directed with an elegant inal uncut film that had been ap- flair by Michael Lindsay Hogg proved by director Leontine (Brideshead Revisited), it features Jonathan Hadary from the Broadway company as Saul, the last survivor of a social circle that has died out. Now nursing his ex-lover, he decides not to prepare for another funeral but to live, and to give his ex a reason to fight.

The great Colleon Dewhurst is also on hand at a tough but tender hospice volumeer who has several intimate chats with the r the age of B 7

poor

BAY AREA REPORTER MAY 28, PAGE 31

Summer Options

or too many years, America's culture vultures traveled across the Atlantic each summer in hopes of quenching their artistic appetites. Most operated on the false assumption that, with the exception of New York, much of the United States was a cultural wasteland. However, the artistic diversification of this summer's arts festivals offers solid proof that the arts are flourishing in the United States.

1987 marks the 50th anniversary of free outdoor performances in San Francisco's Stern Grove and, although many other cities now host outdoor music festivals of their own, Stern Grove's performances are probably the only ones which are still free to the public.

Each summer Stern Grove's audiences enjoy a cultural smorgasbord of opera, ballet, and symphony; jazz, blues, and pops. This summer's line-up includes free Sunday afternoon performances by the Preservation Hall Jazz Band, the San Francisco Ballet, the San Francisco Symphony, the San Francisco Opera Chorus and, on Aug. 9, the Lamplighters' production of The Pirates of Penzance. The Merola program will present a double bill of Puccini's Suor Angelica and Gianni Schicchi July 19, and Marilyn Horne will appear in recital July 26.

If you're exploring the United States this summer, why not let the arts add a great deal of glory to your sunsets? There are plenty of operatic events which may interest you during your travels.

Famed mezzo-soprano Marilyn Horne will appear in recital this summer at Stern Grove on Sunday afternoon, July 26

This weekend the Opera Theatre ROCKY MOUNTAIN HIGHS

of St. Louis opens its season at the intimate 925-seat Loretto Hilton Theatre. Repertoire includes Bizet's Carmen, Handel's Alcina, Rossini's La Cenerentola. and the American premiere of Stephen Oliver's Beauty and the Beast. For ticket information, call (314) 961-0171.

When traveling across the wide expanses of the American West, it often seems as if all activity comes to a halt at sunset. Therefore, it may surprise backpackers visiting Yellowstone National Park and the Grand Tetons to learn that from July 8

to Aug. 23 there will be a superb music festival located in Jackson Hole, Wyoming! Each summer conductor Ling Tung helps this western ski resort make the hills come alive with the sound of music. This year guest conductor Robert Shaw will lead the Mormon Tabernacle Choir in Mendelssohn's Elijah on Aug. 21 and 22. Call (307) 733-3050 for details

One need only trace a path down the eastern slopes of the Rocky Mountains to discover a wealth of summer arts festivals which boast a long history of cultural achievements. Mention Aspen, Colorado, and most people think of winter ski resorts. But from June 26 to Aug. 23, Aspen serves as a training ground for young musicians, which offers travelers an excellent opportunity to enjoy chamber music amidst the grandeur of the Rocky Mountains. Although one finds a great deal of symphonic music and jazz at Aspen, this festival has always placed a strong emphasis on contemporary music. Operas to be performed in 1987 include Rossini's La Cenerentola, Copland's The Tender Land, and Stravinsky's The Rake's Progress. Call (303) 952-9042 for perormance schedules.

Located in a historic Colorado mining town, the Central City Opera performs in a tiny, Victorian-era auditorium whose magnificently painted ceiling was recently restored to its riginal 1878 condition. From July 11 through Aug. 11 Puccini's Madama Butterfly, Donizetti's Don Pasquale, and Rudolf Friml's The Vagabond King will be performed in the intimate and acoustically perfect Central City

Opera House. For ticket information, call (303) 571-4435.

Just below Colorado lies the state of New Mexico, which is justifiably known as "The Land of Enchantment." In addition to a superb season of intimate concerts presented by the Santa Fe Chamber Music Festival, the Santa Fe Opera performs during July and August in a spectacular semi-outdoors theater which frequently uses the stars and Mother Nature's bolts of lightning for its backdrops. Located in the shadow of the Sangre de Cristo Mountains, the Santa Fe Opera House was built in a land of afternoon lightning storms and magical summer hues. With the approach of sunset the air cools, the colors of the terrain change dramatically, and it seems as if the gods have decided to stage a light show.

Local poet Winfield Scott once wrote that "the landscape in which the Santa Fe Opera sits, as hundreds of thousands of travelers know, is majestic. As one listens in that starlit roofless theater, one feels that there is something which is not even dwarfed by the New Mexico mountains. Indeed, here is something at last in art to match them." This year's repertoire includes Shostakovich's The Nose. Puccini's Madama Butterfly, Strauss's The Schweigsame Frau, Mozart's The Marriage of Figaro, and Handel's Ariodante. Call (505) 982-3851 for ticket information.

FROM SEA TO SHINING SEA

Anyone traveling to New York

ning, helping connect the dots of the three-act philosophic/

political comedy-drama. His

comments replaced the missing

stage action, but also destroyed

continuity and dulled the possibility of personal interpretation

Conductor John DeMain

struggled heroically to point long

passages of repetitive instrumental writing, and no one could

fault him or the piano accompan-

ists if the results were somewhat tedious. On synthesizer, John

McGinn was given more freedom

of expression, and he managed a

bravura performance, adding

desperately needed color and

drama to the sound texture.

Librettist Alice Goodman

director Peter Sellars (the whole thing is based on his concept),

supplied a text rich in poetic imagery and imaginative situations,

but also displayed a disturbing

tendency towards cheap jokes

and the cramming of utterly

unbelievable words into her

characters' mouths. The best moments come in dreamy monologues, artfully truthful portrav-

als of emotional and ideological

The cast of soloists was well

chosen and prepared for the surprisingly lyrical melodies supplied by Adams. Opportunities

for cartooning were gratefully

bypassed in favor of insightful

glimpses at such complicated

figures as Pat and Richard Nixon.

Madame and Chairman Mao,

"the real James Bond" Henry

(Continued on page 36)

attitudes.

(Continued on page 36)

Philip Campbell

Progress Report: Nixon in China

B erkeley composer John Adams' widely discussed and eagerly anticipated "minimalist" opera Nixon in China received two workshopstyle performances last week at Herbst Theatre prior to a fully staged October premiere in Houston. The results were mixed, but the show, and it's more show than opera, met with enthusiasm from an audience of obvious lovalists.

Adams, barely 40, has built a strong local career as former Composer-in-Residence with the San Francisco Symphony and as trend-setting co-founder, with Edo de Waart, of the New and Unusual Music Series. His glistening, ripely romantic scores Harvard associate of designated have further endeared him to a large national audience as he rapidly becomes the most fully recorded of modern writers. International attention is due as his Nixon in China is scheduled for March 1988 at the Kennedy Center.

Last-minute money troubles for the concert staging forced the original producers to allow American Inroads a chance to save the performances, scrapping the production values in the process. There was no alternative, though ironically Adams' greatest gift as persuasive orchestrator was lost because of budget. Reduced to a rendering by dual pianos and synthesizer, the score easily supplied ammunition to detractors, who complain of minimalism's bare-bones monotony vance for $7 (362-1465).

Adams acted as ingratiating narrator throughout the long eve-

(826-1130).

among other outlets.

MAEDCHEN IN UNIFORM (1931)

Uniform is a well-known but rarely seen German production that was made shortly before the Nazis rose to power. It was one of the very few films of this period to be directed by a woman, and so it doesn't merely hint at its subject matter, lesbianism, but deals with it in startlingly blunt terms. When the film was released in puritanical America, it was in a severely truncated form. This a film both gays and straights can home video version is the original uncut film that had been ap- flair by Michael Lindsay Hogg proved by director Leontine (Brideshead Revisited), it Sagan. The video was struck from an release.

Steve Warren

Once May Be Enough

S ome special events this weekend may disprove Jac-queline Susann's "Once is not enough" theory. Tonight at the York, director-star Ray Dennis Steckler presents his mid-'60s epics, The Incredibly Strange Creatures Who Stopped Living and Became Crazy Mixed-Up Zombies, "the first monster musical," and Thrill Killers. Tickets will be $8.50 at the door, so you should have gotten them in ad-

Star Wars celebrates its tenth anniversary Saturday with an allday screening of the trilogy pre-sented by the Mill Valley Film Festival at the Corte Madera Cinema. There will be commemorative t-shirts, posters, and buttons for sale, plus raffles and surprises. This one costs $17, or $15 each for groups of ten or more (383-5256).

Meanwhile, down in the bargain basement, multi-cultural children's films will be shown throughout Saturday's Multi-Cultural Film Festival and Fair at the Star of the Sea Church on 8th Avenue between Geary and Clement. The mostly-for-children event benefits the S.F. Association of Independent After-School Programs. It costs $1 for little kids and $2 for big kids

But once is not enough for ARoom with a View. Now in its second year, it's still better than anything released since - including Platoon, Oscar to the contrary. Films don't get closer to perfection than this one. It may lose less than most in transition to video,

Despite the way she mistreats the chipmunks in The Chipmunk Adventure, Claudia Furstein (voiced by Susan Tyrrell) loves her little dog Sophie

but on the big Castro screen you should really be able to see something in the skinny-dipping

scene. It shows with Ken (The Boy Friend) Russell's first hit, Women in Love, May 29-31.

THE UN-SPIELBERG

"I'm the anti-Hughes, the un-Spielberg," boasts director Tim Hunter about his function in the teen drama River's Edge. He likes some of John Hughes' work - Sixteen Candles, "except for the racist part," and The Breakfast Club - but thinks he's offbase in focusing on problems of class consciousness. "You don't have that in public schools."

Initial screenings have found some people unwilling to admit the startling events of River's Edge could be rooted in reality, but they happened in Milpitas in 1981. The screenplay, by then-student Neal Jimmez, was "in-spired by, rather than based on fact," Hunter distinguishes. "Neal has never been to Milpitas. He read newspaper stories, but didn't talk to the people involved."

Neither did Hunter, who did enough research on teenage problems when he and sometimes-partner Charlie Haas were working on their first produced screenplay, Over the Edge. Although sex, drugs, and rock and roll are part of the lives of the River's Edge kids, Hunter cautions against simplistic answers.

"We were very conscious when we were making it of Reagan's anti-dope campaign, a blanket condemnation of problems much too complex just to condemn or legislate against. We wanted to stir the pot a little bit." He didn't have the president in mind, he insists, in relation to Clarissa's (Ione Skye) description of Layne

(Crispin Glover), the charismatic speed freak: "Everybody follows him like he's got some kind of special power or something."

When Hunter was here with his first feature, Tex, he said he was working with local gay author Carter Wilson on a screen treatment of Wilson's gay novel Treasures on Earth. He now says that was never intended for the screen, but that they've collaborated on other projects.

"Carter and I are still very close friends and looking for something to to together," he said. "We crossed in the air this morning. As I was coming up here he was flying south to pitch a story to Disney (about Hum-phrey the whate)

Just before the American re-lease of his new film, Hunter and his family spent a month in France at the home of producer Sandra Schulberg, whose Waiting for the Moon beat River's Edge for the top prize at this year's U.S. Film Festival in Park City, Utah. (Galaxy, Century Plaza)

ASSHOLE IN ONE

Eddie Murphy is a bigoted asshole who vilifies our lifestyle, condoning if not inspiring violence against gay people. He's also a talented performer, and they were still teaching objectivity when I went to journalism school. When Murphy's good, he's good.

He's good in Beverly Hills Cop II. Not as good as he was in the (Continued on page 37)

0 P 3 00 din Q ame

ス

etak

0 poo --В 1

Films That Got Away

by David-Alex Nahmod

ere's a look at a few films that, for various reasons, that, for various reasons, were not as widely distri buted as they deserve to be. Catch them now at Superstar Video (18th Street, off Castro) and Captain Video (Market, off Castro),

Directed by Leontine Sagan

A landmark film, Maedchen in old print, so the picture is a bit fuzzy in parts, and the overly bright subtitles are a bit of an eyestrain, yet this plea for sexual tolerance retains its power to move the viewer 56 years after its

As Manuela, the beautiful young schoolgirl who falls mady in love with her female teacher, ha Twiele turns in a master The ba control her feelings, then turns away so as not to reveal that she feels the same, is years ahead of its time

Maedchen in Uniform, rarely revived in theaters and never shown on commercial TV, is an early classic that can at last be viewed by all.

AS IS (1986) Directed by Michael Lindsay Hogg

This film adaptation of William M. Hoffman's Broadway play of a broken gay couple who get back together when one of them develops AIDS was produced by the Showtime Cable Net work. Showtime screened it last year to great acclaim, and now as a home video release it can reach a wider audience.

A tough, gritty drama, As Is is relate to. Directed with an elegant features Jonathan Hadary from the Broadway company as Saul, the last survivor of a social circle that has died out. Now nursing his ex-lover, he decides not to prepare for another funeral but to live, and to give his ex a reason to fight

The great Colleen Dewhurst is also on hand as a tough but tender hospice volunteer who has several intimate chats with the for the age of

•

ERS

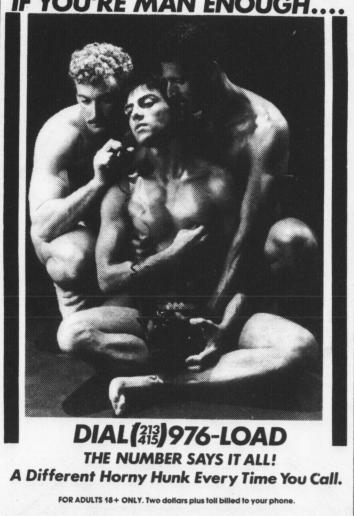

m

BAY AREA REPORTER MAY 28,

BAY AREA REPORTER MAY 28, 1987 PAGE 32

Mr. Marcus

Hamburger Wins Intl. Mr. Leather Contest

A hicago. Tom Karrach of Hamburg, Germany and Mr. Leather of Europe, beat out all the American entries and a few foreign ones last Sunday night, May 24, at Chicago's Park West as the 9th Annual International Mr. Leather Contest unfolded before nearly 2,000 leather men and women in the annual paean to what used to be gay life's least understood subculture.

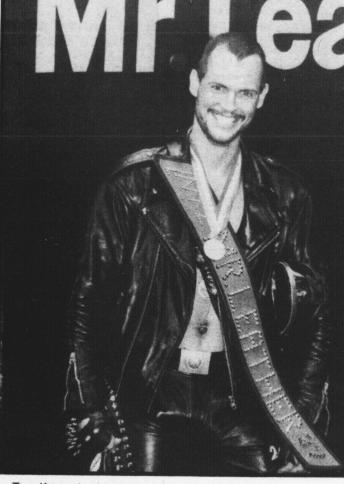

But subculture it is no longer. Leather has literally "come out of the closet" as many of the contestants stated during their allotted time. The presence of several lesbian leather women titleholders and 1st International Ms. Leather Judy Tallwing McCarthey was received with standing ovations more than once during the evening. Time after time, various contestants and other principals involved with the contest expressed their 100% acceptance of leather women asserting their chosen lifestyle. Mistress Kathy, had she been there, would have been most pleased. When the M.E.N. video of this contest is completed, you will witness the complete unity that is often vocalized but never seen.

Leathermen from around the world witnessed this phenomenal celebration, not only of the leather lifestyle, but the "coming out" in a big way of leather women.

Chuck Renslow, creator of Intl. Mr. Leather, had a flawless crew to handle all the complexities associated with such a production. Ron Ehemann, Vince Basio, Gary Chichester, Mike Henry, Coleman and Walter Klinger, Jack Sitar, Pepin Pena, and Brian Sinderson are only a handful of the dedicated staff that put together one of the best productions of IML to date.

The contest started promptly at 2000 hours and would have ended at midnight but for a few of the contestants, who overran their one-minute speech, causing first runnerup.

Tom Karasch of Hamburg, West Germany, is International Mr. Leather IX, the first European to win the title. (Photo: Marcus)

Out of the 31 entries, 11 were eliminated in the pre-judging, leaving 20 for the judges to deal with. Lots of bruised egos and disappointments, needless to say.

This year's crop of contestants were stunning. But stunning isn't everything. It's nice to have a beautiful man win, but if he doesn't have a brain and cannot speak convincingly or intelligenty, why bother? One of the contestants decided that because he was mostly "comfortable" in sneakers, that's what he wore in shaving of points by the judges. the pre-judging, a move that winner Tom Karasch of Hamburg, West Germany, and Michael Rousse of Montreal, Canada, and consequently he was eliminated even though he had a hot body and is a dead ringer for Tom the pre-judging - another fatal mistake.

INITEDNATIONAL

International Mr. Leather winners (left to right) Ken Gordon of Seattle, second runner-up;

Utilizing the Olympic scoring Mercury Mail Order, Tony De-Jacques Carlé (Interchain), Al

system, IML is legitimate and fair to all entries. Judges Dom (Etienne) Orejudos, Pat Batt of blase (Drummer Magazine), Selleck! One other contestant didn't even wear leather during didn't endear him to the judges.

(Continued on next page)

(Photo: Marcus)

to date.

mer event. Sarathain, was eliminated in the pre-judging.

nitely get home O.K."

added up to a tremendously suc-

Dasher (Mr. S Leathers/Denver), and myself joined with Scott Tucker, the retiring Intl. Mr. Leather, for probably one of the hardest asssignments in judging

The 2nd runner-up was Ken Gordon (Mr. Leather of Seattle) and the 1st runner-up was Michael Rousse of Montreal. This turn of events reinforced IML's true claim to international status. Another well-received aspect of the contest: that for the first time since its inception, Drummer Magazine was a major participant in the proceedings, with Drummer publisher Tony Deblase serving as a judge, much to the relief of everyone who was aware of the long-simmering feud between IML and the Mr. Drum-

The winners were well received by the audience. While I didn't get the final tally of points for each of the contestants, I do know that Mr. San Francisco Leather, Bill Johansen, did rank 4th in the scoring. We were disappointed that the CMC's entry, David IML '87 ran smoothly. Gary Herb has enjoined with two extremely talented new partners (Michael Pace and David McDaniel) who sang, danced, MC'd, dished, and kept the crowd in stitches throughout with barbs toward the contestants and audience personalities alike. Example: To an over-dressed leather dude: "One thing about all those chains you're wearing, honey; if there's a snow storm, you'll defi-

This line of repartee kept the audience and contestants in a less intense mode; after all, if you can't laugh at yourself, don't lay your bad trip on anyone else! Judy Tenuta, the petite flower child of IML '84, returned to her adoring leather fans to a wild applause, while Liz Mandvill and the Supernaturals had the place jumping. Brunches at the Touche, parties at the Gold Coast, Carol's Speakeasy, and the Riviera (for the Black & Blue Ball) all

San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego, Seattle, Minneapolis, and Toronto leather men voted Chuck Rodocker, owner of the Touché, as the most-caring-andattentive-to-leather-men-barowner, not only for this year, but for many previous years. Chuck is the host with the most!

Next year, International Mr. Leather will be 10 years old! No longer a baby. Now an established tradition, next year promises to be a gigantic celebration, not only for its longevity, but because it helped inspire leather women to assert their existence, their place in the sun, their right to determination of their chosen lifestyle, and because their success has only strengthened the leather community - all proud, all dedicated, all caring, and more cohesiveness and understanding with their leather brothers. Don't you think it's about time? I hope so, because it is happening. As for the leather community of Chicago, thanks men and women - you outdid yourselves this year. How will you top it next year?

ime waits for no one. All kinds of good things happening around the old homestead and, of course, you're all invited to participate. The best of the forthcoming this weekend and beyond: Tonight, it's another round in the Bare Chest Contest. Winner gets $100 in cash and a spot on the 1988 Bare Chest Calendar plus a photo session valued at $150 for those with modeling careers in the future.

* * *

Saturday, the San Francisco legend and former empress, Flame, kicks off her campaign for Grand Duchess at Kimo's (a benefit for Coming Home Hospice and PAWS) beginning at 1930 hours. There's a $3 cover with Gladys Bumps and Sissy Spaceout sharing the MC duties. It's another Evening With Flame, recapturing those halcyon days when she ran for Empress and won. This could spark a grand revival of the title.

Keno Rider continues directing Strictly A Formality at the Theatre Rhino Studio on Fridays, Saturdays, and Sundays. Don't miss it, through June 7.

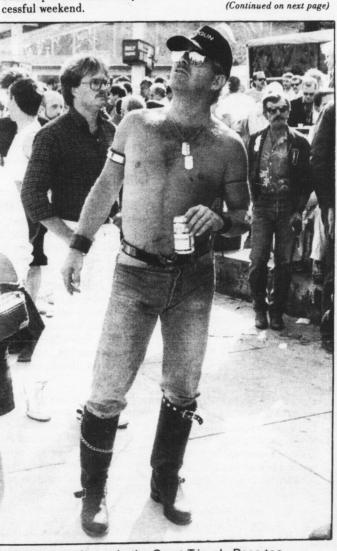

4

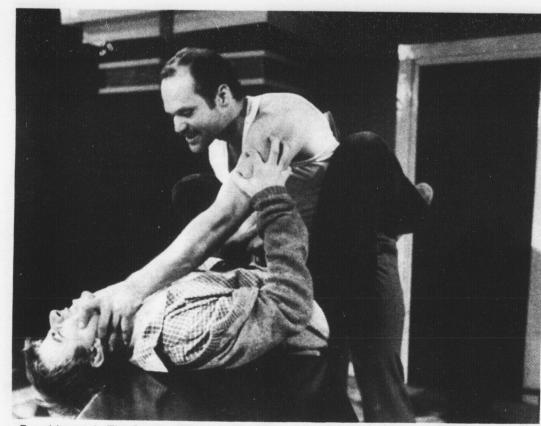

Tricycle racers head out from the Eagle Creek on their way to the finish line (Photo: Photo Graphics/Darlene)

BAY AREA REPORTER MAY 28, 1987 PAGE 33

Leathermen took part in the Great Tricycle Race too (Photo: Photo Graphics/Darlene)

Roughhouse in The Studio at Theatre Rhino every weekend while Strictly A Formality lasts (Photo: S. Cohen)

Marcus

(Continued from previous page)

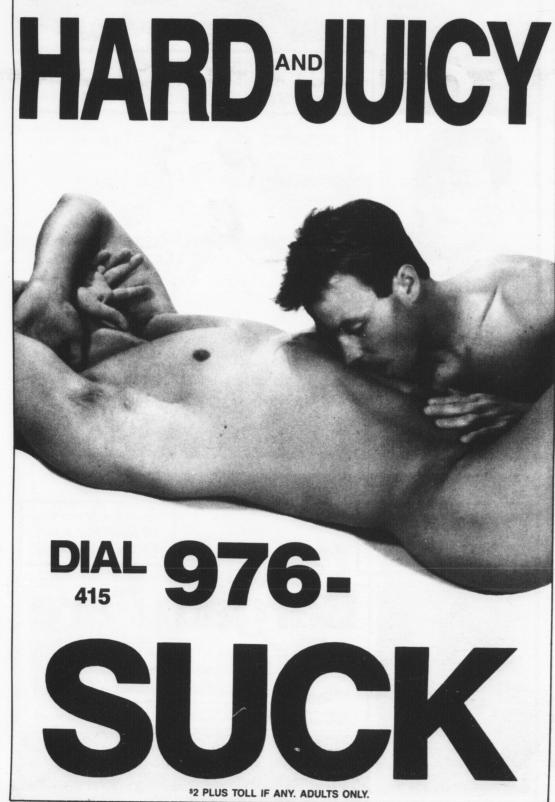

Over at Modern Times Bookstore, they open a month-long celebration of lesbian and gay culture with art shows, poetry readings, and lots of hoopla through June 19. Call 282-9246 for the schedule.

This weekend too is the Cal

Eagles M/C "Where Eagles Dare" run (tall trees and lumberjacks) with various prices, depending on whether you want to rough it (camping out) or be grand (cabins), with prices ranging from $95 to $125. Call the Eagle hotline (586-9933) for details, but don't wait too long. Next Wednesday, June 3, the Baybrick Inn features Comedy Plus with Karen Williams, Karen Ripley, Danny Williams, Doug Holsclaw, Marga Gomez, Maureen Brownsey, and Suzy (Dr. Ruth!) Berger - this should be a night of belly laughs for only a $6 cover beginning at about 2030 hours. Tuesday, June 2, Gwen Avery, the Boss Lady of R&B, will perform from 1900-2100 (no cover)!

I found the flyer (not a press release) a little confusing but the grand daddy of gay theater, find it a little uncomfortable in Chuck Largent, will present Once Upon A Mattress at the California Club (Clay and Van Ness) starting Sunday, June 7, with a package deal at $22.50 (includes a breakfast buffet) from 1300 association with Robert Michael Productions.

BAY AREA REPORTER MAY 28, 1987 PAGE 34

Of course, the Brown Bag Day benefit is Sunday, June 14, and at the SF-Eagle that day, Gail Wilson and Danny Williams will be on hand to entertain you along with all the One Dollar bargains (in brown bags), and the Constantines M/C and the Cal Eagles M/C are doing a great job of helping out with the madness.

That should be enough to keep you busy (if not broke). Don't forget coming up in June are the Mr. Drummer finals at Club DV8 (more on that later), the S&M Fetish party at the Powerhouse, the Mr. Beer Belly Contest, the Gay Parade (have you volunteered to help out?), Leather Weekend at the Russian River (at the Atlantis), and the Closet Ball. Start saving your pennies - most of them are benefits!

WHAT KIND OF DISH ARE YOU?

Seems like everyone is getting "single" these days (read: divorced!). Glen Terrio has been single for a few weeks now, but at this very moment is looking for a policeman for a husband, especially after being robbed at the Bayou last week when these thugs entered and herded employees and patrons into the freezer while they cleaned up all the loot.

Don (Dimples) Blankenship and Danny Rodriguez/Rodrigues at the Powerhouse are single again too, but I think a certain but I don't think it will take him and Taco Bell. long for his next march up to the altar.

Yes, you did see Greg Day and Line-Up last Tuesday night. I don't know if they were talking politics, the new decor there, or a fundraiser. I didn't see any stars in either of their eyes, but - you never know!

Are t-shirt makers a little miffed at a certain publishing house who ordered their t-shirts from a Los Angeles firm because they could get them faster and cheaper? The t-shirts weren't here at my deadline, and they'll cost a fortune.

True leathermen will wear their leather anywhere, anytime

Jockey Club East

New York - Centurian introduces the Jockey Club East BBS. This is a computer bulle tin board system you contact through your personal computer and modem. By just dialing our computer's telephone number (516-665-1851), you will be in touch with hundreds of other guys who are turned on to men in naire, you will be able to match 932-7111. (In Illinois, call 1-800up with the men who have the 572-2369.) same interests as you. You will also be able to send them secret electronic mail, post public neers of the gay genre. Among his messages, read hundreds of hot previous features are Reflections stories, read public messages, and add comments to them. You of The Slums. With this feature, can order merchandise for fast delivery, read reviews of all of the students, and the result is as latest gay videos.

You will also be able to chat "live on line." This is a multiuser BBS. Rates are $2 per hour it carries, call the toll-free Prime Time and $1 per hour numbers above or write to Bijou Non-Prime Time. We are on-line Video Sales, 1349 N. Wells, Chi-24 hours a day, seven days a week. cago, IL 60610.

hot weather or when visiting or temporarily exiled in tropical/ desert climes, here's an Exclusive Scoop: Mercury Mail Order's new 1987-88 catalog is nearly complete and it will feature that with a curtain at 1400. This is in new Tropical Leather! You read it right - tropical leather! Without losing its leathery appeal, the new leather is punctured with small pin-prick size holes that are hardly noticeable unless you're snooping about with a magnifying glass. These holes allow the air to get to your skin for comfort. Several items of this new leather will be exclusively available only from Mercury Mail Order. Better call them (621-1188) for a catalog. Love those trend setters! Mercury does it every time!

CHICAGO-STYLE DISH

In Chicago, it was bedlam all over the town. Chuck Rodocker's Touché Bar and Frank Kallas' Gold Coast were the leathery scenes during the weekend. The Loading Dock and the Manhandler, along with the Riviera and Carol's Speakeasy, all got into the act with parties galore, while the Bulldog Road and Bad Boys contributed to the festivities

Someone from San Diego was picketing the hotel with a sign that read: "We don't care what they do in Los Angeles" causing Compass Magazine columnist Suzy Parker to harrummph all weekend.

The Welcome to Chicago parby Mercury Mail Order and Male Entertainment Network at Days Inn (the official hotel for the weekend) featured a 35-minute video compendium of all the previous IML contests on video screens placed strategically around the room. Mel Markons, leather titleholder (youngish, to Shuckers, and Bennigans were say the least) has that one (Don) the favorite straight eateries, sewed up. Danny's still looking, along with Arby's, McDonald's, Ms. SF Leather Shadow Morton, Ms. Leather of Sacramento. Ms. Washington State Leather, Rich Booth in a cozy booth at the and the dynamic Sky Renfro and Ms. Helen were decked out in fabulous leathers all weekend and were the belles of the ball.

There was much grabbing, groping, hugging, and renewed acquaintances all weekend, and I'm sorry you missed it. There were only two divorces and at least three Chicago leather dudes will be moving to SF in the near future, and lots of them are coming here for Gay Pride weekend. You'll have to start saving your coins for the biggie next year. Ten years old, International Mr. Leather has come of age - hope (well, almost), but for those who you can make it next time! •

Classmates

Bijou Video Sales, the Midwest's largest distributor of gay X-rated video, proudly announces the release of a new feature, Classmates, by veteran director Toby Ross. The video features David Ashfield in the starring role as a college art student. It is on sale for $59.95 jocks, briefs, gym, and swim gear. (Inrough July 10) and is a sufficiency from Bijou Video Sales. For fur-After completing a question- ther information, call 1-800-

> Toby Ross is one of the pioof Youth, Do Me Evil, and Boys Ross focuses on college-aged erotic as his earlier works.

For more information on Bijou Video Sales or any of the videos

Inner Circle

(Continued from page 26)

California public schools with The Inner Circle, however, is still far distant. Although Decker has received a great deal of moral support for the project, there have yet to be, as he puts it, any "physical dollars" in the bank. Those dollars now stand between The Inner Circle and the thousands of teenagers whose lives

Karr

(Continued from page 29)

lessly stern cousin, Shui Ta, to protect herself from the demands placed on her charitable nature. This charade leads her to drug dealing, police payoffs, and a harsh renunciation of her lover, as Brecht lays bear the convoluted ways in which business and economics pervert our lives.

The wonders of this production are many, but perhaps most lovably revealed is the script itself. There's tender romance and heartbreak here, and mo-

Video

(Continued from page 31)

DR. JEKYLL & SISTER HYDE (1971) Directed by Roy Ward Baker

No, it isn't a typo. The title of this variation on a scream really is Dr. Jekyll & Sister Hyde. Pro-duced by England's Hammer Films, the studio that specialized in period horror films for 20 years, Sister is an affectionate spoof of an often-filmed tale, played straight.

The catch here is that the mad doctor (Ralph Bates, a Hammer may depend on whether or not they get the information Loughrey's play could give them. Dollars - and an amazing resistance to the idea of AIDS education for adolescents.

Still, no one involved in The Inner Circle is discouraged. As Loughrey notes, "Altering behavior in the gay men's community took a long time, but it's been a miraculous, 180-degree shift. With teenagers, you're back at square one. That's what ments of sweet poetry. There's wit and theatrical flamboyance, all illuminating a bittersweet experience. We'd like to be godlike, but must regret the impossibility of being good: How can we be good when everything is so expensive? It would be nice if we could live by Brecht's teaching.

But possible? This production

if we just gave it a go.

makes us feel we could be moral

The elaborate staging and signing at first seem to encumber the play, lightly written in the style of a parable, but succeed in enlarging its experience. The play is lengthy, but its separate contract player) transforms himself into a murderous woman

(Martine Beswick). Although not very suspenseful, the film is amusing and has good production values that invoke the gaslit

London of the 1880s. The resemblance between Bates and Beswick is uncanny; one could almost believe they're one and

WHATEVER HAPPENED TO

A short and very bizzare film made by local filmmaker Marc

Huestis (Coming of Age) Susan

Jane is a nasty but inventive

SUSAN JANE? (1984)

Directed by Marc Huestis

the same person.

I think of this play - the iceberg is huge, and you just begin to chip away at it."

The play runs through June 21 at the New Conservatory Theatre, 25 Van Ness Ave., 861-4914. Then it will return during Bay Area Theatre Week, Sept. 18-Oct. 25.

Also, The Inner Circle will be featured on the CBS Evening News with Dan Rather during the week of June 1 as part of a special story about the innovative AIDS education trends in the U.S.

elements are each delectable. especially the set (Ralph Funicello) which provides actual rain, and the music (Jeffrey Bihr) which fractures the rhythms of a beat box to provide dub Brecht! The cast includes the radiant Freda Norman as Shen Te, Tony Amendola as her irresistible lover, Judith Marz as the Dragon Lady, and 25 (!) others.

Directed by Sharon Ott and Timothy Near, this Good Woman takes risks with a risky script, and with skill and understanding brings forth a memorable, heartening evening. (Through June 28; 845-4700) black comedy.

Huestis took several scenes from a 1950s "educational" film about a teenaged girl learning how to get along with her classmates. He presents two of that film's characters 20 years later in hip, trendy S.F. Scenes of various Cafe Flore and South of Market types are interspersed with clips of the older film, always at precise moments so the two blend together to tell a strange, funny story.

One of the most original concepts I've ever seen in a film, Whatever Happened to Susan Jane? is a biting satire on the city's often pretentious club

BAY AREA REPORTER MAY 28, 1987 PAGE 36

Campbell Continued from page 30)

Kissinger, and Premiere Chou En-lai. Singing "Tricky Dick," James Maddalena projected an almost wistful man who tries, but fails, to be sympathetic. Soprano Carolann Page was just right in an affectionate portrait of the primly banal but kindly First Lady.

'Singing ''Tricky Dick," James Maddalena projected a wistful man who tries, but fails, to be sympathetic.'

The Chinese characters, especially the Maos, come across as cynical, tough-minded critics of the human condition, given to mystic observations. This may be apt, but Goodman lets Madame Mao veer too close to stereotypical "dragon lady" status.

Tenor John Duykers as Mao and Trude Ellen Craney as a coloratura Madame Mao navigated the most punishing of Adams'

Heymont

(Continued from page 30)

this summer may want to stop in at Lincoln Center to catch a few performances by the New York City Opera, which will perform Puccini's La Boheme, Madama Butterfly, Tosca, and La Rondine; Romberg's The Student Prince; Gounod's Faust; Verdi's La Traviata; Mozart's The Marriage of Figaro; and Sondheim's Sweeney Todd. Also planned for July and August are new productions of Mascagni's Cavalleria Rusticana, Leoncavallo's I Pagliacci, Mozart's The Magic Flute, and Romberg's The Desert Song. Call (212) 870-5570 for information

One of this summer's major cultural events will be the Pacific Northwest Wagner Festival, during which the Seattle Opera's presentation of The Ring of the Nibelung will re-enact the 19-hour saga which contains all those dragons, dwarfs, magic spells, and plot twists that drive Anna Russell to distraction. Based on a combination of Norse and Germanic mythology, the four operas that make up The Ring (Das Rheingold, Die Walkure, Siegfried, and Gotterdammerung) took nearly 25 years to be completed and were first seen in their proper dramatic sequence in 1876, when their composer, Richard Wagner, built his represent the most innovative and progressive apparel and accessory manufacturing firms in Northern California. Their goal is to promote San Francisco as a major ready-towear marketing center.

Fashion

(Continued from page 26)

Concluding the show on a vibrant note was cabaret entertainer Kitty Baudoin, who knocked out everything from "Hey, Big Spender" to "Lili Marlene."

The benefit was called Elevator, signifying from high to higher. It was a cooperative gay-lesbian and straight venture. just as the center is a combined effort of work and support from both worlds.

The Larkin Street Youth Center serves homeless and runaway young people under age 18 through special out-reach workers, individual and family counseling, food, medical treatment, legal assistance, and basic tutoring. Each year it reaches out to more than 1,000 throwaway youths living on the street and provides full counseling and family reunification services to 350.

The elevated evening came to an end as guests descended to ground-point zero. Some found their way to the S.F. Eagle just around the corner. There the fashions, hair styles, show and ambience provided an instant change of pace from haute couture. But that's another scene and a totally differ-demands with little strain, though Craney's hard-edged delivery underscored the unpleasantness of her character. Kissinger's part is underwritten. and Ronald Gerard could do little with it, but Sanford Sylvan made an enigmatic Chou En-lai a fully three-dimensional role, and his beautiful aria concluding the piece was wonderful. When the colorful and controversial Sellars is let loose, Nixon in China will doubtless become the most talked-about cultural event of the season, and surely Adams will clothe it in his customarily rich orchestral fabric. Still, one nagging doubt persists

Asked what lasting effect minimalism would ultimately have, reknowned conductor/com poser Pierre Boulez replied, 'Minimal.' His assessment is harsh and smacks a little of sour grapes, but after hearing a minimalist opera without the benefit of lush production, I'm not so sure anymore. As entertainment, Nixon in China will surely succeed; as music, only time will tell.

own theater in Bayreuth, Germany

Conceived with such an overwhelming sense of theatricality that it challenges the audience's imagination, the Seattle Opera's Ring makes superb use of Supertitles, which enable the audiences to achieve much deeper insights into the relationships between various characters in the Ring. Thanks to Supertitles, even the nonsense dialogue during the "Ride of the Valkyries" takes on new meaning as the girls ride across the stage astride their airborne carousel horses.

'One of this summer's major cultural events will be the Pacific Northwest Wagner Festival.'

The Ring will be presented twice in Seattle: Aug. 2-7 and Aug. 10-15. In addition to Linda Kelm's moving performance as Brunnehilde, veteran soprano Leonie Rysanek will appear as Sieglinde (probably the last time the popular Viennese artist will perform her signature role in North America). For information about the Seattle Opera's Ring, call (800) 426-1619.

"Witch Doctor";

month of June. Although officially recognized husband. other terminal diseases.

urday the 20th at 8 p.m.

Warren

(Continued from page 31) first of the series, which was fresher and had a higher comedyto-action ratio, but good. He only does one gay line, which is not a putdown, and he does his trademark jackass bray almost a dozen times, or about ten times too many. Always concerned about discrimination, when Beverly Hills police chief Allen Garfield calls Murphy a "degenerate," he replies, "Is this a black thing?" Since everyone knows Murphy's Axel Foley character, more attention is paid to developing his partners-in-fighting-crime, the dyspeptic Taggart (John Ashton) and the adventurous Rosewood (Judge Reinhold). Ashton has some of the best lines, and an unfortunately misogynistic punch line as he wastes Brigitte Nielsen, who plays the villainess as a white Grace Jones. Jürgen Prochnow and Dean Stockwell are the other bad guys. Director Tony Scott (Top Gun) believes audiences don't mind gaps in continuity if things move fast enough, and he works accordingly. There is sure to be a shitload of hits on the soundtrack, but on first hearing the encoring "Axel's Theme" was the best piece of music.

Despite its lack of innovation, Beverly Hills Cop II is definitely not a ripoff, I'm sorry to say. It could have happened to a nicer guy. (Regency I, Geneva, Plaza)

BREAKFAST OF CHIPMUNKS

WhoWhatWhenWhereWhyWhoWhatWhenWhereWhyWhoWhatWhenWhereW

KQED-FM Gav Pride Week Programming

KQED-FM/88.5 celebrates Gay Pride Week with special presentations by radio producer David Lamble throughout the from June 21-27, the special programming starts Friday, June 5, at noon on KQED-FM's A Closer Look with a stereo portrait of gay troubadours Romanovsky and Phillips. Lamble's interview at noon the following Friday with film director Mike Newell (Dance With a Stranger) and actor Simon Callow (the romantic vicar in A Room With a View) focuses on their new film The Good Father, the dramatization of a custody battle between a lesbian mother and her ex-

Coming Home Hospice is the subject of A Closer Look on the 19th at noon. Lamble looks at the efforts of San Francisco's homosexual and heterosexual communities to provide a supportive home for victims of AIDS and Razor Music, a comedy-drama by Jerome Moskowitz, is about two men affirming their lives and friendships and stars Gabriel Breitzke and Brad Erickson. The Lamble production is heard Sat-

The Chipmunk Adventure is: • the latest attempt by Ross Bagdasarian to capitalize on the creations of his same-named father, a.k.a. David Seville, even incorporating dad's early song hits "Come on-a My House" and

• drawn and animated in the cheesy style Saturday morning television has unfortunately made the industry's standard; • painted in pale, watery colors hardly more vivid than "colori-

On A Closer Look at noon on Friday the 26th is Lamble's conversation with filmmaker Jill Godmilow, whose new film Waiting for the Moon explores the relationship between Gertrude Stein (played by Linda Bassett) and Alice B. Toklas (played by Linda Hunt).

Where We Stand is a documentary by Lamble about the issues and problems facing lesbians and gays in different parts of the country. Listeners are invited to call in comments and questions at 863-2476 during the program, which airs Saturday the 27th from 2 to 3 p.m.

And on KQED-TV

KQED-TV Channel 9 cele brates Gay Pride Week (June 21-27) with the presentation of three powerful documentaries and an insightful dramatization.

Waiting for the Moon, airing on American Playhouse Tuesday the 22nd at 9 p.m., unabashedly enhances the myth surrounding Gertrude Stein and her life with Alice B. Toklas. Starring Linda Bassett as Stein and Linda Hunt as Toklas, director Jill Godmilow's film concentrates on a portrait of a "possible" Stein, zation." which suits the bland personalities of the leading "Chipmunk" and "Chipette" characters who race around the world, unwittingly smuggling diamonds as they go;

· peopled with camp supporting characters, including Dody Goodman voicing the housekeeper, Miss Miller, and Susan Tyrrell as archvillainess Claudia Furstein:

• the first animated feature to contain a blatant plug for a product (a breakfast cereal) other than its own character-related merchandising;

• as much better than the Rainbow Brite and Care Bears movies as it is worse than An American Tail and the Disney features. (Alexandria, Alhambra, Grand Lake, Serramonte

UNTIDY THRILLER

Where has Rita Tushingham been since A Taste of Honey and Dr. Zhivago? In Canada, apparently, making an untidy little thriller called The Housekeeper, the first feature directed by her husband, Ousama Rawi.

Two opening scenes establish Rita as a woman who has suffered all her middle-aged life from embarrassment about not being able to read. She kills her father when he tries to send her back to school (there's no educating Rita), and hires on as housekeeper to an "American" (obviously Canadian) family.

The household is full of candidates for killing - it's just a question of who and when. The only friend Rita makes is a curious choice, the grotesque, Tammy Bakker-ish Jackie Burroughs, who boasts at a revival meeting of her past as a prostitute, then faints dead away. "She does that all the time," whispers another churchgoer.

Unlike Carrie, which made us sympathize with the heroine, this film makes her thoroughly unlikeable, so the inevitable bloodbath is hardly cathartic. A few good scenes and a lot of bad ones make The Housekeeper unlikely to clean up at the boxoffice. (Kabuki) enmeshed in a set of fictional yet entirely plausible relationships with people she really knew. Waiting for the Moon repeats Sunday, July 12, at 9 p.m. on Channel 32.

Not All Parents Are Straight is a moving profile of six families headed by a gay or lesbian parent. Debuting on Channel 9 on the 22nd at 10:30 p.m., the onehour documentary gives the children of these families a chance to speak openly about their adjustment to a parent's homosexuality and the isolation they sometimes feel at school and with their friends. The film challenges the stereotype of lesbians and gays as "unfit" parents by allowing the children to speak candidly about their family lives.

KOED-TV presents an encore broadcast of Chuck Solomon: Coming of Age on the 22nd at 11:30 p.m. The documentary is a moving portrait of the beloved San Francisco director/writer/ actor and co-founder of Theatre Rhinoceros who died Dec. 2, 1986, of AIDS. Chuck Solomon: Coming of Age is repeated Wednesday the 24th at 11:30 p.m. on Channel 9 and Saturday the 28th at 7 p.m. on Channel 32.

The critically acclaimed, Academy Award-winning film The Times of Harvey Milk returns to Channel 9 on Tuesday the 23rd at 9 p.m. Filmmakers Rob Epstein and Richard Schmeichen chronicle the political life of Harvey Milk, San Francisco's first openly gay member of the Board of Supervisors. With interviews, archival film clips, and news reports, the documentary explores Milk's personality and ideology, paralleling them with those of Dan White, his colleague who opposed him politically and eventually assassinated him. The Times of Harvey Milk is repeated on Sunday the 28th at 2:30 p.m.

TWO DOLLARS PLUS TOLL, IF ANY. CALLERS MUST BE 18 OR OVER

when a

.

Sweet Lips

Always Remember And Never Forget

San Francisco Legend Returns: An evening with Flame benefitting PAWS for PWAS and Coming Home Hospice at Kimo's will be held Saturday the 30th from 7:30 on, with showtime at 9 p.m. It costs $3, and the MC's will be Empress XXI Sissy and Czarina Gladys Bumps. Don't miss this worthwhile benefit, where you'll also get to meet the Fabulous Flame in concert, live.

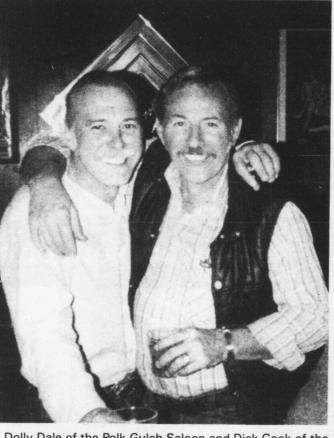

Thank you, Eddie Chan, for the gift of the wonderful candy from London; very thoughtful.

If you missed last Thursday night's introduction of Jack Molinari for mayor at the great Trocadero Transfer (thanks, Dick Collier), you missed a fun event. Jack Molinari, with all of our help, will be the next mayor of San Francisco. Right, Wayne Friday?

Duffy, where have you been lately? You have been missed in the South of Market area, especially in the Wine Country, so come on down and bring Kenny for a Sunday brunch soon. Yes, J mean Kenny Allison of Kokpit fame, Duffy.

Listen, Sophie of the Inner Circle in Chicago, Illinois, you had better not throw out the copies of the Bay Area Reporter I send to you before reading them, or else!

I forgot to welcome home the popular Doug Lamb from P.V. and Long Beach after his fantastic vacation. Understand you even learned to speak the language in Mexico, Doug, but you did get a good color, honey.

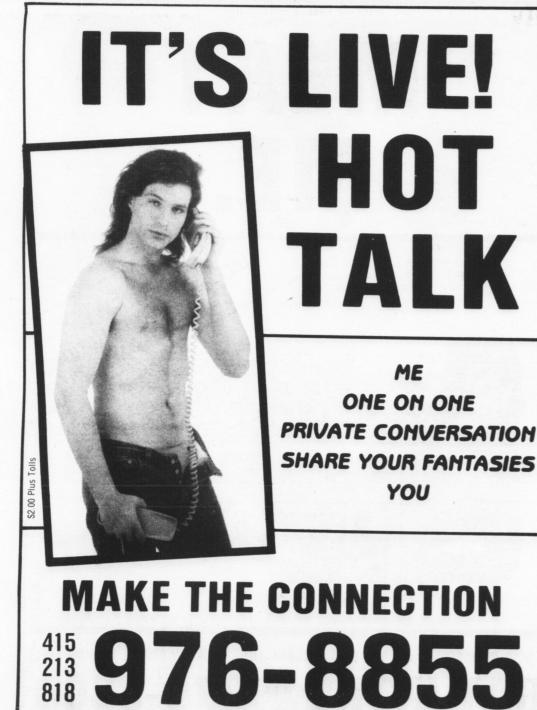

Dolly Dale of the Polk Gulch Saloon and Dick Cook of the Stallion celebrating their ? at Ginger's Too

Don't miss Cabaret at the Golden Gate Theatre with Joel Grev-hot-and of course our own Eric Nissi is a dresser in this show, again, and yes, Empress Shirley does do the same kind of work, but with more men, as usual

Have you been to the Grubstake on Pine Street just next door to the popular Kimo's for a great, juicy hamburger cooked by Jay (Ethyl) Noonan lately? Do try one for lunch or remember they are open 24 hours a day, so drop in anytime.

The S.F.G.D.I. 18-Wheeler Club run is the 19th through 21st, and it should be a blast, so if you're interested contact any S.F.G.D.I. club member, right, Lenny Mollet of the Chez Mollet?

DICK WALTERS

Tommy of the Stallion can be found weekends moonlighting at the Eagle Creek Saloon, that is Friday and Saturday, so drop in and have a drink with him, right, RI?

Benefit: Yes, another at the Motherload Wednesday the 3rd from 7 p.m., and it is a worthwhile one for the AIDS Emergency Fund-artwork, collectables, and toys (?), so don't miss it.

J.J.'s, formerly the Pacific Exchange, is now open for business and has been completely remodeled, so drop by for a libation. Yes, they have piano entertainment nightly.

Surprise Birthday Party: On the 4th from 9 p.m. on, the staff of Kimo's will have a 65th (at last) birthday party for Kimo, so don't miss it, as it should be a lot of fun.

Benefit for S.F. AIDS Foundation: Tammy Fay Bakker lookalike contest Saturday the 6th at 10 p.m. with a $1 donation, with Bill Ward at the piano. This is to take place at Alvin's at 688 Geary, so come and join in the fun, as it should be a blast.

Hope you all had a great Memorial Day and you didn't miss the Mint's Tricycle Race, as I heard it was wonderful. Thank you, Stanley Welcome home to Jim Anderson of the popular White Swallow. Didn't things go really well when you were gone, thanks to your capable staff? Don't forget your date in the Wine Country.

Karl's Calendar

Compiled by Diedre THURSDAY 5/28

Bare Chest Contest, S.F. Eagle, 10 p.m.

FRIDAY 5/29

Beer Bust and Auction. S.F. Eagle, 8-11 p.m., $6 or $5 plus Golden Gate Guards Beer two or more cans of food for AIDS Foundation Food Bank. MC Danny Williams, benefit Our

Place and open living room for people with AIDS/ARC. Leather Fantasies, Trocadero Transfer, 10 p.m., $5 at door with leather, $7 without.

San Diego Coronation XVI, A Military Affair, May 29-31, for info call (619) 284-2618.

SATURDAY 5/30

Bloody Mary Party, Pilsner Inn, 6 a.m.-2 p.m., every Saturday and Sunday, $2.50, hosts Ron and Muff's Morning Movie (La Cage aux Folles), Men's Room, 10:30 a.m., host Mark.

Bike Christening, S.F. Eagle, 2 p.m.

An Evening With Flame, Kimo's, 7:30-11 p.m., $3 donation, showtime 9 p.m., guest entertainment, 50/50 raffle, buffet, MCs Empress Sissy and Czarina Gladys Bumps, benefit PAWS for PWA'S and Coming Home Hos-

Blazing Redhead's Studio Robbed

Thursday, May 14, the Blazing Redheads' South San Francisco rehearsal studio was robbed. The theft is a disaster to this popular San Francisco band. With the loss of nearly all of the Blazing Redheads' musical and sound equipment, the band has been severely crippled

Although the Blazing Redheads will continue to perform their scheduled shows, the band must now rent and/or borrow the needed equipment.

The Blazing Redheads are asking for community support. The Blazing Redheads are planning fundraising events in the near future, dates and locations to be announced

Any inquiries, leads, questions, and/or donations are welcome. Call 339-1667 for more information.

David Ross's Nudes and Portraits

Artist David Ross announces his first one-man show, titled Paintings: Nudes and Portraits. The opening receptions will be held Saturday, May 30, and Sunday, May 31, from 1 to 4 p.m. on both days at 1229 Folsom St.

Ross was the creator of a series of more than 80 erotic murals at the Liberty Baths that took more than $2\frac{1}{2}$ years to complete. More recently he has been involved in a number of group shows and has helped co-found the Gay Men's Sketch Group. This show is his first public showing of erotic paintings. It will include more than 20 works done in acrylic on both canvas and paper. The paintings explore the male nude and the human face in a style that is warm, sensual, and sometimes frankly sexual.

After the opening receptions, the works will be on view until June 20 by appointment only. Call Mark at 621-6294 for information

Grand Opening Toga Party, Atlantis (Guerneville), 9 p.m., featuring Sylvester, host Patrick Toner

SUNDAY 5/31

Fifth Annual Johnson Sister Reunion, Men's Room, 2-6 p.m., pot luck (bring your favorite dish), 50/50 raffle, benefit for Ken Warnack.

Bust, S.F. Eagle 3-6 p.m., $7. First Anniversary Party. Mother Lode, 4 p.m., buffet.

First Anniversary Party Continued, Mother Lode. 9 p.m., amateur contest winners and show.

TUESDAY 6/2

"Love That Drag" Spa-ghetti Feed and Raffle, Kokpit, 8 p.m., $5, show, MC Char, benefit Our Place.

First Anniversary Party Continued, Mother Lode, 9 p.m., underwear contest.

WEDNESDAY 6/3

First Anniversary Party Continued, Mother Lode, 7:30 p.m., AIDS Emergency Fund benefit auction.

Good Old Country Hoedown, Kimo's, 8 p.m., $2 cover, entertainment and hors d'oeuvres, benefit Community 4th of July picnic.

he quality service

since 1974 David the /latch/vlater

BOOKS

First-Rate Entertainment, and More

The Object of My Affection by Stephen McCauley Simon & Schuster, $17.95

by Robert Burke

he cabals of the politically correct are going to have a terrible time with Stephen McCauley's first novel, The Object of My Affection. But while they are wringing their hands and stirring the usual catchphrases into their cauldrons, the rest of us are going to be enjoying one of the most auspicious literary debuts of the year.

Structurally, The Object of My Affection enjoys an absurd plausibility that would be worthy of Wilde or Orton. Our hero, George Mullen, takes up residence in Brooklyn with Nina, a Ph.D. candidate in clinical psychology, after his guilt-ridden guppie lover, Robert, has decided he can only sleep alone and then only after his machine (a truly Orwellian device if ever there was one) which emits "white noise" has been plugged in beside him. Nina, meanwhile, continues her relationship with Howard, a Legal Aid lawyer given to pronouncements like, "If more men would take responsibility for child care, we could balance out the ratio of men and women lawyers in this country" and bumperstickers such as, "I'm a man, I believe in abortion, and I vote!" It's all easy enough, until Nina finds herself pregnant and decides to have the baby - with George. It is then that the complicatons (and much of the fun)

Howard is sweet, but insufferable. George, who considers himself "less than a stellar attraction" in a city where the models almost outnumber the failed actors, is trying, like everyone else in the novel, to make some sense of the meaning of love, friendship, the nature of commitment - in short, the whole stew. As he puts it, when he first arrived in Manhattan and before he met Robert he would occasionally step out "... at places like the baths where social grace and an expensive wardrobe were entirely beside the point, but by the time I got to New York the baths were so closely linked with fatal disease that on the rare occasions I did go, out of loneliness or frustration, I was careful never to do anything with anyone I couldn't have easily done at home by myself - let alone attempt conversation." Yet just as George begins to consider himself in the role of parent, he meets Paul, a one-time radical journalist publishing an advertising weekly in rural Vermont and raising his adopted El Salvadorian son. (Can one get more politically correct?) Love at first sight? Well, as we all know, things are rarely so convenient. And, regardless of whatever else they may be, the relationships in McCauley's world are anything tion would be like trying to describe the perfect woman or man to one's friends and then refusing to introduce them. McCauley has a wonderful gift for the absurd situation, the minor detail (Nina's concern over the political correctness of wearing fingernail polish is an excellent case in point), and the cameo characterization that makes everything about The Object of My Affection a first-rate entertainment. But perhaps most importantly is his empathy and understanding for what might be termed "lowercase" relationships. That is to say that everyone in The Object of My Affection is connected in very real ways with everyone else. Most novels about New Yorkers in the '80s read either like a Judith Krantz Cosmo fantasy or concern themselves (usually in the first person) with "upper-case" Relationships between self-involved. money-grubbing drudges cocooned in the "I" form that has been the fictional fashion for most of the last decade.

So, in closing, if you think you might enjoy something that recognizes both the problems and the humor inherent in this vale of tears we know as life, read The Object of My Affection. And, by all means, enjoy.

To say much more about the details of The Object of My Affec-

(Common) Sense and Sensibility

but convenient.

In the Heat of Passion by Richard Locke

Richard Locke Productions

by Robert Burke

begins.

f awards were being given for rank foolishness, Richard Locke's latest tome, In the Heat of Passion, would win hands down.

Though Locke purports to be advocating his own system of "sensible sex," In the Heat of Passion is merely an exercise in self-aggrandizement. Pity there is so little to aggrandize. In the Heat of Passion is nothing more than a collection of Locke's meandering speculations on everything from Satanic conspiracies in Akron, Ohio (It seems that Akron is the home of Goodyear and Goodrich, who between them manufacture 90% of the world's supply of condoms, but (now pay attention) Ohio has a law on the books that forbids the sale of these items by anyone except pharmacists and physicians, and this law is item number 666 in the penal code which is, according to the Bible, the number used to denote Satanism. Got that?) to whether or not routine circumcisions are, in fact, "the snipping away of an integral part of the mmune system

These priceless pieces of information come with every page. In the Heat of Passion offers its readers everything they could ever possibly want to now on such esoteric items as "ball fucking"

(an activity that puts one in mind of those apocryphal stories of gay men having their way with light bulbs and gerbils) and "handballing" which is, according to Locke, "... as sensible as anal intercourse with condoms." Such nonsense, and such potentially dangerous nonsense, is the hall mark of Richard Locke's In the Heat of Passion. There are those men who will, presumably, become adherents of Locke's "sensible sex" (I suspect that these will be the same men who will follow his dictums on the economical use of Fourex condoms: "Take it off, piss, wash it clean and put it on again, as long as you don't change assholes."), but I don't know of any bookmaker who would want to give odds on their longevity.

Roman á Clunk

A Room in Chelsea Square by Michael Nelson Gay Men's Press, $7.95

by Marv. Shaw

he hallmark of the more sophisticated British fiction and plays from the end of World War I through the diaries of Evelyn Waugh in the '60s was a brittle, glittery surface that didn't quite mask the emptiness of the lives of their characters. The essence of the modern temperament was supposedly demonstrated by the ironic difference between their brilliance and the boredom and uselessness of their lives. Coward, Huxley, and Waugh were masters of the Nelson's novel returns us to that world. Nicholas Milestone is plucked from dreary Rochester by the fabulously wealthy Patrick and plunged into London high life. There, he meets the plump, aging designer/voluptuary Ronnie Gras and the disheveled but talented painter Christopher Lyre. He also renews acquaintance with his nihilistic school friend Michael Henry. These and

More of What?! Tangled Sheets and Other Storie

by Gerard Curry Banned Books, $7.95

by Marv. Shaw

n what might be the most inadvertent and unfortunate statement hawking a book, the publishers say on the cover of Curry's anthology: "This collection of erotic short stories will leave you wanting more." After reading these 12 little tales, one simply asks, "More of-what?!"

An immediate answer would have to be another load of the cliche gay male situations that have been spaded over more than a 50-year old kitchen garden. The stock plots of the gay guys searching vainly for happiness with soul mates are laid out again, with no new insights, no new styles of tell-

Speaking of "laid," these are represented as erotic pieces. That's debatable. Curry edges up to hot sex sometimes, then stops or fast-forwards to the post-sex decline. Maybe he was wary of seeming merely pornographic, but the effect is too much like simple prick teasing. There is nothing in well-done hyper-erotic episodes that could work against other intentions-witness David a few others weave through each other's lives while they toy with the idea of starting a new arts magazine called Eleven. Amoral and sometimes vicious, especially Patrick, they manipulate and are manipulated.

Such tales, as the earlier practitioners realized, could be successful if they were amusing and provocative. Comic situations and dazzling dialogue were essential. Nelson tries hard to get both, but the result is flat. Hardly a smile is educed, let alone an outright laugh.

Originally published anonymously in 1958, Nelson's book is a roman a clef. Patrick is actually British nabob Peter Watson. Gras is Cyril Connolly, and Lyre is Stephen Spender. Nelson himself is Nicholas Milestone, and the magazine is Horizon, which Connolly edited. This derivation must have provided the original interest, a titillation to the British, at least. Now, one wonders, what the interest could possibly be.

Plante's The Catholic.

Another unfortunate effect is sheer confusion. Many of the stories have three or four characters, certainly ok for short fiction, but Curry pops the point of view among them so often that the reader has a tough time knowing who is thinking and feeling what. The loss of unity forestalls any other achievement.

One story does stand out. In 'Big Boy in Tight Blue Jeans," Curry gets into a contemporary situation with some real promise: cute kid trying to make it on looks in the big city and getting caught up in the exploitive porn mill. It is the most extended of the lot, but ironically, it doesn't do enough. Developed into a novella, with more dramatized encounters and more attention paid to the hero's highs and lows. this one could pack a great wallop.

Finally, this is a collection that has no clear, real identity. The erotic element is undernourished, and the more serious intentions are unrealized.

BAY AREA REPORTER SPORTS & FITNESS

Here It Is, Bowlers: My Big Break!

by Richard McPherson

Hey, Mom, look at me! I'm writing a bowling column in a gay newspaper! She would be proud, I'm sure (gag!), since we're a bowling family and all. I'm taking over writing the column for Jerry De Young while he's vacationing in some faraway and, no doubt trying to promote gay bowling leagues. Good luck, Jerry, break a leg! I'll be writing this column for the next two weeks and then in periodic issues, perhaps.

By way of introduction, let me say that my participation in the most popular of indoor sports (?!) stems from childhood and covered 16 years. I then put my balls side for 13 years, only to emerge five months ago as a gay bowler in two Tavern Guild leagues at Park Bowl. Needless to say, my balls had collected a lot of dust. I know the sport, and I know how to score well (believe me!), so I promise you a column filled with

43 17

401/2 191/2

29

301/2 251/2

281/2 311/2

28 32

271/2 321/2

30 26

29 31

29

27 33

23

38 22

361/2 231/

36 24

34 26

34 26

331/2 261/2

30 30

29 31

28 32

27 33

25 35

17 35

7 45

45 15

40 20

39 21

10. Gutter Girls

11. Epic Flyers 12. Mother Nature

13. Bow K

14 Bolo's

15. My Guys

401/2 191/2

23

3214 2714

271/2 321/2

351/2 241/2

39 21

the data you no doubt breathlessly await: who's scoring what, where, and with whom, featured bowlers and high scores, league and tournament results, upcoming tournaments, benefits, etc. By the way, some of you will also know me as one of the "nonwinners" of the Mr. Rawhide competition. ("There are no losers at the Rawhide II.")

I'd like to use this opportunity to get on your good side by acknowledging a handful of bowlers who have done significant work in promoting and developing this, the gayest and safest of individual and team activities in our community.

Randy Peterson certainly should be applauded for his endurance and untiring enthusiasm over the past several years in promoting and assisting in the establishment and growth of gay leagues and tournaments here in the city. One of his projects was assisting in creating and running tional Tournament, a national event which raised thousands of dollars for the S.F. AIDS Foundation and Coming Home Hospice.

Others who are out there working, promoting, supporting, and/ or organizing leagues and tournaments, including the Gay Games, are: Sara Lewenstein, co-director of sports for Gay Games II and spokesperson for gay women bowlers; Mal Garcia. Cable Car Award winner and bowling organizer extraordinaire (and our biggest supporter!); Keith Ray, Velda Gooden, John Games, Pat Conlon, Gayl Chun, and Linda Hladek. Thank you, from all of us who benefit from your efforts.

There are many other people working hard to produce for us. These and others will be mentioned in future columns. I would like to encourage all of you to participate in assisting in league or tournament organization/running. It's definitely an experi-

(Continued on next page)

The Hottes: Erotic Messages With Every Call You want me Then, call me. MONDAY COMMUNITY LEAGUE (Week 30 of 30 - as of 5/4/87) Two Simultaneous 3 Hour Programs on . Rawhide 2. Bowling Bags Two Big Screens - Films Change 3. Play With It, Ltd. 4. CS Low Hangers Sunday and Thursday 5. Do We Care? 6. Damaged Goods BEST Gay Hardcore Erotic Films 7. Pacific Coast Glass 8. After Everyone! D-J Anywhere — Bar None! Safe Sex Is Hot! 9. Foote Plumbing 10. Fore Strikes FIRST RUNS - GRAND PRIX EXCLUSIVES 1. Alvin's 12. El Rio Tartarugas Members do their own live J/O Show 13. The Producers 14. Ron's Hardwoods Every Day in the Circle J Room! 15. Liquid Experience 16. Bow K IRCLA 17. Damaged Goods Too 369 ELLIS ST. 18. Good Time Kegelers 474-6995 J TUESDAY OPEN 11-11 COMMUNITY LEAGUE DAILY (Week 30 of 30 - as of 5/5/87) video ADONIS VIDEO 1. S'rity Girls From Hell 40 20 UPSTAIRS 2. Kimo's Kows 3. Pin Busters 4. Swaying Palm 5. Hopeful Five 6. Ball Busters 7. The 69 Club 8. "Big Bang Theory" 10. Old Crows 11. Lucky Strikes 12. Cheerleaders 13. Easy Marks 14. Hammerjack 15. GAG (Get A Grippers) 16. Lois Lanes 17. Meatballs II 18. Guttertrash 19. The Missing Persons 20. Lounge Lizards NEED WEDNESDAY COMMUNITY LEAGUE (Week 30 of 30 - as of 5/20/87) KNOW ... 1. Not Always Smart 2. Vera's Vinyl 3. Play With It. Ltd. BAY AREA REPORTER SUBSCRIPTION FORM 4. Giraffe 5. Mix-Ups 26 Issues $35.00 1528 15th Street 6. Gingers-Snaps 52 Issues $65.00 San Francisco, CA 94103 7. High Wired DOMESTIC RATES 8. Brand X 9. Hob Nob & Com

Send $3 For Our Catalogue

IMAGE LEATHER

.

2199 MARKET STREET

SAN FRANCISCO, CA 94114

976-7348

BAY AREA REPORTER MAY 28, 1987 PAGE 42

YOU

TO

Name

the annual S.F. No Tap Invita-JAPANTOWN BOWL COMMUNITY LEAGUES

Final Team Standings for Second Half of League

(Week 30 of 30 - as of	(Week 30 of 30 - as of 5/21/87)		Compiled by R. McPhe	rson	•
COMMUNITY LE			16. Gallion	0	8
THURSDAY			15. Hob Nob	0	4
			14. Geri's Girls	1	55
28. White Swallow	0	60 .	13. Stallion	24	36
27. Pockettes	12	48	12. Pendulum People	25	35
26. Lois Laners	181/2	411/2	11. Old Rick's Gold Rm	25	35
25. New Ballers	19	41	10. Twin Peaks	26	34
24. Plus Five	22	38	9. Urasis Dragon	261/2	331/2
23. Ali Katz	231/2	361/2	8. Pndlm Mon Night CL	29	27
22. Starletts	25	35	7. Hunks	29	31
21. "Just Us Gurls"	251/2	341/2	6. Geri's Boys	31	29
20. Male Image	28	32	5. Pendulum	331/2	261/2
19. El Rio Tartarugas I	281/2	311/2	4. Tartans	351/2	241/2
18. E Z Pick Up	29	31	3. Pendulum #1	37	23
17. Kokpit Dynasty	291/2	301/2	2. Tattoos Too	371/2	221/2
16. The Wrappers	291/2	301/2	1. Pilsner Penguins	41	19

Golden Gate Wrestling Club

The Golden Gate Wrestling Club is practicing regularly on Tuesday and Thursday evenings in preparation for a forthcoming tournament. The tournament will be held in Seattle July 4 at Neighbors Disco from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Seven people are slated to compete for the Golden Gate Wrestling Club in the tournament, but the club is weak in the upper weights. Bigger guys are needed to wrestle at 180, 220, and more than 220 pounds. Call 821-2991 for more information.

Members of the Golden Gate Wrestling Club (left to right, back to front) Bill Plummer, 180; Kenny Thornton, 149; Phill Carberry, 163; Mike Long, 163; Gene Dermody, 137; Tim Cech, 137; and Mickey Bailey, 163

POOL

Physique '87 Final Training Seminar

The Heat Is On

by Lauren Ward

Imminent demise will be the fate of four of the 12 playoff teams as the race to the Spring '87 S.F. Pool Association City Championship heats up.

Thirty-two teams were at the gate last February, but only the top three in each division advanced to post-season play following the 14-week regular season. The four division champions sit out this week, awaiting the winners of the four first-round matches. The playoff teams are all seeded according to their regular season win/loss average.

FIRST ROUND CONTENDERS

Bear Thugs at Detour Destroy ers: As the team names dictate, this will be a dramatic contest which is too close to call. The Thugs are playoff veterans who finished fourth last season. The Destroyers fielded a team of runout shooters who have learned much about strategy this season. The winner goes from the frying pan into the fire, represented by the state champion DeLuxe Ducks.

Maud's Squad at White Swallow's Back: The Squad came on strong in late-season matches to edge the Inside Out Rhinos from the last playoff spot. The White Swallow fields an excellent team that's determined to reach the finals. Maud's has a fine accomplishment in being the only all-women team to reach the playoffs, but a victory here would be a major upset. The winner will ace the Traveler's High Life.

DeLuxe Accommodations at Watering Hole Buffaloes: The Accommodations finished third last season, but struggled this time around, edging into postseason competition by a strong finish. The Buffaloes have also struggled and also finished strong, including a 14-2 destruction of the aforementioned Destroyers. The winner goes on to the Division II champion Badlands Badasses.

A Special Breed at Park Bowl Party Lines: Park Bowl's ninefoot tables are formidable for players accustomed to the sevenfoot bar versions. The Party Lines have the additional advantage of having played together through many seasons. Though analysis would favor them, the playoffs have proved more than once that upsets are always a possibility. The Eagle Creek Chaos II awaits the victor.

Congratulations and good luck to all playoff participants. The SFPA Board of Directors wishes to thank all of our Spring '87 players and sponsors for another dramatic season.

Dial JOE-POOL for SFPA information

179-45 0.799

118- 90 0.567

127- 97 0.567

113-111 0.504

100-124 0.446

85-139 0.379

85-139 0.379

72-136 0.346

81-111 0.422

69-119 0.367

56-151 0.271

San Francisco Pool Association Standings

(Week 14 of 14 - as of 5/19/87)

DIVISION I

DIVISIO	NI		DIVISION	ш
Travelers High Life Park Bowl Party Lines Bear Thugs Amelia's #1 Pilsner Emperors Maud's A Special Brood Inside Out of It	148- 76 133- 91 126- 98 113-111 104-120 94-130 92-132 86-138	0.594 0.563 0.504 0.464 0.420 0.411	DeLuxe Ducks Detour Destroyers Wtrng Hole Buffaloes Park Bowl Pockettes Badlands Ballbusters Castro Station Masters Pendulum PHD's Folsom Falcons	179- 118- 127- 113 100- 85- 85- 72-
DIVISION	II		DIVISION	IV

DIVISION II

adlands Badasses	104- 00	0.732
Special Breed	119-105	0.531
laud's Squad	117-107	0.522
nside Out Rinos	109-115	0.487
ilsner Pluggers	104-1220	0.464
melia's Furies	104-120	0.464
ear Bottoms	99-125	0.442
ofia's Choice	80-144	0.357

Bowling

Continued from previous page ence (bowling ability is not a prerequisite).

The summer leagues are well way at Park Bowl, and already the bowling is hot and heavy! In only a few weeks we've seen some great games and series, such as: John Games 268/684, Tom Sipple 677, Roy Thorson 671, Randy Peterson 670, and Larry Kramer with a beautiful 274 game.

Tom Byers had the best overall individual score at Park Bowl for the three Tavern Guild leagues the week of May 12-18 with a 242 and 224 along the way to a 635 series. (You'll pick up a lot of bowling jargon in this column, as soon as I start remembering it-I used to know a lot!) Other 600+ series were posted by Russ Beck (235 high game and 626 series), Angelo Maggio (243/606), and Adrian (so cute in his short pants) Stenson (225/602). High games of 220+ were shot by Roger Spencer (239 Monday night and 225 Wednesday), Thomas Ward (230, a tremendous high over his 141 average!), Bob Mack (224), Tom Sipple (223), Randy Peterson (220), and Doug Litwin (220). At Japantown Bowl the Com-

Eagle Creek Chaos II 150- 58 0.721

White Swallow's Back! 141- 67 0.678

DeLuxe Accomodations 115- 93 0.553

Cstr Sta Commanders 105-103 0.505

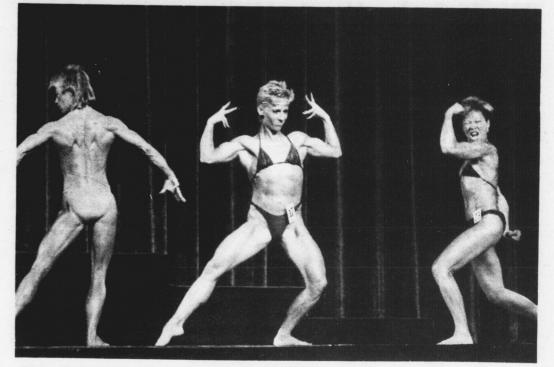

Folsom Bushmen

Sofia's Seconds

Detour 3D's

munity leagues are just finishing up their winter season of play, and the playoffs between first and second-half season winners have just been completed. The league winners will be listed next week. The following are the best of the best individual scratch scores in the Community leagues for the winter season. Monday: Vernon Arriola (632 series), Michael Seibel (250 game), Jeanette Howard with both high game and series for the women (202/525). Tuesday: Harry Strait (638), Peter Abinanti (257), Kathy Hura (598), Georgia Otterson (219). Wednesday: Hunter Bauman (675), Dan Burley (255), Nanci Van (609), Blaine Whitlock (213). Thursday: Hunter Bauman (678, a winning season for Hunter!), Jim Barnes (269), Betty Dougal (469), and Laurie Souza (188).

Next week: Winners of the monthly No Tap tourney at Castle Lanes. Watch forthcoming columns for helpful hints for safe sex on the lanes!

Posing at Gay Games II

Debra Greene, well known San Francisco fitness trainer and consultant, will be featured at the fifth and final training seminar sponsored by Physique '87, to be held at City Athletic Club (above Castro) Sunday, May 31, at 6:30 p.m. Admission is $3. The event is sponsored by the San Francisco Band Foundation.

Greene will conduct a mock contest that will feature the five compulsory poses. Bring your posing outfits and music (90-second tape) if you would like to participate in the mock contest Greene will also discuss the psychology of last-minute dieting; pre-contest jitters; support sysems; and critique both compulsory poses and the free-posing routine. Audience participation is encouraged, but you can come to watch. Everyone is welcome to the seminar.

'We're building off the success we made during Gay Games II.'

-George Birimisa Physique '87 co-chair

The seminars are designed to not only introduce the various aspects of bodybuilding to the

(Photo: E. Ramirez)

gay community, but will also lead up to the first-ever gay bodybuilding championship, coming June 27 at Mission High School

"We're building off the success we made during the recent Gay Games II," said Physique '87 co-chair George Birimisa, himself a participant in the masters class of Gay Games II. "Now more than ever people are interested in health and keeping fit. It's about time there was an annual contest on the national level for both gay men and women.'

Tickets are on sale at City Athletic Club, Women's Training Center, All American Boy, and Headlines. You can also charge through BASS.

BAY AREA REPORTER MAY 28, 1987 PAGE 43 .

SOFTBALL

World Series Needs Volunteers

by Tom Vindeed

It's time to get on board for the 1987 Gay Softball World Series being hosted by the Gay Softball League this September.

Almost all of the groundwork has been completed, and now the woman and manpower is needed to pull it off. We need you as a volunteer.

The recently concluded and

She'll be comin' around the bases when she comes . (Photo: Photo Graphics/Darlene)

highly successful Gay Games II was able to be just that due to the tremendous outpouring of volunteers. What does the World Series need? You may choose from a number of committees.

First, there is the reception committee. People will be need ed to escort arriving teams from SFO to the Cathedral Inn Hotel. Orientation must be given to the 1,000 athletes arriving and the expected 1,000 fans accompany ing them. Sales of t-shirts and souvenirs also takes place at the hospitality suite.

Field decorators for both the men's and women's opening games need volunteers. As you might well imagine, this is always a good-time committee. I must give the talented Gilbert Baker a

How about keeping score? For this you get paid $5 per game.

Concession stands at the fields need volunteers. Here you get to meet everyone. Lord knows we love to eat and drink, and John Pavoni of the Eagle will head this committee.

How about working on the three huge parties being planned? The first night it's at the City Hall rotunda. The second night the party will be at the War Memorial Building's Green Room. Saturday the dance party is planned for One Market Plaza.

And so it goes.

If you are interested in helping out with this international event, please attend the next general committee meeting at the Galleon, 14th and Church, at 7 p.m. Thursday, May 28.

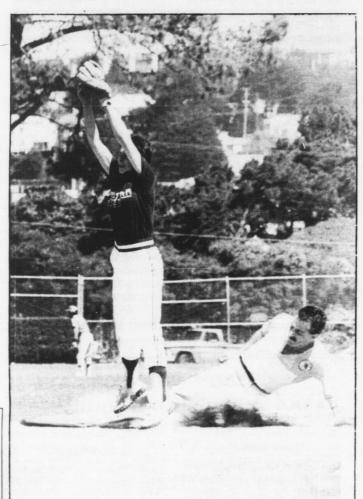

You don't have to be a member of the GSL to volunteer. Believe me, you will have an experience you won't ever forget.

* * * This week all games are at Balboa Park at Ocean and San Jose avenues.

FIELD ONE

9:30 a.m.: Pilsner vs. Cafe Women

Is he safe?

(Photo: Photo Graphics/Darlene)

As Puerzer commented, "Over

June Is Gay Run Month by Rick Thoman charities.

Hawaii?

The San Francisco Front- '87 celebration run in Golden runners have set June as a special Gate Park July 12. The Frontrun-'pledge run' month in an effort ners will distribute the pledge to raise money for various AIDS money to the appropriate charities.

Registration for the running Runners receive a certificate of program closes May 31, but achievement after completing according to organizer Bob their running program and are Puerzer registration forms will be ' eligible to win gold, silver, or accepted for approximately a bronze medals based on the week into the "official running amount of money collected. period," which is June 1-30.

As Puerzer explained, "All in- 100 runners have signed up so terested individuals need to reg- far, and we've got a great repister now. You have to run, but resentation of both men and you don't have to be an experi- women. The June Pledge Run enced distance runner to take doesn't have to be in San Franpart. Once you've registered for cisco. Also, you don't have to do the run, ask everyone you know to your running in San Francisco. sponsor you for each mile you ex- We already have entrants from pect to run during the month of New Jersey, Massachusetts, and June."

Then each time a participant Entry forms and Gay Run '87 runs during the month, they rec- T-shirts are now available at High ord their mileage in a special Gear (19th Street at Castro). For runner's log calendar provided to more information, contact all registrants. At the end of the 552-1406 or 552-3328. The celemonth, sponsors are shown the bratory Gay Run '87 in Golden mileage log and calculate their Gate Park is part of the Gay Runpledged contributions to the run-ner's Weekend that takes place in ner's favorite AIDS charity (mak- July. In addition to the Gay Run ing checks payable to the appro- Sunday (July 12), the S.F. Track & priate AIDS organization). Field Club will host the San Fran-

The runner collects all pledge cisco Relays Saturday (July 11). money and either mails it to the Entry blanks and T-shirts for this San Francisco Frontrunners or event are also available at High brings it to the special Gay Run Gear.

11 a.m.: El Rio vs. Metro

12:30 p.m.: Superstar vs. Phone Booth

2 p.m.: Phone Booth vs. Eagle 3:30 p.m.: Kokpit vs. Rawhide

FIELD TWO

9:30 a.m.: Hunks vs. Amelia's 11 a.m.: Stallion vs. Pendulum 12:30 p.m.: End-Up vs. Ginger's

2 p.m.: Bear vs. Village 3:30 p.m.: Rainbow vs. Cafe

BEST PO SMALL TH 544 Polk n

$85 (415 2 bl

BAY AREA REPORTER MAY 28, 1987 PAGE 44

GAV-TELE-DATE

WhoWhatWhenWhereWhyWhoWhatWhenWhereWhyWhoWhatWhenWhere

Skunk Train and Mendocino Coast With FOG

A perfect weekend to get away from the hectic city to the unspoiled beauty and quiet of Mendocino will be offered by the Fraternal Order of Gays June 6-8. We will see the beautiful and rugged Mendocino Coast, with its magnificent vistas. A visit to Hendy Woods State Park will delight us with some of the best groves of redwoods of any of the parks in the area. We'll have time to enjoy the forest, which is relatively untouched and ideal for wandering and a close-up look at the trees. Next, a visit to the Stone Painting Museum in Fort Bragg will show us works made totally from stone, petrified wood, and semiprecious gems.

On the second day of our trip we will take our exciting Skunk Train ride. We'll travel a scenic 40-mile route from Fort Bragg to Willits along the Noyo River and pass through impressive groves of redwoods. The scenery is truly spectacular. We'll have time to have lunch and browse in Willits before our return trip.

The next morning we will visit the famous Mendocino Coast Botanical Gardens. It encompasses 47 acres of lush woods, meadows, gardens, plants, and coastal wildflowers. Well-marked paths lead from a coffeehouse through the gardens, Fern Canyon, and native forests to splendid ocean bluffs. Heading south along the coast we will stop in the charming town of Mendocino. Settled in the 19th century by New Englanders, the town has retained much of its original flavor. Mendocino has a large community of artists whose work can be around before boarding our bus for the return trip home. We should arrive back in San Francisco by 5 p.m.

Two nights accommodations will be at the Seabird Quality Inn in quaint Fort Bragg. It has a restaurant, indoor pool, and hot tub.

Price includes transportation via motorcoach, two nights accommodations, round trip Skunk Train, admission to Stone Painting Museum and Mendocino Botanical Gardens.

Member: $145; Non-Member: $155; Single Supplement: $30. For reservations contact FOG, 304 Gold Mine Dr., SF, CA 94131, 641-0999.

Gay Mormons to Gather

More than 500 people are expected to gather in Salt Lake City Sept. 25-27 for the annual national conference of Affirmation -Gay & Lesbian Mormons. Despite the concentration of Mormons in Utah, this will be the first time the annual event will be held there.

"We're seeing a more tolerant attitude from many church members and even some local leaders," said conference co-chair Russ Lane. "Of course having the conference in Salt Lake will enable more people to attend."

The conference theme "Our 10th Year-A Gay Mormon Reunion" will feature dynamic speakers, workshops on a variety of gay-related themes, and reunions of B.Y.U., University of Utah, and Ricks College alumni as well as a number of LDS missions. In addition, specific women's issues will be addressed seen in local shops. We'll have at a special caucus to be chaired time to have lunch and to look by Ina Mae Murri, past general coordinator of Affirmation

> "In a larger sense, we want this to be a reunion for everyone who is Mormon and gay, who has been Mormon or has been involved with Affirmation regardless of their religious faith," said Lane.

Guest speakers will include an active LDS psychiatrist who will present evidence of the biological and genetic factors of homosexuality. Delivering the opening address will be James Sandmire, a founder of Affirmation and current a member of the Board of Elders of the Metropolitan Community Church. Sandmire will relate incidents and events that lead to the founding of Affirmation and how gays have struggled to be heard by the church.

Keynoting the conference will be the Reverend Sylvia Pennington, a former anti-gay activist and now popular speaker among gay audiences. The Reverend Pennington, a heterosexual, will speak on biblical scriptures and homosexuality as well as some of her fascinating experiences. Having authored two excellent books on the subject, her presentation is bound to be enlightening.

Other events at the conference to be held at the Salt Lake Sheraton include an opening reception, leadership seminar, awards banquet, dance, entertainment, and closing devotional Sunday morning.

Those interested in receiving a conference brochure or further information should send a selfaddressed, stamped envelope or international postage coupon to Affirmation Conference, Box 1152, Salt Lake City, UT 84110 or call (801) 531-6830. All inquiries will be held in strict confidence.

A Cruise To Remember

In February, RSVP will repeat A Cruise To Remember aboard the New SS Bermuda Star.

RSVP has chartered the New Bermuda Star for Feb. 10-27. Berthed in the historic heart of New Orleans, the Bermuda Star invites passengers to start their grand week in the world-renowned French Quarter, with tantalizing Cajun and Creole restaurants, colorful shops, and the sounds of Dixieland jazz. The first stop is the lush tropical island of Key West. Known for its amiability and acceptance, this island paradise offers unique architecture, breathking gardens, and unhurried streets full of special shops, restaurants, and galleries. Playa del Carmen on Mexico's Yucatan peninsula is the next stop with an optional tour to the Mayan ruin of Tulum. The ship then sails to the island of Cozumel.

The beautiful SS Dolphin will be our home for the week of March 18-25, sailing from Miami to Ochos Rios, Jamaica and Nassau. This luxurious week will also include a day at a private sland.

There are a lot of reasons why RSVP cruises are so special, but probably the best reason to consider is the great feeling you get just being a part of a community of caring and beautiful men.

Once again, RSVP offers an exciting new dimension in vacation travel for men. Unique travel events where every detailcuisine, entertainment, accommodations, activities-has been designed to make RSVP travel events the ultimate travel experience for men. Call (800) 328-RSVP for more information.

Adriatic Adventure

A 20-day tour of Southern Italy and the Dalmatian Coast of Yugoslavia will comprise the Adriatic Adventure with the Fraternal Order of Gays, Sept. 17-Oct. 6. In Italy there will be plenty of time to become acquainted with historic and beautiful Rome, where you'll spend five nights. Then its on to Naples, where sightseeing will include the enchanting Island of Capri and the fabulous ruins of Pompei. Further south is Cosenza in Calabria, and Enna high up in the mountainous center of Sicily. Also, you will get to know facinating, multi-cultured Palermo.

A delightful train ride will take you from Rome to Pescara, and from there you take an overnight ferry across the Adriatic to Yugoslavia. Sightseeing in Yugoslavia will include the lovely city of Split, the charming and beautiful city of Dubrovnik, known as the "Pearl of the Adriatic." You will travel through picturesque valleys and see the magnificent Dalmatian coast. Further inland you will enjoy spectacular mounainous scenery when you visit Mostar with its Turkish mosques and architecture, and historic Serajevo.

Included in the tour price is the transatlantic flight on Alitalia, flight Dubrovnik-Rome, first class train and ferry, deluxe motorcoach, first class or superior tourist hotels, sightseeing, transfers, and porterage, breakfasts throughout, and a gay tour escort.

Members tour price is $2,445, non-members add $55. For reservations and a detailed itinerary contact: FOG, 304 Gold Mine Drive, San Francisco, CA 94131, 641-0999.

COMMUNITY RENTALS • Over 1300 Apts, flats & houses each month.	CASTRO LUXURY FLAT 2+ bdrm, fireplace, garage, cen- tral heat, yard, all new ap- pliances, laundry room, dish	Bunkhouse Apts. Office: 419 Ivy Street San Francisco	THEATRE DISTRICT WINTON HOTEL 445 O'Farrell 885-1988 520 per night $75 per week	All the dish at's fit to print.
 Vacancies in all city areas 2 convenient offices. Open 7 days a week. Gay owned/Gay staffed. 	washer. Just remodeled. New wood shutters. 16th & Sanchez, $1,200 a month. Call Mike 864-2295 E22 $850 lg. 2 bdrm flat Oak/	MonFri. 1-6 PM Or By Appointment Commercial Space Available for Retail	DONNELLY HOTEL Clean - Quiet Central to Polk, Folsom, Castro Areas $75 wk. & up	a week — $20 a night for Gays since 1970 24 Hr. desk ATIONAL HOTEL
552-9595	Octavia, hdwd fl, new W/W carpet, new paint, high ceilings, storage. 626-4958. Leave night time number. E22	Studio, 419 Ivy # 8 $500 Studio, 419 Ivy #16 $550 Studio, 419 Ivy #30 $550 1 bd Flat, 458 Ivy $600 Lg. Flat, 633 Hayes $750 Stove, refrigerator, carpets and curtains included. First and last months rent	1272 Market Street 552-3373	Market St. 864-9343
890 FOLSOM Parties, Meetings, Workshops, & Rehearsals.	Lg. 2+rm. Studio, Refin. Hdwd, Nu Dec., Sunny, Lndry, Gar, cat ok, 14 nr. Mkt. $495. 863-4624. E23		CIVIC CENTER HOTEL $70/wk & up — $20/day & up 24 hr Desk Switchboard Great Transportation 20-12th St. (nr. Market & Van Ness)	THE SHIRLEY olk nr. Sacramento 928-3353 ROM $75 PER WEEK
543-3470	Castro Furnished Rooms, Remod. $125-$135/wk. 626-4517. E33		861-2373	WEEKLY
Superior Accommodations in an Immaculate European Style Hote Conveniently Located near The Civic Cente $19.50 per nigh	$975 3Bdrm Duboce Triangle on Muni 621-1769 after 6pm ev. Wkend anytime E23	required. No deposits. Must be employed.	$500 — LARGE SUNNY STUDIO & KITCHEN NOOK	CIENDA HOTEL 80 O'Farrell St. Newly Decorated
GOLDEN CITY INN	Civic Ctr. Studio gay managed x-tend dep 450 to 490+dep. 441-5753 E23	863-6262	View. Hdwd. Flrs., Cable, Transp. 600 Fell St., San Francisco (415) 626-2041	ge, clean, sunny rooms vith and without bath $20 + up Daily
1554 Howard St. Between 11th & 12th 431-9376	$475 two room studio, new paint & flooring, available June 1st, Fell & Laguna, Call Jerry 864-6435 E23	I Leland	7 Hote	85 + up Weekly 15) 928-3450 Polocks from the Hilton plocks from Union Square
News — Opinion Entertainment	Spacious 2bdrm flt, 2 bath, pet ok, gar, firpl, ev 7-9, 282-3440 E22	со, СА 94109 41-5141	SAN FRANCISC
All in	2 bdrm 2 ba lux condo Oak nr lake $850 sec 534-4882 E22	III GREAT RATES!!		DAILY • WEEKLY • MONTHLY
Bay Area Reporter.	$1250 mo. + deposit 631 25th Ave., S.F 3 bd, 2 ba. Open Sat.,	— maid service — 24 hour desh		$70 & Up Weekly (415) 863-6388

BAY AREA REPORTER MAY 28, 1987 PAGE 46

BAY AREA REPORTER MAY 28, 1987 PAGE 47

-

TWENTY-FOUR HOUR Live Action Network

HOUSANDS OF REAL MEN from all over the country are on our uninhibited conference lines 24 hours every day and you can...

- SHARE HOT TALK
- LISTEN TO THE ACTION
- EXCHANGE NUMBERS
- MAKE DATES
- MAKE NEW FRIENDS

The man of your fantasies may be just a call away!

- LIVE NO ACTORS
- NO RECORDINGS
- NO CREDIT CARDS
- YOUR ANONYMITY GUARANTEED!

$2 plus toll if any discreetly billed to your phone. 18 and over only.

San Francisco 415 Los Angeles 213 San Diego 619 976-85000

11

VOL. XVII NO. 23 JUNE 4, 1987

David Robinson takes a few hours from his vacation to add his colorful and loud voice to Citizens For Medical Justice's protest against the slowness of the U.S. government to act against AIDS. Story on page 13. (Photo: James Dusch)

64 Arrested In White House Sit-In

Reagan Calls For Testing; Health Officers Rap Plan

by Charles Linebarger

Hundreds of gay activists demonstrated outside the White House on Monday, June 1, with 64 of the protesters being ar-rested for blocking traffic on Pennsylvania Ave. Those arrested included many of the national leaders in the gay and lesbian movement and in the fight against the AIDS epidemic. The incident was the second major protest in Washington over the weekend. On Sunday, May 31, hundreds of candlelight marchers stood outside the AmFAR fundraising dinner while Pres. Ronald Reagan spoke to those inside, calling for man datory AIDS testing.

Said Jean O'Leary, of National Gay Rights Advocates, "It was a very successful and wonderful demonstration. We put a huge flower wreath in front of the White House with a sign that said '20,000 dead.' Then the 64 people who were going to be arrested jumped over the cement barrier to the street and we sat down on Pennsylvania Ave."

Almost the entire San Francisco contingent to the national demonstraton was arrested, including Tim Wolfred, director of the S.F. AIDS Foundation, Paul Boneberg, of Mobilization Against AIDS, and activists Ralph Payne and Leonard Matlovich

"This is a watershed for national AIDS activists," said

Dr. Mervyn Silverman (Photo: Rink)

Boneberg. "What Selma, Alabama was to the civil rights movement this is to AIDS activists. I think there will be escalating civil disobedience until the government moves on this."

Coming Out: Rep. Barney Frank (D-MA) has finally told the worst kept secret in Washington. See page 15.

Se. II yu the Memorial Day Great Tricycle Race, catch our wrap-up photos on page Overnight Success: Feminist comedy duo Kathy Najimy and Mo Gaffney bring a sharpness to their satire by portraying authentic characters out of Americana. Joy Schulenberg talked to the performers, page 26.

Exclusion: Holocaust survivor and lesbian activist Irena Klepfisz knows prejudice and tells her story to Gerard Koskovich, page 21.

by Ed Power

The embattled Catholic Archdiocese of San Francisco, already faced with the possibility of hostile protests during Pope John Paul II's upcoming visit, founds its policies under attack on another front last week. John Buxton, a gay man, filed a $5 million lawsuit against the Archdiocese, charging it with libel, slander, invasion of privacy and infliction of emotional distress.

Attorney Paul Wotman and John Buxton: They're hopping (Continued on page 17) mad at the Catholic Archdiocese. (Photo: Steve Savage)

UNIT Old Girl, New Dress

The Stud Closes on Folsom; To Re-Open Twice as Big

by Allen White

The Stud closed its Folsom Street doors last Saturday night as it prepares to move to a new location at 9th and Harrison. The last night at the Stud was the end of an era for the club, which opened at the location 21 years ago in June 1966.

More than 2,000 people jammed the bar during the final hours Saturday night. Charles Triano, the crowd controller and official bouncer, described the evening as "exhausting." Before 10 p.m. more than 1,000 had entered the bar. Some left, most stayed, and the crowds kept coming for the rest of the night.

Ken Maley, local publicist, when The Stud first opened. commented that the night was "an ending that befitted a legend." The amazing diversity of The Stud crowd was out in force for the final night.

Mark Kinney, in his striking blond hair and black leather, said, "It was like the good old days." Mark was five years old

Reba Parker arrived in a matching gold and silver drag outfit complemented with black lace stockings. Parker called the evening "sad" as she dashed from a cab.

Outside, the bar was decorated in fine fashion for the final eve-(Continued on page 22)

The Stud. (Photo: Rink)

⁽Continued on page 1-