HEIL! SEIG HEIL!

In May of 1938 (According to a story in The Berliner Zeitung) one sergeant of the SS went into a Jewish restaurant located in the Alhambra section of Berlin. He arrived in a car plainly marked SS and was complete with the german version of the 'paddy wagon'.

Up to this time, the Jews of Berlin had been harassed, and several of the leading Jews of the Community had been arrested, 'tried', and never been heard from.

The Sergeant (let us call him by a name like Schmidt), told the owner of this establishment: "I don't like you people! I don't want you in my territory! On Sunday, I want every employee here so I can take a good look at them! With this he goose-stepped out and glared at the people who had collected on the sidewalk, people who in past years had been customers and, in many cases friends, of the proprietors but who now knew that he was a marked man.

On May 18 of 1962, a sergeant of the San Francisco Police Department went into a place in that city. He arrived on the scene with a 'paddy wagon' and a marked car. He strutted into the establishment, and announced: "On Sunday, I want everybody that is employed here to be here at 1 o'clock so I can take a good look at them. I don't like you people!"

On Sunday at 1 o'clock all the employees were there in accordance with the dictum of the Sergeant. The Sergeant, let us call him Smith, told them: "I have been on this beat for 20 years and now you people move into my territory and I won't have it. With this expression of democracy, he went behind the bar as if looking for the treasure of 'Emperor Norton'. "I am going to lay the law down to you. I am going to keep an eye on this place and if I can find a reason I am going to come in here and clean this place out. I am not only going to take any body who works here to jail, but I am going to take every (with this the 'good' sergeant resorted to language that has been most associated with Henry Miller and is not printable). With these few well chosen words of warning, the sergeant strutted out of the establishment, sure in his conviction that he had upheld the law of the land. [Your Editor hopes that he is in the establishment when the Sergeant ever decides to take all the customers to jail]

In June of 1941 a patrol of SS operating in the Kurfurstendam Area of Berlin arrested two suspected non germanic types for being on the street without a 'work card'.

In May of 1962 a patrol of SSquad in San Francisco arrested a man for being on the streets without 'proper' identification.

In February of 1940, a Gestapo agent was commended for his ability to spot a Jew by the way they talked, motioned with their hands, and congregated, had been assigned to a spot near the Titania Theater in Berlin. He was able, as an undercover agent for the Berlin Police. His particular delight was to order anyone off the streets and they always left for fear of being taken into Gestapo Headquarters on a trumped up charge.

In the City of San Francisco on a particular day in March 1962 a SSquad evidently chosen for the ability to spot minority groups was stationed in the Polk-Van Ness Area. They particularly disliked Negroes. One night very close to the Jack Tar Hotel they spotted one of their particular dislikes, a negro non-conformist. Stopping their unmarked car one of them bounded out as if he had a hot lead on the capture of Al Capone. Without showing his badge he demanded of the person that he show his identification. The negro did so without question. When the SS was satisfied that the person was not wanted for any crime, and in fact had no police record of any sort the SSman told him to: "Get your— off the streets. We don't like you —. If there is anything I hate its a — and a negro (he did not exactly say Negro) to boot.

These are only three of the many instances reported to the League. In their own right they are serious. Not serious enough perhaps to make a big issue before a Grand Jury or the Federal District Attorney but very definitely enough to cause a sane person wonder what happened to freedom in San Francisco.

What can be done? Evidently nothing. The Chief of Police is sold on his SSquad. He is not responsive to public opinion. He evidently does not care what his underlings do so long as there is no scandal.

In the meantime there are those in San Francisco who will bow down to a dictatorship of the Police. Many ask us: "What does he want us to do?"

There are those who will "Heil, Seig Heil", they want to know "Who do we Heil"?

FREEDOM & POWER!

To say that we have a government that is of, by and for the people has so many ramifications that it is impossible to compress the meaning into mere words.

We have our basic constitution, the constitutions of the States and the most important, court decisions that take up individual cases that developed under the statutes enacted, using the Constitution of the United States as a guide.

It was never the intention of the Constitution Convention to outline the complete code of law for the governing of the United States.

Our country is not perfect. It's imperfections are not the fault of the outline of government but the lack of interest of the governed. If the only expression of feeling that an elected official has comes from a powerful lobby such as the police departments maintain in Sacramento or from those who expect to gain financially from legislation then we will always have an irresponsible government. When the people interest themselves in governmental functions, we will have a good government. When a politician is allowed to buy votes thru the use of public funds then we always see a failing government.

When the federal government, in its many functions, enacts laws that favor a few, over the interests of many, it ceases to be responsive, unless the many by mandate have demanded that the minority be favored. A case in point might well be the proposed legislation that will provide care for the aged. Without going into arguments as to whether or not a program of this type is desirable, it is possible that this care should be provided if the people of the United States give the proponents of this legislation the necessary stimulus to get them to pass this measure. That it provides for some at the expense of many goes without saying. Now if such legislation under an informed electorate is proposed and the people do not favor such legislation they can tell their elected representative to vote 'NO'. If however, only the aged write their legislators, then it is certain it will become law.

Under the guarantees of our Constitution as opposed to the Dictator States this is the way it works:

US: Press, radio, and discussion meetings can air a variety of opinions. The two basic restrictions imposed are that no person can say anything that is provable untrue and that no one can advocate the violent overthrow of the government.

Dictatorship: Every media of expression is controlled by a central force. There are movements today in this country that would limit the right of the freedom of speech. It is said that 'He should not be allowed to speak because he is a communist or a Bircher, or a mugwump or a almost anything'. If however, one person is denied the right to speak, it will not be long before others will attempt to censor the first radical.

Probably the first line of defense against dictatorship in this country is found in these words taken from the Constitution: "No person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law". In this, however, there is a weakness. This weakness is used by harassment specialists all over the country. No person can be deprived of such rights as trial by jury, bail, representation by legal counsel, etc., but some of our law enforcement officers know of the cost of these things, and with this knowledge as a weapon will act as Artibers of Morals. Anything that does not meet with their approval can not exist. Therefore, if there is no law covering a particular act they make an arrest for 'drunk' even tho a person might be a 'tee-totaler'.

But to bring the Constitution's meaning down to life in San Francisco, here are a few incidents that are common knowledge that could have been cause for action against the officers of the San Francisco Police:

1. One Halloween, an officer held several hundred persons in restraint, without arrest, for over an hour. This is illegal. The persons so detained could have placed charges with the US District Attorney for in fact he did: Deprive persons of liberty without due process of law.

2. Times without number arrogant officers of the Department have ordered persons off the streets with language that would have made some judges blush.

IN APOLOGY

In Issue #17 it was stated: "There have been cases of payoffs and suspected whitewash by the Chief" This should have read: "There have been cases of payoffs and there have been cases of suspected whitewash".

The News has not questioned the personal honesty of the Chief of Police. Whatever else might be said about this man, we do not think that his personal honesty is to be questioned.

This apology is made without any pressure of any sort being brought to bear. It is possible that no one has even noticed the grammatical construction that might lead to an erroneous conclusion. We will not hesitate to call attention to dishonesty when we find it, but do not want to be guilty of irresponsible name calling.

3. Thru harassment one officer, apparently with the blessing of the chief, harassed a whole group of persons out of San Francisco. Beatniks yes, but citizens.

4. Persons have been held incommunicado for over 48 hours on a penny ante misdemeanor. Wandering without a identification.

This list could be made so long that it would cover Market Street all the way from Civic Center to the Embarcadero.

The weakness in the due process of law clause is apparent again when we consider all the above. Everyone in this city has these rights, but to gain them sometimes costs a fortune, coupled with the fact that we have a group of officials who are always in the political ring running for some office or the other without paying a heck of a lot of attention to the office that they now occupy. When we have papers that will not print the truth; when we have a complacent and uninterested citizenry; when any one who dares to speak out automatically comes under the surveillance of the Police, then 'due process of law' is a mockery.

The League for Civil Education has never been subjected to any type of harassment, or pressures from any source whatsoever. We have taken great pains to see that everything we do is legal.

If anyone attempts to bring undue pressure on the League you will read of it in this paper.

Regardless of the weaknesses of our Constitution, and the persons who are charged with the protection of all who are citizens, it is well to bear in mind that anyone who wishes to leave it may do so. Altho imperfect, our system of government is superior to any other yet devised by man.

It is our responsibility to make it better by our active participation in it's affairs.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

A special meeting of the members of the League for Civil Education will be held on the 25th of June. This will be a meeting held for the purpose of conducting business. Only members in good standing will be sent an invitation and no one will be admitted without invitation.

The purpose of the meeting will be to re-set the date for the annual meeting of the membership.

Immediately upon convening the special meeting a motion will be made to change the meeting date for the regular meeting from 30 June to 25th June 1962. If this motion is carried, the special meeting will be adjourned and the President will call to order the regular meeting of the membership of the League.

[The effect of this motion will be to eliminate the regular meeting on the worst possible date of the summer]

When and if the regular meeting is called to order and after the reading of the various reports the following motions will be offered in addition to any others placed on the floor:

1. A motion to set the regular meeting of the Membership on the Monday before the 24th of April.

[The effect of this motion will be to remove the regular meeting from the summer holiday and vacation period. The 24th of April being the birthday of the League]

2. A motion will be offered to clarify the payment of dues and to state that the annual membership is to consist of one calendar year.

3. A motion will be made to set the number of directors at 15 or any lesser number the Board of Directors may choose, providing however that the Membership at their regular meeting shall elect up to 15.

4. A motion will be offered to change the quorum from 30 to 10 members for any membership meeting. No change is to be made in the notification requirement.

[The effect of this motion will be to give the organization greater flexibility in case there are circumstances that make attendance at such a meeting impossible]

The next order of business will be the election of members to the Board of Directors. All members of the LCE in good standing are eligible to become directors. Any member who might want to serve on the Board should notify the League, in writing of his desires. The Board should be made of persons of all walks of life and must represent a cross section of the community.

The Board wishes to apologize to many of the League's well-wishers for the exclusion of everyone except the members in good standing from this meeting.

The League will accept dues from any persons until the 13th of June and will issue invitations to any who join before that time. This is by a restriction placed by the by-laws on minimum time for notification of a special meeting.

ANTIQUATED LAWS On August 4, 1960 a man with a police record as long as your arm released from Soledad. On May 23, 1962 he was arrested for child molesting in San Francisco. In 1938 he was arrested for child molesting and was sent to Preston State Reformatory for 15 months. Within six months of his release, he again was in hot water for the same offense and the Superior Court of San Francisco sent him to San Francisco General Hospital for psychiatric examination and he was pronounced sane in December 1940 he was sent to San Quentin for child molesting on a term for from 1 year to life. In 1947 he was released after serving 7 years. Thirty days later he was back in custody for the same offense. He was sent to San Quentin on May of 1949 as a parole violator and with a new one year to life sentence as a child molester. On August 4, 1960 he was paroled. But then comes the efficiency of our police system. The State Bureau of Criminal Identification failed to notify the San Francisco Police that the man was released, that is they did not formally notify the PD. Notification was sent however. The man told his parole officer that he had registered as a sex offender when in fact he had not done so. However he did report to his parole officer regularly. The San Francisco Police Department had the time and the personnel to arrest about 60,000 drunks during the time this man was active again in child molesting but did not have time to check into his activities. Judges in San Francisco have given sentences for misdemeanors that have no serious connotations that are more severe in comparison than this very, very sick man has been serving. The parole departments of the various penal institutions refuse parole to a bad check artists, yet let men sentenced such as this to go free.

In the minds of many persons, any judge sitting in court who shows hesitation in giving this man complete mental care should be replaced. Any parole board who allows child molesters to get back on the streets with a record such as this should be itself, treated for mental illness. SHORT SHORT In the near future your favorite newspaper, The LCE News will be put on wire racks in most of the better spots in town. There will be a coin box where dimes may be deposited. The names of the persons who would not testify in the case spoken of in the last issue of the paper will not be published. The District Attorney thought so little of his case that he reduced the charge from Lewd Act to Disturbing the Peace. This shows in no uncertain terms that regardless of what one might be charged, it is better as every attorney says: Plead Not Guilty, Jury Trial.

JOIN THE L.C.E. A Reader Writes Gentlemen: Let me take this opportunity to thank you for your efforts in behalf of one of the least understood, and most maligned segments of our society today. 'Variance' has been prevalent as a 'facet' of mankind throughout history. Only in the past few decades however, has it become the study of open critical analysis. The need today is for even greater objectivity in approaching this subject. The trend of society today is to uplift the dignity of the individual man. This, I feel, behooves us to consider how we as individuals and as a group can best contribute our efforts toward this goal. Without question, the variants in this country comprise the most dis-organized faction in our social structure today. Primarily this is probably due to the elemental danger of identification with an unpopular cause. Our laws, many of which have been handed down from the ancient Hebraic Codes, are outdated and do not fit the pattern of the needs of contemporary civilization. An entire re-appraisal is long-overdue, and the is by a united effort on the part of everyone concerned. As we watch our lawmakers in action we can see the trend towards the antiseptic, sterile society to which the average person, being somewhat amoral, cannot adhere. These laws then become a strangulating force because of their lack of realism. It is not necessary to create laws which condone or promote 'variance', but rather to revise present laws which only promote extortion and graft. The rights of the people in the sanctity of privacy must not be violated. By the same token, a great responsibility rests upon the shoulders of the variants to conduct themselves in a manner which does not bring discredit upon himself or his people. Duality, that is the existence of the socially-oriented side of a persons pattern and the undertone, or variant phase of a persons pattern, should not be considered a carte blanche toward a Jekyll and Hyde manner of living. Every action should be such that they can hold their head high with pride. There are many problems to be surmounted and they will not just go away of their own accord. Personally, I think that the work that you are doing is a great step in facing these problems. Let me take this opportunity to forward my check for membership in your organization and offer my services in any way that they may be of benefit. KB-San Francisco

EDDIE'S 90 A new night eatery has emerged in San Francisco due to the abundance of laws in the distribution of Alcohol for Drinking. Probably only the Internal Revenue Service has more laws rules, regulations, reminders, dictums etc than does our own ABC. Eddie seems to have run afoul of more of them accidentally than most people do on purpose in his short period of operation. First, one day last week a couple of sweater-clad agents of the ABC showed up and lifted the permit to operate, which is issued with a license is being transferred. This was because the former owners name was not legible on the instrument of transfer. With unerring accuracy the agents did not show up at what we think of as business hours, but did wait until 10 PM when Eddie had a good house. Thru the night hours, the holder of the permit and transfer got a new signature on the instrument of transfer and met a law enforcement officer at the Ferry Building. This officer must remain nameless but deserves the Award of Merit for his attention to a unrewarding detail of his job. While the license was in this sort of limbo, Eddie did a thriving business selling soft drinks and Calso to the credit of his customers. Then later on in the same two-week period the permit was again lifted. This time at the direction of the former owner who had decided that he did not want to sell the license altho he had signed a sales contract to do so. This exasperated Eddie and it is believed that he told all parties involved exactly what they could do with the license, what he said is not printable.

The Pointed Question

This is to be a continuing column in the News. If you have a question that you would like to have answered by a public official or by a qualified professional man, address your question to the LCE News, The Pointed Question.

We will direct the question to the particular profession or official and will publish their answer. If an official declines or refuses to answer the question, his name and the question will be published anyhow.

The name of the person asking the question will, of course, be confidential.

TODAY'S POINTED QUESTION asked by The Senator of Ben Davis, Attorney: Most of the time, before an officer makes an arrest, he shows his badge and says 'come outside'. The question is do I have to go with him and why does he want me to come outside instead of making the arrest in the place of business?

The Pointed Question this week is directed to Ben Davis, an attorney at 1095 Market.

"As a point of law, a person is under arrest when he submits to the custody of an officer of the law. So after an officer has identified himself and asked you to do something, you must obey. That is, if an officer asks you to come outside, you are under arrest. It is not necessary that he formally say 'You are under arrest'. However, if an officer asks someone to do something, he must make it known that he is an officer of the law. You have a right to ask under what authority he is arresting you of course. You have the right to ask someone to come outside and witness for you as to the proceedings while you are in public. The only time a officer can make an arrest without a warrant is when he has reasonable cause to believe that a public offense has been committed in his presence.

It is an 'old wives tale' that an officer cannot make an arrest in a bar.

There are several reasons why some officers want the accused to come out of the place of business. One might be so that he will have no witnesses to anything and the other might be because the owner of the business may make a big objection to the arrest. It must be borne in mind that the sidewalk is no place for a public forum as to the guilt or innocence of the person. The place for that is in the Courts. If a person comes outside to witness the proceedings, he must stay out of the way and in no manner interfere with the processes of the law. He should use extreme care to see that he in no way interferes with the law. If he is ordered to leave, he must do so, making note of the officer who asked him to leave.

It is the duty of the officers to preserve peace, not cause disturbances. It is the duty of the individuals to submit to authority and then to take their grievances to Court. Some officers might be overly enthusiastic and make unnecessary arrests, many for drunkenness. When this is done, the person arrested should ask for a sobriety test. If refused, he should, when a bail bondsman comes by or whoever might go to get him out, make sure to ask the person to note his condition, and finally, if possible note to them in front of witnesses that he has asked for a sobriety test. He should note the badge number of the arresting officer if at all possible.

Now should someone be harassed on the street, by abusive language, unnecessary detention, etc., they have cause to take the officers to court. That is, to take the officer in question into small claims Court and to bring suit against the officer for the use of "Abusive Processes". Such a case is heard on the basis of a person being subjected to abuse by officials.

In the cases of persons being severely harassed for not having proper identification without being smart aleck they may tell the officers to call me, I will identify them.

ROVING REPORT

Well, let's see what happened in San Francisco and what is going to happen for the next couple of weeks. First off, Brandy at the Crossroad had a birthday party. Such a party. Champagne was cheaper than beer. The Cork-Popping Crowd was a little noisier than usual. Flowers he had by the armfuls and when we left he was sober. Brandy admits to 26 years.

And then there was the party that the Associate Editor gave for several of his friends. No, that is not correct. Several of his old friends gave a party along with him and a few old friends were invited. Anyhow they had enough food to feed the Sunday Afternoon pack at Jack's.

Speaking of Jack's, John Sylva, the major domo there was at the big feed. John is lesser known perhaps for his design ability. But he was telling us of some experiences that occurred just a few days ago when he had someone else doing some alteration work for him. Can't print it but it makes good listening.

Then there was the black and white ball given by Ilene. There was a black-out on the news from there.

Mr. Paul celebrated his birthday for three days last month and was very successful in doing so. He told me of the many flowers, telegrams and letters he received from all over the country. Asked me to thank everyone for him.

Out at Grayces the other day when I was having a hamburger, in walks Bill Plath from D'Oak and we had long talks. We had to apologize for the lousy printing we did on his last ad. The original copy was so good we are trying to get him to run it again. Grayce had just worked a 12 hour shift and was not around. It seems that business is so good that the help had to be let up.

Down at Jack's there was the big celebration for Billy the Kid's 25th birthday. Doesn't look a day over 20. He has been checked so many, many times for ID that it is automatic.

We were part of the severan hundred who got a sneak preview of the new place known as 'The Tool Box'. With all the rush-rush of opening, it had just been painted. In fact the paint was still wet, got some on my shirt. I had the impression that it was to be beer only. Not so-hard, liquor. There were so many big red W's that I was forced to ask John about them. Seems like everybody in town is hep to the Red W except me.

the bar (bob insists on lower case) is featuring now the piano of dick leonard. dick has always been a favorite of mine on the keyboard. The mere fact that i am a musical illiterate has nothing to do with it.

Jose' from the Black Cat along with Jimmy McInnes is now down in Hollywood making appearances and a private show. The show is for GGRC. Never heard of GGRC before but then I don't get around much anymore. Anyhow the GGRC is to be on the 6th and then they will be making such places as: The Gallery, The Apache, The Red Raven, The Laurel and the Visux Carre, plus several other of the better bars in that City. Best we look for some type of writeup from the Hollywood Citizens News.

Over at the Hull Shack we ran into one of the most interesting persons we have met in some time. Wish I had not lost his phone number. We may need some of his help in a legal matter.

If the ABC is not too busy elsewhere they might check some of the goings-on at a couple of the Nob Hill rooftop joints. Lev'd, crude, and prostitute. All kinds.

While ago when we wear talking about the Apache, we forgot to tell Jose' to take his 1800 bathing suit along. Your Reporter is going to be in that City on the 21st, 22nd and 23rd and will be sure to drop in at the Swimming Party of the Apache.

The big reason that we are going to Hollywood those days, is to see the Daughters of Bilitis Convention but there is so much to do in LA, we should stay a few days longer but there is the big party at Sabre Room in Birabane that I will have to make enroute to the Airport and then we have to be back here the night of the 24th for the big doings at Jack's and then on the 25th the Meeting of the Membership of the League.

When we were at Pets Plus on Baigt Street one of the entertainers from the Broadway-Kearney Nite Club came in and bought one of the best behaved miniature-miniature poodles you ever saw. He had, I guess, heard their motto: If you are tired of people, try a pet!

Speaking of entertainment at the intersection of Kearney-Broadway it is strongly rumored that "The two old bags from Oakland" went to New York, rehearsed for the Ed Sullivan Show. When the Wheels of the Network got wind of the nature of the show they put it thumbs down. This is not so bad, but neither Sullivan nor the local empresario has picked up the tab for the expenses nor has paid their salary for the two weeks they were gone. Kindsa chicken, huh? The other night over at The Tool Box we ran into John McCarthy, that genial host at The Capitan's Table in Phoenix, Arizona. He tells me that when the News comes in down there, the locals gather around to hear what is going on up here. One of the scenes across the country we are going to make some day comes about there. The Admission Day of Arizona falls on the 14th of February, Valentines Day. All the working-class gets a holiday and the Capitan's Table really makes it a Holiday. John was here on a business trip plus a busman's holiday. He formerly was a South of Market Boy.

Maybe you didn't know that we send the News to about 500 of the finest places in the United States and a few into Canada. These 500 places got about 2000 copies to spread around. In this issue we want to welcome our new readers in Upper New Mexico, Upper Peninsula of Michigan, Lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas, Delta Region of Louisiana, Miami, and believe it or not, Pennsylvania Avenue in Washington D.C. Not 1800 Pennsylvania, (The White House), but close by, real close by.

San Francisco is going to lose a bright and smiling face when Jack Scott goes back to the City of Brotherly Love, Philadelphia. Odds are 4 to 1, that he will be back before the leaves turn red in the Pocono Mts. Take note of this description: It could be important:
Scar left side of face, cheek bone to chin;
Usually wears green jacket and a sort of green slacks;
Usually goes by name of Bob;
Black wavy hair, heavy set, not quite 6';

Last name may be McCormick.
This description fits a man who is passing himself off as an undercover agent for the PD. He may or may not be. However if his whereabouts are known please call the News. We have a person who would like to swear out a warrant for his arrest for making lewd advances.

D.O.B.

You have recieved an invitation to attend the Daughters of Bilitis convention on June 23d at the Hollywood Inn, Hollywood, California.

It reads like this "Come One and all to the Daughters of Bilitis Convention on June 23d at the Hollywood Inn, Hollywood, California. An exciting day of reviewing the pro and con by psychologists, ministers, a producer, and a writer will be had by all. Lunch and the banquet will be equally exciting to the palate and to the mind".

The Senator is going to be down there for the big affair and if he is not picked up by Painful Parker's Playmates he will have a report for us in the next issue of the paper. If he is picked up, what a report he will have.

THEATER BENEFIT

There have been many questions regarding the benefit that Michelle is planning for the LCE. Here are some of the facts as gathered from Michelle. The reason for the postponement in the first place was because it was decided that instead of three shows to be given over a week-end it would be far better to give one big extravaganza and have only one show in a room that would accommodate enough to still make money for the Legal Fund.

In searching for a place to give this bigger production you always run into the question of the amount of seating, suitability of the hall, coats and the number of musicians we must hire because of the Union rule regarding minimum number of musicians for each place.

In this issue of the News there is an advertisement for 16 Union Musicians and this is the minimum number to make this the biggest thing ever, it will be presented in the manner of a Broadway Production. Seats are to be sold on a reserved basis, programs will be printed and sold and no doubt will become collector's items.

Altho the price of the seats is not yet known, the League has several deposits for certain types of seats, and will continue to accept such reservations.

Requests for advertising in the evenings program will be accepted with deposits, beginning the first of July.

According to Michelle, this is to be the greatest thing ever dreamed for the community and has required much thought and serious planning. The show will be presented in the latter part of the summer.

that would be required by the union for such places as the Opera House or the Veterans Memorial or the Curran Theater. Since it has been decided

A brave man and a foolish man died last week in San Mateo County. The brave man was Officer Dale Krings of the California Highway Patrol and the foolish man who was responsible for his death was Edward Lang Hargrove.

We know nothing of what Officer Krings did in personal life, his performance as an officer, or his personal habits. We do know that he was forced to shoot to death, with his last gasp of life, a man who was a 'cop hater'.

But two men are dead, one because he was an officer and the other because he hated 'cops'.

We know nothing of the reasons that made Hargrove a 'cop hater' but it is a sad commentary on our home lives, our public lives, the actions of our police departments and our elected officials that have produced a generation of 'cop haters'.

This should not be. We must depend on our Police Departments to enforce the laws our elected representatives have put in force.

To 'hate cops' is to condemn thousands of persons who are dedicated to the preservation of law and order. In fact, most of them of fine, upstanding men of high moral character and only a very few are 'bad apples'. All do a job in accordance with the wishes of their superiors.

To 'hate cops' is exactly the same as to hate Jews, hate Negroes, or to hate Catholics or Protestants or to identify any group of persons with the actions of a very few. To Hate is not the action of a healthy mind.

This writer has seen police brutality, harassment, illegal arrest and the whole gamut of everything that can be said to the discredit of the Police Departments and about individual officers.

But we come back to the same point of origin. They are the representatives of the law that was made operative by our elected representatives.

ROVING REPORT

It reminds me of a refrain from 'Gentlemen Prefer Blondes' but during the H'Benders sojourn to Laguna last week, Michelle lost a diamond ring that his mother gave him.

Carmen, and everybody knows who Carmen is, was lapping up the Ham in sour cream at the Gemini Party last Sunday. Along with such notables as John McC. and Bill Radcliffe, and in fact, most of the City's Party Goers. Bill was especially interested in the cake, celebrating the birthday of one of San Francisco's notables Deane. It was the celebration for that birth-date where life begins.

News from Memphis, Tennessee has it that the squirrels in Court Square are not the only nutty things about, and that some old blue magic is correcting that situation very rapidly. Some of the personnel from Printer's Alley in Nashville have been missing from the scene due to trips to that Square.

Then there is news from New York. Randolph Wicker at PO Box 318, New York 9, New York is forming an organization for civil rights protection in Manhattan. We know little of Mr. Wicker other than his letters but we wish him all the success in the world. Their organization has several basic differences from the League. He has been working quite hard with the Civic Groups in that unfair city and it appears that they have gotten the show on the road. I have heard that it is sorely needed there. But, from looking at the people arriving in California from there I did not know any were left.

Saw Tony T. at the Cat for Sunday Brunch. Tells me that the Why Not was closed for lease trouble not the Always Bothering Customers. He did not answer questions regarding his future plans.

Welcoming to this issue of the LCE News: Casket Kates, Richards Canine Beauty Salon, Pets Plus, Hilltop House, Mr. B's, and The Captain's Table in Phoenix, Arizona.

This has been an eventful two weeks and the next two look like they might be more eventful. Keep your eyes open, your ears clean and let us have you for readers next issue.

Everyone picking up this little Newspaper never seems to get over the fact that such a paper is published. One thing we still have in this great country of ours is freedom of the press. We will always be sure that nothing is said in these pages to offend even the most sensitive, however we can not please all and hope that we can persuade each of our readers to a greater life. It is not easy to put this paper together but the rewards of publishing it are worth every hour we put into the publication.

EMPLOYMENT

The League for Civil Education acts as a clearing house for information regarding job openings. There is no charge either to the employer or the employee and no obligation is incurred.

Job information comes to us in many ways. Often an employer calls, sometimes a well-wisher calls. We attempt as far as our ability will allow to get qualified employees for each job.

Persons seeking employment should not come to the office without making an appointment in order to save time.

Most of the jobs that we fill do not appear in this paper. Many of them are filled before the paper is printed each week. Only those jobs that are open at the time of printing are published.

Persons seeking employment as well as employers seeking competent personnel should call the League.

At this time there are openings in the following categories:

Bartender:

'Ernest'

ON FILLMORE

The Players MCDLXX opened their current two-month run of "The Importance of Being Ernest" June 1, at the International Music Hall, 226A Fillmore. The show will be presented every Friday and Saturday night thru July.

Director Bob Johnson has managed to assemble a finely balanced and sensitive cast. Besides directing, Johnson steps into the roles of Lane, the valet and Dr. Chausable, whose accent I still can't believe is a human utterance. The Doctor is simply Gothic.

Ernest (Jack) is played by Jerry Faye superbly balanced by a rather giddy Algernon for which we are indebted to Howard McArthur. These two set the pace, start the glow and the fire, and turn on the Victorian Langour and wit; it never stops until the final curtain. How effete an Ernest, how elegant an Algernon.

Joan Bushman's Gwendolyn is a young lady not to be lightly dealt with, but Carol Johnson as Cecily immediately does. Such dear deadly rivals the sweet Cecily and the ever so arch Gwendolyn.

Elizabeth Ayers' Lady Bracknell simply laid me out. Such lorgnette-snapping, parasol-jabbing and plume ruffling, the indomitable Bracknell rises again as my very favorite Wilde (he wrote the play) character comes more than ever to life with ever-so-English syllable audible and hilarious.

Merriman emerges as a woman in this production. Athlene Wold. She is funny. You will love her accent and probably won't be able to pin it down any better than I. Perhaps it was swahili? She rolls her great big eyes so you'd think she was barmy.

We had a delightful girl named Barbara Winkler as Miss Prism. You'll enjoy her big bold style of acting, and the way she can play a straight line for her partner's laughs, then turn around and drop a line of her own into your lap for those laughs that depend not on the line, but on the actress.

The costumes are elaborate and funny, and the acting is good, wild and funny. It is as it should be and you should be there.

IT CAN HAPPEN TO YOU

FACT & FIGURES

Three million, two hundred thousand people. They would populate four cities the size of San Francisco. They are from every race and creed. They are represented in capital and labor - rich and poor. They live right next door. They live on the other side of town. All of these 3,200,000 people are American citizens who have syphilis. Spread them out all over the nation and then stand on your own street corner. Count the people going by. Count one-two-three-four; count up to 25. One of those people who just passed has syphilis. At least three of them have been infected with gonorrhea. The majority of the people who are infected with syphilis don't know it. Gonorrhea Gonorrhea is acquired through sexual intercourse with a person suffering from the disease. The mucous membranes of the mouth, or the lower part of the bowel (rectum), and the eyes may also become infected through contamination with the discharge. The disease in males usually begins three to seven days after sexual intercourse with a person suffering from the disease. There are at first, symptoms of burning, smarting, pain on urination, and a watery discharge from the passage. This is soon followed by a yellowish secretion, swelling of the penis, frequent urination, and painful erections are also common symptoms if treatment is delayed. A single shot of penicillin results in complete cure in 98% of the cases. In long standing neglected gonorrhea, more prolonged treatment is necessary.

Syphilis is a contagious disease caused by a germ called treponema pallidum. It affects the entire system. While commonly acquired in sexual intercourse with a person already infected, it may be inherited from the parents, one or both. It is to be noted that syphilis is not always a 'venereal disease', that is, acquired through sexual relations. It may be communicated by kissing, by accidental contact with a sore on a patient's body, by use of pipes, eating or drinking utensils, or contact with any object upon which the germ has been deposited. Any part of the surface of the body or mucous membrane may be inoculated with the infecting organism of syphilis. If not treated, the contagiousness of the disease is supposed to last during the first three years of its presence. Acquired syphilis may be divided into three stages. The first stage is characterized by the appearance of a pimple or sore on the surface of the sexual organ, lips, rectum, or mouth, not later than five to ten weeks after sexual intercourse. The first sore or 'chancre' is characteristically a single, more or less circumscribed, superficial ulcer which is always painless (unless otherwise infected), and is always accompanied by enlargement of the adjoining glands of the groin. The ulcer presents a moist, worm eaten base, occasionally crusted, with a hardened border which feels like a rubber button when touched by the finger. The second stage appears in from six to seven weeks after the initial one and is characterized by the occurrence of a copper-colored rash over the body which resembles measles considerably, but appears less often on the face. Sometimes a pimple or a scaly eruption is seen following, or in place of, the red rash. At about or preceding, this period other symptoms may develop such as fever, headache, nausea, loss of appetite, and sleeplessness, but these may not be prominent. Moist patches may appear on the skin, in the armpits, between the toes, and about the rectum. There is a sore throat, with frequently grayish patches on the inside of the cheeks, lips, and tongue. The hair may fall out in patches. Inflammation of the eyes is a frequent sign. These signs and symptoms do not always occur at the same time, and some may be absent or less noticeable than others.

The third stage comes on after months or years; in those subjected to treatment it may not occur at all. This stage is characterized by sores and ulcerations of the skin and deeper tissues, and disease of different organs of the body, including the muscles, bones, nervous system, and blood vessels. Every internal organ is susceptible to syphilitic change. In untreated patients, many disorders of the internal organs the heart, lungs, liver, kidney, and brain and spinal cord are directly caused by syphilis. The central nervous system is peculiarly susceptible to the action of the syphilitic poison, and when affected may show the fact thru paralysis, crippling, disabling, and various disfiguring disorders. Years after a presumed cure has followed improper treatment patients are more liable to

LONG SUFFERING ADVERTISERS

The L.C.E. News is proud of its advertisers. They have kept us going all these months thru many unforeseen circumstances.

The L.C.E. News has never solicited advertising from anyone. But rather they have called us and we have arrived at mutually beneficial advertising. In the publication of a newspaper such as this with no paid employees, this is necessary.

But as to suffering look what we did to some of our best accounts:

The Hula Shack contracted with us for an ad for their Grand Opening.

WE MUST TAKE THE LEAD

If neither you, your mother, nor your father have ever engaged in sexual relationships, the reading of the companion article is not of prime importance. However since extremely few persons are in this category, it behooves each of us to take notice.

A few years ago it was considered not 'nice' to discuss VD. It was a subject-taboo. When a person was infected with a 'social disease', the general public thought that they must have been consorting on the 'wrong side of the tracks'. In the Armed Forces a man received the typical guardhouse treatment, in a few cases, he was actually confined while being treated.

Since then, times have changed, but not much. But enough so this information can be printed on the front page. However, there is a law on the books here in San Francisco that prevents the pictorial depiction of such a disease.

In San Francisco, more money was spent on keeping the streets clean than was spent on halting the advance of these diseases. In the San Francisco phone book we looked and found that there was organizations devoted to controlling every disease. We kept looking to see if there was one for VD. Not so. Altho this category of disease causes more suffering and crippling than any other, it is still not exactly 'nice' and no one wants to start an organization to correct this. Maybe a National Association for the Eradication of Athletes Foot but no one wants to admit that 'Nice People have VD'. This is foolish as hell. To relegate VD to the unmentionables is to deny the Number 1 Drive of Man SEX.

The L.C.E. News is not noted as being subtle. We believe that if it needs to be done, then the way to get it done, is to do it. We read in our daily papers how great the rate of VD is increasing. All very nicely written as if were happening to some people on another planet. The heck of it is, that it is happening right here, in the City Hall, down on 3d Street, in Seacliff; to the person on your right, standing right next to you, to the person living next door, to the residents of the Mark, The El Rosa, Telegraph Hill, Russian Hill, and the Mission. In fact to everyone who has had a parent or who engages in sexual intercourse.

The only time it seems to make our papers at all however is when it becomes part of statistics affecting a particular segment of our society. The negroes, or the variants or the immigrants from the East or South. The papers would have you to believe that it does not happen to real San

A SALUTE D.O.B.

On the 23d of June the Daughters of Bilitis open their 2d Annual convention.

Usually referred to as 'The Daughters' or "DOB", this organization has as its aims: (1) Education of the variant, with particular emphasis on the psychological, physiological, and sociological aspects. (2) Education of the public at large through acceptance first of the individual, leading to eventual breakdown of erroneous taboos and prejudices; (3) Participation in research projects by duly authorized and responsible psychologists, sociologists and other such experts; and (4) Investigation of the penal code.

The League for Civil Education has more of an affinity for this organization than for any other in this particular field. The Daughters are a business like organization with a big flair for doing things in a solid unwavering fashion. They are free, so far as we can see, from the frivolous bickering and hair splitting so prevalent in some other organizations.

The Daughters do not always agree with the League and vice versa. In fact, it can be said that we rarely agree. However this disagreement is based on thinking rather than on such flimsy grounds as personalities.

The DOB publishes a magazine each month, The Ladder, edited by Del Martin of San Francisco. The ladder is a rather outspoken magazine and has taken the News to task on more than one issue. Whenever there is open disagreement on policy with thoughtful reasons for the disagreements, then there can never be anything but a warm feeling for those responsible.

The schedule for the Convention includes: Evelyn Hooker, Psychologist for the University of California at Los Angeles; Rolo M. Boas of the Episcopal Church; Jess Stern, author of "The Sixth Man"; Thane Walker, Dean of Prospero Academy of Honolulu.

The League for Civil Education is happy to salute the Daughters on this the Second Annual Convention.

Long Life and Success.

HULA SHACK L.C.E. BENEFIT

On the Fourth of July at 11 AM WAGONTRAIN! will leave 979 Folsom, The Hula Shack for Destination X.

The Hula Shack is giving this benefit outing with arrangements being handled by Tom McT. of the LCE and Verne of the Shack.

According to Verne, here are some of the details:

Tickets are on sale for $3.00, at several places thruout the city. At Jacks Waterfront, The D'Oak Room and at The Jumping Frog. Altho unannounced, there will be other places. Tickets may be purchased at the Hula Shack, or from Guy Strait. These tickets will cover food, beverage, trans-certain nervous disorders, such as locomotor ataxia, which only attacks syphilitics; and general paresis, all the cases of which occur in those who have had syphilis. The prompt diagnosis of early syphilis is extremely important. It is a matter of record that the earlier treatment is begun after the diagnosis, the earlier the condition is arrested, and cured. The latest directives from the United States Department of Public Health discard all forms of mercury, bismuth, and arsenic derivatives. In their place, penicillin is now the only drug used except in special cases. For practical purposes the treatment is divided into three classifications: (1) The Contagious stage, that is, the primary stage or chancre; and the second stage or eruptive stage, that is when there is a breaking out of the skin and mucous membranes. (2) The late stages, when the only finding is the positive blood tests (Wasserman Reaction) (3) The prevention of hereditary infection.

The patients who are being properly treated for syphilis can be cured. But those people who are unaware of their infection are headed towards blindness, insanity, and early death. They can unknowingly spread the disease to others. They are the one out of every fourteen admission to our institutions for the insane. One out of fifteen in our blind homes. One out of every eighteen deaths from heart disease. They are the 98,000 infected mothers who in 1940 gave birth to 34,000 babies who had syphilis. Syphilis and gonorrhea kill and cripple thousands of our people in the United States every year; yet, none of these people had to die of syphilis, or be crippled by gonorrhea. They needed to know they were infected. They needed to be treated and cured. For all of the patients who are being treated for a venereal disease, it is known that there are other men and women who gave them the infection or to whom the patients may have spread it. The largest number of these people do not know they are infected, and unknowingly spread it. They are one of the gravest dangers to the welfare of the nation. They must be located and cured if we are to ever stop the spread of this great plague and its ravages among our people. That is why every patient who comes to the Public Health Clinics is asked: "From whom did you get your infection?" The social worker who asks these questions is not being nosy. He is doing a job. One of the most important jobs in the Venereal Disease Control Program. He is finding new cases of syphilis and gonorrhea. He is saving peoples lives. The patient who helps him to find these infected people are not being stool pigeons. They are giving someone else the opportunity for treatment and cure. They are helping to prevent many people from being killed by syphilis or from suffering the crippling after-effects of untreated disease. The patient is also saving lives. Throughout the United States the public health workers are finding these new cases and finding them in friendly manner and helpful approach. The cases are kept secret, as is also the source of information and they are not embarrassed by being reported to their families and friends. (This goes for members of the Armed Forces personnel and of minors as well). Statements made to personnel of the Public Health Venereal Disease Clinics are privileged against disclosure from any source, whether courts of law, governmental agencies public officers or other persons. The law setting forth this privilege of confidentiality is fully explained in City Attorney's Opinion # 1186 dated August 8, 1957. According to the City Attorney of the City and County of San Francisco, the basis for this privilege are as follows: (1) According to the expressed declaration of the State of California "A public officer cannot be examined as to communications made to him in official confidence; when the public interest would suffer from disclosure" (CCP 1186) Disclosure of confidences such as sources of infection and contacts as received in the course of operating a Venereal Disease Clinic would certainly be against the public interest and therefore protected. (2) In addition to the privilege against disclosure of official confidences, there is a privilege arising from the doctor-patient relationship against disclosure of confidential information. This privilege on behalf of the patient covers disclosures made to doctors, their assistants and co-workers. The City Attorney emphasizes that this doctor-patient relationship privilege applies to the operation of a Public Health Venereal Disease Clinic altho there is no charge for the services rendered and that the personnel of the said clinic are employees of the State and not of the patient. This doctor-patient privilege is also expressly set forth in the State Law. (3) Lastly under section 2636 of the California Administrative Code, it is expressly set forth that "Reports of Examinations, Cases, Investigation and all records thereof...for the control of Venereal Disease are confidential." In conclusion, it should be noted that in the event of attempted interference with this three-fold privilege of confidentiality, the City Attorney's Office is prepared to defend the records of the Clinic and its personnel by appropriate legal action.

In conclusion, the L.C.E. urges you to please visit your nearest Health Clinic at once for a free check-up, blood test, and treatment, if needed. They do back every three months for a routine blood test. It does not take one hundred persons to give you a venereal disease, one can do it. It is not a crime to have these diseases, but it is a great crime to spread them.

(continued from page 1.) Franciscans. This is hog wash. The "real" San Franciscans have just as much contact as anyone else. The $10 prostitute rarely passes on more disease than the $100 girl. No one group is more or less susceptible to these diseases than any other. It is true that the more persons contacted sexually, the greater the risk of being infected. Just the same degree of risk is run when you cross the street a number of times. The more often you cross the street, the more chance you take of being hit.

Of course, were this the Soviet or the type of state that some of our local politicians would like for it to be, we could declare a ban on sex for a specific period and force each person to come in for a checkup. We could erase this blemish, just long enough for a ship to dock in our city or a plane to land here. To have syphilis is not the worst thing to have happen to you. There are a number of things that are worse of which is to have syphilis and not know it.

If purely from a hedonistic, fun-loving attitude, untreated VD is to invite disaster. Finally a tribute to the personnel at 33 Hunt and to the personnel of a thousand similar VD clinics all over our country. These people work for many hours each day, asking questions looking for signs of VD, making lab tests, giving shots etc. It is to their credit that rarely do they become irritated at the complacency of the people that they must deal with in the course of the day.

This writer has never been treated with anything but the greatest of courtesy at 33 Hunt. Yes, I have been there. As a person seeking a checkup, I have seen some of my good friends there. Not ashamedly, but with the full knowledge that if anyone saw me there it was with the full knowledge that I had a regard for the well-being of my associates.

It is rather common knowledge that a heck of a lot of people have sex-relations each day. To do so is to expose yourself to VD. This is the only important thing about VD: If you have sexual relationships get a checkup to see that you will continue to be able to do so.

Go to 33 Hunt today.

JUNE 5 ELECTION

We are unable at this time to make an intelligent appraisal of the election results from June 5. This is due to the slow count made necessary by so many write ins. The results of the election are not yet official and are therefore not yet public property. When we can get into the Registrars office and make a survey into the number of votes cast and the number of votes we claim we shall carry this information.

In the meantime, plans are being made for the questioning of candidates all over the State. A questionnaire is being readied to send to each person running for office.

Also we are attempting to get together a mailing of about 100,000 persons to be informed as to how we feel in San Francisco. Everyone who knows of anyone interested should get in touch with us or send us the list of names, or make arrangements to get out the mailing pieces themselves. If a list is sent to LCE, it will be destroyed immediately after the mailing is made.

In the General Election on November 6, we intend to separate the men from the boys and determine who will be the next office holders in this state. Be sure that you have done your part by registering to vote and by letting us tell your friends how the 'cookie crumbles.'

luau was to be on the 15th. Our ad read the 16th. Then they wanted to let our readers know that they had 15¢ beer on Tuesdays after 8 pm. Our ad read '15¢ beer, Tuesday til 8'. For correction let us say that Hula Shack has beer on tap for 15¢ Tuesdays from 8 pm til 2 am.

Then there is the 'D'Gak Room. Bill has the largest collection of engravings that we know about. He furnishes them to us for his ads. In one ad the copy was not supposed to be reduced in size. With the guidance of our printer we prepared this ad and sent it to the printer. There it was reduced 25% in size with the lettering so dark that you would have to be a mind reader to make out what was being advertised. Then Bill furnished us with a drawing whose caption read "Hang the Expense, Man this is a Big Deal". Our printer made this so dark that you would need to see the original to know what it said. He then reprinted it, along with the entire paper and we redistributed the paper.

Just like we said: Our long suffering advertisers. They are the salt-of-the-earth and if there is a spot in heaven for bar owners, they are a bunch of fine candidates.

portation, and all the traditional 4th of July doings. If transportation is needed those interested should call SU 1-9669 (The Hula Shack) to make arrangements. Those wishing to do so may take their own car.

Entertainment will be impromptu. The Shack is taking their piano up to Destination X. There are to be 150 gallons of beverage to be consumed by the celebrants and so much food that it would appear to be for a regiment.

Funds derived from this benefit are to be earmarked for the Legal fund of the League for Civil Education.

The Hula Shack will give to any person joining the League between June 21 and July 3 a free ticket to the Blast. This ticket can be picked up by completing the application in this paper and giving it, along with the $10.00 annual membership dues to bartender at the Hula Shack or to Guy Strait.

Verne apologizes to the younger crowd, but valid and definite ID as to age will be required before we leave San Francisco. All ID will be checked. No refunds will be made to persons who have tickets and are not 21.

The destination of WAGONTRAIN is confidential and no one will know definitely where we are going until we depart. The reason for this should be obvious.

THEATER BENEFIT

The date for the Theater benefit has been set for November 28. The place for the benefit has been rented but because of contractual arrangements, it cannot be announced at this time. Suffice it to say, it is one of the better places in the Bay Area.

Mr. Lee Wilson of Hollywood has been employed to direct the show that is to star Michelle. There has been a large amount of requests for better seats and as soon as the contract for the Theater has been announced publicly the tickets will go on sale. The price of the seats will be approximately the same as that for the usual theatrical productions, say for instance at the Curran or the Geary.

Some musicians are still needed to play for this performance. It is to be for one night only and will be presented in the best tradition of the Theater.

Money Made Difference

Chief of Police William Parker of Los Angeles has done it again. This zealous protector of the law of the has entrapped Miss Carol Lane, the person who contested the 'fornication law' of Los Angeles, this time for a heinous crime: Prostitution. Acting in the person of an officer, on the police force and evidently one who can appreciate the dramatics of spending hours trying to catch a person for a misdemeanor, officer Mag got his man, woman I mean.

Miss Lane was the person who contested the law in Los Angeles when she was convicted for fornication. [Fornication is the act of engaging in sexual intercourse between two unmarried persons]

This time Chief Parker was able to get Miss Parker for prostitution since the Supreme Court ruled that fornication was not illegal in California. It is possibly well that that the Court so ruled for this could be the law that made the Governors big budget inoperative. Imagine every person who engaged in fornication in jail. There would be very few taxes paid in California.

Policeman Bob Mag, who acted as an undercover agent [When you read a title such as this you automatically think of someone who is about to get Al Capone, don't you, instead of a simple misdemeanor] testified that Miss Lane agreed to meet him in a downtown hotel room on the night of March 2. She arrived at 9:15 and they had a couple of drinks. In LA Officers drink on duty? Over the telephone when Miss Lane was first contacted by this hero of law enforcement, she told him the price was to be $100.00. Officer Mag told her as they made the rendezvous: "You are expensive" [He is evidently extremely well conversant in the price of prostitution].

Defense attorney Burton Marks argued in court that there was no solicitation in the case. "What did she take the $100.00 for?" he asked. "She didn't say. I don't feel that there was an act of solicitation in the case...he solicited her".

It is not new in California for a police officer to violate the law. In fact, it is rather common. The Los Angeles Police as well as the San Francisco Police have solicited all sorts of sex acts for years.

We trust that Miss Lane will take this to the Supreme Court and allow that body to tell the San Francisco Police and the Los Angeles Police to stop violating the law.

In the new code of Illinois the law is explicit: "A person is not guilty of an offense if his conduct is incited or induced by a public officer or employee, or agent, or either, for the purpose of obtaining evidence for the prosecution of such person"

In California, it must be proven in court that the officer did, in fact violate the law, but entrapping a person to violate the law.

Everyman Decision

In San Francisco last week three crewmen off the boat 'Everyman' were sentenced to 30 days for contempt of court. This arose over the sailing of a boat from the Bay Area after the sailing of such craft had been expressly prohibited by the Federal District Court. It is the general feeling of the persons closest to the case that the crew of the Everyman had sought an injunction to prohibit the sailing of the craft so they might violate it rather than having to sail the craft all the way to the Atomic Testing Grounds. This was to prove a point, plus the protesting of the resumption of testing of atomic weapons.

The question was asked: "Where were the crew of the 'EVERYMAN' when the Russians tested their weapons?" Without going into the question as to the rightness or wrongness of the testing of such weapons Judge Sweigert remarked:

"The Court would like to say that it has well in mind the motivation and purpose of the conduct of the defendants in question. I might even assume for present purposes that your beliefs-addressing myself to you three gentlemen-on the subject of nuclear testing and your avowed purpose of protesting its continuance by non-violent action are sincere, entitled to respect, and in a certain sense, laudable. Of course, I suppose it would be ideal if this law [The Atomic Energy Act] and all laws conformed to the conscience of all citizens. However, that is hardly possible. Some will disagree with this law as do these defendants. Other citizens may disagree with other laws, some may feel that their conscience dictates that they resort to violent action of some kind to protest that with which they do not agree.

I suppose Mr. Booth thought that he was acting on the dictates of his conscience when he assassinated the kindly Abraham Lincoln.

I think that it is makes it clear that the law of the land must be respected so long as it is in effect, and it cannot be made dependent upon every individuals version of the dictates of his conscience.

Your liberty to speak, assemble, move about, sail your boat, to express your conscientious views for a change of the law was not, is not, and never can be absolute liberty to do as you please under all circumstances and at all events. Your liberty and the liberty of all of us is, has been and always must be liberty under the law, law as enacted by Congress, and as interpreted and enforced by the Courts.

Without Law and without the trust of the judiciary for its administration according to the processes of an orderly democratic society, the very rights which you now claim to enjoy would be meaningless and eventually lost for all in either anarchy or dictatorship.

This finding of the Federal District Court, altho speaking of something entirely different than our day to day life has a hard hitting message: Do not violate the law, rather work for its change.

How different indeed was the handling of the protests in the Federal Court by the United States Marshall Hestley than by the San Francisco Police Department in City Hall Fiasco last year.

EMPLOYMENT NEWS

We have in the past two weeks, placed many of our readers in jobs. We have been unable to place as many as we would like due to the slowness of openings reported to us. Rather than publicize here the job openings we now have on hand, which will be filled in a matter of a couple of days, it appears to be better to say that we have many job openings from time to time. We suggest that anyone seeking employment call this News paper. Also persons seeking new personnel should call this office. All services of the League are without charge to anyone.

ROVING REPORT

Let's see what happened in this part of the country....A heck of a lot happened that cannot be reported that much is for sure.

Seems like the midnight program on KWB got a sample of the L.C.E. news by one of our readers. Then there was the report that Eddie (at Eddie's 90) killed Travis. This was not so, they just tried to kill each other.

Eddie is no longer there and the place is now called 'as the last resort' with Jim and Candy Lee. Then there was the mass of people who complained that the D'Oak Room ad was to dark to read. For those who got an inferior copy of the news, we will send a new copy if you will ask. The printer has been banished to Bryant and 6th street.

Last Sunday out at Dori's we again ran into Carmine who is really doing a job as ex officio advertising manager for the News. Business there is so good that Dori tells me that her only relaxation now is after she gets her weekly supply of groceries, she goes across the street to the Jumping Frog. And at that place we have to make something clear: 'Soapsuds' is not McCormick as reported in the last issue of the News. The Jumping Frog states without reservation that this friendly bartender has not been seen in the company with any SSquad men.

To get back to Dori, we went out there last Monday and found that we have not been keeping track of the hours for eating. Their dining room is now closed on Monday.

Bill Gaffney at Peppermint West was asked hundreds of times why he put his name in the paper. You must read this paper closely if you want the news. We are not going to make it easy.

Hal over at 'The Pool Box' has had a major wave of vice. Seems as if every person who comes in there is taking away a set of the plastic tools they had made for the joint. Hal will not however prefer charges against his customers.

Saw Norman and Verne in connection with the Big Benefit 'Destination X' last week. They were at the Hula Shack along with many of the well known personalities of San Francisco.

D. Andreetta hosted a dinner party for Roy Soquel at Gordons on the 12th of June, the guest list included many of the personnel from Jacks Waterfront, including George and Many, Bill Farasse from Los Angeles, and the Senator.

Podesta Baldocci furnished the big floral arrangements which, when being carried out of the popular dinner spot caused some consternation to a few of the bar crowd.

The birthday cake was duly inscribed 'Cool it'. John Silva, genial, in spite of his recent operation, provided the place with laughs. After dinner the party adjourned to 'the bar' at 365 Broadway, again to the consternation of several passers-by.

This was Mr. Soquel's 12th anniversary of his 21st birthday.

Jose' is back from L.A. where he gave a performance for the GGRC, all in connection with his recording. Then at D'Oak Room, Jim who has kept his last name more or less confidential, evidently made such an impression that everyone now calls him 'Scott' because of his portrayal of that person in his monologue.

In the next couple of weeks your favorite newspaper (this one) will be displayed in wire racks in your favorite spots. There will be coin slots attached so that you can buy the paper.

Anyone who thinks that just because the Supreme Court says John cannot enter as evidence anything he sees thru spyglasses, is either stupid or has a rude awakening coming.

Have you figured out where Casket Kate is located?

Contrary to reports George, the big Embarcadero caterer, has not had a grand opening. He insists it has been: First a moving party, and then a private party and now it is to be a grand opening party. For myself, I don't care what you call it just so long as it is a party.

Rod Lewis has been in town for the past week. Rod is well known down in Austin, Texas at the Jesters. What with his trip to Seattle, San Francisco and then Los Angeles he will carry back a complete report. Probably the report he will carry back would make a bigger scandal than Billy Sol has made there.

At the Crossroad, Mel has been a little busy with that 6am beer bunch. This is the way it works: The late nighters are at the Headhunters and at Eddie's 90 (As the last resort, it is called now) and then promptly at 6am-they go to the Crossroad. When do they sleep?

Paul's Intimate has been having a little trouble with the union. It is not clear what the trouble is, at any rate there are pickets. More pickets outside than bartenders inside. Mr. Paul keeps right on serving drinks.

What with the nice days we have had from time to time the grass at Neurotic Park has been covered with Sun Bathers. If this paper was not so much trouble to get to the printers we would be there.

Sad to say, we will have to miss the Celebration at the Sabre Room in Brisbane. It is on the 21st of June and at that time we will be enroute to Los Angeles. It is a hard thing to write this so far in advance and try to keep the future, present and past tenses straight. In fact it is hard to keep anything straight.

Bill Radcliffe last week in his new home. Bill is associated with that Castro Valley Realtor, Fleur de Lys, and has been trying to sell me some Telegraph Hill property. Did you know that Telegraph Hill is solid gold? Maybe not, but the prices are just as high.

Did you also know that the police of our fair city arrested a man the other night for impersonating, when the only thing involved was the way he cut his hair. Sure enough, they must have a Comissar of Hair Styles. Either that or the Chief is going to see if George won't give him another $100,000 to hire one.

In the next issue the News is going to make a survey of the Police Code of Los Angeles. This should be fun.

IN SAN DIEGO

Many people would not recognize San Diego Now, with all the changes, but it is still 'Diego. We're growing fast, and becoming more attractive every day. We boast of good weather, great beaches and some very fine people. Located on an ocean of some merit (The Pacific), and come equipped with a local police force of some size, if as San Francisco, size means anything. They do not come inside much to play games, but they are better at street walking and accosting, than any other group.

Speaking of groups, The Limbo here is becoming the place for a good time. Something like Mrs. Pringles in Seattle. Try it on a Sunday night if you get down here. The owners have worked hard for it and deserve some congratulations.

A few San Franciscans were entertained at the Barbaree a week or so ago and we wish that we had taken a little time to go elsewhere. This place is a going concern. But like they say, home is where the heart is and it looks like they are looking for a new one (home).

Met some very fine people from SF last Saturday Night at the Gismo. This is a small place, but very congenial and the owners Jean, Joan and Terie are always on hand to welcome new customers.

Many people will be sorry to hear that the Brass Rail, from what we hear is going. Our city is in the process of 'face lifting' and is in the process of taking over the location. No one knows exactly when or where they are moving.

Bradley's is still here and no more needs to be said about Bradley's. On the beach scene, which of course is entering everyone's mind of late, we have Skippers. This is for the Suit and Cocktail Set, but as Jenny and Derrick will attest, we of the less formal set are also around.

By the Way, Skippers and friends lost a good bartender recently. And to San Francisco no less. We hated to see him go, so treat him right up North. Look for Russ, he is fine people.

Sometime back we acquired from Jacks Waterfront in San Francisco a fine bartender.

Back to the Beach, many people are familiar with Jodo's at the Beach and the working owner, Dodie, (a fine woman). The place is beachy clean and informal. There is a big bartender named Pearl that lives up things on Sunday Afternoon with her partner, Danny. Jodo's has a long clean record and is still going to keep it, and doing a big, big business.

When you drop in at Jodo's be sure and tell Pearl that you read it in the L.C.E. News.

IN NEW YORK

From New York we hear from Randolph Wicker and his attempt to get the groups in that small city (The San Francisco of the East Coast) to stop crawling under rocks and enjoy the liberty they are guaranteed.

Some will remember Wicker from the University of Texas and his big fight against censorship in that unlightened state (This writer is from Texas and is very familiar to most of the state). It seems that in the fair city of Austin, Texas, under the guidance of J. Frank Dobie, the man who burned Juan dos Passos after a real man named Homer Rainey refused to do so, gave young Wicker a hard way to go. They even took Playboy out of the library of the University of Texas.

So now Wicker is in Manhattan, and organizing to fight for the rights of association and against the denial of rights to certain people that do not meet with the high standards of police department.

Wicker can be contacted thru PO Box 318, New York, 9, New York.

OFFICIAL PUBLICATION OF THE LEAGUE FOR CIVIL EDUCATION EDITED SPECIFICALLY FOR PEOPLE WHO ARE INTERESTED IN THE PRESERVATION OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES

Published every two weeks by the LEAGUE FOR CIVIL EDUCATION at 1154 Kearny, San Francisco, California

Editor: Guy Strait Associate Editor: D. Andreetta Staff Artist: R. Adams Subscriptions: $2.60 year by mail

All material appearing in this publication must be considered under copyright or copyright pending. Permission to reproduce in any form must be secured in writing prior to such reproduction.

The League for Civil Education was formed for educational, benevolent, charitable, and philanthropic purposes, and the specific and primary purposes for which it was formed are to defend, safeguard and protect civil rights and liberties guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States and of the State of California, to sponsor and promote a continuing education program in the field of Civil Rights and Liberties; to provide financial aid for the defense or protection of persons whose constitutional rights have been violated or are threatened or imperiled; to provide and promote opportunities and referral services free from discrimination of any kind in connection with employment placement, housing placement, and personal counselling, and to support and contribute to worthy charitable and civic endeavors.

What Happened?

For about three weeks the News papers in San Francisco were full of nothing but the reorganization of the Police Department.

Dick Nolan had more than a little to say about the way things were not getting done at the Hall of Justice. Then all of a sudden after the Chief got his extra million for relieving 264 of his uniformed officers by 144 civilians (who can figure that one?) the talk died out.

Dick Nolan went on an unannounced vacation. Now he is back but is in bad health.

The Chief has come out with the announcement that it would take 90 days before he could do anything. A certain man who makes up the list of things a person must be able to do before he can qualify for a job, and other items, was on vacation.

We can see it now: Paper Clipper Specialist: Must be proficient in the useage of all clipping devices, including Bostick, Ace, and Rubber Bands. Must not have a police record of any kind and must be of good moral character, with 3 years of experience, a BS degree and not over 22 years of age.

But seriously, during the last war, we turned out second lieutenants in 90 days. We were back in some kind of fighting shape after 90 days of Pearl Harbor bombing. We took Paris 90 days after D-Day, yet to get people to do purely clerical work for the police Department it will take 90 days.

Yet there has been no let-up in the activity of the SSquad in illegal activity and there appears to be no concerted drive to cut down on crimes of violence.

A Reader Writes A GOOD LOOK

Let's take a real look at ourselves. We hear the many cries of "Let's get organized!" and see the many examples of our dissolution every time we care to look about. Why is it our almost compulsive craving for self-interests demands an offering before any common law of good? Why the constant search for the impossible person who will offer the eternal surprise or diversion. Why only ourselves?

It is said of our sect that we suffer of an almost universal immaturity. Possibly no other decree laid down by the doctors of mental medicine is more sweeping in its indictment against us; nor the less astounding for its complete truth into all levels of our kind. It has also been said that we represent a crime against nature, nature's basic purpose seemingly being reproduction; but this charge is not true. If we represented completely the intelligent, or the physically perfect, the charge would stand, but our problem takes from every level of mentality, from the physically sound as well as from the deformed, and reaches into every home whether considered decent or not. We come from too many ledges of life to be committing a crime against nature—the breeders are creating population problems well enough by themselves. No, if a crime exists, it is a crime against ourselves.

What connection between crime and immaturity? The crime is immaturity! And immaturity as related to our way of life is irreconcivably connected to the problems of loving and of being loved. Freud spoke of three levels of love. The Primary, for the total self-interest—the center-of-the-universe attitude which demands all angles of life to center on self. The Secondary, or the conditional love; the bargainer, the "I'll do this if you will do that". And finally, the mature love, the unconditional, the altruist, the giving without regard for return—The Utopian. Freud concluded that almost everyone is stuck on the second level. The edges between these separations are in shades of gray however, and those of us who demand unequal returns more to their favor than to their companion's are obviously in the majority. This is the beginning of our decay, the Great Reason why we so unhappily live alone within ourselves.

The social critic Philip Wylie once asked that he would only desire that each man enlarge his own opinion of himself....An almost laughable request for its implications when applied directly to ourselves. But why not? I believe I can think of many qualities common to our order which in themselves could elevate us beyond social condemnation. Consider for instance our generally acute sense of compassion. When it hasn't been hardened beyond recognition to either protect us from pain, or to allow acceptance of our own actions which we find disagreeable, compassion becomes our winning quality. Those who can feel simply and quickly by a vicarious emotion, the problems and anguishes of another are in the best possible position to offer aid and comfort to that person. And what is the most miserable exploitation of the gift of the emotionally compassionate.....? It is given for the sole purpose to undermine the object's defenses and normal objections for the ugly deictful purpose of selfish seduction. Does this observation hurt you? If so, you are probably guilty of a crime whose only adequate punishment is a reform of behavior, a growth in maturity, a greater awareness of self and a knowledge of when your aid is helping another....or when it is merely exploiting.

The truth is only too obvious. By helping others, and denying just a few of our selfish interests, we create bonds which might eventually bind friends. Little obstacles removed might release a flood of trust and highly desired friendships grown only with great quantities of trust present.

Have we taken a round-about path? I think not, for trust which can bind friend to friend, can bind group to cause. We can be organized but first we must grow up before we can join such a worthy organization. by Sultanshire

Justice Black FREEDOM OF SPEECH

Justice Hugo Black, a veteran of twenty five years on the Supreme Court of the United States has gained the reputation of a non-conformist, outspoken dissenter, and a rebel against restrictive laws governing our freedoms.

In an interview to be published in the New York University Law Review the Justice had this to say about freedom of speech:

"I do not believe that there is any half way ground if you enforce the protections of the first Amendment. I believe with Jefferson that it is time enough for a government to step in to regulate people when they do something, not when they say something."

"I understand that it is rather old fashioned and shows a slight naivete to say that 'no law means no law, but what it says is 'Congress shall make no laws....abridging the freedom of speech or of the press'. I have to be honest about it. I confess, not only do I think the amendment means what it says, but also that I may be slightly influenced by the fact that I do not think Congress should not make any law with respect to these subjects. And being a rather old fashion, country fellow, I understand to mean what the words say....It says no law and that is what I believe it means."

I want this government to protect itself. The method I would adopt is different, however, from that of some other people. I think it can be preserved only by leaving people with the utmost freedom to think and to hope and to talk and to dream, if they want to dream. I do not believe that government must look to force, stifling the minds and aspirations of the people.

"Yes, I believe in self-preservation, but I would preserve it as the Founding Fathers said-by leaving people free

NOTICE TO VISITORS

We of California are proud of our State. As a transplanted Texas this reporter knows how to be proud and to brag. We are even proud of a town to the south, Los Angeles and Los Angeles sometimes is proud of us especially when they have a dry summer.

But lest we stray from the subject. We are proud of our State. But unfortunately we have one of the most deadhead legislatures of all 50 of the States. After listening to all of the various heads of departments from all over the country, we of California can be proud: We have some of the worst laws since Nero and Cromwell.

We are happy to have visitors from places like Kansas, New York, Washington, Oregon and yes, even Texas. But when they get out here they see the mountains and the lakes and the streets and the bars and they seem to go 'havg wile' as we used to say down in Dallas. They see the wide open spaces and the wild country and they say "This is for me" and they proceed as if no one was around to watch their deprecations.

This is not exactly true. In our fair state we have thousands of game wardens, highway patrols, smog abatement authorities. For a fact, in San Francisco alone we have 1800 uniformed officers, not to count the number employed by the ABC [For the visitors you should understand that in our state you can drink all you choose so long as you (a) Do not get drunk in a public place (b) Strike up a conversation with a plant by the likker people, (c) Go to a Bar that is not just exactly 'the Governor's Dish of Tea']

[This means if someone sidles up to you and says let's go up to my apartment and have a cup of coffee, beware! It could be an ABC Agent Provocateur, or a SFPD or LA 'Undercovers' agent or maybe even a game warden. At any rate some of these are very attractive young 'ladies' and SEX IS SINFUL IN CALIFORNIA!

(a) Who solicits anyone to engage in or who engages in lewd or disolute conduct in any public place or in any place open to the public or exposed to the public view

(b) Who solicits or engages in any act of prostitution.

(c) Who accosts other persons in any public place or in any place open to the public for the purpose of begging or soliciting alms.

BLACKMAIL COUNTDOWN

The Following is a timetable involving a case of blackmail in which the League played a part:

- 3:00 AM Blackmailer made contact with Victim
- 5:00 AM Victim allowed to leave by Blackmailer
- 8:00 AM League contacted by friend of Victim
- 10:00 AM Victim talk with League
- 1:00 PM Victim agrees to press charges against blackmailer
- 9:00 PM League contacts proper officers
- 10:00 PM League conference with officers
- 11:00 PM Victim, League confer with officers
- 1:30 AM Officers arrest blackmailer

The details of this case are still confidential but a few things can be revealed.

The officers in conference, both with the Victim and the League were only vaguely interested in what the blackmailer had on the Victim to use blackmail.

The officers, between the first contact and the conferences looked up the record of the blackmailer suspect and had several pictures to show to the Victim. (It is reliably reported that the blackmailer had a criminal record as long as your arm) His arrest on this serious charge should be enough to put him away for a long, long time. The Victim also had a misdemeanor record, in which, the officers showed no interest whatsoever. The officers at all times were nothing but gentlemen and reflected with the highest credit on the service they represented.

This was one of the first cases that the League has handled in response to the article "Blackmail", and is an example of what can be done if responsible citizens cooperate with the police in the reduction of crimes of violence. The services of the league are available to anyone who is being subjected to blackmail, threats of exposure of any kind, shakedowns, etc. Naturally the service is at no charge, and we will not proceed without the express permission of the Victim. Victims may call on us for advice, guidance, and actual, physical conference with the proper authorities.
