THE FUTURE OF OUR BARS

In the fight to secure 'equal protection under the law' the League has in preparation a court test suit aimed at two governmental agencies.

We would ask you to consider the dilemma of the bar owner in dealing with the ABC.

In the first place, no owner can refuse to serve anyone who desires to have a drink in his place unless the person is underage or is intoxicated. Yet when that person is in the bar, even tho the owner would like to refuse to serve him and cannot legally do so, this same owner is liable for the conduct as well as the speech of everyone in his bar.

That these suits must be filed is borne out in many ways. It is the opinion of this Editor that there is to be no justice for anyone who does not agree with the official views of the ABC. This is confirmed by the opinions of most persons interviewed both in and out of official positions.

We feel that the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control will do every thing in their power to punish those who do not "kow-tow" to the prejudicial dictims of the Department. We have seen in the past year several establishments closed on trumped up evidence. The ABC has said that this evidence has held up in Court. This is not necessarily true. The charges brought were so vague that it would be impossible to prove that they are not true. The ABC has said that it was in the best interest of everyone concerned to make the charges non-specific. When a man's business and reputation are at stake it does not serve justice to make vague, emotion charged allegations about a bar.

In the case of a small bar, or a beer bar, there is just not enough money coming into the cash registers to finance a court fight.

The ABC can put a bar out of business merely by placing charges against it. This financial attrition has been going rampant in California.

A beer license cost about $150. To defend this license cost from $5000 to $50,000. You have to sell a hell of a lot of beer to fight a case as expensive as this. Thus it is far more sensible to merely give up.

When the ABC brings charges against a bar any judge reading them would be inclined to think that he was reading excerpts from The Last days of Sodom. There is so much unprovable 'window dressing' (all of which the ABC is at once prepared to have dismissed, but it still stays in the charges) that any sane man reading it would want to close a place of this nature.

There is no assurance when anyone goes into court that he is going to win regardless of the rightness of his fight. So to wade thru five or six court battles to save a beer permit is considered foolish. You just cannot fight for this amount of investment.

The Editor has no interest in any bar nor in any group of bars. Our interest is in justice. The only reason for the interest in this fight is a simple one: We protest the right of the ABC to close or to punish an owner of a bar because he will abide by the constitution and sell to those who come into his establishment. We have the old-fashioned idea that if the Constitution says that people are entitled to the right of assembly in America that it does not take a high handed act of a quasi-judicial to repeal the Constitution.

The ABC is a shrewd bunch of operators.

When a person first comes under the fire of the ABC the offer is made "If you will plead guilty we will give you 60 days to sell the license". The owner, feeling that he is dealing with honorable men, goes ahead and pleads guilty. But here is the rub-It would take a person equal in purity to the vestal virgins to meet the qualifications laid down by the ABC. The sale cannot be completed in 60 days and the license is forfeit.

We can assure any owner that - if you bow down - you will also bow out. It is merely a matter of time. We feel that this agency will use every means at its disposal, legal or illegal to accomplish its aims.

There seems to be a solution to the bar owner's dilemma. It is the same as practiced in New York. You get a spot that does not require a long term lease. You get a license and then sell beer at $1.00 a bottle as long as you can. When the ABC comes along with their list of phony charges then you close the doors take the license, give it back to the ABC with some well chosen words as to what they can do with it.

The course that the ABC has chosen to follow will result in one of several things:

- (1) Irresponsible bar ownership;
- (2) Increase in blackmail;
- (3) Payoffs;
- (4) Control of the bars by the Mobs of the east.

It can not result in better run bars. It has been proven that regardless how you run a bar the ABC can and will close you if they so desire.

This is the face on the Bar Room Floor - Persecution.

WHAT, AGAIN?

After consulting my check-up card from the VD Clinic I find that it is now again time to let them tell me how I have fared for the past month.

To be brutally frank about it I do not want to let anything interfere with my enjoyment of the Holidays. If you have been successful in the past 30 days may I suggest that you join me at 33 Hunt next week?

HALLOWEEN 1962

San Francisco, "The Paris of the West" let down it's hair (and some put it up) on Halloween for the big Celebration of Witches Christmas. It was the biggest ever.

Starting out the early evening with the Senator (in top hat and tails and Colonel Fitzgerald with his orderly and Aide de Camp in the uniform of the state militia of the Louisiana Guard we made our first stop at Fourth and Mission and there got our first of many contributions to the War Chest.

We then went to Manny's for some nourishment. The place was so full that Don and Rudy were on the run to get the orders filled. Very few costumes there as I recall. The food is always excellent there.

Then out to Club Dori where we found that we should not have eaten at all because there was spread one of the finest buffets of all the Dori history and that place has seen some very fine eating. There we first ran into the H'Burners Bus. Such elegance, such costumery, such impersonation. And Dori's is just the place to set off such a display.

From there we went to D'Oak but the Bus went to the Spar Club. That is the newest place in town. Down in the Marina.

The D'Oak was packed to the posters. Saw people there that had not been around since last Halloween. It was so full that many of the costumes were in danger of being crushed. The Senator took to the stairs and gave a pitch for the War Chest and again the donations came in.

The bubbly water was flowing like Champagne at D'Oak and the high, good times were rolling.

From there we went to the Black Cat the traditional spot for Halloween big times.

The sightseers there had grown to proportions that made a presidential visitor envious. There were on the sidewalks between five and seven or eight thousand people. It is in keeping with the spirit of San Francisco for the unknowing to come down to the Cat to see what the styles are going to be next year. This was no exception. The Community made up probably less than 10% of the onlookers. It was all that Jose could do to keep a small opening in existence so that a few of the costumes could get thru. In a short time even that was closed in by the multitude and the visitors had to unload and walk 50-75 feet thru the throng.

At the Cat Franklin made his dramatic entrance after visiting The Fantasy and downtown spots. After his entourage had left the interior of the Cat, Franklin climbed to the top of his bus and gave a demonstration, the likes of which has never been seen in this country before. Right out of the Casbah.

Then we went down to Jack's Waterfront. It was just this side of bedlam. There were five persons on the doors checking ID. The costumed participants were routed thru the Hotel and up to the high stage where a stair case had been built leading down onto the floor. Again the Senator made a pitch and the money came in.

We waited for the arrival of the busses here. First came Franklin with the white fox and it's bearers and the maid of honor. Then came the bus with Gooch, Royale, Tommy and Michelle and a host of others. The ovation was a little deafening.

As soon as we had safely seen the big events of the evening into the doors of Jacks we left and went down to The Barrel House. This was useless, because you could not get in the doors. Roby had them packed in.

We went to the Headhunters then for the Senator was to be a judge of the costume contest. Due to his advanced age one of the younger ones got up and gave him a seat. The place was a mad house. When the bars closed the tide of people came in. Roby and Candy Lee did the honors by introducing all the contestants.

The judges (The Senator and Dotty) had a rough time trying to decide which one was the best. There were at least a dozen who would have taken first in any number of contests.. Tommy was the eventual winner.

Meanwhile over at The Last Resort another contest was under way. This was won by Don Winters. The place did not clear out until Jim finally had to tell everyone to go home. This was at six in the morning.

In another part of town earlier in the Evening, Turk Street had been roped off and was the scene of one of the finest celebrations in years for that part of town.

Yes, San Francisco, "The Paris of The West" had a big time on Halloween.

HELP FROM A.C.L.U.?

We are in possession of a series of letters which we quote in part: To ACLU, 156 Fifth Ave, NY, NY:

"Of course I am deeply interested in the whole field of civil liberties and the relation of the individual to the law, otherwise I would not have joined the Union in the first place. However, I am most particularly interested in one facet, namely: The situation of the sexual deviate, his (or her) relationship with the (usual) punitave) agencies of the law, and the whole question of sexual relationships among consenting adults."

It has been widely stated in San Francisco as well as elsewhere, by competent sources that the Union is not interested in this matter or has reacted in a hostile way when approached with regard to specific cases. I would greatly appreciate clarification of the Union's position.

I am looking forward to your reply."

Very truly yours,

FROM THE ACLU, NEW YORK, NEW YORK

"Thank you very much for your September 26th letter asking the Union's position with respect to the issue of sexual relations among consenting adults. I am enclosing two statements which will explain the position we have taken up to now. It is true that we have not yet tackled the basic question, only for the reason that we thought it necessary to have the Supreme Court's thinking in this area before considering the matter."

You may remember that the Union argued very forcefully in a birth control case a few years ago that the 14th amendment did cover the right of married people to purchase and use contraceptive devices. We had hoped that once the high court accepted this view we could then analyze other kinds of sexual relations among adults on the basis of the Court's ruling. Unfortunately, the Supreme Court refused to decide the case on the ground that no person actually had been arrested under the Connecticut law barring the sale or use of contraceptives. A new case has been brought based on an actual arrest and we hope that the Court will in the next year or two decide on this generic issue. Once we have this legal guide as I said above, we will be in a better position to consider other sexual practices. This may sound like a long time to wait, but in a field as sensitive as this it is wiser to have the Court's thinking before plunging into a case which might set us back considerably."

Sincerely yours
Alan Reitman
Associate Director

To ACLU New York
Dear Mr. Reitman

Thank you for your letter of October 3 and the interesting enclosures. I have considered at length what action I should take in the light of the information so transmitted. Finally I have concluded that it is not in my interest to continue as a member of the ACLU. I am accordingly returning my membership card which is attached.

The conclusion I draw from the articles in Civil Liberties No. 150 and from your letter, is that the ACLU is not interested in a probably expensive campaign to test the constitutionality of state laws which have wide popular support. The result has been that many individuals have been forced to undergo exactly the same expensive, humiliating procedure in trials in which the safeguards of liberty so often and rightfully defended by the ACLU have been lacking, and have indeed been replaced by prejudice and lynch law.

The ACLU's position, as I understand it (is) that it will not try to test the validity of laws regulating sexual relations (and) is inconsistent with its frequent challenge of laws and administrative actions at all governmental levels, where, for instance, property rights or theoretical minority party privileges are at stake, and violations of the First Fifth or Fourteenth Amendments to the Constitution is far from obvious.

Also the ACLU has moved with vigor against unconstitutional actions based on race, religion or ancestry, to the point that such abuses are now largely eliminated. Now it certainly seems time to act in the field of sexual relations between consenting adults where popular and legal attitudes result daily in the denial of civil liberties, not to mention jeopardy of livelihood and reputation of millions of persons."

Very truly yours,

Policy statement adopted by the Union's Board of Directors, January 1957:

The American Civil Liberties Union is occasionally called upon to defend the civil liberties of... (social... variants). It is not within the province of the Union to evaluate the social validity of the laws aimed at the suppression or elimination of... (social variants). We recognize that overt acts of... (social variance)... constitute a common law felony and that there is no constitutional prohibition against such state and local laws on this subject as are deemed by such states or communities to be socially necessary or beneficial. Any challenge to laws that prohibit and punish public acts of... (social... variance)... or overt acts of soliciting for the purpose of committing a... (act of social variance)... is beyond the province of the Union.

In examining some of the cases that have come to our attention, however we are aware that... (social... variants)... like members of other socially heretical or deviant groups are more vulnerable than others to official persecution, denial of due process in prosecution and entrapment. As in the whole field of due process, there are matters of proper concern for the Union and we will support the defense of such cases that come to our attention.

Some local laws require registration when they enter the community of persons who have been convicted of a... (social variant)... act. Such registration laws, like others requiring registration of persons convicted of other offenses are in our opinion unconstitutional. We will

N.Y. SCENE ON THE ARTS

By Larry Campbell

The other evening a WBAI-FM staff member and I went onto the Bowery to tape a program. Our talks with the denizens of the "Street of Forgotten Men" revealed some sobering facts about the lives of winos and the lives of some social variances. They were there too, filling up and down the Bowery, living from one bottle to the next. At one point a couple of negroes in their early 20s flitted by.

"They're Munny House Boys our guide remarked. "Munny House" is the nickname for the Municipal Welfare Center right off the Bowery, which is run by the City of NY in an attempt to feed, clothe and house and rehabilitate the down and outers.

With men 'on the bum', social lines, education differences, and social backgrounds are greatly modified by the bond of common misery. Still, even here the social variant walks alone.

Two days later, our much planned group interview with eight girls was taped. Earlier a broadcast of the female "Live and Let Live" program seemed a certainty. However the past week WBAI broadcast an interview with an ex-FBI agent who alleged the FBI was anti-negro, anti-semitic and anti-liberal. The results appear to be tapped telephone lines and an almost-paranoiac caution on the part of WBAI about taking on anything controversial within the next few weeks. However, we have submitted the tape for audition and are hoping for its broadcast within a few months.

The Village Voice ran a series of two articles on the social variant. In the first article a number of organizations were mentioned including LCE. In the second article the variants' labyrinth of Law and Social Custom were examined. Both articles were well researched in this writers opinion and extremely fair. (Ed. Note: In my opinion there were poorly researched) The Voice is now accepting public advertisement for various organizations and announcing speakers and programs. The first ad is publicizing Paul Goodman's forthcoming talk on "Protective Organizations for the Social Variant" such as the LCE.

On the social scene, the number of dancing bars has increased to four and everywhere new places are opening. The Bleeker Street Tavern is also reopening after having its license suspended for allowing social variants to congregate. This is especially ironic since the management of the Bleeker Street Tavern has followed a policy of discouragement.

Still and all, the 30¢ beer attracted the thirsty masses and it seems the Liquor Control Board as well.

by Randy Wickes

Here I am back again for the second round. I hope that last time I provided you with some useful information and I shall try to continue to be of some service to all of you who appreciate the Arts. Now let us talk about what's going on here culturally, shall we?

THE THEATRE

OLIVER is still at The Curran Theatre nightly except Sunday with Saturday matinees. The first act, to put it bluntly was a drag, but how magnificently the second act made up for it. The melodies in "Oliver!" are the type that grow on you. Buy the album and play it a few times and you will see what I mean. My favorites are "As Long As He Needs Me", "Consider Yourself", and "I'd Do Anything". The STAR, definitely was Clive Revell (Pagin). His every moment on stage reflected his acting skill learned at the celebrated Old Vic in London; his every gesture, stance, movement, song and dance was perfection. For that two hours and a half he was PAGIN. You can't ask more of any actor. The stage came alive when he stepped upon it in the second act and died only after the final curtain when he left it. Miss Georgia Brown as Nancy was dynamic! As it says in "Who's Who In the cast..." "The moment she sang "As Long As He Needs Me" there was no doubt in the minds of author Lionel Bart, Producer Donald Albery or Director Peter Cox that 'the girl had been found', and she proves them right night after night. Oliver, played by Bruce Prochnik was appealing and at times touching, but I'm afraid, no match for the grown-ups, this time. Which is a switch isn't it? If you haven't seen the play yet, please do yourself a favor and go. It closes November 17th, positively.

LITTLE THEATRE

If you haven't heard as yet, "Little Mary Sunshine" is a take-off on all operettas; it's a fun show, a romp and a bit of a camp! Why, there's even a Nancy song included! Purposefully cliché ridden, it's a story of the days gone by when good men were all good and bad men all bad and you can't find that kind anymore. Don Madill, as Chief Brown Bear did an outstanding job, even tho it was a small part. He was at all times the regal chief and showed magnificent control of the character. He had the voice down perfect! I listened closely throughout the show for a slip in the accent but there were no slips. I have only one criticism and that in the form of a question. A Blue eyed Indian? That is what you said isn't it Miss Kay? (Was it really such an odd question?) Steve Bradley as a Capt. "Big Jim" Warrington, was his usual virile self but somehow seemed a little uncomfortable in the part. I do approve of the new way he parts his hair! Little Mary Sunshine (Mary Potts) played with ease by pretty Peggy Keys (very properly saocarine as the part called for) was quite fetching in her 'turn of the century' gowns. Harry Grilley (Capt. Billy Jester) is certainly not one to go unnoticed for he has (to borrow a line from My Fair Lady) a voice that shatters glass. I really believe that it could. This is the second time I've seen this talented young man; last time was in "Once Upon a Mattress" in which he plays the fool, as he does in this spoof. His mugging is a wonder to behold and I dare you not to both laugh with and at him. Diane Berman, as Nancy Twinkle, certainly does. The Young Ladies from the Rochester Finishing School were all very pretty but one especially caught my eye. Miss Sammie Belcher, as Mabel is a sloop-eyed knockout. But doll, that last name on the Marquee? Never! The Young Gentlemen of the United States Forest Rangers were very striking in their scarlet jackets and tan trousers and sang and danced with skill. Also excellent in the cast; Fleet Foot, played by John Valenzuela; Mme. Ernestine Von Lienedick (Sunny Blum); General Oscar Fairfax, Retired, played with a mixture of dignity and humor (and that isn't so easy to do) by Garth Wright. A bow to the gentlemen who did the lighting; Kurt Feibush and Don Menasco; and speaking of the lights—I shall never cease to marvel at how the actors get off and on the stage in almost total darkness. The only lights in the scene is the red light over the piano in the far corner of the room and incidentally a deep bow to pianist, Lorena Swaney, who always does an outstanding job with a very rough assignment. So do you get the impression that I recommend that you see Miss Irma Kay's latest Theatre in the Round production. I DO, without fail. You may phone for reservations in advance at UN 1-1208. ### Now It Can Be Told

The Michelle International will be held at the newest room in town. It is "Jack's Hideaway Room" at Jacks Waterfront Hangout at 226 Embarcadero. Michelle has returned from Europe and in an interview has divulged a few of the topics that he will discuss on the 19th.

The Diamond Horseshoe seats are sold out and the only ones that will be available are those not picked up after being reserved.

There remains a good selection of reserved seats. A box office will be open in the Lobby of the Edgewater Hotel on the 9th and 10th of November.

The entire program on the 19th is to be devoted to Michelle's trip to Europe.

On the 20th the program will be varied. It will be emceed by Michelle and will feature such names as Jose from the Black Cat, Walter Hart from the Crossroad, Roby Landers from the Barrel House, Jerry from the Last Resort.

Also to be featured on the 20th is a fashion show composed of the finest costumes of Halloween.

Admission on the 20th is on a general admission basis only.

A souvenir program of the Michelle International will be available at the door of both shows and will be available thru the mails after the show. This program will be a big thing in days to come.

It will have a special feature for travellers of next year the good places to go all over the country.

The price is to be $1.00.

NAVY TO INVESTIGATE

In response to a letter sent to the Department of Defense with a copy to Senator Claire Engel, the Department of the Navy, Bureau of Supplies and Accounts have initiated an investigation into the clothing issued to discharges under less than honorable conditions.

Rear Admiral John Crumpacker has written to the League for Civil Education, "The Naval Supply Center, Oakland, California, has been requested to furnish a full report concerning the issuance of civilian clothing to discharges at the Naval Station, Treasure Island, San Francisco, California. It is expected that this information will be received and a complete reply made to your letter by November 23."

The officials from the Supply Depot have been in contact with the League for Civil Education and are proceeding with full scale investigation of the situation.

Any persons who have been discharged under less than honorable conditions from Treasure Island since July 1961 are requested to contact the League for Civil Education so that a more complete investigation of possible improper conduct in the handling of clothing for discharges may be made.

WHAT & WHO IS L.C.E.?

The League for Civil Education is a group of persons who believe that there is an ultimate justice embodied in the Constitution of the United States and that thru Legislative education and judicial hearings that justice can be attained.

The League is governed by a Board of Directors of 15 persons. Practically all the directors are either self employed or hold down professional or semi-professional positions.

For instance: The President, Guy Strait, is a Manufacturers Representative; the first vice president is a hotel owner; the second vice president is a clerk; the treasurer is a loan company executive; the Secretary is an executive secretary. None of the officers are paid officers.

The Board of Directors decides what programs are to be followed by the President who is guided in his decisions by an Executive Committee composed of the 1st vice president and the treasurer.

The Board of Directors meets the first Monday of each month at which any member of the League is welcome.

With the League, as with most other organizations, there is a great deal of work. All this is done by volunteers who may or may not be members of the League.

The services of the League are available to all without regard to membership. In fact, out of the dozens of cases where attorneys were furnished without charge to persons who were subjected to false arrest, entrapment, and harassment, not a single one was a member of the League.

The employment placement of the League has had to take a back seat to the legal work. However we are still providing jobs to some 20-30 persons per week. Practically none of these are members of the League.

With this in mind many have asked then what is the advantage of being a member of the League. In a way this is difficult to answer. But probably the best answer is that the members of the League have taken this step primarily because they would like to be a part of the organization that is trying to do something about the various facets of life that have been so long inescapable. Let us say that members of the League are leaders in the Community who are tired of being second class citizens and altho they individually can do nothing, they are willing to put up a little money for the League to erase this stigma.

The membership of the League is highly confidential. Only the President and the Treasurer have knowledge of who is a member. Money coming into the League either for the War Chest, subscriptions, memberships or outright donations are listed on a deposit slip and filed. There is a strict accounting for all funds coming into and going out of the Treasury. The War Chests for instance are opened only in the presence of witnesses and the money therein is counted on the spot.

The primary expenditures of the League are for printing, supplies for the paper and legal expenses. There is no rent, telephone, nor salaries paid. As the League grows, this is going to become impossible but for the time being, every penny that comes in is used in the interest of the Community.

In the current drive for money to carry on the fight to secure constitutional rights, there will be no expenditures except for actual legal fees. The League and the L.C.E. News are financing all the other expenses of the drive. No collection agencies are being paid, no public relations men are being paid, no overhead, no printing is being paid out of the funds collected by the War Chest.

Altho many members of the Board do not identify themselves, it is safe to say that every gathering place of the Community has one or more representatives of the Board of Directors.

To put it simply-The League for Civil Education is a group of persons who want something to be done and are willing to work to see that it is done.

ROVING REPORT

Now to get right down to cases, it is something of a relief that Halloween is past again. If we have to live thru that every year no wonder the grey hair is popping out.

But let's see just what did happen for the past two weeks.

Down at the Last Resort the cast of Oliver! from the Curran came down to see the production there. Reports were that they enjoyed it. After a little while I started to enjoy it myself. But still not so much as Jerry singing in "Gypsy". But if we mention that boys name one more time he is going to get a swelled head.

Then when we went out to Dori the other night we ran into our old time friend Carmen. This is the first time we had seen him out in so long that we thought he had gone to work for the ABC.

I believe that the funniest thing about Halloween was when the car for Norman was being decorated a group of officers were trying to read the signs from a block away. Especially the one that read: Stop False Arrest.

It just occurred to me: Why didn't we go around 'tricking and treating' for the LCE War Chest just like the lot so old ones did for UNICEF.

Everyone talking about the feud between Jose and the Senator should remember the long time friendship and be sure there is a feud before trying to add fuel to the flame. You know it could be just a gag.

Speaking of feuds - The big one in the H'Burners should come to a halt. Both parties are too nice to be in bad graces with each other.

Talking to one of the parties on the City Slopes of Beuna Vista who wanted to know about our correspondence with the officials. Here it is: The President, The Governor's Office, and The State Attorney General all answered our letters. The U.S. Attorney General, Robert Kennedy did not.

I suppose he was out looking for yet another Kennedy to run for office.

This is being written on Tuesday, E-Day. Last night on Controversy, a Sunday midnight program on KMPX-FM, a caller asked the most embarrassing of all questions: "Is your name really Charles Stuart or ———? Who is Charles Stuart - Listen and see if you can recognize the voice."

A Stock Market Watcher swears that it is true that the quotations for Levi Strauss jumped four points when it was announced that the ABC was going to have men 'dress and act like them'. And then of course there is the Agent who started wearing Levis and found that he had so many new and different friends that now he wears them all the time.

Up on Turk Street when they roped off the street for Halloween, one of the regular prostitutes there went up to a uniformed officer and asked: "Do you know me?" The Officer very solemnly answered: "No, Miss, but if I see you in that garb tomorrow night it will be an even dozen times that you have been arrested for impersonating this year."

Then there was the one who was picked up by John Law in front of a Polk Street Establishment. - Took him into the station - checked him out for pills - allowed him to use the right dressing room to replace his costume and then delivered him back to the bar. Now there were private busses and custom built conveyances, but how many arrived at the parties in a new squad car.

During the festivities at Jacks one very gracious gentleman asked Mary, one of the owners, "Lady could I help you get in this place?"

Keep hearing the rumor that the show scheduled for the Hideaway Room is sold out. Not so! Only the Diamond Horseshoe seats are all sold.

One owner insists that people come to his place of business merely because he is such a popular person. No amount of reasoning is going to change that ones outlook. Not even his analyst has been able to do anything to correct that impression.

Had a call from some people in NY last week who were going to be in SF for a few hours before going to Honolulu. Wanted to make a few of the spots before takeoff time. They have been here for a week now. Look, Kids if you want to see the Hula (Honolulu Twist) and still get back to NY on the 7th you had better get on that plane now.

Then there was Eddie who we met at one of the Embarcadero Places. Eddie had picked up a copy of the News at the 'Sharecropper' in Memphis and started out to see the Town. So far as we know he only made one. But did he live it up there.

You want to be sure and watch such publications as Escapade, Playboy and Harpers for some stories soon to be published.

Kish was down at the Last Resort the other night being so nice to the Senator that it was almost embarrassing. But he did get his name in the Roving Report.

With the Bubbly Water flowing so freely at D'Oak on that night one of the biggest tasks was to keep it from being spilled on you. One of the novices in that sort of costume was the first victim. In a most noticeable spot. Said he: "I know that I am excited but not that excited".

"Crazy Like a Fox Tommy" from the Fantasy would have taken the prize if there had been one for the 'Best Original Costume.' There was very little original costuming this year. We particularly missed the one who lately has been painting himself all over. Last year he was a peacock. We would like to talk to him, by the way.

For the benefit of those who do not know where Jack's Hideaway Room is, we are going to have out the big searchlights for the night of Michelle International.

Very few reports have come up from Los Angeles regarding the Celebration there except from one who said that Selma Blvd. was so deserted that one of the Sellers there was thinking of wiring the President asking that this street be declared a 'Disaster Area' With the stupid goings on regarding the little ones avoiding the VD Check UP believe me, Selma Blvd. is a Disaster Area. But then Thank God most of them can't read.

From New York we hear a report of 100 being arrested in a nite spot. I do not have any more details but we expect to see the reports soon. Just had a call from NY that says it is true.

But then to the brighter side - We just talked to the Mayflower Lounge in Oklahoma City and they tell us of the good times there. It just goes to show you that tolerance follows the sun.

In an additional effort to raise funds for the L.C.E. War Chest, the Hula Shack is going to have a Turkey Shoot.

There will be a door prize of a turkey for the person holding the lucky number, Norman tells me that you do have to be present to win because he sure as the devils isn't going to chase all over town looking for the lucky person.

The other turkey will be given to the lucky person holding the other number to be drawn from the hat. You will get a ticket for each and every contribution to the War Chest, regardless of the amount of the donation.

Nancy is in charge of the bar that evening as usual and will see to it that all are properly served with drinks.

Another person who gave heavily to the War Chest was Mitch who gave all his tips last Friday to the effort.

Names, Dates, Places

The following lengthy article is published in keeping with the idea that the LCE News will publish letters of dissent.

The names, dates, places of the crimes perpetrated by the agencies of government were not published for a specific reason. We have seen white washes in government before and we do not propose that this be the next whitewash.

The attorneys for the League are among the most competent in the area. Everything that is done is in accordance with their direction.

Altho the writer asks for names, etc it is interesting to note that he does not wish to have his used.

We are always happy to have letters of disagreement. We will publish as many as space permits.

It is well within the realm of my being to acknowledge the League's challenge to print articles upholding the individuals freedom under the present law of the State and of the Constitution of the United States, but after reading the latest article entitled "We Must Fight Now" printed 15 October 1962, my immediate response is - let us quit this pretense. We accuse - They accuse; We declare fruitlessly, they move quickly; we are fully aware of the effect - they affect arrests. So the inevitable game of the "Musical Chairs" continues. Can one not see that this problem, mine as well as many others, cannot be remedied or justified by the continued emotions rendered by both sides.

To each individual, his own personality is the basis of his emotions, and these emotions are formed by his own rearing, by the social structure of that particular environment from which he was raised. It is noteworthy, therefore, to take into consideration this thought. No matter how specific the law may read, it can only be administered by a person with emotions - both pro and con. It might be pity; it might be a great hatred because of some particular incident; it might be strictly for material values such as position or political wise; it could be for any number of reasons. So, it is not therefore unreasonable to say that we must fight now, knowing that we, as intelligent people, will gain nothing more than continued paths with abrupt dead ends but rather conclude that it is most reasonable that we should discuss this condition openly and frankly so that all have some understanding of it.

If the League for Civil Education must file suit to enjoin the State of California to cease the illegal enforcement of discriminating practices against certain segments of our population, the least that I can do is appreciate the Editor's wording "Discriminating practices against certain segments of our population". One sits back in awe and wonders, could this have anything to do with the upcoming election? I wonder whose jobs are at stake? Of course it could be political opportunity being turned in the battlefield once again with the social variant as it's main target.

Funny, it always gets this way a little before elections.

I agree with the League in filing suit, but I sincerely request and advise the Editor - If you must print such articles have a legal form drawn by a competent attorney stating the true, hard facts. Print this my friend. Not what you have put on the front page of the 15th of October Issue. Quote "Fear has been instilled in employees and patrons by the constant harassment of employees and patrons." What kind of fear? By whom was it instilled? Quote: "In that law enforcement agencies have conspired to curb the freedom of the press by attempting to intimidate advertisers; by refusing press privileges; by forcefully removing this paper from the places of business where it was posted, all without the permission of the owner or the Editor. What particular agency? Names? Who are the advertisers? Won't they stand up for their own rights? Where were the papers removed from? Who removed them? I strongly recommend a repeat of this particular article, "We Must Fight Now", but only in the way that it is openly frank - and to the point - and documented in legal form by a competent attorney.

Our country was based on Puritan factors and our forefathers were a breed of powerful and individual men who sought freedom with their lives. During these times, the families were the strongest unity in American History and every day life evolved in and around the family as a group function. But even these men, with the strong unity of the family based on the moral codes and the fear of God were forbidden to discuss certain subjects mainly relative to sex. Our social attitudes have changed greatly in the family and religion. People are still reluctant to discuss issues which have a bearing on us all. Social variance until recently was regarded in the same way. This attitude still exists in many institutions and is considered taboo to many narrow-minded individuals, who I might reluctantly add, hold official offices governing this particular segment of life. Yet, in spite of this attitude, social variants are obviously not as evil as some might say and often, like Leonardo de Vinci are very creative. We must knock down this prudery of the past. This is our main objective. This is our greatest battle with social adjustment. If we can get across and say to the people, "Clear your minds of cant and forget the pronouncements of the pompous, the dicta of the all-wise columnists (who know nothing about it) and the rash statements of those who rush into print, often for personal prejudice, and try to understand social variance sensibly from its cause, its occurrence, and most of all its social significance, then the battle is won.

It is important to understand social variance, not only for its own sake as a social symptom, but also on account of its relationship to the various degrees of impairment of potency so frequently encountered today. Current popular interest in the subject has drawn attention to a need for enlightenment through frank and open attention by all concerned. The outpourings in newspapers and periodicals and innumerable published letters, evidently emanating from people who are quite aware of the mass of data and knowledge which science has accumulated and annotated make one think that even a little light is better than none, where all is in darkness. As I said, most of these writers do not attempt to disguise the fact that their opinions, often dogmatic, are emotionally determined - and what is more - are not in any way influenced by anything other than emotions. They even boast as much. It seems unlikely that if the debate were upon a natural science, such as nuclear physics, they would be so eager to display their ignorance and to assume that their opinion or bias was other than subjective. It is hard for any of us to look upon any matter truly objectively, but both sides must try their utmost, and then and only then will (Continued on P. 11) down

STRAIT TALKS TO ABC

In response to an invitation to confer with Mr. Lockyer of the Sacramento Office of the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control and Mr. Sidney Fineberg, Chief of the Northern California Division of that Department the Editor of this Newspaper, Mr. Guy Strait met in the State Building offices of the Department on Monday October 29th.

The officials of the ABC were interested in the names and dates of the violations of the freedom of the press. Specifically which ones of our advertisers had been intimidated and where the paper had forcefully been removed from the premises of our advertisers.

Since that information is to be the basis of a suit, Mr. Strait did not divulge it. Altho assured by Mr. Lockyer that "we will investigate and take action", Mr. Strait still did not feel that this information should be given at that time.

Later in the discussion Mr. Strait asked the officials what they really wanted in the way of behavior in the bars. Mr. Lockyer replied that Mr. Fineberg told the Daughters of Bilitis what we wanted. Mr. Strait replied that this was a couple of years ago and would like to know exactly what was required. To this Mr. Lockyer replied that they wanted bars "where a man could go in without having his privates grabbed all the time". Mr. Strait replied that the behavior described by Mr. Lockyer is uncommon and happens most of the time only in the reports of the ABC agents.

Both officials were interested in knowing what attorneys were going to represent the League in the forthcoming action.

In talking to Mr. Strait later as regards this interview he said, "I do not think that anything can be accomplished by talking to the ABC because they are determined to close each and every bar by whatever means it takes, that does not meet with the specific approval of the Agency. I feel that the course they have chosen is going to lead to payoffs, blackmail and the mass entrance of the rackets from the East into our state. Then Heaven help everyone concerned."

$2,000

The War Chest has gone over the 50% mark in the original amount needed to finance the suits against the law enforcement agencies to secure protections guaranteed in the Constitution. However the contributions have slowed down. So we find ourselves again having to beat the drums to raise the additional amount.

This is going to be a long, long, fight and the only way it can be done is by everyone pitching in and trying to help as much as they can.

Everything is going to be voluntary and no one will be individually asked to contribute.

The League for Civil Education can expect no support from any other social or educational or other type organization. All of them seem to feel that it is better to live in a constant state of fear and persecution than it is to try to better themselves if they can.

The only person who can do anything constructive about the situation is YOU.

It is strictly up to you as to how far and how fast this thing is to be done. With the tide of court opinions and laws running against us it is not without some misgiving that we look at the coming legislative year.

In the last week we have heard of four more bars that have been closed and twelve more frivolous arrests. Are you sure that the next one is going to be someone else, not you?

POLK STREET

The Editor, together with another member of the Board of Directors of the League for Civil Education visited a meeting of the Polk Street Merchants Association last month.

The meeting was chaired by Mr. Kaplanis, operator of "Mr. K's Liquor Store". After the discussion of some of the problems of the merchants of that area the discussion got around to the problem of social variants in the Polk Street Area. Mr. Kaplanis then told the gathering that "they", meaning the variants, "had their own newspaper and it carried a list of places to shop". Also that this newspaper was published by the Mattachine Society. At this point the Editor asked to be recognized and then told the gathering that he was "the Editor of the newspaper in question", but the impression was incorrect. He also told the merchants that he had just been on Polk Street and some of the clothing worn there was an abomination, but hardly illegal and that if they do not want the business of the social variant, all they need do is to put a sign in their window to that effect and they will not then be at all bothered with it.

Mr. Kaplanis later in talking with the Editor said that "Mothers, the PTA and others were always calling him and objecting to some of the variants in the neighborhood. After the meeting, the Editor and Mr. Kaplanis had several talks. Mr. Kaplanis objected to rumors that had been circulated to the effect that he had been "pointing out persons on the streets that he took exception to." He later said that he "had not ridden in a squad car in that vicinity except to and from the other parts of town. He said that all the reports must have originated with one of the bar owners in the neighborhood who had been at odds with him. However the person mentioned was not at all known to the Editor.

Mr. Kaplanis said that he would "welcome anyone at any time to come to him with their problems and would see that they got a fair shake."

Mr. Kaplanis assured the Editor that he would see that a representative of the LCE was invited to the Police Department Community Problems meetings.

Any questions to be submitted to Mr. Kaplanis will be forwarded by the LCE News if a reader desires. There were 7 merchants and about 12 other people at the meeting.

to discuss a satisfactory compromise. I say that social variance is a subject which, even though the enormous studies and facts gathered by great men of medicine, cannot be traced to cause or cure. The best we can do about this subject as about all the phenomena of nature, is to study it, sift the facts from the untruths, and go on doing this until understanding is feasible or realized.

Unless a deliberate attempt is made by society, acting thru objective agencies of the law, to balance the spheres of crime with that of sin, there must remain a realm of private morality and immorality which is, in brief and crude terms, not the law's business. In other words, to emphasize the personal and private nature of moral and immoral conduct is to emphasize the personal and private responsibility which a mature individual can be properly expected to exercise without the threat of punishment from the law. Do not misunderstand - I for one am dead against any type of crime against society, and I do further believe that when a social variant is arrested for just cause, it is no exaggeration to say that a great number of our judges not only tend to listen to the police as a basis on which to render their decision on social variants but social variance itself. As regards their assignment relating to crime there is some justification, but to my mind crime is crime and has not necessarily anything to do with social variance. Freud wrote to a mother once concerning her son: "I gather from your letter that you do not mention this term yourself in your information about him. May I question you why you avoided it?" Social variance is assuredly no advantage, but it is not to be ashamed of, no vice, no degradation, it cannot be classified as an illness; we consider it to be a variation of sexual function produced by a certain sexual development. Many highly respected individuals of ancient and modern times have been social variants. Several of the greatest men among them (for instance Plato, Michaelangelo, da Vinci, etc) It is a great injustice to persecute social variance as a crime.

To The Chief

We have written the following letter to the Chief of Police of San Francisco.

"This writer has been highly critical of the methods and tactics of the Police Department of San Francisco. However, we believe in credit where due.

It is to this end that this letter is written. Your entire department is to be congratulated on the way they handled the big crowds on Halloween. Officers that we saw on duty seemed to sense the jovial nature of the participants and brought credit upon the Police Department of San Francisco.

A large number of our readers have either called us or have written to us commenting upon the understanding displayed by your department.

A very large THANK YOU SIR for a safe, sane Halloween.

San Francisco, the City International. Biased Baghdad by the Bay, using Herbie's hackneyed phrases.

Where they bed with the Black Man at night and furtively secret him from their homes in the morning. Any other nationality, former gestapo agents, even Big K was greeted with open arms. Only the very superficial public places are open to him. He remains a phantom, a spectre caught in the middle of a social structure bent on keeping him in his place. The only time his face appears in the news or on Television is in relationship to crime.

So old Baggie by the Stinking Bay don't hold up your bulbous alcoholic nose at Ole Miss. At least they had enough integrity to say it aloud. To scream it from the roof tops.

So he walks alone in the night. A black spectre in a black night. His heart heavy with pain, knowing that the City he loves, that he holds dear to his heart is but a Citadel against him. Yet he would put forth his hand He would say 'open your doors, I'm here not to destroy you but to create, to mold, to build. Do not withdraw your hand from me. I am not to be feared, my heart is open to you. Beneath this ebon surface is a great heart. I have the heart and hands of a master creator. This is my message to the world—the only way in which I am able to convey my inner self".

THE UNDESIRABLES

It has been suggested that the League might well 'soft-pedal' the fight for regaining the rights guaranteed citizens because of a small minority who consistently bring discredit upon the whole. The fact that some people talk, act, and dress in poor taste has been given as sufficient reason for withholding privileges of citizenship from the entire Community.

It has been suggested that we 'cease fire' until "something has been done" so that those who behave in poor taste might become educated to their social responsibility.

For the entire length of the Editors' memory there have been psychologists' group theories. We have heard of social variance spoken of in the same breath as so many social ills that we wonder if anyone has a real interest or if they are merely parroting someone who has gone before.

We must reject all theories that include all types of social variance.

There is only one field in which there is a common meeting place for all those who find themselves at odds with the general norm. It is aptly described in the documents that are the foundation of the United States. Such descriptions as "all men are created equal....and are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights" and "Congress.... shall make no laws abridging the freedom of the press or of the right of the people to peaceably assemble", and "No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States....nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the law".

The common meeting grounds of all Americans lie within these descriptions. Regardless of any other 'big or little differences'.

Nothing is said about whether or not the persons involved dress in the mode laid down by society; nothing is said about the amount of starch required for the wrist of the persons involved. Not one word is uttered about the tenor of the speech involved!

The Editor is not so foolish as to wish to see San Francisco become a gathering place for every oddball that is born in the United States. We would hate to see an increase of limp wrist-tight pants-flamboyant behaviorism-screaming voices. In fact we would do everything in our power to prevent it. That is everything short of withholding the one thing that we all are guaranteed, the rights of citizenship in the United States. For a whole segment of the population to forfeit those rights that are basic in the American Tradition because of this very small group is pure dictatorship. And it is exactly this that we are fighting. Put simply, our fight is to determine whether we shall be governed by the Constitution or by a handfull of would-be dictators.

For anyone to say that 'this group is not yet ready to receive the benefits of the Constitution is 'big brotherism' at its worst.

Does not the correction of the objectionable lie within ourselves rather than within the framework of the Constitution? Is it not for us to police our ranks rather than attempt to educate them while all are deprived of their rights?

But then, the objectionable elements are not the slightest interested in anyone other than themselves. They do not read this paper, nor any paper. You can talk to them till Hell freezes over and it will not make the slightest impression. The Editor has tried. While you are talking 'social responsibility' they are talking about their latest conquest which is probably about as truthful as a fairy tale.

They are living in a dream world. They feel as they parade up and down Market that they are admired by all. It is not admiration. Even in the eyes of those who understand the situation, there is nothing but a sincere pity. But you can not get this idea across.

The swivel-hipped is swivel-hipped for one reason. This is to attract attention. Sure, this does attract attention. Just exactly the same kind of attention that a three headed calf would attract. A freak show!

The show window type is one that also suffers from hallucinations. He feels that the stares he gets are admiration. Hardly. Good merchandise is not displayed thusly. Only the fire sale and going-out-of-business establishments display merchandise thusly. But, as in the case of fire sales if you look a little closer you will see that the merchandise is shoddy. But do not deprive this one of the rights of American Citizenship merely because he does not understand merchandising.

Those who advertise by word of mouth - screeching across Market with terms of endearment are also on the sicklist. But then he feels that he needs to attract attention to his condition. This is totally unnecessary. Even a Guide Dog for the Blind can recognize one of these. But must we deprive 90% of the right to peaceably assemble merely because there are a few ill talented actors without stages?

Then there is the pure whore. They will be with us forever and it is not purely a Community problem. But no other group forfeits freedom because of prostitution.

We reject completely the idea that 90% of any group shall be denied freedom because of the actions of 10%. Had

Moment of Truth

As the financial picture now stands, our suit against repressive governmental action will not go forward to the extent that we had previously hoped and desired. To be brutally frank, the response from a small percentage of the persons involved has been overwhelming. From the majority it is the same apathy we have become accustomed to over a period of time.

We shall not give up but shall draw in our horns a little bit, that is unless there is an unforeseeable increase to the donations to the War Chest. We needed $5,000 by the end of this month and we have received only about $3,000.

This will not keep us from the filing of the major suit. We have had a great number of persons who have said that they would support us once we have filed suit. If sincere, we appreciate this. However our experience has been to the contrary. We have been listening to the 'if you will do thusly' group for some months now without avail.

Then there is fear. We heard of a conversation with a bar owner. This bar has never supported anything that anyone ever did. When we took the boxes around last Christmas he did not want to become involved in the collection of toys for orphans. When we were interested in Muscular Dystrophy he did not want to become involved; when we went out on our initial membership drive he did not want us to come to his place. All this because he feels that he does not cater to this sort of trade. If the Editor told his readers what place this is, they would have a big laugh.

Then there are those who feel we are going too fast. Hell, we have been going too slow all this time and it is merely the change of pace that is different, not the speed.

We know that there are good and valid reasons why some cannot give to the War Chest. This we recognize and appreciate but those who have consistently found fault with everything that anyone has attempted cannot be excused for those reasons. It is a little like the old saying: "Why don't you two fight and then I will see which side I am going to be on."

If it is the desire of the Community that this matter be pressed to the utmost and if they feel that they too, are Americans, then we ask that two steps be taken immediately: 1) Make your contribution to the War Chest and ask your friends to do the same;

2) Patronize our advertisers. Altho they may not agree with our editorial policy, they at least agree that we have a right to be heard. This is not to say that those who do not advertise with us are against us. But they are not putting their dollars in the same place as their belief.

But the moment of truth is upon us. To what extent shall we attempt to secure our rights.

It is up to you.

Michelle

Michelle opened Jack's Hideaway room with a benefit for the L.C.E. War Chest that was far beyond anything that has been done in San Francisco since Janet MacDonald sang that famous song while the buildings came tumbling down.

The Michelle Internation was billed as "Michelle tells of the preparations for his trip, the travel, and his return". Actually it was the Michelle of old who has entertained the most critical audiences for some time here in San Francisco. The show started out slowly, probably because he was sticking too close to the prepared program but within a few minutes he warmed up to a fast clip, keeping his audience in laughter.

Occupying a major portion of the saw was talk of Halloween. Franklin, who was sitting in the Loge - and who in fact had take the entire Loge section came in for a large portion of the discussion. The Advent of Franklins ride atop a bus down Montgomery Street and some vignettes of the past history of their feud got the crowd in stitches.

Michelle was ably attended by his very close friend Royal. Royal also is responsible for the production of the Fashion Show on the 20th.

WHO READS L.C.E. NEWS?

The question is presented to the Editor many times each issue. It is published for one class of people. That class of people encompasses all races, creeds, religions and sexes. The L.C.E. News is published solely for persons who believe:

Do You Believe

In the appraisal of thoughts involved in our forthcoming court action, we find that a number of soul-searching questions must be answered by each person involved. There are a great number of side issues that can cloud the primary goal but a clear concise group of questions are basic.

Do you believe that the police departments of the various cities are enforcing the law - or are they enforcing what they believe to be the moral code of this country?

Do you believe, in California, that the bars catering to social variants are so evil that they are to be denied equal protection under the law?

Do you believe that across the country that the social variant has the equal protection of the laws?

Do you believe that when the Constitution was written and the words inscribed "certain inalienable rights - that social variants were to be expressly excluded?"

Do you believe that in the United States there is hope for equality in law?

Do you believe that our laws, as written excludes the social variant from gaining rights thru judicial processes?

Think these questions over. See if your minor misgivings about this fight outweigh the basic principles involved. If you feel that you want to secure the rights guaranteed you then let your dollars fight for you.

A Noble Cause

The Lucinda Weeks School for Multiple Handicapped Children will hold a Christmas Festival and Gift Sale at the Hall of Flowers, Saturday, November 24.

This organization provides day care for children who are victims of various crippling diseases. It is not a member of the United Fund and if for no other reason deserves the support of the Community. The Gift Sale provides a major portion of the operating fund for the year.

There is to be entertainment by the Berkeley Puppeteers with wandering musicians and a Magician. From 5 to 7 in the evening a dinner will be served at $1.50 per person.

The gifts are to be sold from a collection made earlier in the year of 'white elephants'.

Kill that Rumor

There is a persistent rumor in San Francisco that needs to be squelched. It goes something like this: "As soon as George Christopher got into his office the day after election, he called in Chief Cahill and some of the other officials and said that he wanted to bear down on those that opposed him during the election and he wanted the town 'closed down'."

This rumor has come to us by the hundreds. It should be squelched.

So far as we can determine there is no truth whatsoever in the gossip. In the first place it should be understood that we are no particular friends of Mr. Christopher but we do feel that he would not do such a thing. We feel that there is a multitude of reasons why Mr. Christopher would not take this action. Probably the first reason is that he is too big a man to stoop to these tactics, and more than likely just can't be bothered.

Then too, there have been men defeated for office before even worse than Mr. Christopher and have risen above the rubble of defeat to go on to much greater things. But above all, KILL that rumor.

The Election

Contrary to the fears of some of the less politically aware readers, Leslie Rice did not get elected as State Treasurer. He ran a very poor third in a field of three.

On the basis of four of the five assembly districts in San Francisco it is safe to assume that he was successful in getting some 6000 votes from the Community. This is a very poor showing. In fact it is considered dismal.

His statewide vote (not complete) is estimated at 105,000. At least 1/3 of this should be considered as Community votes. It is safe to say on basis of survey of various precincts in San Francisco that we accounted for 90% of his votes here.

It is also safe to say that the device of using Mr. Rice as a 'vote counter' was a smashing failure. It may be because the cards planned to publicize this were not printed. It was felt that the money (about $600) that it would have taken could go to better uses in the War Chest.

In other races we feel that we contributed to the election or defeat of the candidates. In the race for Governor and Attorney General our participation was not the deciding factor but in some of the offices it very definitely was a factor.

The League for Civil Education also contributed to the downfall of the Francis Amendment call for a big witch hunt of all persons not in agreement with the powers that be.

In the coming election it is proposed that a Candidate be run to represent the community. Within a few hours after the beginning of the tabulation of the figures from this election a number of persons contacted the Editor with the idea that he stand for election. His reply, as always was, "When I am presented with a petition containing 1,000 signatures I will consider myself a candidate for whatever office the Community desires."

In the Leslie Rice Debate the following are the results by Assembly Districts:

- 18th - 1801
- 19th - 918
- 20th - 1465
- 23d - 1151

A more complete tally of the vote of the state and San Francisco is to be made available later.

Arthur Caylor, writing for the News-Call Bulletin writes of the effort as follows:

"The s-c-a-n-d-a-l they're having over in England - where John Bull's determined to find out whether a former Admiralty minister planned to elope behind the Iron Curtain with a spy-type-boy-friend - reminds me to report on the self-census of ... (social variants)... attempted in connection with the recent California election."

"Members of 'The Community' were urged to demonstrate their numbers and political strength by quietly using the Prohibition Party as a guinea pig. The theory - advanced by the League for Civil Education - was that if they all voted for that party's candidate for state treasurer, the bulge in his vote would show 'how many there are'."

"Statewide, this candidate got 106,889 votes - a lot more than the 2142 he received at the primary. In San Francisco he got 6018 votes - at the primary 12."

"Where mathematics are involved, I was never much good at figuring things out. So I don't know how much these figures should scare you. The limp-wrist population was an 'issue' in the Christopher-Wolden race for Mayor - remember? - but nobody seemed able to care less."

If you're interested in further figuring, the Prohibition candidate for governor got 69,724 votes, and the candidate for controller got 116,760 - without being made a key part of the census scheme. Four years ago a Prohibition candidate for secretary of state rolled up 129,000 votes after getting only 1530 votes in the primary. Would anybody care to join me in a state of confusion?"

(Editors Note: The vote for Rice was fairly accurate in that there was no contest as opposed to the Governors race where many did not care to vote for either candidate and the controller where some underhanded politics were rumored. The State of Confusion still exists however.)

However before the show was over, Michelle had the audience en masse sing Happy Birthday to Franklin.

The last scene of the show was done in a shower room with Michelle entering the room singing "I'm Going to Wash That Man Right Out of My Hair". The costume on entering the shower was a gold lame' bathing suit and on exiting - tights, singing all the time. The final curtain call was in leather and boots.

During the show such notables as Walter Hart, Jose' Sarria, and Jerry Knight who were in the show on the 20th were introduced as well as Rex and Mitch who were responsible for the Toulouse - Latrec decor of the Room; Bill Plath of D'Oak Room; Dori from Club Dori; John Sylva who was responsible for the major portion of the costumes; Chuch and Carlos from The Headhunters and a multitude of others.

It was a sell - out house including the standing room.

How shall we explain Michelle to our readers in Dallas, New York, Los Angeles and Chicago?

What does he do on the stage? Can he sing? Can he do dramatic parts? This writer has seen him many times and cannot say that he is a singer or a great dramatic star. Then why is it that Michelle is such a grand entertainer?

I feel that it is because he goes on the stage being purely Michelle - A person who enjoys entertaining his audience and who radiates the warmth of his personality. His total lack of pretense brings to each individual the knowledge that there is someone in the same boat as himself financially and morally.

The consensus of opinion of the 'after the show' crowd was overwhelmingly GREAT.

Take it from this reporter this was Michelle's Greatest Hour.

ROVING REPORT

This has been a hectic week. We are glad to see it come to a screeching end. This is one of those we do not want to relive.

Here in the office we have been a little busy. In addition to getting this paper put together we also had to get the Michelle International Souvenir Program together and ready for the printers.

You see this printing is done by photo-lithography. That is, we take a lot of things and paste them on a big sheet of paper, the printer takes a picture of the whole mess and then the paper is printed from the picture.

In the Michelle International we have many pictures of the costumes we saw worn last Halloween and the one before that. You know how it is when you are putting such a thing together because this one will want more space than that one and you should not put this one on the same page as that one and you have two of this one and so on.

Then there was the sale of seats—Everyone said "save me two on the front row". If we had saved seats for everyone who wanted them, on the front row then the front row would have extended from the Ferry Building to the City Hall or more aptly put from Jacks Hideaway Room to the D'Oak Room. As it is, nobody is going to be happy but 9 people who are sitting there and I am happy I had nothing to do about saying who they were to be.

Then there was the question of "top billing" for the second night of the show. All four of these are stars in their own right. Jose' is sure that it was in order of age, but then insists that it is wrong, and that he is the youngest.

Michelle says that if he ever is involved in another of these things he wants someone to take him to the psycho ward.

Several people unhappy about not being invited to be on this program but we have news — This is merely the first of several big things we are going to do—There will be opportunities aplenty later.

Went over to the Hula Shack for Nancy's Turkey Shoot. I wondered if they had clearance from the PD for this thing. Thought for a few minutes they were going to put a couple of feathers on the Senator and take pot shots at him. Especially when the Turkey Drawing at 12 turned up with Carmel winning and then at 1 am Carmel came home with the second Turkey. But then she offered it for auction with The proceeds going to the League. The Turkey, a 12 pounder was sold to an old friend from Pacific St. and Front Street days for $15.50 or $1.25 a pound. There was about $80.00 raised there for the War Chest. Those gals know how to do things.

Better watch out for the opening of the Playpen. Big deal is cooking. Sort of Romeo et Juliet

Then last week we talked to an old friend who has been down in Florida, Brandy Adams. He played at the Onyx Room at Miami Beach, Florida and spent some of his hard earned money at Frenchy's Pub. He is going to write a little for the next issue of the paper. Brandy is at the Crossroad, making a damn near all-star staff of Walter Hart and himself.

Make a note of it on your calendar of December 18. This is to be Bob Walker's birthday party at D'Oak Room. Bob is an old friend of many from The Black Cat, Bond Street and many others. I think this is his 29th birthday. Acts like an 18 year old.

But last week at D'Oak they had another celebrity, Ida Mae McKenzie from the cast of Pajama Game was there on Sunday after the show was packed up ready to go and they had one of the good times that Bill is so noted for. All singing, all acting. For people who are supposed to know what is going on around the city, we sure miss out on a lot of the fun.

Speaking of fun, it is sort of funny to observe people. One in particular. He keeps telling our advertisers that they should not be advertising in the paper but then is doing every thing possible to be mentioned in the paper. Who? Don't ask. He knows.

Now here is a real deal for some one. Stella over at the Troy Cleaners has a couple of formals, size 12 for sale. One of them cost over a hundred and fifty and she is willing to let someone have them at a measly $15.00 each. The good thing about this is that half the money she gets for them is to go to the War Chest. Maybe you have a sister who is going to make her debut and needs something like this? Call at once JO 7 - 2675 for a description of the gowns.

Watch for the expansion of Colonel Fitzgerald. This is not in the waist either.

Went into The Barrel House last Saturday to catch the show. I have been trying to get in for some time but the place is always so packed we have to say we will be back later. The doorman, not knowing different, thinking that maybe we have stumbled into the wrong place. Even so we had to wait in the Headhunters for about half and hour before we could get in.

Chuck (behind the counter not Chuck on the door) is sporting a couple of Band-aids like he might have run into a few undesirable characters. Carlos is already for the Headhunters Halloween in Technicolor scheduled for the near future. We will not be able to be there on the night he is going to show it so I guess we will have to have a private showing. How can that place hold enough people. So many are planning to be there that I wonder.

Back to The Barrel House. Blotchi Blotter is especially good in his rendition of "Wreck of Love". Takes control. Then there were a couple of new faces in the show that I have not seen before. Good show.

Rumors? No-Maurices and the SuZQ are definitely closed. Hear that at least one of them is going to fight the close order. But then when the other one that is scheduled to close finally starts shutting its doors we want to be notified so we can let everyone come by for a last drink. I especially think we should all turn out.

N.Y. SCENE

It just so happened this year that the Halloween Ball at Manhattan Center was held underneath the ballroom where the New York Police Department was having its Halloween Celebration. This is understandable since both are legitimate affairs.

When Chief Murphy entered the door to be swept aside by twenty or so partying New Yorkers, he decided that the whole affair was an outrage since those going to the other ball were dressed as woman and there was not a NY Policeman in the bunch. No doubt driven by forces too complicated to go into here, the Chief summoned the Force into action and fifty or so of the masqueraders were hustled off to jail. According to the NY Times a crowd of about 2,000 quickly dwindled thereafter.

One of the sidelights of the arrest of a very female-female and the charge....impersonation....Somehow the Police discovered that at least this girl wasn't a counterfeiter and she was released.

A few days later the NY Times carried the news of the acquittal of all those arrested except one. The Judge said the arrests had been improper since the ball was a legal licensed masquerade event. The single person not acquitted was a 19 year old Chelsea resident charged with indecent exposure.

Indecent exposure is just about what the avant garde patrons of Cinema 16 will be seeing when they view the latest production of Avant Garde. Cinema 16 is a well known operation which specializes in off beat or very advanced motion picture art forms. Previously they had seen Fireworks, a well known film with a not-so-subtle sexual theme. One of the featured players on the "Hornsbee Farm" is D. D. Griffio, well known NY Entertainer.

NY social life is taking on the indoors winter-time airs. Amateur shows in Brooklyn Heights at Gee Eses have become a Sunday Night institution. The bar scene spins for the most part without this writer. Midtown has seen Arty's reopen at the corner of 6th Avenue and 42nd Street. The atmosphere is surprisingly like that of old Arty's on 45th Street, closed a few years ago.

On the literary scene, the Realist came out with three thin issues containing the entire transcript of the radio program "Live and Let Live". Perhaps more surprisingly, Playboy magazine dropped a line to ask for a "Letter to the Editor" regarding a story they carried in the November issue. It will be interesting to see if they carry my letter in the January issue.

By Randy Wick

this been the case in 1976 we would still be a Crown Colony. Then there is another thought. We have been watching the courts of the city for two years—and have yet to see any of these arrested. What Judge would give them a 6 month vacation at County expense? Strange as it may seem it is the people that have something to lose that are arrested. If you watch one of the ABC agents at work you will find that he would much rather find someone who will plead guilty rather than face the possibility of publicity at a trial. This is the way in fact that they operate. If they can get a guilty plea then they have the bar owner dead to rights even if the person is innocent.

What then is the answer? There is no one complete answer for all cases. But in society when there is variance from the norm there is always the threat of reprisal. Shall the 90% then perform the boycott? In most of the nite-time establishments in San Francisco the 10% is not permitted. In those establishments where they are permitted it is usually with the thought in mind that they attract business. Nothing could be farther from the truth. So if a person in a place of business object to the presence of these people he has a choice to make. Either he can take his business elsewhere or he can object to the management so far as the people are concerned.

However this gains nothing. It merely puts them back out on the street where they can gain attention.

To withhold rights from these people on the part of the Community makes the Community no better than those who withhold rights from the total community.

When we read that citizens have certain rights then we have read a definite statement. No exclusions, no exceptions are laid down in the Constitution.

There very definitely is a problem but the withholding of rights is not the solution and we will not back away from our determination to regain the rights of Citizenship, EVEN FOR THE WORST OF THESE.

Employment

During the past few weeks the employment services of the League have taken a back seat so for the newcomer to our ranks we reiterate:

The League acts as a clearing house for information regarding employment. Persons call the League with the information that they have an opening or know of an opening calling for certain skills; then from the persons who have previously registered with us we will attempt to fill this position.

At the present time we have considerably more applicants than we have jobs for them.

We are in constant touch with one of the largest sources of skilled and unskilled workers in the country. We feel that they will make profitable employees. Our ranks are filled with employers of from one to one thousand men. For the employer we guarantee a man who wants a job and is willing to prove himself. Give us a call at SU 1 - 2940 to see about employees or positions. There is no obligation nor charges of any sort connected with the L.C.E. Job Referral Service.

Roving Report

Just down at Jacks where the big talk is of Michelle International. If at all possible there will be a full page of pictures of the affair in this issue.

The souvenir programs will be on hand at the League office after the show and will be available at $1.00 a copy. We have a sample copy on hand now. The first pages are of Michelle and the next two pages are of the big stars of the second night - Walter Hart of the Crossroad; Roby Landers from The Barrel House; Jose' Sarria from The Black Cat and Jerry Knight from The Last Resort. Then there is a section devoted to pictures of the costumes of Halloween. This is one of the feature attractions of the whole thing, then last but by no means least is a travel guide. In other words where to go in the United States by city. Something that has never, to our knowledge been done before. It will be a collectors item within a few months as there were only 2000 of them printed.

Back to The Last Resort - I have an inside scoop after seeing some of the rehearsals. But first a few words of what has gone before - "Gypsy" was a good show. "Oliver" was entertaining but definitely not a smash hit. "Guys and Dolls" was a stinker. Sorry, but that is the way I see it. But I am happy to say that the upcoming "Once upon a Mattress" promises to equal if not exceed "Gypsy". If it does not come up to expectations then you can get out the tar and feathers. But you must wait for the feathers until after next Halloween.

Then we just heard from Norman at the Hula Shack. We were wondering if he would be able to think up a party for the dead period between Thanksgiving and Christmas and sure enough he did. It is to be a "Twixt Party", you see, "twixt Thanksgiving and Xmas". All it takes is imagination you see.

If you are viewing the wall decor at The Tool Box you should know that they were executed by one of Broadway's leading set designers. I have only seen the first one completed, as the work is going slowly. We went over there last week and saw Vern and then from Los Angeles there was George Wilton and in a separate party, Russell Johnson and Randy de Mille of Selma Blvd in Hollywood.

Started to abbreviate Hollywood, but we hear from the outlands such as New York and Chicago that they do not understand the abbreviation 'H'Burner' so for them alone we will tell you of the meaning. There is a group of the finest coiffeurs in all San Francisco who have for years congregated along the Embarcadero at Jacks. They are all close friends when they do not have their knives out and travel very much in a pack. So we have a name for them, "Hairburners" or in an abbreviation "H'Burners". OK? Now one of the outlanders from the far reaches of the Big Thicket in Texas, a former San Franciscan who moved (in a fit of insanity) back to Cleveland, Texas who wants to know the meaning of BWASS. Dear John: You remember when you were living here that there was a bar noted for the length of time that it took a customer to drink a beer? Well they are closed now but the bar that replaced them is known here as BWASS. You see, they do not want to be mentioned in these columns, as is said in the Justice Weekly.

We know that we rarely make mistakes. In spelling as well as facts we are usually correct. However, in reporting the Halloween scene we did make one of our rare errors. In the story about the scene at The Last Resort it was reported that Don Winters was the winner of the first prize. Not so. It was Dave Russell. A very convincing performer. Our apologies.

Understand that the sale of Butch Bath Oil boomed here in the Bay Area. All my life I thought you went to the bath to remove the body oils and now at this age I find that you are supposed to use the stuff. Have an order in for some.

The party in Los Angeles at the Apache was a big success. No report-unpleasantness with Parker. Do you think it possible that the Hollywood Citizens News has finally caught on?

I think that everyone in San Francisco joins me in our sincere regrets on hearing of the serious illness of Darryl's mother. Darryl has been in and out of town, visiting her whenever possible. The Jumpin' Frog is not the same without his smiling face greeting you.

Got an invite to 'The First Xmas Party of 1962'. It is to be held on the 1st of December and is to be hosted by that Genial Gentleman of Castro Valley. Mr. R., that is.

Up at the Fantasy the other nite we ran into so many old friends it was beginning to look like 'old home week'. They had a big Thanksgiving

Day spread that we found out about a little too late. We had already bought a turkey so there is nothing to do but cook it.

Stop that rumor. The ad for the Dino's in the last issue was not a sketch of Jose'. Went by Dino's on the weekend and had coffee and lemon pie. Just like mother wished she could have made.

Got a belated note from Maurice and Lamont, who at that time were appearing at Place Pigalle in Monterey. For some reason or other it had been bouncing around San Francisco. Correct address and everything but for some reason the Post Office delivered it to Los Angeles, and Sacramento before sending it here.

Then we had a visitor who reads the LCE News at the Flamingo Inn in Carbondale, Illinois. Another visitor who reads the paper in a real nice spot - Lucyles Leapord Room in Springfield, Missouri.

FROM A LETTER

"As rarely as I am clever enough to know a good thing when I see it, I rush to secure it for my very own. Bad form (wretched spelling, tasteless typography, etc) to the contrary notwithstanding, I find the content of the L. C. E. News reason sufficient to warrant sending a money order for one year's subscription.

A reader in Indiana."

Letters to the Editor

Sir: When it comes to picking candidates for public office, without a doubt you are the world's worst. I am a supporter of Christopher and nothing you can say can change this. He is going to win so you might as well get on the band wagon.

GHJ - San Francisco
Editors Note: I suppose that since George Christopher is going to win we will get a new mayor in January.

Sir: (I address you thusly out of courtesy)

I do not feel that your organization nor any other organization involved with the type of people who are your members should ever have the audacity to register to vote or to vote in any election. To me the whole idea of your organization is sickening as well as the sick people who read your paper.

Tom Stanford

To the Editor:

As a republican I object to your choosing Brown and Anderson. I felt that you were a Republican and that you would surely pick Nixon, if not Christopher.

I am not a subscriber so I cannot cancel my subscription.

NW - San Francisco

Editors Note: My party affiliations will never have any bearing whatsoever on any choices that I may make in trying to determine which party is the best. As far as I am personally concerned the party a man belongs to is merely incidental. The only thing that counts is "What does he stand for" and "Is this good for the Community?"

The Editor LCE News

Sir:

I agree almost 100% with your candidates for office. But why do you pick Jordan for Secretary of State? Why not make it 100% democrat.

Editors Note: Mr. Jordan treated the representatives of the League with the utmost courtesy when they were in his office in Sacramento. Mr. Rose might have done the same thing had he been Secretary at the time.

Sirs:

Enclosed please find the sum of two dollars and sixty cents. Please send me the bimonthly magazine, the L.C.E. News, published by the League for Civil Education. It is my understanding and hope that this paper is non-political and that it does not espouse the views of any alien economic system.

L.M. - Chicago

Note: The L.C.E. News does not favor any alien economic, political nor social systems. But it can hardly be called non-political. So far as being non-partisan - YES. But since the primary hope of any minority is in political action, we are engaged in political activity. If LM wants his money back we shall be happy to refund it.

The Editor: Good Luck on your legal project! Also please add a friends name to your mailing list as he knows little about your objectives.
