Foreword

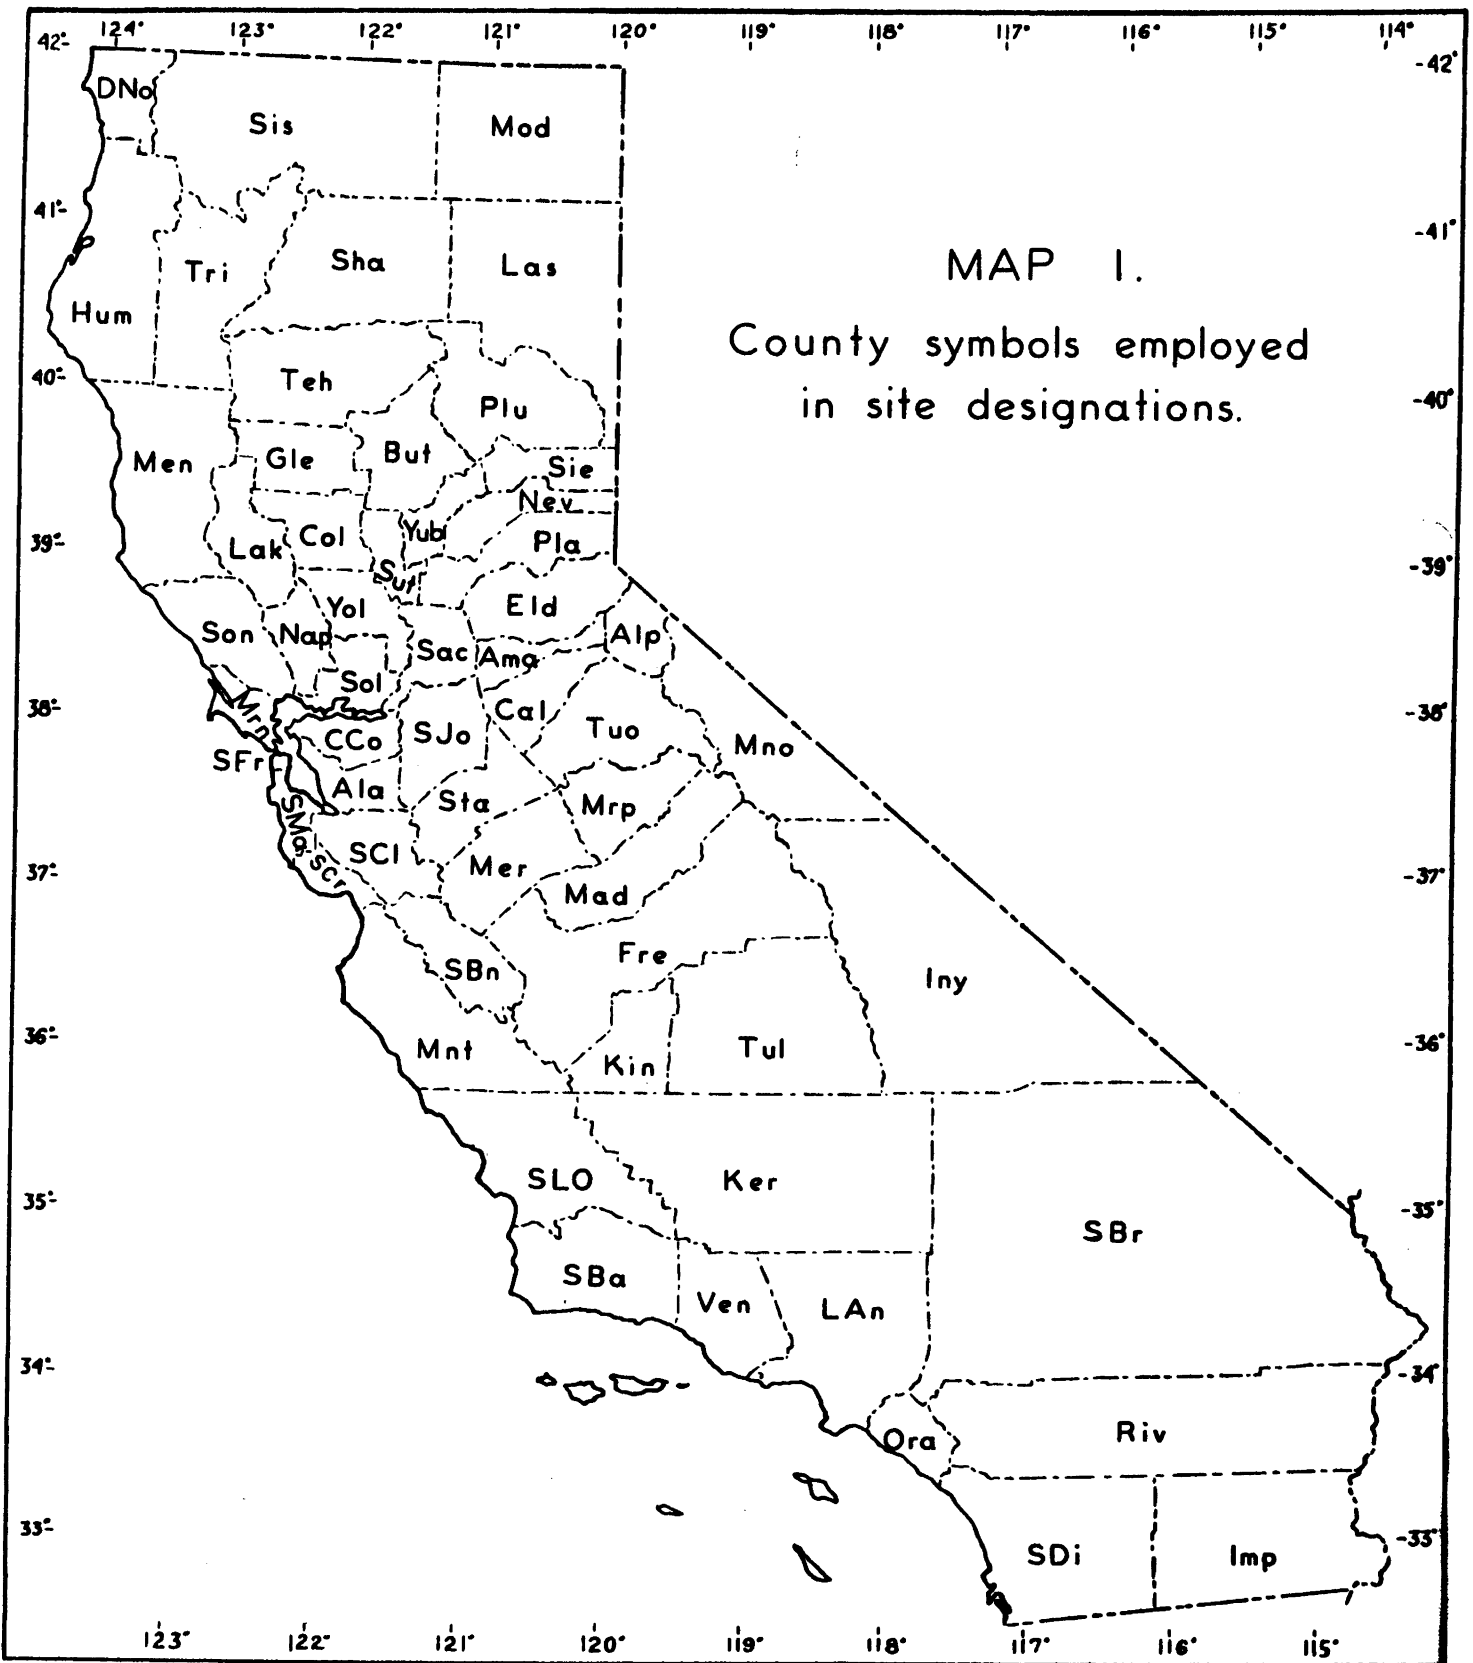

With the continued growth of the series of Reports of the UCAS, a need has been felt to compile an aid to the convenient use of the series. A list of the published reports and a list of authors, included here under Sections I and II, might be considered a sufficient, though minimal, effort in the direction of convenient use. Also in this direction, a conventional, alphabetized subject index, supplementing Sections I and II, of course would have been a worthy addition. On the other hand, a classified subject index, such as appears here as Section III, fulfills the basic purpose of an index and provides in addition a tool of considerable value for research in California archaeology.

The plan followed in Section III can be understood by a glance at the Table of Contents. It should be noted that some of the sub-sections, for example Types of Sites, include various classified minor headings; using the same example as above, sub-headings such as "Cave and rockshelter sites", "Early Man sites" and so on, appear. Again, under Chipped Stone Artifacts such headings as "Blades", "Core tools", "Crescents" etc. appear.

The majority of entries in Section III reflect site associations of the various sub-headings. UCAS site designations are used in all cases, either as a single entry, or, where common descriptive names are used, following in parentheses [e.g. Amedee Cave (Las-90)]. The numbers following the site designation refer to the number of the UCAS Report and the page number of the subject concerned. Individual entries are separated by semi-colons. For example the first entry under "Cave and rockshelter sites" is "Alp-6 21:8;". This indicates that there is a reference to the rockshelter site called Alp-6, on page 8 of UCAS Report No. 21.

Abbreviations have been held to a minimum--those appearing consistently refer to county designations of sites recorded in the UCAS files; thus Ala-1 would refer to site number one (1) in Alameda County. Any difficulty with such a method may be resolved by referring to the sub-section Sites Referred to, by County or State, which is an alphabetical list of counties in which sites mentioned in the Reports are itemized. Also, the County Map on page 2 will be useful in this connection. Other abbreviations used and their meanings are as follows:

- (app.) -- the item appears as an appendix to a principal paper or Report.
- ARP -- refers to the Annual Report by the Director of the UCAS to the President or Chancellor of the University of California. ARP 1954:2, for example, refers to page 2 of the Annual Report for the year ending June 30, 1954.
- ff. -- following (pages).
- (trans.) -- translation.

I. List of Reports

- No. 1 The California Archaeological Survey: Establishment, Aims and Methods. 8 pp., 1948.
- No. 2 A Bibliography of Ancient Man in California, by Robert F. Heizer. (A guide to the published literature on the antiquity of man in California. Sources are grouped under the names of the various finds). 22 pp., 1948.
- No. 3 Methods of Recording and Present Status of Knowledge Concerning Petroglyphs in California, by F. Fenenga. (Presents the present status of petroglyph research in California, defines stylistic areas, describes the use of the petroglyph record form, the methods of copying petroglyphs, and provides a bibliography. Illustrated). 9 pp., 1 map, 1 figure, 1949.
- No. 4 A Bibliography of the Archaeology of California, by Robert F. Heizer. (A compilation of the more important published accounts dealing with California prehistory. Arranged by topics and regions). 27 pp., 2 maps, 1949.
- No. 5 Methods for Archaeological Site Survey in California, by F. Fenenga. (Methods to provide information on the number, the location, and the nature of the archaeological remains in a given region). 16 pp., 3 figures, 1949.
- No. 6 The Stanford Skull, A probable Early Man from Santa Clara County, California. History and Circumstances of the Discovery of the Skull, by Robert F. Heizer. The Stanford Skull: The Physical Characteristics, by Theodore D. McCown. 18 pp., 2 plates, 1950.
- No. 7 Papers on California Archaeology: 1-5. (Five papers presented at the Second Annual Meeting of the Western States Branch of the American Anthropological Association in Berkeley, February 3-4, 1950). 25 pp., 1 map, 1950.
1. Physical Analysis as a Method of Investigating Prehistoric Habitation Sites, by Sherburne F. Cook.
 2. Observations on Early Man in California, by Robert F. Heizer.
 3. On the Methods of Chemical Analysis of Bone as an Aid to Prehistoric Culture Chronology, by Robert F. Heizer.
 4. Observations on the Efficiency of Shovel Archaeology, by Clement W. Meighan.
 5. Recent Developments in the Study of Northwestern California Archaeology, by John E. Mills.
- No. 8 Trade and Trails in Aboriginal California, by L. L. Sample. (Introduction, trading customs, articles traded, bibliographic references to trails shown on map, bibliography). 30 pp., 1 map, 1950.

- No. 9 Papers on California Archaeology: 6-9. 32 pp., 3 plates, 4 figures, 1950.
6. Observations on Historic Sites and Archaeology in California, by Robert F. Heizer.
 7. Archaeology of CCo-137, the "Concord Man" site, by Robert F. Heizer. (Appendix I, An Age Estimate of the Burials Unearthed near Concord, California, Based on Pedologic Observations, by R. E. Storie and F. Harradine).
 8. A Distinctive Pictograph from the Carrizo Plains, San Luis Obispo County, by Donald Lathrap.
 9. Excavations in Sixteenth Century Shellmounds at Drake's Bay, Marin County, by Clement W. Meighan.
- No. 10 The Archaeology of Two Kern County Sites. Excavation of site Ker-74, by F. A. Riddell. A Cave Burial in Kern County, by Robert F. Heizer. 36 pp., 2 plates, 5 figures, 1951.
- No. 11 Papers on California Archaeology: 10-12. 32 pp., 3 plates, 1 figure, 1951.
10. A Prehistoric Yurok Ceremonial Site, by Robert F. Heizer.
 11. At the Bedrock of History, by A. L. Kroeber.
 12. An Archaeological Reconnaissance in the Panamint Mountains, by D. W. Lathrap and C. W. Meighan.
- (Contains accounts of an island used for ritual disposal of sea lion skulls; an archaeological site in the southern San Joaquin Valley which yielded perishable materials; and a survey of part of Death Valley National Monument).
- No. 12 Papers on California Archaeology: 13-16. 41 pp., 1 plate, 2 maps, 4 figures, 1951.
13. Observations on the Sculptured Stone Fetishes in Animal Form Discovered on San Nicolas Island, by Leon de Cessac.
 14. The French Scientific Expedition to California, 1877-79, by E. Hamy.
 15. The Archaeology of a Paiute Village Site in Owens Valley, by H. S. Riddell.
 16. The Archaeological Deposit in Moaning Cave, by William Wallace.
- No. 13 Molluscan Species in California Shell Middens, by R. E. Greengo. (A study of molluscan species represented in California coast shellmounds; relation of climatic factors to molluscan life; mussel poisoning; changes in species during inhabitation of sites, etc.). 29 pp., 1 figure, 1951.
- No. 14 Archaeological Investigations in the Farmington Reservoir Area, Stanislaus County, California, by A. E. Treganza. (Account of River Basin Survey excavations in several sites; first description of Farmington Complex, an ancient lithic culture). 25 pp., 3 plates, 1 figure, 5 maps, 1952.
- No. 15 Papers on California Archaeology: 17-18. 39 pp., 1 map, 3 plates, 1952.
17. A Survey of Cave Archaeology in California, by Robert F. Heizer.
 18. Excavation of Sis-13, a Rock-Shelter in Siskiyou County, California, by William J. Wallace and Edith S. Taylor.

- No. 16 Symposium on the Antiquity of Man in California. 31 pp., 1 chart, 1952.
 Introduction, by Walter Goldschmidt.
 A Review of Problems in the Antiquity of Man in California, by Robert F. Heizer.
 On the Study of Early Man in Southern California, by George W. Brainerd.
 Climatic History and the Antiquity of Man in California, by Ernst Antevs.
- No. 17 The Fossilization of Bone: Organic Components and Water, by S. F. Cook and R. F. Heizer. (Results of experiments in chemical composition of human bone with the aim of discovering a chronological method for dating bone). 24 pp., 2 figures, 1952.
- No. 18 Archaeology of the Shasta Dam Area, California, by C. E. Smith and W. D. Weymouth. 46 pp., 3 maps, 1 plate, 2 figures, 1952.
- No. 19 Papers on California Archaeology: 19-20. 44 pp., 2 maps, 2 plates, 5 figures, 1953.
