Idea John:

And the waste and frustration of the bar stool search. The philosophy of quick turnover prevails. Meanings of words like devotion, loyalty and commitment.

Gay life is really all that bad. I know it can be a lonely person who wrote that letter.

These real values lie hidden and untouched where a personal needs that it's political and entertainment aspects cannot do. It is a living hell to be caught between empty aloneness to the individual as it should be.

What our community basically needs is an organization that we need new and better communications within Gay life if you allow it to do so. As "Beauty is in the eyes of the beholder" the same would also seem to apply to Gaylife. Further, if I were to parallel Gaylife with Straightlife, the same conditions would be apparent in each. I do agree that we need new and better communications within Gay society. As far as a sense of values go, I feel this is up to the individual as it should be.

Your letter was meaningful and appreciated.

Merry Christmas.

John.

THE STUD INCIDENT:

Conrad in need!

Charles Christman could have been any one of us at the center of a police action on the night of December 15th. Conrad was stuck in the taxi that was his home during an argument with his lover. He was refused transportation to the hospital by the police. Conrad's lover was also arrested and taken to jail. Conrad was then brought to the hospital with a police escort. The taxi was destroyed by the police.
