HELLO DOLLY!

"DOLLY Paaaaaaaaaases"

By: Margret Ann

The New York production of "Hello Dolly!" which opened at the St. James Theater on Jan. 16, 1964, marked what was to be one of the longest running musicals in the history of Broadway. The opening of "Hello Dolly!" was a big hit and was well received by the audience. The production started with a bang and continued to entertain the audience throughout its run. The show is a classic and is still enjoyed by audiences today. It is a must-see for anyone who loves musicals.

Don, Gayzette I, describes his idea at the Gay Bachelor Club for a better Gay community.

MR. GAYZETTE I AMENDED

At the climax to an evening involving beautiful audience participation, Don was chosen as Mr. Gayzette I by guest judges: Empress Jonni VII, Jim (Mr. Gay San Francisco), George Buchman, Stephanie, Countess of the Peninsula (in substitution for Dee, Miss of the Peninsula), Ray Piccinini, and Diana, Miss Gayzette II.

Ken of the Bachelor Club was proclaimed first runner-up.

The following is Don's first editorial endeavor as one of the newest members of the Gayzette editorial staff.

Happy writing, Don!

MR. GAYZETTE COMMENTS

That I should be asked to participate in the Mr. Gayzette contest left me in a state of total apprehension. I had many second thoughts about it. But it turned out to be exciting, exhilarating, and exhausting. If my fellow contestants were strangers before the contest, they became friends during and after. There was a lot of talent to overcome, but we found we had much in common.

When I arrived at The Mint, I freaked at all the people in the place, especially when I see Mr. Gayzette.

AROUND TOWN

If you weren't at The Mint Thurs., the 27th, you really missed a great event. Mr. Gayzette I was chosen. His name is Don and what a beauty he is, a perfect choice for Mr. Gayzette. Now I only hope that he lives up to the speech he made, proving to be active in his capacity for the community.

There have been a lot of contests lately with new titles and positions being given out, but you rarely see any of the winners at functions. If they are going to compete for something, I feel they should play it through for the duration of their term (reign?).

Saw the show at the Gaslight over the weekend. J. J. Van Dyke has done a good job in directing. The lights, sound, and aesthetics are probably some of the best in the city as far as a show goes.

The first show is typical drag pantomime. Burt O'Shea does see TOWN page 7.

Michelle is truly the Dolly Levi of San Francisco.

The show is masterfully directed by Mr. Chuck Zinn who has cleverly recreated the mood and times of Victorian and New York City in the 1890s. He has assembled a large and attractive cast and used them to their best advantage including some surprisingly clever innovations, not the least of which is additional dialogue from the original "Matchmaker" which adds another layer of intrigue to its already perfect cake. To be succinct, it is a flawlessly directed vehicle.

Usually in a show of this type, all the supporting characters are not singled out for personal mention, but in this case they are all so outstanding they should be lauded for just reward. Malcolm Smith as Horace Vandergelder is an obvious professional and gives

WHIPFLASH FROM THE MARQUIS

The Covered Wagon drew a good crowd for the somewhat dubious selection of Mr. Cowboy. (Sweet Helen won the Miss Cowgirl title hands down). One would hope that Mr. Burnside will do a little better next year. Ken from the Bachelor Club was chosen by a panel of seven judges as the new Mr. Cowboy. The Cock Ring restaurant put out a good barbecue plate enjoyed by all that has not paid for it.

The evening went off fairly well, almost that is. Judge Perry walked over to Fe Be's for a sitdown and was physically attacked by Russ (contestant from Fe Be's) and swung at by that fat thing they call a doorman (who is this character?) and asked to leave by Don, the manager. Judge Perry was also eighty-sixed. Take a breath.

Judge Rick Hansen was barred at the door, eighty-sixed, and told that his Club could no longer receive the courtesy of club prices. Stop, take three.

The new Mr. Cowboy (Ken) went over to Fe Be's for a drink and was told by Russ that he was not the legitimate selection. When words of this nature are put in public, they are ready for press. The owner of Fe Be's has not been available for comment. It would do the management of Fe Be's well to remember not to bite the hand that feeds you. Naughty, naughty, Don.

To see Mr. Cowboy, go to the Bachelor Club.

Dear John:

I think I have a problem and I hope you can help me with it. One of my best friends has a lover and the three of us get along great! But I find I love one of my friends and don't know how to feel.

If you do have a problem, you've got to be kidding. Hell, you probably aren't even gay and yet you're having a problem! Let's get to the bottom of it. I'm sure you'll feel better after talking to me about it. I'm here for you.

Sincerely,

Wondering

SITTING CATHO WEEKEND

Could it be another weekend? It's not been too hard to get into the spirit of things. It's May, the rainy, moist, season of the year.

Village is blooming with new, exciting appearances. Dolly! Dolly! is a must for all! I know it is for me.

Tom Turner of The Mint just can't be torn to say "Yes," very trying.

I think you'd agree.

Letter 'A' Things have a new addition with the piece-de-resistance being the trumpet player who is the highlight of the evening.

Well, Lori ended up with the wrong number, and she hurled them right back. Hope to see her at the Mint at some time soon.

Dear Editor:

Thank God your paper has been published in your last name. I need a way to get my story to your readers. Some copy might make it more interesting. The story is about the current leaders. Remember that, an Empress and various other titles which only a few people have.

These are the people who are the most important in the universe. Who do you think that you are? I mean, who do you think you are? I'm just asking. I mean, who do you think you are? I'm just asking.
