Pacific Center New Year’s

"I wanted to do something other than go to the bars on New Year’s Eve," says Karen Sims, community fundraiser for Berkeley’s Pacific Center for Human Growth. "There wasn’t a place where women could do something that wasn’t just a party. So I decided to throw a party that isn’t just a party that night," she continues. "So with the help of Karen Women’s School, and Karen... and... and... this year we’ll have our own New Year’s Dance and I’d like make it an annual event."

The festivities start at 8 pm and will continue til 10 am with champagne from 11:30 to 12:30 and a Midnight Buffet included in the festivities. Childcare is available and may be reserved in calling 841-6224 in advance. The event is also wheelchair accessible.

Entertainment will be provided by Cassandra-Degre and friends (special surprise guest) and Deej Helen Keller, will take requests and spin the hits of the last ten years for your dancing pleasure.

On The Move!... That would be our own SF Pioneers, commanding the court at several tournaments this week. Check calendar listings for January 6, 8, 11, 19, 21 & 25.

Coming Up! - Election Awards

by Randy Alfred

We’ve pleased to present the “Candidates’ 1979 election awards for outstanding public service and service. The winners have just been announced by the Joint Awards Committee of the Jaguar Democratic Club (“United We Stand”) and the Eleanor Roosevelt Liberal Democratic Club.

Category I - Media

- "Wow, I Could Have Had A V8" Award to Diane Ferrin, who repeatedly photographed taking her hand to her head, from “I had had no opportunity to be a rat” (July 24) to “We’ll go on, I’ve been there before” (November election night).

- Best New Composite Word Award to the Chronicle’s Larry Liebert, who described Quentin Kropp as Ferrin’s “sangfroid opponent.”

- Creative Journalism Award to Rap P. Comeau of B.A.R., for his interview with District 5 candidate Steve Perkins. At the outset, Comeau noted, “It would be easy to dismiss Steve Perkins as a paranoid crank,” and then proceeded to detail the reasons why we should elect exactly that.

Category II - Shenanigans

- Button, Button, Who’s Got the Button Award to Milton Marks and Carol Ruth Silver for their prolonged and intricate negotiations and non-negotiations over who would get what and whose.

- “I, Claudius” Award to supervisory aspirant Terence Hallman, who persistently confused District 5 with the Roman Senate. (The battle is printed in three languages, but Leon isn’t one of them.)

THE FUTURE IS COMING!

How many Chicken Littles have you heard recently? There sure are a lot of them. We’re gonna run out of oil, we gonna inflate ourselves silly. And those are just some of the negative scenarios. On the positive side: We’re gonna get in space. We’re gonna go on a trip to the future. You can’t beat that at a buck a day. Some things just aren’t going to happen. The future, fortunately, doesn’t arrive all at once. We’ve already seen some of it coming. Inflation and taxes are, so to speak, the leading indicators of an economic downturn. And the future is already here among us, or some of us. We think one part of the positive future already here is the personal computer. Somebody, everybody will have one someday, now. Those who do will have a slightly better edge on coping with whatever may be coming along.

We use a computer to tally up the scores of all the Chicken Littles running around (and there are thousands).

Sacramento Bound: Capitol march to focus on job rights, violence

Organizers of this month's march, sponsored by California Human Rights Advocates, believe passage of AB1 would be a "significant advance in gay people's struggle," according to Lichtenberg. "We can certainly top 15,000 in Sacramento."

In addition to the need for job protection, the march will protest increasing violence against lesbians and gays - whether physical, mental or emotional. The proposed AB1 was introduced on January 14, has been designated Lesbian and Gay Lobby Day - a day to stand out legislatures on gay and rights and AB1.

The January 13 March & rally won't limit itself to political speeches, according to planners. Lesbian comic Robin Tyler is one among many gay artists who'll perform at the conclusion of the long haul. "It's a great way for people who couldn't obtain application forms and pay the ten dollars,\n
Contributors & Staff

Coming up is published by Bill Harritan and Roland Schomburg as a non-profit community service. Contributions and materials or illustrations. Advertising only: 282-4480 or 431-7243. Rate cards available on request.

Contributors & Staff: Francis Alexander, Robert Benne, Ben Callaway, Gwen DeJong, Karen Peters, president of the California Fair Employment Practices Act. AB1 would make it illegal for any private employer to discriminate against a person based on his or her sexual orientation.

The march committee is both concerned and optimistic about the possibility of other gay rights organizations joining the Sacramento effort. "It's a great way for people who couldn't have an opening."
