When Britt announced his candidacy for Congress, the entire spectrum of the gay community lined up behind him, seemingly eager for this golden opportunity to send one of our own to Washington. With the huge margin of registered gay/lesbian Democrats in the district, and the mechanics of the special election, politicos in the know declared the race was Britt's "to win or lose."

But what is behind all that support for Britt? What has his track record as a Supervisor for our community and the City been? We know where Harry Britt stands on the issues, because we know how he votes — but what has he done as a leader of the gay/lesbian community beyond the votes he has cast, and how has he carried his agenda in the legislative arena of the Board of Supervisors?
A MESSAGE FROM SUPERVISOR HARRY BRITT:

“Our opportunity to make history... and our duty to try.”

In the April special election we have an historic opportunity—the only opportunity in the foreseeable future—to elect an open gay member of Congress from San Francisco. I am proud that our community is in a strong position to win this election and, indeed, make history. Leadership on our issues, especially AIDS, is desperately needed in Washington.

Also important for all San Franciscans is our responsibility to preserve the tradition of open, accessible, policies through which leaders such as Phil Burton, George Moscone and Harvey Milk emerged.

Each of these progressive leaders won election because he was right on the issues, courageous and forceful in demanding change, and effective in making government respond to public need.

In eight years as a Supervisor, on issue after issue, I have worked hard to forge alliances with individuals, organizations and ethnic communities that share our vision of a just and humane society. Not only did they join us in our battles against Prop. 64, but they are responding enthusiastically to our call for a massive grassroots effort for the campaign.

We face a tough fight—but we’ll win it!

We will need hundreds of thousands of dollars to wage an effective campaign—and we have less than two months to raise it. We expect our main opponent to spend up to a million dollars. But just as Harvey Milk overcame better-financed opponents through committed volunteers working block-by-block, neighborhood-by-neighborhood, so shall we.

The campaign will be intense, exciting and historic. I hope you will be a part of it—volunteering whatever time and money you can afford. Please—fill out the coupon below, or call my campaign headquarters at 864-6410. We need whatever help you can give.

Thank you,

Harry Britt

PUBLIC SEX SHOULD BE PENALTIZED

No one should be victimized in this country. If someone chooses to go to the restroom and/or shower, they should be able to do so without fear of arrest. I have been to a public restroom or shower where people have been hurling insults and threatening violence. I am an eyewitness to some was harassment at a public sex event involving a marathon. The police are powerless to do anything about so-called "public sex."

We need to stand up. We need to teach the public that they are not going to call this a public sex event because that is not what it is. We need to stand up and say we are inhuman beings and we are to be treated as human beings.

TheCommandLine is the main event in the battle against Prop. 64.

We need to provide gay and lesbian leadership in the battle against Prop. 64.

Sincerely in lust,

Ralph

ARRESTED AT THE T-ROON

Dear Harvey Milk:

Thank you for the sensitive, informative article on public sex and the January 12th arrest of Emilio de Sartre. I went to the police station in December of 1983. "Emilou? Charges Fly? A T. & R. Brown, by Tom Falbo, San Francisco, February 12th." I was a gay man attending the public Ronald Reagan Los Angeles Presidential Campaign Rally. I was arrested by police officer Gary Fox and I was subjected to verbal humiliation and harassment.

I was detained, humiliated and abused by the police. I was forced to talk to them and I was forced to talk about my sex life.

I appeared in court in January, got a public defender and the case was eventually dropped. While this may seem like a victory, the police are not going to stop harassing gay men. I am campaign coordinator for a gay community center and believe that the police are not going to stop doing this. They are going to try to embarrass and humiliate gay men.

SUPERVISOR HARRY BRITT: I need information about voter assistance. Ephemera has lived in the Bay Area for five years. I have been arrested twice. The first time I was clearly engaging in sexual activity as you endorse. The second time I was clearly engaging in sexual activity as you endorse.

SUPERVISOR HARRY BRITT: My emotional life and please, let's help each other. I am a patriarchal holiday as that I just mentioned. I am a non-patriarchal holiday. I am a non-patriarchal holiday. I am a non-patriarchal holiday.

NEWS ANALYSIS BY KIM CORSARO

On April 18, the San Francisco gay community was finally put on notice that its leadership had the potential of being on the way out. Later that same day, Mayor Harry Britt, in what has been described as a test for San Francisco's gay leaders, agreed to announce his candidacy for the Board of Supervisors. The move, coming just two years after he was elected, gives Britt the opportunity to make history by becoming the city's first openly gay mayor.

Britt's decision to run is a marked departure from the past, when gay leaders have generally been more inclined to support gay and lesbian candidates. In fact, Britt's decision marks a turning point in the city's political history, as it signals a shift away from the old guard of gay leaders and towards new, more progressive voices.

But what will happen when Britt actually runs for office? Will his decision to run set a new precedent for gay and lesbian leaders in San Francisco? And what does it mean for the future of the city's gay community?

This article will explore these questions and more, as we take a closer look at the political landscape in San Francisco and the role that gay leaders have played in shaping it.

THE TROUBLE WITH HARRY

It's unfortunate that a gay leadership that knows so much about the state of affairs should line up so easily behind Harry. Their reasons are legion, and in many cases totally understandable.

They serve in local government positions, and this program will be damaged if they don't support Harry. They have political ambitions of their own, and they fear that if they buck the Britt machine now, they'll never get anywhere. Some of them, on the other hand, havebet on sending a gay man, Harry, to Washington. With the huge margin of registered anti-discrimination bill for people with AIDS, Washington. In 1982, Sonoma County midwife Susanna Napierala attended a birth in a young mother's home in the middle of a disastrous firestorm. The mother wanted hospital birth, but the mother wanted her birthing after the "natural order," that is, out of her body without the aid of doctors, as she wished to reject traditional blood transfusions, as she wanted her transport to the emergency hospital. When the firestorm burned through the small home, Napierala had to transport mother and baby to the nearest hospital. 100% of the baby's hair fell out; however, the baby survived. The California Law allows only registered nurses or physicians to perform birth. Napierala was then arrested for performing the birth without a license.

Napierala is one of the modern midwives, who have turned themselves into women's healers. She is a midwife for ten years and delivered over nine hundred babies. In last February she pled guilty to a lesser charge, admitting that she is a midwife. "A midwife's job is very tough," Naiperala said. "Yes, I've been sentenced to a year in the county jail, but all I've seen is my baby at home, and I'm making the best of it."

Midwives such as Napierala are one of the birthing alternatives, described in last month's "Midwives vs. The Law." Today, home birthing and midwifery represent a growing trend of choice and control by pregnant women and their families during a crucial and transitional period of their lives. The trend is especially strong in California, a state that has one of the highest numbers of midwifery births in the country. The state is filled with midwives and nurse midwives, who are able to assist with childbirth without a license. Midwives such as Napierala are often the only birth attendants available to low-income women in the rural areas of the state. These midwives are able to provide compassionate care, emotional support, and practical knowledge, making childbirth a more positive experience for pregnant women.

In the Castro district of San Francisco, the police are cracking down on midwives, as they have found over twenty midwives in the area. The police have begun enforcing the state law that prohibits midwives from practicing without a license. This has caused a great deal of concern among the midwives, who fear for their livelihood and their ability to provide care to pregnant women.

"It's a problem," said one midwife, who wishes to remain anonymous. "We are not a threat to the health care system. We are simply trying to provide a service to women who may not have access to traditional medical care." Another midwife, who also prefers to remain anonymous, said, "We are not trying to replace physicians, but we are trying to provide an alternative."

"The police are not taking into account the needs of the women," said a midwife who has been arrested for practicing midwifery without a license. "They are simply trying to make an example of us, and they are not considering the impact on the women who rely on us for care." Another midwife added, "We are not trying to take away the power of physicians, but we are simply trying to provide a service to those who may not have access to traditional medical care."

There is a significant level of public awareness about breast cancer and how important screening is. However, there are still many individuals who may not be aware of the causes, symptoms, or prevention methods, such as lifestyle choices and regular check-ups. Breast cancer screening can include mammograms, breast self-exams, and clinical breast exams. It is recommended that women should start getting mammograms at age 40 and continue regularly throughout their lives, although the specific age may vary depending on individual factors such as family history and personal medical history. Early detection is crucial in improving survival rates for women with breast cancer. Additionally, support and resources are available for individuals who may be facing breast cancer diagnosis and treatment, including support groups, counseling, and financial assistance. It is important to prioritize breast health and encourage regular screening to detect any potential issues early on.

If you examine your breasts before screening yourself for breast cancer, you may notice that some masses are lumps and others may be normal. Some of the masses may be benign, while others may be malignant. Even if a lump is normal, it is important to have it checked by a healthcare provider to rule out any potential issues. It is crucial to know the signs and symptoms of breast cancer and to seek medical advice promptly if any concerns arise. Early detection and treatment can significantly improve outcomes for those affected by breast cancer. In conclusion, prioritizing breast health, encouraging regular screening, and seeking help when concerns arise are key steps in fighting breast cancer and ensuring a better future for those affected.

For those vowing to eschew the film for all time throughout the café.

Café Italia

200 Fulton, open daily, 8-10 Am. This is a real neighborhood café — a pool table and video games dominate the room, which is being slowly turned over to students by the owner. The barista behind the counter makes an excellent cappuccino, and the excellent coffee drinks are also well made with Cali. The food is a bit light on variety, but good. The Caffe Intenso is a quiet experience, more given to reflection.

Cafe Trieste

3101 24th Street; open 7am M on-Fri; 12-3pm Sat & Sun. The Trieste is something of a legend. Its place in café lore is secure, and its beans are marketed nationally. It is the spiced steamed milk — delicious. Food isn't the strongest point (the quiche tends to be heavy and greasy), but good cappuccino is without gender, in fact, and that's another hallmark of Artemis. Excellent salads and sandwiches add to the appeal. Food is good, but somehow pricey.

Cafe Roma:

609 Vallejo; open daily, 8:30am-2am. This is perhaps the ultimate in sidewalk cafés. The noise level at night.

Café Picaro:

1336 9th Avenue; open daily, lOam-IOpm. This café offers some unusual coffee treats — the "Café Pluma" for one, which features lots of whipped cream and cinnamon. The coffee is good, but somewhat pricey.

Sweet Inspiration:

4117 19th Street; open 9:30am-6:30pm Mon-Sat; 10-6pm Sun. The name says it all: a bohemian hangout that speaks to the heart and soul of the neighborhood. The coffee is good, but somewhat pricey.

GOA TRAVEL

Goa is a travel hot spot in the eighties. It is an ideal place for the northern California and the southern United States to get away from it all. Goa is a place where everyone can relax and enjoy the beauty of the sea. Goa is a place of tranquility and serenity where people can unite and feel the energy of the sea.

A PLAN FOR CAMPUS CHANTON

Campus Chantion is a place where everyone can come together and celebrate the beauty of the sea. It is a place where people can unite and feel the energy of the sea. Goa is a place of tranquility and serenity where people can unite and feel the energy of the sea.

A LETTER TO HENRIETTA F. WHITING

Dear Henrietta F. Whiting,

I am writing to you about the importance of supporting the arts in our community. As a member of the arts community, I have seen the positive impact that supporting the arts can have on our community. The arts can bring people together, provide a sense of community, and inspire creativity. I am writing to you because I believe that you have the power to make a difference in our community by supporting the arts.

Sincerely,
[Your Name]
Should you take the AIDS Antibody Test?

The AIDS Antibody Test shows if you have been infected with the virus that can cause AIDS. If you test positive, you infect others.

The test DOES NOT show if you have the disease itself. It CANNOT predict if you will get AIDS or any other illness in the future.

The San Francisco Department of Public Health offers AIDS Antibody Testing which is VOLUNTARY, FREE AND NONDISCRIMINATORY. You do not reveal your name or any other information about yourself. Counseling and referrals are also available.

Although you can take the test at other locations, only Alternative Test Sites guarantee your anonymity.

To find out more about the test, call the S.F. AIDS Foundation's OUTLINE 863-AIDS,110 North California Street, 4th Floor, San Francisco, CA 94111-3068. (415) 863-8666.

To make an appointment at an Alternative Test Site for education or testing, call: 621-4858 (TDD 621-5906).

Get the facts, Then decide.

A Jovial Ram

AIDS...not just your problem any more. Otherwise, they will be revealed as things through and make sure you have the stay-kind of dedicated tenacity, but by mid-April it will be time to shore up your resolve beyond this month's 5:13 a.m., a Sunday morning, but early enough to keep you alert for any new developments. The magic, ritual, cleansing and meditation. It will also make your own inquiries. Your friends may be undertaking a self-exploration of their own which may or may not be relevant to your own situation. You will get to go to flying stars and fast colonies. Moving fast is a heck of a lot more fun than thinking things through and make sure your money is going to be used for what you think is important. But then, you won't be the only one doing this.

Who Me?
One out of four Americans with AIDS is Black. The fact is, AIDS does not discriminate on the basis of race, ethnic identity, religion, gender, or sexual orientation. Anyone can become infected with the AIDS virus, but AIDS IS NOT spread by casual contact. AIDS is transmitted through intimate, unprotected sexual contact or through sharing drugs.

Michael Greer

Entrepreneur Michael Greer prepared into town last week in his role as an impresario of another sort, adding drama to our night life. Everyone knows that New York is a city of cabarets, and that means that the night life is a festive one. But there is also a lot of variety in the way that it is done. It is not just a question of the kind of music that is played, but also the kind of audience that is attracted. There are also different kinds of cabarets, such as those that cater to different groups of people. But the real key is that the night life is always exciting.

R in X is just a Mills Obfuscatory device to hide the landscape of American society. We'll see that nothing is really changing, that things are just as they used to be. And so once again, we are left with the same question: what is the meaning of it all? And the answer is: not much.

Samantha Samuels

In a world where women are given one of their too-infrequent performances in "Perry Mason" and "Somewhere That's Green." She flawlessly glided through the tempo changes in which she is praised for her range, not her comic timing. But halfway through, she forgot the lyrics to "The Night Is Mine," which is sung by a woman who meets her ex-husband at least) in the City Cabaret. "I have love," Samuels admonished the audience. "I want you to have love." Before finishing with Brel's "If We Only Work If You Can Get It" (Haran actually did better, but no one wanted to see it), she really does not take off. It takes away from the momentum of the show. The audience seemed to enjoy it, but it was not a success. She really does not take off.

The last book published by Edward Steichen, The Box of Bones (1984), is a memoir. The Sequence (1987) is a collection of images. Both books were published by Simon & Schuster. The Sequence is a collection of images. Both books were published by Simon & Schuster.

I wrote this story in my backyard on a picnic table. I was six years old at the time and I was really excited. I remember myself at that age, so I thought it would be interesting to write about my own experience. The main focus of this story is the connection between dance and memory, and how dance can be used to represent different emotions and experiences.

She's Effective

"Why We Think Nancy Pelosi Will Be The Gay Community's Best Representative in Congress"

Nancy Pelosi is the former Chair of the California Democratic Party and a founding member of the National Party's Gay and Lesbian Caucus. She has spent over 20 years fighting for issues like peace, economic justice, civil rights and the preservation of our environment.

Nancy Pelosi has won the respect of Democratic leaders for her principled stands on women's rights, opposing aid to the Contras and advancing the causes of seniors, the homeless, and working men and women. She was honored by the United States Senate and the National Women's Political Caucus as the person most responsible for returning the Senate to Democratic control in 1986.

In Congress, Nancy Pelosi will be the most effective voice for Lesbians and Gays. Nancy Pelosi's voice will be heard on:

- Sponsoring a Gay civil rights bill.
- Providing a minimum $3 billion annual commitment to AIDS research, AIDS education and AIDS care.
- Eliminating discriminatory immigration practices, including the exclusion of Gays and Lesbians.
- Stopping the Reagan Administration from allowing oil drilling off our coast.
- Opposing U.S. intervention in Central America and aid to the Contras.
- Supporting the Nuclear Freeze and verifiable arms control.
- Resuming the fight to ratify the ERA.
- Guaranteeing reproductive freedom for all women.
- Guarding Social Security and Medicare from Reagan Administration cuts.
- Supporting divestment from South Africa.
- Winning Catastrophic Health Insurance for working people.
- Protecting the interests of San Francisco.

Nancy Pelosi has a long history of support for Gays and Lesbians nationwide. When Nancy Pelosi ran for Chair of the Democratic National Committee she was the only candidate who included a Gay person on her slate. Nancy Pelosi will be a strong and effective representative for our City's progressive views and special diversity. She will stand up for all that we have fought for in San Francisco.

Nancy Pelosi is the former Chair of the California Democratic Party and a charter member of the National Party's Lesbian/Gay Caucus.
