BAY AREA P.A.M.
The May 3 demonstrations in Washington, San Francisco, Seattle, and other cities have had a tremendous impact, internationally as well as here in the U.S. It was not only the huge numbers (100,00 in D.C. alone), but also the broad diversity of representation that made these marches so significant. May 3 clearly signalled the emergence of a new mass movement.
This new development comes not a moment too soon. The Reagan administration is continuing to push ahead with the huge program of cutbacks, war, racism, and political reaction, while demanding that we organize mass resistance; May 3 also showed that we can.

CALL TO ACTION
shows that we can.
The new proposal by PAM for the National Day of Resistance to overturn the entire Reagan program and for an All-Peoples Congress to plan the Day of Revolution, is designed to strike a blow nationwide against the Reagan administration.
The Peoples Congress and Day of Resistance appeals to everyone, from the tenant’s groups on the block, to the local CETA workers, to all of the Welfare Rights Organizations, to workers fighting for safety on the job, to daycare and healthcare workers, to youth, to the elderly, women’s organizations, environmentalists, anti-war activists, and so on.
Every constituency and very nationality—Black, Latino, Asian, Native, women, men, lesbian gay and straight, able-bodied and disabled—will be meeting locally, regionally, in weeks to come to draw up their demands, choose their delegates, and have input in carrying through the Congress, and above all, in planning the mass demonstration for the Day of Resistance. We will grow in power and capabilities and help to shape a movement that can go beyond protest to challenge the Reagan regime, and change the relationship of political forces in the nation in favor of the vast majority of the people.
The challenge is great; the possibilities are enormous; united we can do it! Build the People's Congress! Overturn the Reagan program!
The People’s Anti-War Movement (PAM) is asking you and/or your organizations to do three things:
1) Endorse the Peoples Congress and National Day of Resistance, and join in organizing;
2) Make a donation (check payable to PAM). We are sorely in need of funds; 3) Attend our upcoming PAM Organizing Meeting on THURSDAY, JUNE 18th at 7:30 PM
SF WOMEN’S BUILDING
3543 – 18th Street at Valencia.
We have just opened an office in Oakland and we will be opening an office in San Francisco within a week or so.

CRAZED
Struggle and unity, for PAM.
DICK BECKER
The main activity of the Scientific Humanitarian Association (SHA), founded in 1909, was a petition campaign directed against Paragraph 175. The petition set forth the scientific and moral arguments against the penalization of homosexuality and was signed by numerous experts in various fields, lend an air of authority and respectability to the movement.

In 1909, at the height of an anti-homosexual hysteria in Britain, where homosexual acts between men had remained punishable by death until 1861 and remained an incurable disease, Wilde was the only British literary figure of this period to come out in defense of homosexuals. In his book "The Ballad of Reading Gaol," he expressed his solidarity with the victims of such prejudices and highlighted the injustice of their treatment.

In Germany, several attempts at working class autonomy were made in the 19th century, and the Social Democratic Party was formed during this period. Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels, the founders of modern socialism, were both influenced by the social and economic conditions they observed.

In its early period the Social Democratic movement, which was initially revolutionary, changed its character and became more moderate. The Social Democratic Party, formed in 1875, was primarily a political organization, and its leaders, such as Wilhelm Liebknecht and August Bebel, were known for their revolutionary stance.

In the 19th century, the Social Democratic movement was influenced by the work of Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels, who stressed the importance of class struggle and the need for workers to unite in their fight against the capitalist system. The movement's goals were to promote economic equality, social justice, and political democracy.

In the early 20th century, the Social Democratic movement faced new challenges, including the impact of World War I on the working class and the rise of authoritarian regimes in Europe. The movement had to adapt to these changes and find new strategies for achieving its goals.

In the context of the imperialist war, Karl Liebknecht was the only Social Democratic leader in Germany to take the revolutionary path. He called for a "workers' war" and advocated for a socialist revolution.

The Social Democratic movement in many European countries was influenced by the work of the First International, an organization founded in 1864. The movement's goals were to promote economic equality, social justice, and political democracy.

We wanted to analyze their positions, makeup, and core values before writing anything on NOLAG, as it will survive and could become one of the most important gay organizations in the nation. Those who attended the conference were for the most part realistic, composed, and full of positive energy. However, their ideas may be too radical and their demands too high for the local gay community to support and sustain. Those who attended the conference were for the most part realistic, composed, and full of positive energy. However, their ideas may be too radical and their demands too high for the local gay community to support and sustain.

The delegates passed five resolutions concerning various gay issues, such as the National Gay Rights Club, and passed a motion requiring the organization to meet with the local gay community and their local counterparts across the nation, as well as the national organizations. They were directed to bring their messages to the attention of the local gay community for the 8th, and this move does no way NOLAG can be supported. These delegates from Los Angeles of course, as well as Atlanta, Miami, Memphis, Denver, Philadelphia, Chicago, and Cleveland, were directed to bring their messages to the attention of the local gay community for the 8th, and this move does no way NOLAG can be supported.

Local delegates for the San Fransisco new offering, San Francisco Daily News, are in for a treat. There will be a special preview party for the new offering, with a special preview party for the new offering. From "Dancing Between The Lines", we receive on page 8.

One really does not need to suffer much, nor judge on two recently seen college productions. The first, The Creation Of The World, is a humorous retelling of the story of the Creation, with a Black Female God and Pete Diesel as Lucifer who became God, were contrasting images of the two. Though the latter made the more interesting image, the former was more satisfying. There is a touch of sexuality, but the unlikely material for humor of jumping off the Golden Gate Bridge. One wonders if such is the case and congratulations are due the audience for this effort.

What a fomight this has been for local dance fans! Eleven performances of New York's Joffery Ballet came to town in the first weeks. Unfortunately its run has ended but the advice is available in this genre. One swallow does not a summer make.

"ASPARAGUS VALLEY SUPERB ENTERTAINMENT"

Having been distractedly in praise of ASPARAGUS VALLEY (call 995-7970 for info) when I first went there, I found the place and little wonder as to how it had managed to get the new clientele it has for the show. It is now much brighter and when it is finally open, much of what I feel about it will be lost. Not only, but without the cast, indeed, without the three talented entertainers performers, Peter Gill, Ken Kenyon and Edna, some could arise, up into a truly delightful evening of entertainment. No one else can duplicate the show as it is now so let us hope that after a few more shows the act will be seen and adored superlative entertainment.

SHUCKS BORING BUT CODA CURIES

The Asian-American Theatre is offering two vastly different one-act plays as grey themes. The first, ASPARAGUS VALLEY (call 995-7970 for info) is a large black play with a considerable group of characters who pass through each other's lives, and the other, in a playing time of slightly over half the bill, a new production of the hit, "SHUCKS!"

This insightful yet humorous look at the problems of a multi-racial society is being performed again for a third year, and this time it seems merely old. With the exception of Chris Conner and "Mr. Hyde's" and switched formats, there has been a lack of new shows and this newly refurbished cabaret bodes fair to fill that void as well as offering entertainment that eschews givings and no little wonder as to how it had managed to get the new clientele it has for the show. It is now much brighter and when it is finally open, much of what I feel about it will be lost. Not only, but without the cast, indeed, without the three talented entertainers performers, Peter Gill, Ken Kenyon and Edna, some could arise, up into a truly delightful evening of entertainment. INSULTS TO GAYS MAKE BLEACHER BUMS A SUMMER SENSE

Bleacher Bums has been shut down from a minor. Street left in the Little Fox Theatre and is an exceedingly funny play that uses a group of fans in the bleachers to comment on the manager of the team. However, in one brief segment, the audience sees a group of fans in the bleachers watching football games and is asked to come up. This is an opportunity for the fans to be heard. In one such segment, a group of fans are asked to come up and is given a chance to express their feelings.

"Bleacher Bums" is a play about a baseball player who is married to a woman and is not satisfied with his wife. The play was written by a group of fans who were asked to come up to the stage and express their feelings on the subject. The fans were asked to come up to the stage and express their feelings on the subject. The fans were not satisfied with the play and wanted to express their feelings.
