DOES McGovern BACK GAYS 100%?

George McGovern, the great white hope of the lib-rad electoral movement, has gotten himself nominated for the Presidency at long last. He even has a running mate, an old pal of Mayor Daley's who supported the war as recently as 1970 and who vigorously opposes abortion laws. So much for the revolution -- it looks plot more like a dodge rebellion from here, with the South Dakota democrat dodging the issues as fast as they come up. One such issue which has recently been voted under come up. One such issue which has recently been voted under. "Well, needless to say, many Gays were less than impressed with the warmth of this welcome. The New York office of GAA has come out strongly against this kind of anti-Gay behavior and has placed two representatives to the meeting a room and ill-lit room at 79 Sixth Street, and most of these represented the Gay community. The only other group represented in any number were prisoners.

As a result, the attempt to create a broad front turned into a discussion of Gay and prison problems, finally descending into an argument over whether or not the Gay community ought to even be reaching out to its brothers and sisters when it had only begun to organize itself.

Earl "Rick" Stokes attempted to steer the meeting back to the original goal by suggesting that a large coalition of support could be rallied around the Marijuana Proposition. Ron Silliman made essentially the same pitch for working against the Death Penalty Initiative. Johnathan Watkins have called for the death penalty for Gays and as a disproportionate percentage of the prison population is gay, it stands to reason that so is the percentage of gays who are executed for one crime or another. Silliman also noted that any coalition organized around such an issue could also work later on to get some initiatives onto the 1974 ballot, around such issues as victimless crimes. Neither he nor Stokes was very effective in winning the support of the extremely fragmented meeting.

Those who attended wondered as they left if such an idyllic goal as a broad front was even possible in 1972. It didn't look like it that night.

NOW PLACES

by Jerry Rome

You go ninety miles north out of the city along Highway XII through gently sloping farm lands, through Petaluma and Santa Rosa, until you hit Centerville. There you turn west along route 128. Abruptly the road begins to rise and sharply turn through pine forests and tall grass. In twenty seven miles you hit Boonville, There you again turn west on the Manchester Road. Now the road is narrower and the turns more severe. The dense pines begins to give way to redwoods, the grass and deep foliage to ferns. Here and there below you, you can just glimpse, through the thick trees, the gleam and shine of water.

In four miles you come to, on your left, a dirt road that twists and turns away from the main highway. At its base is a distinctive sign that reads: Bear Wallow. Bear Wallow is a Gay Ranch. You are now 121 miles and 135 minutes north of San Francisco, but you are much further than that.

You go up the twisting, steep road, you have to gear down to your horn on the blind turns. Finally you reach the crest and you break through the redwoods into a small clearing. You park. Two dogs come up to your car barking furiously. You get out. The dogs run gentle. They are only a warning system of the hundreds of acres of redwoods and pine that serve as a buffer for you from the straight dominated world 135 minutes and 121 miles behind you.

Through the dense foliage to your left is the lodge. You enter through double stained glass doors. The room is in front of you. Before you stories to a cathedral ceiling from which hangs a huge wreath for chandeliers. To your right is a mammoth fire-place. For here, although the days are hot, the mornings and evenings are cool.
LETTER TO THE EDITOR:

Dear Editor:

This is the first time I have taken the time to write this letter but I think it's time something was said. I read the gay press quite often, and I find that many of the writings and articles could be better. Some are even offensive to people. I think that the gay press should be more concerned about the different groups within the gay community. I have read articles that have been written by people who are in the gay community and I feel that they should be more understanding of the different groups.

There should be a greater emphasis on the importance of respect and understanding. Many of the articles are written by people who are too quick to judge and too quick to speak. I feel that the gay press should be more concerned about the different groups within the gay community.

Sincerely,

DEAR JOACHIM

Joachim, My love and I have been together for six years now and even though we love each other very much, we never seem to stop fighting. The only place that we see each other is in church. We have a very friendly relationship in church, but outside church, we seem to argue constantly. Is it healthy to have such a relationship? Love, David of the Rendezvous

Dear David,

I'm glad you wrote, for I am really troubled by the same problem. I too have been in a relationship for six years, and I too have been fighting constantly. The only way I can deal with it is to keep the Intimacy of the relationship by keeping it within the church. If you don't agree, you can always change your ways. Love, Joachim

HOROSCOPE

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) A very special time to get in touch with your all around sexiness. You will find yourself wanting to give yourself away in a sexual relationship that you find very intimate. This could result in a sexual experience that you never thought was possible.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20) All the signs of fall, and you are no exception. There will be a surge of sexual desires which will make love less than ideal if any other aspect of your life is not in order. Consider being more cautious in your sexual relationship.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You have been aware of love, but have possibly felt an unsatisfied desire to love because you feel that this could lead to a sense of loveless sex. The time for action on love is now. You will gain more with encouragement, because you will be the one to initiate the action. The opportunity will be quite evident to you, and the opportunity will be quite evident to you.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You have long been involved in sexual problems, which seem to be a constant source of your depression. One who has not been involved with sex will probably give up, but you have a strong desire to be loved. As you grow, you will be more inclined to express your sexual desires, and this will help you open your heart and help others learn to love.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) For you, there is a sense of distance and loneliness. You have been aware of the importance of sexual orientation, but you have not been ability involved in the sexual exchange. This is a time to consider the possibility of turning in the direction of love and sex. You will be able to withdraw from the sexual exchange when you feel it's necessary to do so. You will find that you are not as emotionally involved in the sexual exchange as you have been in the past.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You are overwhelmed by the sexual experience of others, which is a good thing. You are a sexual being, and you will not be able to escape the sexual experience of others. You will be attracted to others who are sexual beings, and you will be able to escape the sexual experience of others.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) All sexual experiences which have been taken on an all or nothing attitude, could make you feel more pressured sexually than you have been before. You will need to express your sexuality with more care. Expressing yourself with the understanding of the sexual experience of others is a positive and enjoyable way to take sexual experience.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Your current life has been so busy that you have not had time to think about love. If you do not have a sexual relationship now, you will not be able to think about love. You need to make sure you have a sexual relationship now.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) A good time for you to be alone. With no distractions, you will be able to withdraw from the sexual experience of others. This is a time to be alone and be yourself.

LIBRA (Sept. 22-Oct. 22) A good time for you to be alone. With no distractions, you will be able to withdraw from the sexual experience of others. This is a time to be alone and be yourself.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:

In the ongoing discussions of McGovern, Eagleton, the Democratic Party, electoral politics, and the Gay Community, there is a common factor that brought about a national debate in Miami Beach was the efforts of Gay men and women to make their voices heard. The gay movement was a force in national politics, as evidenced by the success of the McGovern reforms that created the office of special assistant to the President for gay and Lesbian Affairs. The sentence in question is a quote taken from an interview with Governor George Wallace, President Lyndon B. Johnson, Mayor O. Eastland, and others.

David K., 922 Larkin, S.F.

The beginnings of that could go back to Club meetings, the presence of Tommy's Plants, the gay liberation movement, the role of the McGovern reforms, and the hard work of those who prepared for over a year to present a minority report to the Democratic Convention. Neither Jim nor I intended to present a minority report to the Democratic Convention. We say pretense because since the 1968 Convention they could have done it.
