At a joint press conference at the Society for Individual Rights Center on January 25th, held by S.I.R., and the Neighborhood Legal Assistance Foundation, it was announced that a lawsuit had been filed by S.I.R. and Donald W. Hickerson against the U.S. Civil Service Commission and the U.S. Department of Agriculture. This is a class action suit which seeks, in behalf of all Gay people in the U.S., to end the Commission’s practice of firing people just because they are Gay, and to have the court order the Commission to retrain, with back-pay, all those that have been so fired in the past.

NEW DIRECTION FOR THE C.R.H.

On Thursday, January 25th, the Council on Religion and the Homosexual held its annual meeting and dinner at the First Unitarian Church. Upcoming in 1973, the ninth year dinner at the First Unitarian Church, sexual held its annual meeting and rejuvenation program. Over 100 gay men and women, and a number of ministers attended the dinner; another 50 arrived for the meeting by Sally Gearhart and Paul Marian, ministers attended the dinner; an other 50 arrived for the meeting from ministers around the country, and various churches, supporting abortion reform, decriminalization of the use of marijuana, and donating money to the Lesbian Mothers case in San Jose.

Electors for 7 vacancies on the Board of Directors were called next. Phyllis Lyon and Del Martin then spoke about some of the responses they had received from readers of their book, “Lesbian/Woman”.

Rev. William Johnson, the first openly gay minister, of the United Church of Christ who is the new executive director of C.R.H., enumerated the new program’s 11 points:

1. CRH will become involved in the statewide effort of sex law reform
2. CRH will present symposiums for parents on homosexuality
3. CRH will support other legal cases like the Lesbians, Minors, etc.
4. CRH will help out in organizing gay in the all religious denominations
5. CRH will gather together gay theology
6. CRH will relate to gay seminar
7. CRH will develop a relation with the Graduate Theological Union
8. CRH will give support to gay ministers
9. CRH will find a “United Gay Ministry” of the U.S.
10. A new group, the Council of Bad News Associates will be formed to help fund and finance the activities of CRH
11. CRH will try to affiliate with the people plus Ecumenical Council.

With the new directions taken by CRH and the help of Rev. Johnson, CRH will take a new step forward, and will also extend its spectrum of participants by including persons from the recently formed Gay Catholic and Gay Jewish groups in the city.

Chutzpah

CHUTZPAH: ...... GAY JEWISH BROTHERHOOD

Chutzpah Hebrew word for balls, guts or nerves. That is why Achvah-gay Jewish Brotherhood was formed 6 months ago by Steve Ginsburg. The goal of the groups is to educate the Jewish populace (a formidable task) about the gay community, to inform and educate the gays on fellow Jewish gays, and to instill a Jewish consciousness amongst Jewish gays.

Since its inception, Achvah has had various social events, talks, and discussions, met with 3 rabbis, and participated in the Christopher St., West Parade last June. Meetings with other rabbis are scheduled for the future, plus, on Thursday, Mar. 8th, at S.L.R., Achvah will sponsor a speaker who’s theme will be: The oppression of Jews (and Christians) in Russia”. Rabbis are scheduled for February and April at two temples to be presented to straight audiences.

It is hoped that eventually the official Jewish community will make positive statements (as have the major Protestant churches), asking for an end to oppression, harassment and discrimination of gays. If you are Jewish and gay (only 2 requirements), call Steve at 333-5533, Michael at 285-8110, or in the East Bay, Joel at 483-1387.

THE EMPEROR SPEAKS
by Emperor Marcel

Beginning this week layer of KALENDAR, this column will appear on Sunday. It is my hope that this column will provide a forum for discussion of issues relevant to the Emperor and the L.G.B.T. community. It will make every attempt to be informative and to encourage open dialogue about the issues that affect us. I welcome your feedback and suggestions for future columns.

As the new year begins, the C.O.O. is working feverishly to get the details and for­med for this year’s安装 ceremony. A special committee of the C.O.O. is working on the C.0.0. Because of these people, the C.O.O. is alive, active and doing things for a community.

The C.O.O. is a group of aware, responsible and active men who saw the need for a cohesive, positive organization to represent the interests of our community. They are working together, with the support of all gay orga­nizations, to see that we are progressing to­wards the goals which were envision­ed by the many plans that are in various stages of completion.

The C.O.O. is the best way we know of to bind the entire gay population in our community.

In my brief tenure as Emperor, I have tried to explain that the Emperor was set up as the head of the C.O.O. that the coronation ceremony is held at the same time, admission fee (if any), whether or not it is open to the general public, and the many plans that are in various stages of completion. A reminder: Installation of new officers will entertain, "making you laugh and cry at the same time". Those who will attend will be able to enter for the dance and partake of the many plans that are in various stages of completion.

Those who administer a tablespoon of water to their plants. Many have great fear of drowning their plants, confusing over how to water their plants. Simply are taking them for granted, drying out, so they consistently drown their plants. These plants lose much moisture-holding capacity. On an average, 2" pots dry out faster than 7" pots. They need to be handled with care. Plants should be set out of doors, with exposure to the sun and temperatures. A good rule of thumb (green?) is "How much should I water my plants?" or "How should I water my plants?" "Do I water my plants with the top-of-pot method, or the bottom-of-pot method?" With the top-of-pot method, water is poured on the soil surface so that the excess drips down through the soil and into the pot. With the bottom-of-pot method, water is poured on the soil near the plant, then the pot is set in a shallow tray or pan of water. If the soil near the plant seems dry, more water should be added. If the soil near the plant is already moist, more water should not be added. Watering plants also depends on variety. Cactus requires infrequent drinks - about once every 7-10 days, or less. Most thick-leaved plants will rot. Ferns need to be watered daily, if in the riverbank and swamp origin. These plants lose much moisture-holding capacity. You have probably already noticed that there are more customers coming into your restaurant. This is partly due to the excellent service you provide. The staff have been trained to handle your customers' needs efficiently, which has resulted in increased sales. The atmosphere of your restaurant is also contributing to its popularity. The new decor and lighting create a welcoming environment that encourages people to stay longer.

You have been able to attract more local customers by promoting your restaurant in the community. This includes advertising in local newspapers and social media, as well as sponsoring local events. These efforts have helped to increase foot traffic and generate positive word-of-mouth referrals.

In terms of your reputation, I believe that it is important to maintain consistency in your service and quality. Regular customer feedback will help you identify areas for improvement and ensure that you are meeting their expectations.

With these strategies in place, I am confident that your restaurant will continue to thrive in the competitive market. Keep up the good work!

POLK-LARKIN
By David Dauber

If there has been as much excitement over the New Year as there has been of late, the Firehouse has been a major contributor to the fun. People who have been looking for a place to dance outside of the big clubs and into the smaller bars and clubs have found their haven in the New Year's Eve celebration at the Firehouse.

But the Firehouse is not the only place to find New Year's Eve celebrations. The Old Spaghetti House, the Place, and the New Bell Saloon are all hosting parties. The Old Spaghetti House is offering a special menu featuring pasta dishes, while the Place is offering a live band and a dance floor. The New Bell Saloon is offering a live DJ and a cash bar.

In addition to the New Year's Eve celebrations, there are also other events happening in the city. The Blue Door is hosting a benefit for the local charity, while the Bluebird is hosting a drag show. The New Era Records is holding a record release party for their new album. And the Town Squire is hosting a poetry reading.

Despite the end of the year, there is still a lot to look forward to in the new year. The New Bell Saloon is planning to open a new location in the city, and the Old Spaghetti House is planning to expand their menu. The Blue Door is planning to move to a new location in the city, and the Bluebird is planning to change their theme to a more hip and trendy style.

The New Year's Eve celebrations are just the beginning of the fun that is to come in the new year. There are many other events and activities happening, so be sure to check the local newspapers and online event calendars for more information.

Happy New Year!
When I was invited to write a Theatre Train column for the "San Francisco Chronicle," I was very pleased. Then I was told that the column would be a bi-weekly feature. I was a little disappointed. Now, after writing for over a year, I understand why it was done. It is a far more rewarding experience to write about the theatre in a weekly column. I will never again attempt to write diaries or personal reflections. I am grateful for the opportunity to write about the theatre in a weekly column. I have learned a lot about the theatre in the past year. I am looking forward to writing about the theatre in the future.
