Jack Anderson, the controversial columnist, said earlier this week that the lone gunman who was shot in Baltimore last week while trying to hijack an airliner was going to crash the plane into the White House.

In a tape entitled "Operation Pandora Box", Samuel Byck revealed this plan.

Wasn’t it just last week that a young service man flying a hijacked helicopter was shot down over the White House grounds? It seems that this idea is getting into more and more people’s heads these days.

Six of California’s counties have now asked to be allowed to go on some type of gas rationing plan. That seems to answer some of the questions about whether or not there really is a gas shortage or not.

In the San Francisco Chronicle earlier this week, two articles which appeared on the same page drew my attention. One by Senator Henry Jackson was headed, "Jackson sees Gas Rationing Soon." The other article by Energy Czar Simon was headed, "Simon says No Gas Rationing," which doesn’t give us much to go on.

The Directors of BART announced that unless more money is provided to overcome their deficit, trans-bay service of the controversial rapid transit system may never begin at all.

If we run out of gas they shouldn’t have any trouble getting the support they need to get the whole thing going.

The Emperor's Impressions

The 7th Annual Farewell to San Francisco, although ceremoniously provided a multitude of details, was a bit of a failure. The event was marred by a combination of bad organization and a lack of attendance.

The evening began with a presentation of photos by Bruce Bailey. Bailey, a well-known San Francisco photographer, has been capturing the city's essence for years. His work is widely acclaimed and his presentation was no exception.

Following Bailey's photos, there was a performance of Chamber Music by the San Francisco String Quartet. The quartet's performance was well-received, but it was clear that the weather had affected attendance.

The highlight of the evening was the Brunch, which was held in the beautiful ballroom of the Fairmont Hotel. The food was exquisite, and the atmosphere was festive.

As the evening wound down, there were speeches by various dignitaries, including Mayor Dianne Feinstein and Supervisor Harvey Milk.

The event was a success in spite of the poor attendance, and the hope was that it would be remembered as a memorable evening of San Francisco history.

OUT OF THE BARREL

J.C.

Dear J.C.

Why do we allow the music of husband or wife to fade away? We all work hard to keep them happy and to make sure they are remembered.

I think it would be better if we could keep the music alive and to make sure that it is remembered. I believe that we should keep the music alive and make sure that it is remembered.

Sincerely,

Jose

I will be there and hope to see you all.

I could not attend.

I'll be there and hope to see you all.

As advertised proceeds from the bar went entirely to S.I.R. ticket holder Bartenders and waiters a special thank you. Thanks to the Judges, master of ceremonies, bartenders and waiters a special thank you. Thanks to the Judges, master of ceremonies, bartenders and waiters a special thank you. Thanks to the Judges, master of ceremonies, bartenders and waiters a special thank you.

Also, that you can't be (excuse me) BITCH!!

For Greece.

Against impossible odds.

Tripping At The Theater

By Polly Del Vecchio

Sometimes my husband will come from the front room where you just want to shout: "There's enough!" And that's precisely what I feel about A.C.T.'s production of "Out of the Original Nine One Acts," which is currently running at the Geary Theater. I must say that after a long wait, four companies and 11 years, A.C.T. has finally given us the show." (Ed Hastings, San Francisco Examiner)

Of the original nine one-acts, these appear among the most popular. A.C.T., you see, has the enviable ability to create that perfect audience that will stay for an entire season. "Tripping At The Theater," the first of the nine one-acts, is a classic example of this ability. The audience, which consisted of the usual suspects, was inordinately excited about the show. They were already familiar with the work, and had been waiting for this moment for years. The opening night was a huge success, and the audience was on their feet, cheering and clapping. The show was a triumphant return for A.C.T., and a great moment for the city of San Francisco.
Darlings!

BY LA ROSS

Channeled TV camera rolled to 78 singers and dancers dressed in traditional Adelante at Gold Star for Kish's birthday brunch. This is the third year for the event, which has become a yearly tradition. The event was attended by over 200 people, including many regulars at the bar. The event featured a variety of performances, including a dance routine by the Channeled TV dancers, as well as a special performance by the Adelante choir. The event was a huge success, and everyone had a great time.

MUSIC
by John Hedges

Well, in one wish, that show at THE SHED last Saturday evening "Pepsi" and "Racey Peters" was a prime example of the way THE SHED was a good place to live music in the gay scene. The show opened with excellent voices, and you walked into THE SHED and said, "Wow!" You were excited to see the show. Then at 9:00 the music stopped and the band began to play. The beach theme was never so evident. I noted that the audience was very enthusiastic and many people were dancing. The audience was very appreciative and gave a standing ovation. The band continued to play and the audience was very enthusiastic. The show was a great success and a lot of fun for everyone. If you are looking for a great show and a lot of fun, then come to THE SHED and see "Pepsi" and "Racey Peters."
