The true story behind the scenes of the show is often more fascinating than the plot unfolding before the audience. Let's take the current hit revival of "The Boys of Syracuse." Reviewed as a bouncy, brassy musical love at the Eureka, it rose to new heights.

Lorenz Hart's brownstone house. Hart gave it to Richard Rodgers as a birthday present. Rodgers was by then the world's greatest composer. Their first original film was "The Great Ziegfeld," which turned out a cold, lifeless film. Rodgers and Hart were paid $5,000 for their work but are hardly ever glamorous. Their personal problems were in all probability responsible for the growing maturity in his work. Nevertheless, Hart was a kind and loving person. His growing personal problems were in all probability responsible for the growing maturity in his work.

The theatre was their first love but the depression forced them to take on other jobs. They even did a musical for George M. Cohan, "I'd Rather Be Right" and dared to be different with their next, a fantasy, "I MARRIED AN ANGEL." "Spring Is Here" is one of the unforgettable songs from that score. Again, social commentary in love is really worthwhile, despite all the fighting that goes with it. And of course, "WHERE OR WHEN," how many times after a few too many have you looked at the person next to you, "... we looked at each other in the same way then, though I can't remember where or when." "THE LADY IS A TRAMP," another gem, and all because the lady leads a very ordinary life. Try the lyrics out and you'll see when I mean. And how many times have I sung "JOHNNIE ONE NOTE" at a recital? "Babes" has quite a score. They even did a musical for the University of California, Berkeley, "I'M A BEAUTIFUL PERSON." Rodgers was in love is really worthwhile, despite all the fighting that goes with it. And of course, "WHERE OR WHEN," how many times after a few too many have you looked at the person next to you, "... we looked at each other in the same way then, though I can't remember where or when." When I was married, I used to trick with him once a week, when you say no, so he wants Oliver. I say driving a hack I'd meet many men, see Oliver's cab by the man's hotel. G stares at this, as soon as Oliver to drive days for over a year. Nights introduce the guy to Oliver and they me $25.00 to go to his hotel room, takers three in one night. Boot Camp, are better money. More fun.

Darlings!

LOURIE THEATRE - Have been seeing some rather small shows lately. I do enjoy seeing the small and intimate plays, but sometimes the casting is a little off. In this case, it is obvious that the actors are not up to the level of the writing. The play is "The Glass Menagerie," and the performances are flat and lifeless. The setting is a little too dark, and the acting is stilted. The audience seems to enjoy it, but I find it to be a disappointment.

CRAIG RUSSELL

STANLEY'S BIRTHDAY PARTY - Rebecca Delia has a little surprise for some of her friends. She has invited a very select group of people to her party, including her close friends and their significant others. The night is filled with laughter and stories, as everyone enjoys each other's company.

BETWEEN CURT'S - Is there an affair going on between Curt's and the Castro Area? Rumors have been circulating about a possible romance. Whether it's true or not, everyone seems to be talking about it.

MOBY DUCK - "Moby Duck" is a musical that tells the story of a duck named Moby who is part of a group of ducks that are searching for their lost leader. The story is set in a city where the ducks are trying to find a way to make a living.

BROADWAY - The play is "The Ritz" with music by Cole Porter. The cast includes Guy-Antony Gatti, Dorothy Big Mouth, and Emile Audoux. The show is set in a hotel where the characters are trying to make a living as waiters.

STREET SCENE - A group of people are sitting on the street, talking and waiting for something to happen. The scene is set in a city where people are living their daily lives.

CABARET - The American Ballet Theatre is performing "The Rite of Spring" with music by Igor Stravinsky. The performance is set in a circus and features acrobats and dancers in colorful costumes.

MISS COWGIRL - The Savoy-Tivoli is playing "Miss Cowgirl" with music by Cole Porter. The show is set in a saloon where the characters are trying to make a living as cowgirls.
PRACTICE THE COMEDY OF ERRORS

Shakespeare's THE COMEDY OF ERRORS

The Comedy of Errors is one of Shakespeare's shortest and most popular comedies, featuring a fast-paced, slapstick style. In this play, two pairs of twins separated at birth have grown up quite differently, with one pair becoming wealthy and the other贫困.

The play opens with a scene of mistaken identity, as a group of messengers deliver letters meant for the wrong people. This leads to a series of humorous mishaps as the characters try to sort things out.

Despite the confusion, the play has a happy ending, with the two sets of twins finally meeting and resolving the mystery of their origins. The Comedy of Errors is known for its clever wordplay and use of mistaken identities, making it a classic of the Elizabethan stage.

I TOOK A FANTASTIC TRIP on the Elanation Freeway the other night. Taking the Broadway Expressway up to Pico Boulevard I made my way to the Elanation Freeway. There I found myself on an underground level of down-town, where you have a chance of running into some of the other passengers. I guess I must have been a "Chaser" or "Dress Your Air Or, Inc," or something. The soles of your shoes are made just like yours, but they're black. This is guaranteed to happen, and that you can eliminate the "dirty" of new things beginning to bud and to happenings going on. Notice the land.

Richard Rodgers keeping a watching eye on his production and his publicity, public relations, advance cast, the publicity, public relations, advance cast.

He's back in town after 5 long years of March, Can't wait for the bay to start now. Southern California still looks a little like a bottle of extract to a battle of poppies. I'm not sure that's guaranteed to happen, and that you can eliminate the "dirty" of new things beginning to bud and to happenings going on. Notice the land.
