Winner of the Mr. Jock Strap of San Francisco title at Cinemat- tachine on March 23rd was Tony Grech of San Francisco. With the title went a trophy and a $200 cash prize.

Runner-up among five finalists was Bill Bonney of the Yacht Club. His second-place trophy also included a round-trip set of air tickets to Los Angeles.

From among some twenty contestants, three additional finalists were chosen: Jim Mitchell, Chris Dixon and Keith Kamrath. Their placement in the final title competition was not necessarily in that order, according to Judges Bob Cramer, Tom Hart and Bruce Little.

Mark Calhoun and Tenderloin Tessie (does anyone know him by his real name — Perry Spink?) were co-hosts for the seven-week series of presentations, and co-sponsors of the promotion along with Hal Call and the Cinemat- tachine staff. It was all conceived as a fundraiser for the Gay Community Center of San Francisco at 330 Grove St. Paul Hardman of the Center has already received the total of $314 raised for the use of that facility.
