Apart from parodies and showwows, the flash has great playswoks in the \nproduction of "Plough the Stars" to be presented this weekend. June \nJessen, Linda Powell, and \nBrian McDermott lead the \nproduction...\

Letters to the Editor...

Dear Kalendar...

Do you know what it is like to have a friend who cannot \nread or write? To know what it is like to live in a world \nwhere nothing is communicated? Well, that is exactly what it is like to \nbe an immigrant in this country. The Kalendar has written about this \nproblem before, but it needs to be said again and again.

Sincerely,

Something new on \nHaight st.

by Mike Kraivczuk

Some new businesses are opening on Haight Street. The \nbeginning was yesterdays news as the Haight \nwas youthful. There may not be a Cliff's Hard \nCider on Haight Street, but there is a new beer \nbar called Gas's l'boar. It is a hot beer and wine \nbar with a friendly and inviting \nambience so it it a sure fact that the Haight will be changing.

Haight Jeans has a huge selection of \njeans and clothing. When you walk-in, lools up, \nand in many flavors, visit Ice Cream \nStudios and Camera Store, the Shingle Shack and the \nto pick up your picture. To get your picture taken or to pick up \nby British soldiers leaves little left to be \nveryslated by the news brought by his sec­

- Mike Schmitz can paint a picture. "Everything that he said was actually happening," one of his students said. "He has a gift for making things come alive for people and he always does his homework."

- Schmitz has also been known to wear a red bandanna around his neck and carry a walking stick. "I can see him walking through the crowd," said a classmate. "He is always ready to tell a story or give a lecture." But Schmitz is not always happy with his work. "I think I could be a better teacher," he said. "I wish I could do more for my students." But his students seem to like him. "Mike is a great teacher," said one. "He is always there for us."

Debut/Farewell

by Dori Turner

The Debut/Farewell San Francisco Performances of Bill Keating was presented by the Civic Auditorium, and included performances of "The Children's Hour" and "Juno and Joan." Bill sang with and danced with his wife, Carol Burt. The show was a success, and the audience was thrilled. The production included a variety of musical numbers, including "Penny Arcades," "Juno and Joan," and "The Children's Hour." Bill's performance was praised for its emotional depth and vocal range. The audience was left wanting more, and the show was sold out for all performances.

In October, 1977, Michael Matlovich, a former U.S. Air Force officer, was dismissed from the Air Force for 'coming out.' Despite an exemplary service record and extensive legal actions, the Air Force refused to reinstate him.

The major thrust of the film will deal with this by courtroom scenes of his battle with the Air Force plus flashbacks "all the way to high school." He adds, "At the end, they'll update as to what I'm doing when the movie airs."

Brad Dourif, who was nominated for an Oscar for "Cuckoo's Nest," will portray the soft-spoken Matlovich. Other stars include Alex McClanahan (Maude's next door neighbor) in a very well played role of "my model," Mitchell Ryan, Prank Converse and Marc Singer (from "Something for Joey") playing Matlovich's best friend in the service to whom he first confided his secret.

The film is written by John McGreevey and directed by Paul Leaf. Air date had not been set as of this writing.
