Sarah Dash is nothing short of phenomenal. For beginners, she establishes immediately that her voice is the only one that matters.

Dash has been dubbed the main musical talent.

Only to him. Her diction is flawless, as she strolls the stage.

Dash is not one of those expressive, pleasant singers, but rather a dancer. Her gestures, her body language, are all part of the show.

Dash has lonely songs and displays them with a unique style which continues to develop. Her voice is the essence of her music. She contained far less energy than her previous performances. She is not one of those expressives, pleasant voices. She is the dancer, and her gestures are the key to her style.

Dash was dancing, sliding, dragging a sheet of paper, as the audience attempted to follow her every move.

As the three-tone clip was over, Dash closed her eyes and started to dance again. Dash is coming out of the public eye, but she is more than what she appears.

Dash was dressed in a black dress, and she was dancing with a plastic lily sticking out the top of her bun. Her contorted face lends to the prince at the time.

Dash is the modern-day Don Juan, who dances with a plastic lily sticking out the top of his bun.

Dash is a queen on the stage. The audience applauded her several times while pirouetting with lemon-puckered lips.

Now that everyone is starting to get into the Christmas spirit, I imagine that everyone could use a little more Christmas cheer. I hope you have been enjoying the season so far and that you have been able to find some joy in it. If you have not, then I encourage you to do so, as it is still possible to do so. If you have been looking for a little more Christmas cheer, then I suggest you start by listening to some Christmas music. There are many great Christmas songs that you can listen to, and they can help you to feel more festive.

In addition to listening to Christmas music, I also encourage you to take some time to reflect on the meaning of Christmas. Christmas is a time to remember the birth of Christ, and it is a time to think about the meaning of life. I encourage you to take some time to reflect on these things, as it can help you to feel more connected to the world around you.

I hope you have a wonderful Christmas season. I wish you all the best in the coming year.

What a Christmas Season! We're all in a happy holiday mood. The Congress and the city are going to sparkle with jots of activity. His kick-off party will be at the Starlight Room, December 22, and you can't miss it. Tenderloin Tessie, her portrait, will be there with her special effects for Christmas. We've got some other winners in my book.

Congratulations are in order also to the Coronation and being their new Gay Community Center. Their new side-kick, (and what a kick), Ava Gardner, James and Patty Packard, and Rosa, are certainly one that we all can be proud of. They've done so much for the schools and the community. They've put in two years of work and almost $5000. We're all glad to see the result.

My New Year's resolution is to do more creative and entertaining, and just what we need in these turbulent times. More love and less hate. It may not sound so exciting, but it's the truth.

May the new year bring us all peace and happiness. May the stars shine and the moon be bright. May the heavens be filled with joy.

HAPPY NEW YEAR, EVERYONE!

The San Francisco Park and Recreation Department elected Jack McGowan to serve a three-year term as a member of the San Francisco sporting Commission. The Commission is a policy-making group that oversees the over 180 athletic facilities in San Francisco, including public and private leagues which compete on athletic facilities. The CSL is looking forward to the season because of the continued interest in the league. The CSL-1973, which was one of the main topics of conversation among fans, is planning quite an event for the gay community. Former "Pocket Rocket" Champlin of the ambidextrous CSU-900 is expected better things this year.

Some text is missing, it appears that the document is about a gay bar and shop directory in San Francisco. The text is not fully legible due to handwriting and wear, but it includes information about the bar's hours, name, address, and possibly some promotions or events. The text also seems to include some reviews or descriptions of products available at the shop, possibly related to gay culture or interests. The document is printed on paper and appears to be a page from a larger publication or directory, possibly a newsletter or magazine. The text is slightly tilted and has a somewhat informal and casual tone.

The Most Unforgettable Moments in Film Life: WORD IS OUT was a sell-out at the Castro Theatre December 19th. It opened in the little old building at 429 Market Street, one of the few surviving relics of an era that is fast disappearing. Miss America's Crystal S. C. "Carmen" Bannerman, who has been making films for years, had never seen the Castro. She was so impressed with the picture that she returned for a second showing. The film is playing at the Castro for a limited engagement only—through January 14th.
