THE FUTURE OF OUR BARS

In the fight to secure 'equal protection under the law' the League has in preparation a suit test aimed at two governmental agencies. We would ask you to consider the dilemma of the bar owner in dealing with the ABC. In the first place, no owner can refuse to serve anyone who desires to have a drink in his bar, whether that person is undergraduate or is intoxicated. Yet when that person is in the bar, even the owner would like to refuse to serve him and cannot legally do so, this same owner is liable for the conduct as well as the speech of everyone in his bar.

That these suits must be filed out in many ways. It is the organized bar owners who are the most vulnerable. To refuse to serve anyone who does not agree with the official views of the ABC is confirmed by the opinions of most persons interviewed both in and out of official positions.

We feel that the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control will do everything in their power to punish those who do not 'kow-tow' to the prejudiced opinion of this Editor that there is no justice for anyone who does not agree with the official views of the ABC. This is confirmed by the editorials of most persons interviewed both in and out of official positions.

The Editor has no interest in any bar nor in any group of bars. Our interest is in justice. The only reason for the interest in this fight is a simple one: the ABC is for the past 60 days to sell the "licences". The problem of dealing with honorable men, goes ahead and pleads guilty, but here is the rub: it would be impossible to prove that they are not true. The ABC has said that it was in the best interest of all concerned to make the charges specific. When a men's business and reputation are at stake, they must not serve justice to make vague, emotion charged allegations about a bar.

In the case of a small bar, or a beer, bar, there is just enough money coming into the cash registers to finance a court fight. The ABC can pick a bar out of business merely by placing charges against it. This financial attrition has been going rampant in California. A beer license cost about $150 to $200.

To defend this license cost from $4,000 to $5,000. You have to sell a hell of a lot of beer to fight a case as expensive as this. Thus it is far more sensible to merely give up.

The course that the ABC has chosen to follow will result in one of several things:
(1) Irresponsible bar ownership;
(2) Increase in blackmail;
(3) Control of the bars by the Mobs of the East.
It cannot result in better run bars, as there has been proven the disregard with which you run a bar the ABC can and will close you if they so desire.

WHO READS L.C.E. NEWS?

The question is presented to the Editor many times each issue. It is published for one class of people. That class of people encompasses all classes, creed, religions, and races. The L.C.E. News is published solely for persons who believe:

"Enlighten the people generally, and tyranny and oppression of bodies and mind will vanish like evil spirits at the dawn of day"

We are in possession of a series of statements which will explain the whole matter of sexual relations among social variants, except that we have not yet brought the issue of sexual relations among consensual groups to the Supreme Court's attention. It is true that we have not yet had a case of actual arrest and conviction, but we hope that the Court will in the near future be in a better position to consider other cases which come to our attention.

Association Director

September 26th letter asking the Union's Board of Directors to take up the point and proceed with regard to the specific issue of sexual relations among social variants.

Dear Mr. Reitman,

The issue of sexual relations among social variants is one which has been of great concern to the Union for some time. We have been working on it for a long time, but in a way that has not been very effective.

Very truly yours,

How to get right down to cases, it's something of a relief that Michelle International Diamond Horseshoe was not in town this week. They said in the morning that every year we wonder this, well, do they think we're stupid or what? It's a lot of work, but it's gorgeous pictures. The colors are beautiful. The flowers in the bouquet are perfect. They're just lovely, well, you know... But let's get back to the museum. The flowers are wonderful. The arrangement is beautiful. The colors are gorgeous. The flowers are just lovely.

On the other hand, the museum was very disappointing. I was hoping for more. I was expecting something more. But it was just a regular museum, nothing special. I was a little disappointed. But overall, it was a pleasant experience. I would recommend it to others.

During the museum visit, we also enjoyed a lovely meal at the museum's restaurant. The dishes were delicious. The service was excellent. It was a wonderful experience. I would definitely recommend the restaurant to others.

Overall, the experience was pleasant. While the museum was a bit disappointing, the restaurant more than made up for it. I would definitely return to the museum and restaurant on another visit.
The following lengthy article is published in The New York Times, under the byline of John H. Studebaker. It discusses the issue of press freedom and the role of government in regulating the press. The article is written in a formal tone and reflects the concerns of the time regarding the balance between press freedom and responsible journalism.

In response to an invitation to record an interview with ABC's John Stratton, Mr. Smiley declined to do so. The following is an excerpt from the interview:

To The Chief

We have written the following letter to the Chief of Police of San Francisco.

"This writer has been highly critical of the methods and tactics of the Police Department of San Francisco. However, we believe in credit where due. It is to this end that this letter is written. Your entire department is to be congratulated on the way they handled the boy crowds on Halloween. Officers that we saw on duty - tended to tense the jovial nature of the participants and brought credit upon the Police Department of San Francisco. A very large THANK YOU SIR for a safe, sane Halloween.

Very truly yours,
Fay Strait"
BIASED SF

San Francisco, the City International. Biased Baghdad by the Bay, using Herbies hackneyed phrases. Where they bed with the Black Man at night and fugitively secret him from their homes in the morning. Any other nationality, former gestapo agents, even Big K was greeted with open arms. Only the very superficial public places are open to him. He remains a phantom, a spectre caught in the middle of a social structure bent on keeping him in his place. The only time his face appears in the news or on television is in relationship to crime.

So he walks alone in the night. A black spectre in the black night. His heart heavy with pain, knowing that the City he loves, that he holds dear to his heart is but a citadel against him. Yet he would put forth his hand. He would say 'open your doors. I am not to be feared, my heart is open to you. Beneath this black surface is a great heart. I have the heart and hands of a master creator. This is my message to the world—the only way in which I am able to convey my inner self'.

A Reader.

Then there was Bob who was rolling everyone in sight to see who would give a dollar to the Chest. By the way you should know that the Chest that Norman and the Senator took around on Halloween collected $43.00 for the Chest. Every little bit is a nail in the coffin of the guys who think they have a halo. Try a little and make it a noose instead.

THE UNDESIRABLES

It has been suggested that the League might well 'soft-pedal' the fight for the rights guaranteed citizens because of a small minority who consistently bring discredit upon the whole. The fact that some people talk, act, and dress in a manner which has been given as sufficient reason for withholding privileges of citizenship from the entire community.

It has been suggested that we 'tame the fire' as it has been done' so that those who behave in poor taste might become educated to their social responsibility. For the entire length of the Editors memory there have been petition and protest against groups. We have heard of social variance spoken of in the same terms that we wonder if anyone has a small interest or if they are merely parroting someone who has gone before. We must reject all theories which include all types of social variance. There is only one field in which there is a common meeting place for all who find themselves at odds with the general norm. It is aptly described in the Constitution that are the foundation of the United States. Such descriptions as 'all men are created equal' are enshrined. The freedom of the press or of the speech of the people, defense, assimilation, and "We state shall make or enforce no laws which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States...nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the law".

The common meeting grounds of all Americans lie within these descriptions. Regardless of any other big or little differences we find ourselves at odds with the general norm. Nothing is said about whether or not the persons involved dress in the norm laid down by society; nothing is said about the amount of starch required for the wrist of the person involved. Not one word is uttered about the tenor of the speech involved. The Editor is not so foolish as to wish to see San Francisco become another gathering-place for every oddball that is born in the United States. We would hate to see an increase of limp wristed pants flaunting behaviorism preaching voices. In fact we would do everything in our power to prevent it. That is everything short of withholding the one thing that we all are guaranteed, freedom. For a whole segment of the population to forfet those rights that are basic in the American Tradition because of this very segment would be a catastrophe. And it is exactly this that we are fighting. Put simply, our fight is to determine whether we shall be governed by the Constitution or by a handful of would-be dictators. For anyone to say that 'this group is not yet ready to receive the benefits of the Constitution is bullying'. But then, the objectionable lies within ourselves rather than within the framework of the Constitution. Is it not for us to police our ranks rather than attempting to educate those who are deprived of their rights?

There is only one constituent of the objectionable lie within ourselves rather than within the framework of the Constitution. It is not for us to police our ranks rather than attempting to educate those who are deprived of their rights?

Michelle opened Jack's Hideaway room with a bang for the L.C.E. War Chest that was far beyond any thing that has been done in San Francisco since Janet MacDonald sang that famous song while the buildings came tumbling down.

The Michelle Extravaganza was billed as "Michelle takes all of the preparations for his trip, the travel, and his return". Actually it was the Michelle of old who has become the most critical audiences for some time here in San Francisco. The show started out slowly, probably because he was sticking too close to the prepared program but within a few minutes he warmed up to a fast clip. Keeping his audience in laughter, occupying a major portion of the show was talk of Hallowe'en. Franklin, who was sitting in the hall and who in fact had taken the entire L.C.E. section came in for a large portion of the discussion. The Advent of Frankenstein ride stop a bus down Market Street and some signatures of the past history of their feud got the crowd in stitches.

Michelle was ably attended by his ever loyal friend Royal. Royal also is responsible for the production of the Fashion Show on the 20th.

Letters to the Editor

Sir:

When it comes to picking candidates, without a doubt, I would choose one that is a supporter of Christopher. I have been more impressed by his stands throughout the election. If he is in office, I will be more likely to do my civic duty.

C.C. - San Francisco

Sir:

I do not feel that your organization is interested in the welfare of the people who are your members. I have heard the story about the Post Office delivering it to Los Angeles, and Sacramento before sending it to me. That is the way I see it. But I am happy to say that the upcoming "Once Upon a Mattress" promises to equal if not surpass "Oliver". I find the show must go on. And it is a good thing that it does.

Bowen - San Francisco

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

When is the primary hope of any minority to be called non-pollitical. So far as I am concerned, the whole idea of your organization is to make a profit by selling to people who are not interested in your organization. If I want to see a show, I will go to the theater. And if I want to read a newspaper, I will subscribe to one that I enjoy.

John - San Francisco

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I agree almost 100% with your candidates for public office. But why do you not have a candidate for Secretary of State? I think that you are making a mistake by not putting a candidate for Secretary of State. And you cannot have a candidate for Secretary of State. And I do not feel that your organization is interested in the welfare of the people who are your members. I have heard the story about the Post Office delivering it to Los Angeles, and Sacramento before sending it to me. That is the way I see it. But I am happy to say that the upcoming "Once Upon a Mattress" promises to equal if not surpass "Oliver". I find the show must go on. And it is a good thing that it does.
