WHAT HAPPENED AT THE HAIGHT

Well the joint is closed, but let's take it from the top...

Bernie and Tony blew into town from Hollywood with a six months lease on this 500 seat theater in a rapidly deteriorating neighborhood shopping district...

They proceeded to decorate the place and clean it up. In the meantime they contacted a number of friendly newspaper reporters who were starving for news between the Republican and the Democratic Conventions and arranged for a few publicity stunts...

They then contacted this paper and arranged for an advertisement. Some other well-wishers suggested that they contact another publisher in the field who had contemplated the publication of a newspaper. This they did...

There was no end of personality clashes with the result that some ill-advised words were exchanged on both sides...

One other organization got in on the act with considerable talk but approaches by their members amounted to but very little other than injured egos on both sides...

Then the Haight-Ashbury Neighborhood Improvement Association got into the act. A large number of the Community were surprised to find our organizations working with a group of people who have been consistently antagonistic to their mere presence...

The brash young men who did not understand the difference between publicity and notoriety arranged for radio time on KMPX-FM. The first program was cut off the air when the word 'gay' was mentioned. In the meantime some letters and phone calls were received that would be embarrassing to the originators if they were made public. We were surprised to find that some of the most vocal advocates of free speech are a little on the conservative side when they do not agree with the speaker...

Charges of Cosa Nostra and 'The Mob' were flying back and forth among 'The Sky Is Falling' alarmists...

The editor of the Citizens News has some old-time connections with people in the know in Chicago and New Orleans and asked them to look into the background of these people...

One informant, an old-time hood said, 'What-a-the hell, you-a know we-a donna wanna take th' theat', business. Alla I kina find is thata thoses a boys are short-a cash...'

By this time that much was apparent because checks had started bouncing like a good grade of latex...

In a meeting where the editor was present some of the misunderstandings about these boys were aired. Without any disclosure of certain knowledge to the contrary, the

NARCOTICS

The West Coast has long had the center of the homosexual traffic. Yet this report shows that the western states has the low- est percentage arrests for heroin, cocaine, etc. It has the highest rate for ar- rests for the non-habit-forming drugs, and is surpassed by the Northeastern and the South for other non-narcotic drugs (barbiturates and benzodiazepines, etc.)

SEX OFFENDERS

It is unreportable, yet we can report that there are constant calls of protecting the teenagers against the homosexuals.

No CONNECTION

Try as we may we can find no connection with homosexuals. Homosexuality is evident in the national picture that the Center's programs of investiga- tion does not consider it of any moment, since the report does not mention it in any way whatsoever.

THE ATHENEUM REVIEW

Dr. Franklin K. Kameny, president of the Washington Metaphysical Society, addressed the New York Metaphysics at a celebration of the 100th such organization.

"Of particular interest to everyone, was Dr. Kameny's stand regarding the "master of the origins of homosexuality," and the possibility of re-orientation to heterosexual-..."While as a person selling in all aspects of homosexuality, I find these questions are...of some passing interest,...of the view...city and social rights; these questions interested me not at all."

The Atheneum Review, merely a publishing company, has its closest...and the figures for this Independent survey.

The homosexual presents a very large economic puzzle to the merchants and dispensers of services in the country. It was quite recently that the many such thoughts were given to this fantastically large market. Even at this writing we find that only a small percentage of the suppliers are interested in this market, primarily because no economic surveys have been made to determine the needs and desires of the homosexual market. The homosexual presents a very large economic puzzle to the merchants and dispensers of services in the country. It was quite recently that the many such thoughts were given to this fantastically large market. Even at this writing we find that only a small percentage of the suppliers are interested in this market, primarily because no economic surveys have been made to determine the needs and desires of the homosexual market. Other information is available merely by observation. The homosexual has very few characteristics and some information is available merely by observation. Other information is secured by comparing statistics:

1. Only one out of four homosexuals is, or ever has been married. This is to be compared with the national figure of about 90.

2. The female homosexual accounts for almost 70% of the married homosexuals. That is: 75% of the homosexuals are women. Of the 25% that do marry, 70 out of 100 are women.

3. There is absolutely nothing that can be said that will apply to all homosexuals except that they either have, are or will want to engage in sexual activities. Every-...thing else must be prefaced with the phrase, "Most or many homosexuals..." This is not used in this survey but is to be implied in everything said herein.

not smoke. Cigars are a rarity among homosexuals as well as pipes. This may be due to the other forms of tobacco.

ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES $1,329,372,000

Some of whom could not afford it. It is outstanding that only very small percentage of homosexuals will ever go into these places. This market is so unexploited as to be out of the question. In many places in the United States the alcoholic bar has been established by crooked politicians or by ill-advised persons have provided graft and corruption in this field. In New York City it is not uncommon to pay $23 for a week, and this price is necessary to pay off the various law enforcement agencies.

In California the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control of the state has over 700,000 of the gay bars to expend large sums of money on lawyers in order to stop them. In the Supreme Court of California has found nothing illegal about the operation of a gay bar.

The gay bar business is also plagued by the number of persons who enter it each year. It is no secret that any number of bars are failures when they cater to the general public will be "turned on" and start catering to the homosexual element. Many of these straight-owned gay bars will continue to do a great volume of business for many years although they encourage homosexuals to either trade with their own kind or to patronize the various bars throughout the country it must be remembered that these bars probably primarily independent of each other.

Altho the figure given for the alcoholic consumption is about the same percentage of the national average as would be expected, there are some who are members of the homosexual element who have faced the reality of their situation, and they have very definite opinions as to what is right or wrong about the attitudes of their counterparts. Since these people do not ordinarily have to appear in public, there is a big, big market here for hospitalization.

In the matter of housing the figure is well below the national average. There is a big market here for hospitalization.

The leather and latex group may have the same wardrobe as the first type but still have many pairs of Levi's. There is the "air of studied negligence" sometimes much enjoyed by the corporate masses. It goes without saying that the great revalation to anyone. Some naturally overdo this type of homosexual may lead the unobservlng to make a mistake.
Reading and Education $1,477,080,000

This sum is all the more impressive when one considers the variety of knowledge required for intelligent conversation, the sacrifices made by the teachers, and the difficulties of teaching and learning.

Some Fallan Croney's have discovered the homosexual interest in pornography in the form of physique magazines. This is, of course, a great stretch of the truth to call these magazines 'pornographic'. In reality they are nondescript or even obscene in the viewer's eye as the scanty-clad figures in the girls magazine (even those of the physically fit) are not truly remarkable. The physique magazine, even if pornography (and we repeat-they are not only a small but an important part of the market) by a magazine distributor statements there are about 50 of these magazines published with an average circulation of less than 20,000 each or a total of 1,000,000. This means that homosexuals are reluctant to buy certain homosexual publication although there is no reason to fear them and all of them are easily passed by any type of censoring authority.

Until recently there were four more or less overt homosexual publications on the market. The Mattachine Review of San Francisco has apparently become defunct (false) the editor of that publication in a recent statement said it "was not dead!

This leaves three publications in the general field although there are others published with a limited circulation.

1) The Ladder-A lesbian publication
2) The Lambda-A gay publication
3) Citizens News-Altoh not exclusively a homosexual publication but it does have a large reading public.

All together the three still do not constitute a major factor in the gay dollar reading for the total circulation of all of them is less than 12,000 with the Citizens News having a circulation of approximately 10,000.

In short the gay dollar has not yet really been tapped. Some fields such as clothing and publications are given over to the homosexual in making his dollar felt in the cry for better design in many things.

"Homophobes" are an ever increasing tendency to demand more freedom of communication and an advertising media wherein the homosexual can address himself to that certain market which would like to have business...

It is that need that the Citizen News hopes to fill.

The Editor

Homosexuals demand high quality and good design.

The merchants who get business from homosexuals must expect to advertise in such a way as to attract this business and it is not to be had by half-way measures.

Awareness of the buying power of the homosexual is a matter of essential to the intelligent advertiser.

The last time the Roving Reporter went to press we had a note written in a kind of shorthand. On it there was scribbled "Call Dumplings." Now we know of no one named "Dumplings" or if we did we would not admit it.

As we could not decipher our own handwritings it was necessary to throw the note away. On the way to our printer we had to go to the office building wherein our 'good' friend Hal Call makes his office... then a flash of light...The note meant we had seen Hal Call scarfing up chicken and dumplings at the Web the other Monday night as we made deliveries. Three weeks late but they still are serving the most delicious dumplings this side of Natchez Trace.

The streets are busy with the advent of tourists from Los Angeles and New York with 'independent businessmen' on every corner. It is just that they had never worn heels before and were a little giddy over the idea.

For Labor Day there seems to be only one scheduled affair and that is the picnic sponsored by the Hula Shack. Last weekend at that place there was a big party celebrating the marriage of Marty and Tanya. This probably is the most co-educational bar in the entire city. On that item about co-educational we cannot overlook Mr. B's so far as the daytime business is concerned. But it is primarily from the people who work in the offices in that corner of the city.

MATTACHINE MEET

The Mattachine Society of San Francisco held its annual conference at 1036 Bush, The Precarious Vision—Coffee Shop. This establishment is operated under the auspices of the Young Adult Project of the Glide Methodist Church.

About 40 highly interested persons attended the conference where the subject was, "The Invasion of Privacy".

Prior to opening the meeting the President of the Mattachine Society of San Francisco, Hal Call commented on the growth of the 'homophile' movement in the United States in recent years. He presented to the group each of the publications that are currently on the market and assured the audience that the Mattachine Review would be back in print in the near future, saying, "The plates are now being made and printing will start within the next few days."

CANNON Robert W. Cromey, of All Saints Episcopal Church then spoke on the Legal and moral issues involving the invasion of privacy. Canon Cromey insisted that every person had the right to the 'withdrawal from society' for private matters and it mattered not what those matters might be.

Robert Dirksen, Public Relations Director for the Mattachine Society presented a highly informative and well organized slide program on techniques of eavesdropping and 'bugging' apparatus used by various and sundry agencies. "Some of the devices used," said Dirksen, "are no larger than a cigarette lighter and are for sale to anyone who has the price."

Dane Mohler, President of the Los Angeles Mattachine Society, Legislative Advocate, and Private Eye Extraordinary spoke on the "Legal Aspects of Invasion of Privacy."

Prior to this discussion it was generally understood that Mr. Mohler was the only full time legal researcher in California however he told a rather unbelievable tale of being commissioned to follow a young lover and happened to pick up his trail on Hollywood Boulevard at the same time he picked up his "man Friday" and then going to the airport, taking off in his plane, tracking the lover on the highway to his motel and then landing and checking in at an adjoining room and applying the latest devices of invasion of privacy. Said Mohler, "I know more about this boy now than anyone else in town."

Mr. Mohler then proceeded to quote cases where the invasion of privacy had been forbidden by various courts of the land. He deplored the use of these techniques (Continued on Page 4)

SIT-IN PROBABLE

PLUSH DOGGIE SIT IN?

The Plush Doggie is a hotdog and hamburger place located very near the cable car turntable in San Francisco. It is open 24 hours a day and does not even have doors on the Market Street Side.

This is the busiest area in San Francisco in many more ways than one. Recently the management has taken a jaundiced view of customers who dawdle overly long with a cup of coffee or who come into the place to talk to other patrons without buying anything themselves.

Even more recently this dim view of non-income bearing business has occasioned the management to refuse to serve persons who do not particularly appreciate the premises.

The management has been overly careful that this dim view did not include persons of African descent. So care have they been to make exceptions in this case that a number of these have practically camped out in the back areas of the place.

Recently some persons of fairly good position and social standing in the city have been refused service in this place and last week a person who is noted for his freehand spending was invited by a SF policeman to leave the place or be arrested for vagrancy.

Since California does not have a vagrancy law as such, it was of course, an empty threat. However a number of the people who have been insulted by the management have employed an attorney to look into the matter with a view toward filing suit in federal court under the civil rights law recently enacted by Congress. Grandma signed the papers so her 15-year-old grandson could buy an $85 used car off a Boise lot.

A few blocks away the transmission fell out of the car, traffic snarled and the police arrived on the scene. They found that grandma wasn't grandma at all, but a 13-year-old boy in disguise, police said, including a voice like a real grandma.

CRAVING COOL, REAL COOL

Sure, when I was a kid, we had even more unemployment. But we had the Great Depression then. And we were working for Recovery—not expecting things to get worse and worse. This single fact is almost enough to account for the "inexplanation" behavior of kids today. Student counselors, counselors, produce, Big Brother Clubs, all angrily advise kids they've got to get an education, "Don't be a Drop-Out. But when we were kids—let's be honest—it was a helluva lot easier to get into college. If we had some of the compulsory education devices now, we'd have found it. We'd have done better. We'd have played more. But we have this mass of people, this "Big Brother," Clubs all sagely advise kids "Inexplanation" behavior of kids today. Student counselors, counselors, produce, Big Brother Clubs, all angrily advise kids they've got to get an education, "Don't be a Drop-Out. But when we were kids—let's be honest—it was a helluva lot easier to get into college. If we had some of the compulsory education devices now, we'd have done better. We'd have played more.

Also, it looks like we can't continue very much longer to use the military service as a dodge for our problems. The Draft was a pretty good device, it's too easy to ask a young man to prepare to defend his country and die for it. The Draft is even funnier in the same way you tell him he is too young to vote—and even to buy. We have to check our young men and women as if we thought "They didn't have all their marbles.

We're not prepared to give them the education and training they need, we can't continue to draft them. What do we offer? The Youth Conservation Corps? Hell, that's not even a good thing to do in the desperate days of the Depression, but today we boast about our Affluent Society.

Another thing, when I was a kid—those were the pre-Depression days, it sounds enough. The Kinsey Report wasn't published till the fifties. And what difference does it make? All the kids are going to be in "inexplanation" senseless" fashion. We have said "Inexplanation" the kids, they are that bad, not bad, not evil, and they are in trouble. Kinsey established beyond dispute that all kids (and adults too) do these things. Kids today do the same "things" we did, but they don't feel as bad about them.

So the Kinsey Report changed our attitudes, but we have not changed our institutions to continue to enforce the anti-sexual laws of unnatural, frigid, Puritan origin.

If we continue to frustrate youth economically, if we hamstring them biologically, refusing to accept mature responsibility of being his brother's keeper, it is said, he is considered old enough to go to Korea, Viet Nam, or some other god-forsaken place—to die for his country if need be, he is not old enough to get jobs in the defense industry and buy alcohol. When we think of fighting for the principle that all men are created equal except teenagers.

NO SEX—YOU ARE TOO YOUNG

When it comes to sex, the generation gap between the two generations is unbridgeable. We naturally look down on any teenager who is so abnormal that we think they have lost their sex drive. Since when do we have sex that is not the Right thing to. They'll know that his father and mother (not with each other) have done these things but just because he is still not old enough to vote, he is not old enough to get a marriage license, he is not old enough to get a marriage license, he is not old enough to vote, he is not old enough to drink beer. We deplore long and loud (especially if we are running for office public policy) the irresponsibility of our teenagers. Why last year an and five kids under 15 years of age in the United States arrested for driving while drunk. Now we know that the kids who are married before they are 18 have none these things, but Just because he is old enough to get out, "Old Enough To Die—"

As this old editor rapidly, too rapidly, approaches the half-century mark I suppose that it is nothing but 'normal' that we long for the old days of youth. But the old days of my youth no longer exist for we have decided, our youth must be paragons of virtue and sex. We can't understand why they have none these things, but Just because he is old enough to get out, "Old Enough To Die—" new problem arises. While you were in grade school you may have heard a lot of 'saucy', rubbers, condoms, etc. A few of them have been described in high school. Now we know that you never did such nasty things as talk about sex with boys and girls in school. But when you were married you had better think of such things, because your Union will not fix the sale of these devices except for the prevention of disease. Your child is going to be in danger to the conception of babies, but don't ask about these things because to do so is against the law.

I don't know how to tell you anything about birth control except to abstain, you know that this is NOT for your information.

For years, we have watched the books you read. God forbid that you ever read anything about Communists. We don't want you to think about the politics of the times, and to be d irr t r e d up with stuff like that.

We have gone to great lengths to see that you do not get your hands on any smutty books. I don't care what it says in the Constitution about freedom of the press, you will not be allowed to read any of that trash until you are 18. You will not be allowed to vote until you are 21, if you are a member when I was your age and got held of the little blue books...Ah, those were the days. But don't you read them, even if you live happily every after.

One thing you got to remember—don't read about these gay tales of crime and violence. It will lead you into bad thoughts. I know that when I was a kid reading about John Dillinger and Al Capone it made me feel dirty and sick. The same kind of book would do the same to you. Hey, we all have our vices, I'm just as bad as you. But I don't want you to read about gangsters. I want you to read about the armed forces. You can be a part of the armed forces. You can serve your country in that way. Of course you can volunteer for the armed forces. I want to tell you that you are going to have to be careful about what you read. They are strict about sex and if you have ever had anything to do with another boy they will find it out and punish you. So I don't even talk about those things-like that, they will still give you a rough time, even if you live happily ever after.

If you are interested in a new concept in magazine publishing and, to quote Henry David Thoreau, "The way of the world is a way of the world, and the world is the world; and I think it is a good thing for all of us to remember that."
The Atlantic City Police Department in cooperation with the New Jersey State Police set up closed circuit TV cameras to catch any illegal action on the floor of the Democratic National Convention.

Two of the cameras were to be roving units, panning back and forth by remote control from the operations room, and the others will be stationary with a state policeman watching thru the monitor.

Some of the stories that these 'cops' will be able to tell might make a good book by itself.

Kissing each other, hugging, and back patting (with or without a knife) is legal in a politician's convention. The rules of the game say it is not legal to go below the belt.
