Public Spy

"Personal privacy will become a thing of the past unless strong laws are written to curb official and private spying, prying and eavesdropping," said Senator Edward V. Long, Democrat of Missouri.

Long heads a Senate subcommittee which plans a lengthy investigation this year into how widespread the practice of eavesdropping has become.

One of the prime targets of the inquiry will be government agencies themselves. "They are among the worst offenders," Long said.

The inquiry will range from wire-tapping through concealed recording devices, to mail covers and peepholes in private and public buildings.

The hearings will start in February. The senator said that preliminary investigations have shown a great deal and he predicts they will be able to pass some legislation this session of Congress.

"When the general public finds out how much of this evil is going on, I think there will be a great public outcry for action," he said.

Long said he realized the difficulty of writing legislation protecting the public right to privacy, but he is convinced that electronic eavesdropping, plus official sanction of official snooping has reached the point where something must be done.

Police and other enforcement agencies are certain to attempt to block this investigation since a large part of their work is performed in this manner.

Impersonal Sex

The Rev. John V. Moore of San Francisco's Glide Memorial Methodist Church established a precedent in his sermon on January 10 when he spoke on "A Christian View of Sex." Disclaiming to give either the "Methodist" or the "Christian" view, he spoke only for himself and questioned if anyone could speak for the other two views.

Rev. Moore said, "The greatest sexual problem of our day is the alienation of sex from persons - as evidenced in talk about having sex." Pointing out that impersonality of "having sex" might often take place without the participants ever even seeing each other, he said, "I'm not being entirely facetious when I suggest that it may not be long before prostitution is automated."

Rev. Moore challenged a statement by Simon de Beauvoir, a French philosopher, that lesbianism is a rejection of women by their being used as sexual objects by men.

The second of the series of sermons on the general topic of "Sex" will be given on the 17th when the subject will be "Community, Church, and the Homosexual." The services are at 11 AM at the Glide Memorial Church on Ellis Street in San Francisco.

Rev. Moore was a participant in the conference held in Marin County in June regarding the plight of homosexuals and their church relations. This conference was a forerunner to the organization now known to the Council on Religion and the Homosexual and the Homosexual held a costume ball at California Hall in San Francisco on the 1st of January.

The CRH is an organization dedicated, in part, to the establishment of a continuing dialogue between the clergy and the homosexuals.

The reason for giving this ball was to raise funds for the necessary expenses of this organization. Since it is involved in an unpopular cause, there are no municipal or other non-profit foundation organizations willing to be associated with the CRH.

The ball was cleared with all the proper authorities before the event and a very large crowd was expected. Unfortunately the ball was so heavily harassed by the San Francisco Police Department that only a portion of those who had arranged for invitations crossed the picket line posted by the Police Department. About 550 of the homosexuals and their friends were brave enough to come into the place. This assured that the ball would not be a financial failure, but it was not a financial success.

However socially the ball was enjoyed by those 500 who did get into the building. There was dancing on two levels with the twist, swim, jerk, etc being the mode in the basement and the fox-trot prevailing on the upper level.

Some of the costumes were comparable with the finest to be seen on Bourbon Street on Shrove Tuesday. There was Erick and the Countess as "Marie Antoinette and Louis;"

"There was B. Billing as "The New Year;" There was Michelle in one of his most fabulous costumes yet; There was "Franklin with balloons; There was J. Deare as "The Golden Girl;" There was an untold number of police posing as law-abiding citizens; There was no-one posing as a law-breaking policeman; There was Zelda as the most sparkling personality on the dance floor; There was an overflow of good costumery.

The food was furnished by the Coit's, the bar was manned by The Seven Guild, S.I.R., arranged for the decorations of the hall; Advertising was by Strait and Associates and the Mattachine Society of San Francisco.

Except for the unwarranted and obnoxious presence of the delegation from the Hall of Justice, the ball proceeded without a hitch and everyone had a good time.

There were two floor shows, one performed by Franklin, who had to combat the cops-and-robbers show that filled the hall, with lots of cops and not a criminal in the house.

Altho the party broke up early (about 1 AM) there was no one who could not say they had not had a more unusual, if not enjoyable, experience. There is considerable pressure on the CRH to repeat the ball at the next opportunity, but the leaders of the CRH insist that it is not in this field of endeavor that they want to be considered.

The Law, The Action and The Reaction

Prior to the holding of the Mardi Gras Ball at the California Hall in San Francisco, two ministers arranged a call on the Chief of Police. As is usual, the Chief was busy and could not see them then and they were referred to the sex detail of the SFPD.

The Sex Detail was surprised to find that anyone would want to have anything to do with such undesirable people as homosexuals and were vitally interested in the theology of anyone so interested. One of the ministers who attended the 'conference' felt he was being subjected to a discourse on theology rather than being briefed on police policy.

After this 'conference', a call was received by the ministers from the SFPD, saying that 'no masks and no costumes would be permitted to be worn at the ball.'

Since this was an obvious violation (on the part of the police department) of the California Penal Code, the ministers called a hasty meeting of the various homosexual organizations.

(The California Penal Code read as follows: 650a-WEARING OF MASKS PROHIBITED-It is a misdemeanor for any person, either alone or in company with others, to appear on any street or highway, or in any public place, or any place open to view by the general public, with his face partially or completely concealed by means of a mask or other raiment or paraphernalia, with intent thereby to conceal his identity. This section does not prohibit the wearing of such means of concealment in good faith for the purposes of amusement, entry into or exit from a place where public health or decency is endangered, or in compliance with any public health or decency order. (Emphasis supplied))

Regarding costumes: (The law here is so vague that it is beyond description.)

650c-Injuries to persons, property, public peace, health or decency: false pretension for loot purposes: A person who willfully and wrongfully assumes or affixes to himself, with intent of accomplishing any lawful or licentious purpose...

A police officer but refuses to show me his badge and I will not refrain from blocking his camera until he does" the other officer said that he would vouch for the fact that the photographer was in fact, a police officer. Later the photographer did show his badge to Mr. Strait.

After the harassment in front of the hall died down, due to the arrival of most of the guests, some police officers attempted to enter the building. At this time two attorneys, hired by the CHR, protested their entry into a private party. They were promptly arrested for interfering with an officer in the performance of his duty. Then another attorney came to the rescue and he was also arrested.

A very slightly built woman was at the entry checking invitations. An officer in plain clothes came into the building. He was asked for his invitation by this young lady. He said, "I am a police officer." When she asked to see his badge, she was also arrested.

Until this time, the police had long ago forced their entry into the hall. It was strange to see how little interest they had in the persons in the hall.

About an hour after the entry had been forced, two plain clothesmen arrested two men for lewd conduct. They accused them of kissing in public. However witnesses in the vicinity do not agree with the statement of the police in this matter. This was the last arrest made on the premises.

The departure from the hall was quiet, orderly and except for the police officer's photography (which is said to be poor) no further incidents were reported.

Persons arriving at the Mardi Gras Ball were greeted with such a display of police power as to scare away all but the most determined.

At one time there was an estimate of 35 uniformed officers and 15 plain clothesmen present. Each person arriving was given a barrage of flood lights and cameras. They were police officers. One of the ministers, in assisting persons to depart, positioned himself in front of the photographers. He was warned that if he did this again he would be arrested.

At another time the editor of the Citizens News, Doy Strait, questioned the photographer as to his status. The photographer was reluctant to reveal his identity. When Mr. Strait approached another officer and made the statement, "This guy says he is..." the other officer said it was a police officer, but refused to show me his badge and I will not refrain from blocking his camera until he does..."

The departure from the hall was quiet, orderly and except for the police officer's photography (which is said to be poor) no further incidents were reported.
LOS ANGELES CULTURE COPS IN SEARCH OF DIRTY ART

Comber Everts of Los Angeles displayed a naked woman in the window of a Los Angeles art gallery announcing his exhibit. The poster showed a young woman facing the world from the womb of a woman. Very shortly thereafter, three men accused Everts in the parking lot of the gallery. They were of the beatnik dress with T-shirts and goatees. But it developed that they were the "culture cops" of Los Angeles and were working up and down La Cienega on the long-forgotten 'el deboh' coast. They had seen Everts painting and thought it obscene. In fact, as an obscene as you can get. They denounced what he removed. Everts refused and the "culture cops" left.

It was only a few days after this that he was served with a notice that the Los Angeles County district attorney in charge of pornography had indicted Everts on counts of obscenity. Everts was defended by his own version of it. Everts refused to define obscenity with a lawman. Stewart Robertson, art editor of the Los Angeles Times, thought the work was of general merit but superficially repellent. Stewart Robertson of the MGM Studios, called it obscenity. When he was asked to shun thru some works of Picasso, including some nude studies, he declared, "All of Picasso's works are obscene." The jury was deadlocked and a new trial ordered, but it would appear that no trial will take place. A new district attorney has taken office and he says, "It will be the policy of this office not to waste the taxpayers money in merely staging shows, in filling charges, and conducting prosecutions for their publicity values in cases where high courts have clearly indicated they will not uphold the convictions." Observers are hoping that in the not too far distant future the population of Los Angeles will be far enough advanced to be trusted with such things as Tristram of Cren-

NORTH BEACH MISSION LUTHERAN CHURCH

The town of San Francisco is a community of various social and religious beliefs. In the past, the mission has been the focus of much controversy, with particular attention paid to its relationship with the local community. The church is known for its progressive stances and commitment to social justice. The current pastor, Dr. Charles L. Wright, has been a prominent figure in the city's religious landscape, advocating for inclusivity and equality. The church's mission statement is "A church that serves, a church that loves, a church that cares."

WHAT SHALL WE DO NEXT? (Regarding the police action at the New Year's Mardi Gras Ball)

This is a reprint from an address to the Council on Religion and the Homosexual.

The Mardi Gras Ball is not much of a public event. It has been toned down because it has been a nightmare for the police. The event has been canceled, at least temporarily, until the police can come up with a convincing plan. No one likes the idea of a public event where there is a possibility of violence. The police are all very concerned about the possibility of violence, and the event has been canceled for that reason.

In the United States, stems from a very large number of people. All the various law enforcement officials bribed the police to see if any minors were present. They were not. In this case, the police have illegally and deliberately interfered with a fund-raising social event held to benefit a program and or organization of the moralists who have left their jobs and thereby failed to contribute to security risk to the nation. The facts in the case are

We have all taken a courageous and public stand. We have made over television and filled with the usual phony-sacred words to try to intimiejate us. The good Mayor's statement made some time ago and the announcement had been withheld pending a replacement. The bishop has now secured the documents and the announcement happened to fall on the day of the new Bishop's installation. We are certainly guilty of challenging these taboos. WASHINGTON: The Federal Bureau of Investigation has asked local law enforcement officials to be more specific in reporting morals offenses involving government employees. A bureau spokesman said a circular sent to police departments was not connected with the case of Walter Jenkins, former top White House aide who resigned recently. The spokesman explained that in the past local enforcement officials often have reported morals charges under the general headings of vagrancy or disorderly conduct without reference to whether a morals offense was involved.

SENATORS TAKE A LOOK AT NUDIE FILMS:

WASHINGTON: Art films exhibited in the lower class theaters are in for a good look by the Senate Judiciary's subcommittee on juvenile delinquency. The spokesman said the decision to investigate sex movies was because of the complaints they have had from parents. An observer cracked up, "At their age (The Senators) they still want to get into the dirty movies free!"

WHAT TO DO:

Seemingly there is nothing that can be done about the complete disregard for constitutional rights of the homosexuals. The only solution seems to be in a memory on election day. If your arresting officer or questioning officer is Buckman—PRAY!

Write letters to your elected officials to protest these outrages.

I have told you repeatedly that your policy of cooperation with the police department cannot gain you a damn thing except headaches and heartaches. This latest coup of theirs is the thing you must expect. Now surely you are fed up with their tactics.

Dear George: The only hope for the American people is a well-run police department. As I recall during the last election you were hot to trot for Shelly. The Police Chief is under this great liberal that you wanted for mayor. The Editor

TO THE CN:

I have heard you express the belief that the orders for the roust on New Years day came from above the Chief of Police. You are vague in regards to where you think the orders came from. I ask you here and now to say what you believe.

Jimmie: It would be unfair to print my beliefs unless I can prove them. I do know that the missing Grand Jury report had more than a little to do with it. Without disclosing any names I can say that Shelley knows of it before the action. The blamed must be his. Ye Editor

THOSE PRESUMPTUOUS QUEERS

Sudden Los Angeles is faced with a group of ministers who feel that second-class citizens such as homosexuals should be given the same rights as others. They are joined by several groups of homosexuals who are also presumptuous enough to act as if they should be considered as the equals of others.

Let it be understood here and now, that when the framers of the Constitution were at work, they did not intend that such should ever be given full rights.

Anyone who does not vote, who does not stand up for their rights, or who does not act as an American Citizen, does not deserve to be considered equal.

Since when have the homosexuals become so bold as to think that they can give dances, go to church, hold responsible jobs, own property, and above all pay taxes?

When do the homosexuals of San Francisco presume to act as Americans?

Let us congratulate Chief of Police Cahill, Mayor Tom Shelley, and the Grand Jury for putting homosexuals where they belong. Now let us round them all up and put them all in jail.

And let grass grow in Market Street.

Hirschfield was a member of a physician, studied medicine, and became a general practitioner in health. He was a friend of his generation and his colleagues.

The story of Magnus Hirschfield is well known and is the subject of many biographies. He was a scientist and a social activist who combined personal experiences with social scholarship.

Chairman Florida Department of Public Safety

To the Editor:

With the increase of the crime rate in the city of San Francisco, as well as in the state of California, we will see our police department spending a billion dollars in a lot of time chasing homosexuals. It is an unfortunate situation that we would have to deal with something that is not in our state. This would indicate that there were certain times on their hands that they thought I would propose.

We all know that many of the crimes are committed by homosexuals. Some crimes are car-bashing, women crying, knives on the streets, profane language, and multitude of others. If heterosexuals were to commit such a thing, it would come to our attention, and we would know that the police department and more people would be involved. Therefore we not only direct it, but we try to stop it. We want to preserve law and order, the citizens, and we want to ensure the safety of everyone. I am sure that the police department and officers are doing everything in their power to ensure the safety of everyone.

The New Year's Day Ball, sponsored by the Council on Religion and the Homosexual, was held in the Bangkok on the last day of the year. It is a very popular event in the city of San Francisco.

We all know that homosexuals and women are being chased in the city of San Francisco. We have been called to my attention the (now Internationally famous) Purplic Pamphlet of Religious origin! One particular church (which one I won't name) is adamant in its opposition to the work of the Council on Religion and the Homosexual, and the work of the Kinsey Report. I am sure that these organizations are having a very bad effect.

I am well aware that you owe your actions in denying the rights guaranteed all citizens to anyone who is in opposition with the government.

Your sincerely,

Charles H. Flavell

A CRITICAL SURVEY BY GUY STRAIT, EDITOR THE CITIZENS NEWS

A little booklet is being circulated in New York City. It is a tabloid sized publication of some 24 pages. The entire text has not been printed by hand, but in some parts of it, it has been printed by hand. It is not for the fact of the hate therein it would not be of any particular concern to me as David Wilkerson's "Help for Homos." Using the Bible as a takeoff point Mr. Wilkerson delicately twists the Scriptures to such a concocted position, they are hardly recognizable.

"Rogues supposedly a godless nation has no homosexual problem. It is not even discussed in public and the only heterosexual offenders in Moscow are State Department employees who defected. Where living is hard, there is less homosexuality. America, Europe and Asia have the least homosexual problem. In most Anglo-Saxon countries the practice is a moral and legal crime.

(We would not infer that Mr. Wilkerson would prefer the Russian system over the American.)

There are no statistics in public on homosexual deflection, except in New York City. There is a booklet being circulated in New York City. It is: "Twenty-five ways to spot a homosexual or anybody else." It is published by David Wilkerson. This is probably the most comic description of such a book ever written. It is a little booklet that is being circulated in New York City. It is: "Twenty-five ways to spot a homosexual or anybody else." It is published by David Wilkerson.

1. demonstrations of putting-peece.
   (Ed. Note: Note that the word "peace" is used in this context.
   This is characteristic is simply haphazard any way you take it.)

2. short interest spans-shifting moods.
   (Ed. Note: This supposedly comes from the idea that all homosexuals are incapable of holding their interest spans.
   It certainly would appear that St. Paul excluded homosexuals from the Holy Ghost's plans for the world.)

3. taste for unconventional clothing.
   (Ed. Note: It is true that homosexuals often enjoy the latest in clothing but this characteristic holds true in such a small percentage that it is hardly worthy of attention.
   This is probably true since it is true of all homosexuals who have a business suit at formal occasions.)

4. attraction to bright colors, tidying clothing and special boots.
   (Ed. Note: Our poor, unlearned author evidently thinks of all homosexuals in tight levis so highly favored by the very non-homosexual western pioneers. So far as boots are concerned there is question about whether or not Mr. Wilkerson's "special boots" presented any special convention.)

5. attraction to ornaments and gadgets.
   (Ed. Note: I really don't know what the writer means by this and I am firmly convinced that he doesn't either.)

6. waving hips.
   (Ed. Note: It is almost impossible to walk without swaying hips. Try it sometime.)

7. striking unusual poses.
   (Ed. Note: Some people (regardless of sex proclivity) are given to dramatic gestures. I find no difference.)

8. flitting with the eyelids (fluttering).
   (Ed. Note: Some people (regardless of sex proclivity) are giving themselves away. Most persons involved with homosexuals are neurotic. Pure, unadulterated crap.)

9. disappearance signs of effemination (sic) and sexual underground in cities, towns and villages from coast to coast.
   (It would seem that Mr. Wilkerson is upholding some part of Judas Iscariot. I named him Judas Iscariot. He is probably the most comic description of a character ever written.)

10. a dislike for belts, garters, laced shoes, ties, hats, short interest spans-shifting moods.
    (Ed. Note: If someone sold all the men's garters in the city they would have to do business in New York City.
    They are: an insistence on personal cleanliness and living together. Evangelical clergymen are especially non-conversant with the problem and too often engage in "traveling evangelistic" teams of two men or two women who are oversexual homosexuals.
    Not all traveling teams are homosexuals. They have no relation.)

11. phoniness.
    (Ed. Note: Earlier in this book he accused homosexuals of planting the world's social problems because of the use of the teen-age idiom he is in for a rough time.)

12. frightful voice pitch and lisping.
    (Ed. Note: Voice pitch and lisping are physical fact's. Commit such things as worthy and thinking all of them are homosexuals. Those who are oversexual will not be embarrassed. Those who are normal will not be embarrassed."
    (Any resettlement by any intelligent person and I can only remember a large traveling team of evangelical ministers who had been accused by Mr. Wilkerson. They even ate their meals together and one of them even washed the feet of all the others; and they even kissed another one; especially one named Jules Lacocque.)

Copy of a letter which was written by one of the writers of this little book of hate may do so:

Mr. Wilkerson concludes this foolishness with:

"NOTE: Tragically, much reproach is brought upon the clergy by homosexual ministers who insist on traveling, sleeping together and living together. Evangelical clergymen are especially non-conversant with the problem and too often engage in 'traveling evangelistic' teams of two men or two women who are oversexual homosexuals. Not all traveling teams are homosexuals. They have no relation.

By any intelligent person and I can only remember a large traveling team of evangelical ministers who had been accused by Mr. Wilkerson. They even ate their meals together and one of them even washed the feet of all the others; and they even kissed another one; especially one named Jules Lacocque."
Although tickets will be available at the door, the sponsors of the show have had a heavy response and since the auditorium only seats some 650 persons, it is advisable to secure tickets well in advance of the show.

Many of these performers were on the cast of the memorable last year when they donated their time and talents to that cause.

CHURCH OF THE ETERNAL FLAME
A SERMON ON SEX TODAY
The Rev. John W. Moore of The Glide Memorial Methodist Church called for an integration of the homosexuals into the life of the church. Calling on the homosexuals to devote some of their time to a dialogue with overt homosexuals and lesbians, the minister called for a change in the laws of the country whereby homosexuals are persecuted.

"Using the text of Romans 1:28-30, 'Being filled with all unrighteousness, fornication, wickedness, covetousness, maliciousness; full of envy, murder, debate, deceit, malignity; whisperers, backbiters, hatefors God, despiteful, proud, boasters, inventors of evil things, disobedient to parents,' the minister asked, 'Can you see yourself there?'

(Note: This is the usual text to justify the exclusion of the homosexuals from the life of the church.)

After the services Rev. Moore usually has a discussion group to go with performances usually held in the fellowship hall but since such a large turnout was expected this Sunday it was held in the main auditorium. About 200 persons remained for a high spirited discussion of the sermon.

Questions ranged from the old question, "What is normal sex today?" to Justify the exclusion of the homosexuals from the discussion on the charge of visiting a downtown dance spot has had the dubious pleasure of being the first place raided during the week. The Flamingo Dance Studio was operating an almost everything except a dance studio according to the police when they glanced a raid in the best tradition of the SFPD. According to Sgt. De Felicius there was an elaborate warning system composed of four look-outs.

(According to patrons of the place as well as other observers, this is not true, and that anyone could walk in at any time and that the police have made this effort to clarify this action. Other observers said that impromptu reports were received that the place had been paying a sharp-off and did not have to worry about the police.)

The owner of the place a.k.a. arrested on charges of keeping a disorderly house, illegal possession of alcoholic beverages and possession of two live tiles, seven men were arrested on the charge of visiting a disorderly house.

The officers claim they were able to gain admission only after they drove up in a small sports car rather than in the usual unmarked car. Since practically no parking is to be found in this area (opposite the new Hilton Hotel) the observers who previously suggested it the raid was all for show apparently have the inside information.

COMMITTEE TO OVERSEE POLICE
San Francisco
An organization has been formed in San Francisco to attempt to protect citizens from harassment and false arrest.

The Citizens Committee to Overseer Police is a loose organization of "like minded persons" banded together to establish and make real a citizens right to be different. We consider that it is our inalienable and self evident right to pursue happiness in whatever way we see best suit our individual needs and tastes, and that any and all pressures brought upon us to conform to another set of values is denying both our natural rights and individual autonomy. We consider the measure of a man's worth lies in his intellectual commitment to the human race and not in his appearance or in his way of life.

"The basic idea of British common law is that the individual can do whatever he wants provided it does not harm another individual or his property. This idea is not to mean 'offend' as some people interpret it. Positive individuality is in keeping with the true spirit of Americanism. Today the police can persecute non-conformists with the tacit consent of an indifferent public.

"His committee wants to stop police harassment of non-conformists and minority groups. We want the police to observe the laws that protect the rights of individuals."

A speaker for the committee pointed out that the President of the United States recently said: 'Justice requires us to remember when any citizen denies his fellow saying, 'His color is not mine,' or 'His beliefs are strange and different,' in that moment he betrays Americanism.' There is world enough for all to seek their happiness in their own way, let us join reason to faith and action to purpose for the house and the day has come to achieve progress without strife and change without hatred.

The speaker continued, "Therefore, we who choose to be different, also have a right to full citizenship. We propose that there be a check against harassment and false arrest, other than excessive, insufficient, delayed, or without due notice, and we demand that all vocables of unpopular points of view be zealously protected by the police and accorded the same dignity as is extended to all citizens. We propose that Mayor Shelley establish a civilian review board of police actions upon the lines set forth in the Times set forth petition to be circulated, to guarantee that the civil rights of all Americans... never be in jeopardy the forces of reason and compassion."

Temporary headquarters of the Citizens Committee to Overseer Police is at 1865 Clay Street, Apartment 2.

‘Decoys’ Flop

Two weekends of masquerading in feminine attire failed to smoke out a rapid-rubber being sought in the Chicago area. Cook County Sheriff Richard B. Ogilvie decided to call a halt to an attempted ruse that had policemen Ken Jones, George Morita and Ron Jones, left to right, driving alone in unmarked cars in Orland Township, a Southwest Chicago suburb, in which the sheriff's prey is believed to be on the prowl.

WE WOULD OFFER A SIMPLE SOLUTION TO THE RISING CRIME RATE: Let our law enforcement officers concern themselves with crimes against persons and property—then crimes (or sin) against society will decrease.
