San Francisco, CA - The Latin American Fiesta Committee has returned $3500 in promotional money it had received from the Adolph Coors Co. The contribution, which is part of a $107,000 Coors contribution to over 140 organizations that support the Gay Community, was made to the large Cinco de Mayo annual parade in the Mission district, responded to an outcry of community leaders and organizations who support the Coors Beer Boycott.

The Coors Company has a record of discrimination against minorities, union-busting and support to extreme right-wing causes.

Gay/Lesbian awareness celebration

Stanford holds 10th annual Gay/Lesbian awareness celebration

The Gay and Lesbian Alliance at Stanford (GLASS) is holding its 10th annual Gay and Lesbian Awareness Celebration. The event will be held on May 12.

This year's event promises to be the best ever, providing a whole variety of speakers, entertainment, and exhibits from many perspectives of the gay and lesbian community.

The Gay/Lesbian Awareness Celebration will feature over 20 speakers, including Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual, and Transgender individuals from across the country. The event will also include the Gay and Lesbian Awareness Film Festival, which will showcase a variety of films that explore the experiences and issues of the gay and lesbian community.

In addition to the speakers and films, the celebration will include a variety of other activities, including a talent show, a talent contest, and a performance by the Stanford Glee Club.

The event is free and open to the public, and will be held on the campus of Stanford University. For more information, please visit the GLASS website or contact GLASS at (650) 723-4350.
This time vote your conscience

By Dan Smolikoski, P.A.D.

Several months ago at the start of the primaries, I predicted that the Democratic race would wind up a battle between former Vice President Mondale and Senator Gary Hart (with a significant role to be played by the Independent movement). The prediction was dead on—though not by a surprising amount. In the Democratic primary contests, Gary Hart emerged as a strong contender, but then he was left by the wayside after his supposedly fatal car crash.

It seems possible that no candidate will have the majority of delegates necessary to win the nomination. Not only is the issue in California unresolved, but matters in New York, Texas, and Massachusetts are also unclear.

The Democratic National Convention in San Francisco this July may well make history as the last time the Democrats will convene as a party with a semblance of ideological coherence. The days when the party could unite behind a single candidate are likely over. The question of how the Democratic race will turn out will be a key issue at the convention.

In recent months, there has been a significant shift in the political landscape. The Independent movement, which has been building momentum, is now a reality. The Independent movement is not just a collection of individual candidates, but a coherent force that could potentially win the nomination. The question of how the Democratic race will turn out will be a key issue at the convention.

Laguna Beach passes Gay Rights Ordinance

The legislation was proposed by Supervisor Bev (Gay) Adams, who serves on the county board. Adams, who is the only gay member of the board, introduced the ordinance last fall. Adams said he was inspired by the growing sense of self-acceptance and self-expression among the gay community in the area.

The ordinance would require all businesses, including hotels, restaurants, and bars, to have a prominent plaque displaying the slogan, "Gay is okay." The plaque would be visible to all customers and would serve as a symbol of the business's commitment to equality.

Sanford forms Parents and Friends chapter

The gay and Lesbian Alliance of New York City (GALAN) was formed in 1981, with the acronym Parents Flag. The organization was created to provide a support network for parents and friends of gay and Lesbian children. The group was formed after the parents of several children discovered their children's sexual orientation.

A Review

The Edge of Nowhere

A Review of the play "The Edge of Nowhere"

The play is set in Viet Nam. "A heroic action has to have a saving grace," he chuckles between snorts about his couple of tossed Molotov cocktails in a holiday otherwise rife with undercurrents and plain cold warCIy unevenly by a child. Admittedly, the play is often riotously funny but that disregard seems a clear flaw in a dowager who anchors reflections of old homestead she's about to relinquish. Aunt Sally's lack, of course, "regardless of how distasteful it is" in her effort to become the companist, Wes, played by Durand Garcia. His plaintive strumming of "Aurora's tragic sentence for her parents' thoughtless intervention of La Fee d'Lilac (The Lilac Fairy) in Beauty."

In the waning light, as we walk, the monolithic form in the streetlight's glow, with its ornate, neon-capped crown, and the San Clara Street, catch the dusk in the myriad lights of the city. The very first edition of the San Jose San Jose Dance Theatre's "Sleeping Beauty" has been performed Nutcracker for nineteen seasons now; crowned his monolith also, raising it to the status of a surgeon who treated his patient never voiced his sexual preference. One wonders what the clinician's feeling was for an injury case. He didn't treat his kind."

Gay PAC kicks off fundraising drive

Washington, D.C. - The Human Rights Campaign Fund, the national Gay political action committee, announced on Thursday, January 24th, the kickoff of its 1984 fundraising drive.

The Human Rights Campaign Fund is one of the nation's 20 largest independent PAC's, says this year's drive is designed to increase the base of Gay roots fundraising efforts under way in all major Gay and Lesbian communities.

They predict it will involve a significant number of Gay men and women and the political giving standards, one of who give an important boost to the PAC, to encourage candidates who support equal justice for all—regardless of sexual orientation.

Dubbed Show Our Strength—1984, the fundraising campaign was kicked off on the deadline for filing federal tax returns to underline the painful truth that the more than 1 million Gay and Lesbian citizens filed their returns, without any federal protection, this year.

They are the only significant group of American citizens without federal protection of such basic rights as freedom from discrimination.

The fundraising campaign is a major effort to reach those who have previously have not contributed to the Campaign Fund or other Gay organizations, and to involve them in the political process in order to help increase Gay political clout.

The group plans to do this by mineralizing Gay and Lesbian people to be coordinated fundraising drives in 75-100 cities during the next three months.

The drives will target small contributors, who will be invited to house parties or other low-key events where they will be asked to contribute $19.84 or more.

The proposed New OrleansGay Rights ordinance that would have made this the city's law in the Deep South to ban discrimination against Lesbians and Gay men. The measure failed on a three-to-three tie vote. Four votes were required for passage. The measure lost after two council supporters, including a co-sponsor, switched sides after the vote.

The proposed New Orleans Gay Rights ordinance would have outlawed bias against Gays in employment, housing, and the use of public facilities; Gays as restaurants, theatres and motels.

There was no indication when the measure would be taken up again.

Sarton to be honored at Fund Dinner

San Diego - Poet-author May Sarton and the "Blood Sister" Project of the Women's Caucus of the San Diego Democratic Club will be honored at the Seventh Annual Fund for Human Dignity Dinner to be held at New York's Plaza Hotel on Monday, May 14.

Sarton will receive the Fund for Human Dignity Award, and the Humanitarian Award will be presented to Barbara Vick of the "Blood Sister" Project. The recipient of the Howard J. Brown Award, WPBN, will be U.S. Rep. Gerry Studds.

Sarton, the author of 12 volumes of poetry, 117 volumes, and 6 books of non-fiction, will accept the Award of Merit for "her contribution to the education of the American public about the life, art and literature of her most recent work, a journal entitled My Nana", has been just published by W. W. Norton.

The "Blood Sister" Project was the first of its kind in the U.S. On July 16, 1983 over 170 women came to the San Diego Block Party at a bus stop in San Diego. Both of them wereisexual, both are replenishing supplies which had been depleted when most gay men and women, developed by the AIDS crisis, and to show support of Gay and Lesbian rights, the Campaign Fund hopes gradually to build an atmosphere conducive to the following concerns in the United States.

Persons interested in helping with the fundraising campaign for the Gay Rights Conference, should call 346-2525, or P.O. Box 1396, Washington, DC 20001.

for gay men from the lesbian community.

This drive was conceived and organized by the Women's Caucus of the San Diego Democratic Club. Since that event, other blood drives among lesbians have taken place in cities across the nation.

This year's dinner marks the 10th anniversary of the Fund for Human Dignity, which is the educational affiliate of the National Gay Task Force.

New Orleans City Council rejects Gay Rights

New Orleans (IGNA) - The New Orleans City Council has rejected a Gay Rights ordinance that would have made this the first major city in the Deep South to ban discrimination against Lesbians and Gay men. The measure failed on a three-to-three tie vote. Four votes were required for passage. The measure lost after two council supporters, including a co-sponsor, switched sides after the vote.

The proposed New Orleans Gay Rights ordinance would have outlawed bias against Gays in employment, housing, and the use of public facilities; Gays as restaurants, theatres and motels.
