Presidential race comes to San Jose

by Ted Sahl

The Presidential race hit San Jose full stride as all three candidates appeared at the Mexican American Political Association's (MAPA) Convention.

MAPA's 1300 delegates welcomed their favorite candidates for President of the United States.

Hispanic voters will play a major role in politics as well over 4 million Mexican Americans are registered to vote in the upcoming election.

The smile on the face of each candidate was totally different.

Mondale came on strong both politically and personally. Looking for a fight in his aggressive style. Pounding away at the delegates he reminded them how hard he has fought for human rights.

Mondale emphasized the importance of the Hispanic's role on the eve of California's primary election.

"Who can you trust."

"I went with Dolores Huerta out into the barrios, the fields and worked with you as a Senator from Wisconsin."

"I chaired the migratory labor committee and spoke for the Farm Workers of the nation when no one else would listen."

"I was there to fight for bilingual education. From Texas to California, I fought for food stamps for those who needed them. In other words, I've been around."

"As an original co-sponsor of the 1964 Voting Rights Act, I have always believed it should be the role of the federal government to insure that all citizens are given equal opportunity to exercise their franchise and participate freely in the electoral process." The act, without a doubt, has had the most significant impact on insuring that minorities are not denied their voting rights. I have a two point plan if Reagan tampers with the Human Rights Commission."

"First, I'll fire everyone he hires, then I'll hire everyone he fires."

"I am going to turn this government around."

"I will bring Hispanics into the White House so they don't have to explain anything to anybody."

At the end of his speech, Mondale shouted Mondale over and over again.

"Education of our children must be the #1 priority."

"There is one white lawyer for every 700 whites, one black lawyer for every 1,370 blacks, one Latin lawyer for every 2,100 latinos; one native American for every 7,000 native Americans.

"In the field of medicine there is one black doctor for every 4,128 blacks, one latino for every 21,000 latinos; one native American for every 7,000 native Americans."

"These kinds of ratios have a chilling effect on people who make up a large percentage of the population."

"We must rise up and show the face of the Hikawas of this world."

"Most of the people of the world are yellow, brown, black and poor and don’t speak english."

"Our national security is tied up to our ability to speak other than the English language."

"Information must be accepted by the non-English speaking population."

"The right on the floor was over to Hart's problem of the moment. Jackson had the delegates in the palm of his hand with the highest and loudest applause. All he had to do was just lift his arm and the hall was silent."

"We must love and respect one another - remain together and never be deferred."

"American life is not just black, white, brown or yellow, it's like a quilt made up of many colored patches and threads... we are like a quilt, every color, every shade, every nation, every race, every country, every language, every culture."

"I remember lack of education for our children... because of the work I have supported every effort to remove discrimination and in American life."

The Democrats on gay rights issues

By Don Steinwachs, Ph.D.

A coalition of national gay rights groups recently surveyed the attitudes of leading presidential candidates about issues of concern to our community.

This column summarizes the responses of Senator Hart, Reverend Jackson and former vice-president Mondale to the most important questions, with an emphasis on how each would affect gays and lesbians in California.

Support for Gay Rights Bill

Hart would support a bill "along the lines of the Tennessee Bill," although he has not yet cosponsored it in the Senate.

The House Bill, according to Jackson, "is more comprehensive than the Senate’s and therefore preferable."

Mondale says, "I favor a legislative remedy to discrimination against gay and lesbian orientation" but doesn’t endorse any specific approach.

Instructions to Federal Agencies to endorse gay AIDS

Hart said only "yes," while Mondale and Jackson were more detailed in support for AIDS.

Executive order banning gay discrimination in hiring

White Hart says gay should not be excluded from its military... in California.

Jackson sees his cosponsorship of the present version.

delegation of authority on the question to the states.

vocate ratification on presidential travels."

The Democrats on gay rights issues

Hart supports HR 3918, which provides $41.6 million.

Each candidate supports adequate research and health care funding.

Jackson is particularly interested in the House Bill, according to Jackson, "is more comprehensive than the Senate’s and therefore preferable."

The Democrats on gay rights issues

Hart supports a bill to create a permanent fund to deal with public health problems with blackmail and as security threats.

Hart said only "yes," while Mondale and Jackson were more detailed in support for AIDS.

Mondale would issue an order covering military and security agencies and its predecessors.

Elimination of antigay provisions in immigration law

Jackson critical immigration law quite broadly, and concludes: "removal of ‘bizarre’-gay exclusion provisions is but one part of what must be a complete overhaul of U.S. immigration policy."

Mondale would also end any discrimination based on sexual orientation.

Support for Equal Rights Amendment

Hart cites his consistent support of ERA in the Senate including his sponsorship of the present version.

Jackson has been in both an economic and civil rights issues here. The issue that minority and lower class women have not been adequately involved in organizing around the ERA.

Jackson supports a comprehensive, non-discriminatory ERA. He will put the prestige of his name behind the ERA. He will help lead it in the Senate.

For the...to support...at the...issue. We have only...support...at the...issue.

Mondale says, "The AIDS crisis was a national health tragedy. I have, at this point no specific proposals."

Hart supports the AIDs Funding Act which provides $4.4 million. Neither Jackson nor Mondale cites a specific funding level, but both support adequate funding.

Opposition to gay restrictions

Hart says he has "strongly opposed the McCarran Amendment."

and would oppose any other discriminatory legislation. Jackson and Mondale seem to agree, but less categorically.

Commitment in gay hiring and appointments

Hart, "would strongly support all qualified applicants for key positions."

"...would review all qualified applicants for key positions."

Jackson pledges, "Based on qualifications, I would actively seek representation of the she and gay community."

Mondale says, "All applicants will be reviewed without regard to sexual orientation."

Gay in the campaign

In general, all the candidates agree in this area. Each claims full commitment to inclusive campaign. Both Jackson and Mondale mention outreach to and support from lesbians and gay organizations. Each promises more support for gay rights in speeches and candidate literature. Jackson is particularly interested in his "Rainbow Coalition" to underline a commitment to including gay people.

The Democrats on gay rights issues

Jackson and Mondale mention outreach to and support from lesbian, gay and straight organizations. Each promises to mention support for gay and lesbian rights, will have earned our respect, trust and support.

June 5 Primary:

Election Notes

By Rosalie Nichols
Political Editor

While the national focus has concentrated on candidates for U.S. President, Santa Clara County elections present some idiosyncrasies of interest to gay/lesbian readers and their families and friends.

Superior Court: Municipal Judge Edwin B.Pearce II, who is running for a seat in the Superior Court, was rebuked last month by a committee of the Santa Clara County Bar Association for including "immendous and misleading statements" in his campaign materials.

Pearce's statements against his opponent James Stewart were ruled a violation of the judicial campaign code of ethics and cost him the Bar Association endorsement.

Activists who worked on the 1980 campaign for Gay Rights Measures A&B remember that Pearce's name appeared on a display ad in the San Jose Mercury News opposing Gay Rights.

Among other things, the quarter-page ad, signed by "Lawyers For An Informed Electorate," claimed the proposed Gay Rights ordinances would require "proportional representation ... of transvestites, homosexuals or prostitutes among the membership" in labor unions, private clubs, and government offices.

Gay rights supporters who know their political P's & Q's will take the cue to vote for James STEWART for Superior Court.

San Jose City Council: With the retirement of the incumbent Jerry Earuth from District 2, five candidates filed for this open seat in the south San Jose area.

Among them was William G. Priest Jr., former treasurer of the Concerned Citizens political action committee which defeated Gay Rights Measures A&B in 1980.

Priest dropped out of the race in April, but gave his endorsement to candidate Gene Amato.

While politics does sometimes make strange bedfellows, and candidates can't always be judged by the company they keep, Amato was very noncommittal about his position on gay rights when questioned by the Monday Morning Chronicle.

Best choice for this seat appears to be Judy STARITE, who is endorsed by the National Women's Political Caucus on issues which include gay rights.

In District 10, incumbent Claude Fletcher is running for re-election to the San Jose City Council.

Fletcher's opposition to gay rights goes back so far (at least to 1975 when he was county chair of the Santa Clara County Bar Association) that it would be difficult to summarize his record in so little space.

This makes our choice as simple as ABCDE — Anybody But Claude Deserves Endorsement. Fortunately, Bob PUTIAMN is running against Fletcher.

California State Senate: While the June 5 primary will only set the stage for November run-offs for Assembly seats, it doesn't hurt to refresh our memories about two of the incumbents: Alister McAllister (Dist. 18) is a longtime, vocal opponent of gay rights, and Dominic Conte (Dist. 24) voted against the Gay Rights Ordinance while serving on the county board of supervisors.

Republican incumbent Ernest Konnuy (Dist. 22) opposes gay rights, but there won't be any candidate running against him in November unless 1,113 Democratic voters WRITE IN GLORIA ROSE OTTI.

In District 25, Rusty Arias waffled on gay rights — first voting against, then voting for civil rights bill AB-1. Bill Gilmore, a Republican businessman, has launched a write-in campaign to try to unseat Arias after learning of his "yes" vote on gay rights. Thus, it would behoove South County gay rights supporters to stick by ARIAS.

Califahoma State Senate: Didn't it make you mad when incumbent State Senator Al Atiquet voted against AB-17?

Now is your chance to show him that you're madder than we are. We're not going to take it anymore.

Look out for LaRouche: Followers of right-wing Democratic presidential candidate Lyndon LaRouche are running for Santa Clara County offices ranging from county central committees to the State Senate.

LaRouche material has included anti-gay statements, and gay rights supporters who are watching for LaRouche on their ballots as they attempt to RAID the traditional Democratic Party.

Republican Central Committee is Frank G. Fletcher, Vincent Renfro, Dale Hardin, Gail W. Fisher, Sergio Saldiver.

State Senate — Laura L. Pike, 13th Dist.

U.S. Congress — Lynn Hooks, 10th Dist.; Richard Mattoon, 12th Dist.
