GAY GAMES II

Tom Bradley visits San Jose

by Rick Brady

"I give you the next Governor of California," said Mayor Art Agnos, whose words, some 400 San Jose City Council, San Jose State staff, and Tom Bradley supporters filled the San Jose Civic Auditorium - on Friday, August 8 at the Plaza Adobe in downtown San Jose.

The theme? "The Charlie Wilson's War," as last month's elections have made it clear that Tom Bradley is the man to watch. San Jose has arrived as the front runner as candidate for the State's highest office.

Bradley shared a warm address and a warm 400-member gathering with the American-Indian marchers. The warmness bridged the gap from 1974 when Bradley had been driving his car.

In response, State Senator Alfred P. Hashimoto, riding high on his campaign for the Senate seat, was also present for the event. He was one of the Senate's top 10 contributors.

Bradley had previously spoken against Prop 44, the Lafayette initiative, while Democrats have refused to take a stand either way.

Noah's Ark has been very public in its support of the gay rights bill AB 1, and successfully forced an insurance company to give Mr. Rick's coverage. The case was handled by numerous people and organizations.

The gay rights bill AB 1, and the AIDS initiative, Prop 64, are clearly real issues.

There is no evidence for the contention that AIDS causes cancer.

The San Francisco-National Gay and Lesbian Task Force is organizing a national meeting which will celebrate its 5-year history at a special dinner to be held in San Francisco.

Most San Jose politicians were already shown in the bill, which was sponsored by the AIDS Initiative.

When Mr. Rick lost his job. . .

Dr. Eu brought up the argument against the arguments for the LAER to make a stand for the gay rights bill.

Firstly, to hold national meetings in states which retain sodomy laws. Secondly, to hold meetings in states which are "Open and Affirming" churches.

This case raises fundamental questions for all Americans.

The President's Son

A Washington Insider Spins a Tale of Intrigue

by Andy Laventure

Sitting in his back yard, John Preston says: "Nothing matters except the way a story is told."

It's a philosophy that has guided Preston's career in journalism and politics, and one that he hopes to apply to his new book, "The President's Son." The book is a novel about a young man in Washington, D.C., who becomes embroiled in the political intrigues of the nation's capital.

Preston, who is known for his sharp wit and incisive writing, has spent much of his career covering the White House and the political scene in Washington. He has been a reporter for The Washington Post and The New York Times, and has written for a number of national publications.

"The President's Son" is his first novel, and he hopes it will be a success. "I want it to be read by people who are interested in politics and in the way stories are told," says Preston. "I think it will be enjoyed by everyone who likes a good story."
AIDS Project takes new name: quality service remains the same.
The Pacific Center AIDS Project has changed its name to the AIDS Project of the East Bay. Although the name has changed, the organization remains a project of the Pacific Center for Human Growth.

Noreen McKeon, Project Director, says, "The new name will give us greater visibility in the diverse community we serve," and Michael Hauke, Project Director, notes, "The AIDS Project of the East Bay provides educational services through outreach to health care workers and the community at large to sensitize institutions and educate the public about AIDS."

The Project also provides free counseling and support for People with AIDS/ARC, their loved ones, and families.

"The show, sponsored by St. Agnus, a local women's organization, was very much a success. "What a kick," says Hunter, a collective member. The opening act was Hunter Davis, a well known singer/guitarist. She was very well received by the audience and seemed to be having a great time putting on her act. Afterwards, Hunter was quoted as saying, "This is the happiest night of my life.""

One need not fear the name below the surface as long as you don't mind Key West's spectrums of self-identity, which are not too restrictive. Most locals are self-assured and will tell you what's what, including that they have the personal right to do what they want, to go where they want, and to say what they want. Key West's attitude is, "If you can't handle it, then you don't belong here." Weekly Events

Every Sunday there are two events which are a must for both tourists and locals. The first is from 4pm to 6pm on La Terraza de Mar (624 Duval St.). The second is from 6pm to 8pm on Mallory Square, on the water front of Duval Street. Both are held outside and are a very popular event.

Attractions

What is there to do? A "little is possible" seems to be the prerequisite activity upon entering Key West, aside from "chasing" around Key West's attractions. A "little is possible" will be the general exploration of Key West, which is inhabited by 40,000 people. Most of the author's major works were written in this house, which is inhabited by 40,000 people. The house has been a very popular attraction for the past few years.

The southernmost point of the continental United States is located on Whitehead and South Streets. Other places to see include several Civil War forts, the Key West Lighthouse, the Key West Historical Museum, the Audubon House, and the Old House Museum, among others.

Gay Cruises  Gay Cruises  Gay Cruises

To be able to visit a number of exotic destinations within a week's time and yet only visit once. To be immersed in a world of excellent dining at all times, including the unique atmosphere of the ship, between the periods of rest is perhaps the most unforgettable experience you can have. The travel experience is not different from any other cruise the crew may have experienced, and yet you're lying on the deck working on the ship's fabulous seven-course dinner while a movie showing in the ship's seven-domed cinema. You're looking forward to Cozumel where the weather is perfect and the coasts are ideal for discovering the perfect destination to be visited in Cozumel. The Gay Travel Experts will be available to answer questions about your trip.

Now add to that list a high-energy sunset dance on deck every evening, the entertainment shown with gay shows in mind exhibiting Flowers and the Uncovered Burmese Sailing Star and a buffet that includes any dessert you want on deck every evening, star service, and a wide variety of shows and entertainment. The Conference, entitled "Gay Travel: Let's Have the Best," scheduled from May 24-26 in the Twin Cities.

This conference is planned to allow for presentations where there is an opportunity for professionals and the audience to identify and develop leadership networks.

The conference will consist of presentations by experts in the field of gay and lesbian travel, including gay and lesbian leaders who are in the process of exploring new leadership roles for dramatic and powerful change at all levels.

TODAY

- The week has not abated and your usual calm is needed. Something that started last week may feel dazed for a while.
- Gambling could be in the air. Be careful with your money. The emotional impact could be significant.
- Children? If so, you can both enjoy and benefit from their company. A little fun and laughter could bring delight, unexpected and unexpected.

Governor's veto will cost patient care needs: hensible isolation from the attention.

As previously stated, the Governor's veto will cost patient care needs: meaningless isolation from the attention.

The Governor's veto will also result in increased costs, which will clearly have a negative impact on patient care.

In conclusion, the Governor's veto will have far-reaching negative consequences for patient care, and we urge the Governor to sign this bill so that California can conquer today.

Outreach / Warm-up: begins with a slow stretch to loosen up body joints and relax the individual. This is followed by a quickly paced exercise designed to increase blood flow and muscle awareness.

Aerobics / Calisthenics: different movements designed to increase the heart rate and oxygen flow in the body. This will decrease the resting heart rate of the individual while developing muscle tone.

Isolations: these exercises work on a specific area of the body to develop it. Emphasis is placed on the stomach / abdomen, legs, and chest / arms.

Cool-down: designed to slowly relax the body and restore it to its natural state.
